Aden Mead Re-elected City Mayor

Aden Mead was re-elected mayor of Tecumseh Tuesday night in the city's first such election by a voice vote. No secret ballots were used by the Council at its annual organizational meeting.

Vote was four for Mead — Len DeMoss, Mead, Jay Tressler and Dr. Carlton Cook — and three for former mayor Harold Easton — James Palmer, Easton and Mary Bowers.

Immediately after the election, Mead announced that he would be serving his last term on Council and would not be seeking re-election next fall. He was first elected mayor of Tecumseh one year ago.

Also by a voice vote, Council elected Dr. Cook as mayor pro tem. Others nominated were Easton and Palmer.

Later and during the regular Council meeting, Bowers said it was time that the city charter was changed to let the electorate pick the mayor. Palmer supported her position but Cook and Tressler opposed it.

No action was taken.

City Approves 3 Appointments

Council approved three appointments Tuesday night but tabled two others until the Jan. 15th meeting.

T.J. Wagner was re-appointed to a three-year term on the Board of Review, and Cecile Smith and Perry Satterthwaite were re-appointed to the Election Commission.

Officials tabled two appointments to the Historic Preservation Commission until members Richard Lewis and Millie Saksewski could be contacted relative to their expiring terms.

Appointments will be for three years.

City, State OK Traffic Light

A resolution to install a new traffic light on W. Chicago Blvd. at Occidental was adopted by Council Tuesday evening.

City will share equally with the State Highway Department an installation cost of $11,185 and annual estimated maintenance of $476.

City manager Cal Zorn said he expected installation in the spring, but it could be later, depending on state authorities.

ARTHUR BRADY

Art Brady Was in Business over 40 Years

Services are 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Proctor Funeral Home for Arthur Frederick Brady, 69, of 2980 Russell Rd. He died at Bixby Hospital at 4:30 a.m., Jan. 2. He was a patient there since Dec. 28.

He was born Aug. 16, 1909 in Cleveland, Ohio, to James W. Brady Sr. and Lillian Stank. He married Martha E. Glancy July 10, 1939. She died Oct. 27, 1977.

Brady was semi-retired and vice-president of the Brady Sand and Gravel Inc. in Tecumseh.

He attended public schools in Cleveland and has since resided in the Tecumseh area for 50 years.

He started the sand and gravel business in Tecumseh in 1939. The firm became incorporated in 1974 when he semi-retired Jan. 4, 1974.

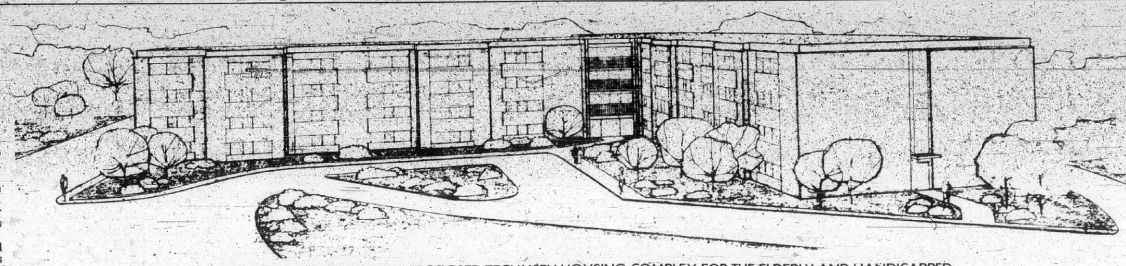
He and his wife first operated an electrical business in Tecumseh and then built houses before acquiring their current farm and beginning the sand and gravel business.

Brady was also a former member of the Tecumseh Eagles Club.

Survivors include one son, Robert, and one daughter, Janice Bendele, both of Tecumseh; and three grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents and two brothers.

The Rev. Russell Cooper will officiate and burial will be in Brookside Cemetery.



ARCHITECT'S RENDERING OF PROPOSED TECUMSEH HOUSING COMPLEX FOR THE ELDERLY AND HANDICAPPED

City Taking Pre-applications for Elderly Housing Complex

Tecumseh Housing Commission is now taking pre-applications for the Orchard Terrace Housing Complex for the elderly. This pre-application will assist the housing commission to determine if it is economically feasable to undertake the project.

The Housing Commission has received notification from Farmers Home Administration that it could possibly receive mortgage funds sufficient to construct the facility. If full funding is approved, 121 one-bedroom units would be available for rent. In addition to the apartments the building will contain a multi-purpose room, kitchen, lounge, crafts room and central laundry.

This housing will be available to anyone over age 62 or handicapped, regardless of age. Ten units have been designed especially for those with physical handicaps. The rent is based on an individual's ability to pay but in no case can it exceed 25 percent of his or her adjusted income.

For example, if you are 68, single and your adjusted income is $600 per month your rental fee would be $150 per month.

One of the main reasons for the pre-application is for the commission to determine the number of people interested in renting an apartment and to find out how much income would be generated.

It should be stressed that this is strictly a pre-application, and if the project is actually built, another, more complete application would be required.

Even though this is strictly a pre-application and does not guarantee anyone an apartment, it is extremely important that anyone interested in renting an apartment in the future should fill out the form. It is equally important that the form be filled out as accurately and completely as possible.

The housing commission is dependent on you and the information you provide. Decision to proceed or not to proceed with the project depends to a great extent on the information and facts gathered from the pre-applications received. It will be of no service to the commission if persons either exaggerate or understate their income.

All pre-applications will be held strictly confidential and no one other than the housing commission will see them.

Pre-application form is printed in the newspaper. Just cut it out, fill it in and either mail it or drop it off at city hall. All forms should be returned no later than Feb. 2. Additional pre-application forms can be picked up at city hall and at the library. The forms will also be printed in Spanish and can be picked up at City Hall.

The need for such a facility has been discussed for a long time. The housing commission recognizes that need and has been working hard to obtain the housing for the elderly citizens of Tecumseh. The commission is now dependent on prospective renters to help make the most important decision to date.

SON BREAKS ARM

Family Files $10,000 Suit against City

Tecumseh City Council met in a closed session Jan. 2 after its regular council meeting to discuss legal strategy with its city attorney, Greg Forsthoefel and attorney Robert Best of Jackson.

The City of Tecumseh is being sued by J.B. and Reva Williams, 409 S. Adrian St. on behalf of their son, James Michael Williams, 17.

According to the suit, the family is seeking at least $10,000 for damages for an accident that occurred on city property.

Nov. 11, 1977, James Michael Williams reportedly tripped on a snow covered water valve on city property, between the sidewalk and street, approximately in front of 602 Kilbuck St.

Young Williams was crossing on foot at the time.

Among his injuries was a broken arm. His hospital bill for treatment at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, was in excess of $1,200.

The civil suit was filed Feb. 10, 1978 in Lenawee County Circuit Court. Harvey Koselka is attorney for the plaintiffs.

Jury trial date was scheduled in Circuit Court Jan. 30, 31 and Feb. 1 with Judge Kenneth B. Glaser presiding.

Contest To Name Street Is Dropped

Chamber of Commerce's plan to have a contest to name the street in the city's industrial park came to an end Tuesday night when Council rejected the idea.

Although city officials originally approved the contest at its Dec. 18th session, Councilwoman Mary Bowers pointed out that James Gurley, owner of an Ann Arbor business and who will be moving his firm here soon, would suffer some financial losses if a new street name is adopted.

His records, according to Bowers, involves some legal papers, all of which list his address on Industrial Park Drive, name commonly applied to the street in the park.

After Council voted against the contest and for letting the street continue as Industrial Park Drive, Councilman Jay Tressler moved that the city and Chamber combine in a contest to name the industrial park after some notable citizen.

His motion died for a lack of a second.

DNR's Report on City Dams Is 'Ridiculous'

A report on the condition of city dams on River Raisin was given to Council Tuesday night.

The report from the Department of Natural Resources was termed "a waste of Federal funds" and "ridiculous" by Cal Zorn, city manager.

Council was given resumes of the report, a thick booklet which dealt with the past and condition that city officials already knew, Zorn pointed out.

Much of the report concerned a concrete spillway in the race.

City Purchasing New Radar Unit

City manager Cal Zorn was authorized by Council Tuesday night to order a new traffic radar unit for the police to replace one that was purchased in 1971.

Zorn said present unit is often out of service and costly to repair. New radar unit, estimated to cost less than $1,100, will be acquired on a State of Michigan purchase order.

Losses from Six B&Es Estimated over $15,000

A rash of B&Es hit Tecumseh the past week with losses estimated well over $15,000, including one in excess of $13,000.

Oscar Kliensmith, 919 N. Occidental, reported a diamond ring valued at $8,000 and a necklace at $5,000 were taken from his home sometime late last week.

The Kliensmiths were away from home Friday until late Sunday. Also stolen were $270 in silver certificates. Entry to the residence was gained through an unlocked basement window.

Sometime between 5:30 Tuesday afternoon and 7:20 that evening, Tecumseh Camera Shop was robbed of eight cameras and a power winder; a total value of almost $1,300.

Charles Saling, owner, told officers that he closed at 5:30 and less than two hours later, his shop had been robbed, although cleaning service personnel were in a nearby business.

Entry was through an east side, rear door.

Tecumseh Saw Shop was burglarized last Wednesday with eight chain saws taken. Wholesale value of $1,134 was reported. Entry was through a window.

On Dec. 6th, police nipped a B&E there and almost caught two. They had broken into the shop and had some chain saws in a trunk of a car at the time that police arrived. They fled and were traced to the A&P parking lot.

Al Kapnick, 504 Cairns St., told police Sunday that someone had broken into his garage and stole four tires, tools and parts from a Jeep that was being repaired.

The rectory at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church was entered Tuesday and attempts were made to open a safe in the pastor's bedroom. Although some papers were scattered about the room, nothing was reported missing.

Resume of other complaints is:

Dec. 30 — An automobile, owned by Elmer Adams, 702 Conklin and parked in downtown Tecumseh, sustained damages, including broken left and right outside mirrors, right door kicked in, antenna snapped off, broken windshield wiper motor and a cracked windshield. Police are continuing investigation.

Dec. 28 — Donald C. Nichols, 41, of 1394 E. Chicago Blvd., was charged with drunk driving after being stopped on N. Union St. for driving left of center.

Dec. 29 — Alan W. Pfund, 21, Adrian, was arrested for open intoxicants in his car. He was stopped after making a U-turn on E. Chicago at Maumee St.

Dec. 31 — Duane Creger, 310 S. Maiden Lane, surprised an intruder at his residence. The intruder, a white male, fled after struggling with Creger.

Jan. 1 — Harold Hilyard, 800 S. Occidental, awakened at 3:45 a.m. by a disturbance, discovered a man in a hallway at his residence. The man, described as a white male, escaped.

Jan. 1 — D. Duane Polmounter, 717 Seneca, reported window damage to a camper parked at his residence.

Jan. 2 — Stephen Kruger, 502 W. Pottawatamie, reported egg damage to the side of his house.

Jan. 3 — Hoyt Whelan Implement had five windows broken during the night.

IT'S TOO COLD — For work and play, Michigan's great, but the weather is something else. Wednesday morning, the mercury slipped to five degrees below zero, and coupled with gusty winds, the chill factor ranged between 30 and 40 below. Colder overnight temperatures were predicted for Wednesday but warmer weather Thursday - like 12 degrees above!

'The Pastor's Study'

By Rev. R. Richard Case
Britton Congregational Church

As one reads the Old Testament, one cannot help hear Isaiah speak to his people in fear for his country and its government.

Likewise it is with me, for I, too, am concerned for this, our nation, and the direction it has taken in the past 20 years.

In the next few weeks I will address the many problems at hand in our nation, just in hopes that some that have more say-so, might start to affect some change and save this great "Nation Under God" from a total disaster.

"MADE IN"

In days gone by, a label that read, "Made In Japan", was a way of saying the article was junk.

Today we see labels by the thousands such as, "Made in ROK, Korea, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Italy, Yugoslavia",etc.

Now, don't get me wrong, some imports are classics, such as Mercedes, Jaguar and so on, but by and large the majority of the import industry is after price and cheap labor.

The old adage still rings true, "You get what you pay for". It's cheap, inferior merchandise.

By the way have you ever tried to exchange or send back junk manufactured overseas? In years gone by only shlock, cheap importing companies handled such merchandise but today the big names in American industry are having equipment in total or parts manufactured in the far east, and then affixing the known American label to the article.

Who is being cheated? First, the consumer is being cheated with ill fitting or ill working products. Second, the great American labor force is being cheated.

True, in many cases, our labor force has caused some of the problems creating a high cost of production situation, but nevertheless Americans are looking for jobs.

We still have an unemployment problem in our nation. It ranges from two to nine percent of the total labor force, depending on the area of the country.

Only a few weeks ago, Americans in Taiwan were in fear for their lives because of government and national unrest.

American dollars gave the Taiwanese work and now we hear the echoes of World War II, "Yankee Go Home". However the phrase has different connotation now "Yankee Go Home, but Leave Your Dollars".

I am quite sure that Arabia and the oil producing Mideast would still be a mass of sand dunes and tents if it were not for American, English and foreign nations investing in business in those countries. Don't you agree that the recent oil price hikes are sheer banditry?

Last, the nation is being cheated and we are suffering economically because of this mass import situation.

Yes, good friends maybe I can help you light a match of rejection so that you might join in and stop buying those foreign-labeled articles.

Next time you are tempted to buy, check the label. If it isn't American, you really don't want to waste your money buying junk. Do you?

You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free.

Alumni Need Survival Plan

CLINTON — Clinton High School Alumni Association may have celebrated its last reunion with its 100th anniversary reunion last June.

For the past six years Carol VanDeusen has volunteered to serve as coordinator and secretary of the annual reunion.

For the past three years Nancy (Thomas) Schirhart has assisted Carol.

Although officers were named in years past, frequently they were unable to serve by reunion planning time, and most of the responsibility fell to Carol and Nancy to hunt up addresses, publicize and plan the reunions.

Last June's event was successful with nearly 200 persons attending a catered dinner and dance at the Peerless Gear Union Hall.

After all expenses were paid there is $300 in the treasury.

However, Carol and Nancy are now faced with the prospect of increased costs for postage, printing, catering services and possibly other items.

Last year the caterer cost $780; band $300, and hall, $175. Couples paid $15 to attend.

Considering that this year a similar reunion dinner-dance would probably have to cost $20 a couple, the two women have decided they do not want to be responsible for planning it.

Anyone who wishes to offer leadership, assistance, or suggestions on how a CHS Alumni reunion can be held, and how class members can be notified without excessive expense, is urged to call Carol VanDeusen, evenings 456-4609 after 5 p.m.

Dedicate Plaque for Historic Site

CLINTON — The Rev. Ralph Harper, archivist at Adrian College, for the Methodist Detroit Conference, will officiate at the dedication of a plaque commemorating the Clinton United Methodist Church as a Methodist Historic Site.

Designation will also place church on National Register of Historical sites.

The plaque will be attached to the front entrance of the church.

Dedication will take place at the morning worship service at 11 a.m. Jan. 7.

A potluck dinner will follow the service.

Church recently received a plaque designating it as a Michigan Historic Site, which was placed on a new sign in the front lawn of the church.

Clinton Team Debuts Monday

Clinton's volleyballers return to the court this Monday against Manchester with four returning players and six young, but talented JV's.

According to coach Jane McKie, the team has a strong nucleus in Sue Richter, Lisa Cark, Beth Langowski, and Diana Weirich.

Other six team members include senior Kathy Sanborn, junior Kelley MacRae, and four sophomores. They are Renee Peterson, Laurie Porterfield, Renee Snyder and Martha VanTuyle.

Richter, coach McKie explains, is a good all around player. Cark is excellent at the net. Langowski is an excellent back row player and has a nice spike. Weirich has the best serve of the lot.

Of the other six, Sanborn and MacRae will probably play the two setters in Clinton's 4-2 offense. The four returners will spike.

Martha VanTuyle will also be setting for the Redskins. Where the other three underclassmen fit in isn't set yet in coach McKie's mind. She does know they're talented and she expects much from them. Right now, however, they have had little playing time together.

Clinton was first in their league last year with a 16-2 record. They were ousted by Addison, however, in the preregionals.

Addison, coach McKie explains, is one of the tough teams again this year. Manchester also will be good while returning all their players.

How will Clinton do? McKie just doesn't know yet. It's a little early for predictions, but she does know she has the talent on her team.

Clinton Players Debut

CLINTON — "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown" will be staged Jan. 5 and 6, 8 p.m. in the Clinton High School auditorium.

"Charlie Brown" is being produced by the Clinton Players, a new group which evolved from the Clinton Community Choir.

Although the group is new, all members have contributed to Clinton High School and other area productions for many years.

With this show, it is hoped to earn money for music for the choir and create enough interest in the new players group to see it continue and grow.

The use of the auditorium and stage facilities at the school is appreciated.

Although all other members of the cast have been part of the Community Choir productions since its conception, Ed Aluk, (Charlie Brown) joined the group this year.

Earlier this year he joined the staff of Clinton Schools as vocal music teacher. Ed first helped with Clinton productions as musical director and accompanist for "Bye Bye Birdie" last spring.

He has been accompanist for Saline Area Players and Ann Arbor Civic as well. This is Ed's first major role in a musical.

Cyn Geiger (Lucy) was seen as Nancy in "Oliver" and Winifred in "Once Upon a Mattress" on Clinton's stage.

She has also been active in lighting and tech work and as a choreographer. She also did chorus and major roles for Saline Players and the Croswell Opera House from as early as fifth grade.

While a senior in high school she played Sharon in "Finian's Rainbow" at Siena Heights College.

She toured South America, Mexico, Australia and Europe as a singer with Musical Youth International and was heard as a soloist her last year.

She is a senior at CMU but returns to help with choreography for Clinton.

Thru My Window

BY MARDA GENE DUNCAN

There is simply no way they can be called fair-weather friends. In fact, just the opposite is true. Instead of waiting for sunny skies and balmy temperatures, they are the busiest when there is snow and cold. The "they" of course refers to the birds and squirrels who patronize the bird-feeding stations.

December showed us both kinds of weather. During the mild clear stretches, the feeders were practically deserted.

Actually, we have always felt that it was a good thing for the birds and squirrels to be a bit independent. They should fend for themselves when possible.

A few quiet feeder days are tolerable because we know things will change as soon as the weather does.

Even when they were not visiting the feeders we saw the birds and squirrels. The birds have a great supermarket across the creek. The action in the weed patch and brush tangle was something to behold.

The comings and goings were continuous. We hardly needed binoculars to watch the 'goings on'. The cardinals were especially easy, they were simply big splashes of bright red.

Some of the other birds were a bit more difficult to identify. The juncos and titmice blended with the background so well that, unless the light was just right, they were merely dark birds eating from Mother Nature's cupboards.

During the milder days the squirrels were unbelievably busy. No work for them, it was all play, play, play. Chasing each other along the tree roads went on from morning until night.

They were also up and down the trees and across the yards. With several less red squirrels to torment them the large fox squirrels acted like kids out of school.

The scene was completely different when the skies were gray and the wind raw. Then it was nice to remember that that the Duncan feeders were full to overflowing and just waiting for hungry customers. When there was snow and ice the free handouts were even more attractive.

And, always, if it should happen that an overnight snow covers the food on the near-my-window feeders and the freeloaders come around before Mom has a chance to activate our snow removal plan, a hungry squirrel is beneficial.

He helps himself, the birds and the indoor watchers. As he scratches, tunnels or bulldozes, depending upon the snow depth, the food is uncovered and made available to chickadees, nuthatches and all other early morning visitors.

Speaking of squirrels, the one, who was so much smaller than the rest of the gang when he started visiting us late in the fall, is catching up. He is still on the small side but each week the difference in size seems to be less.

It should be, the way he packs away sunflower seeds.

However, there are still a few "tricks of the trade" he has not yet mastered. One afternoon, when the falling snow was so wet that it was almost rain, we saw that this little guy did not know how to use his tail as an umbrella.

Under similiar circumstances, any other knowledgeable squirrel would have crouched down in front of the mountain of seeds or corn and flipped his tail up over his back. Perfect protection.

This little character simply crouched in front of the seeds, ate as though it were going out of style and looked miserable. His tail was limply stretched behind him. Soon in and the rest of him were covered with wet slushy snow.

This is a near ideal day and just before dictating Mom and I experienced a near perfect winter happening. Bright sunshine, clear blue sky and fresh, clean snow.

Suddenly, in the middle of one food tray, stood our most brilliant and handsome Papa Cardinal. Absolutely breathtaking. This is what bird feeding and bird watch are all about.

Two Fires

Tecumseh firemen responded to two calls during the holiday.

Dec. 28, firemen were called to check out an electrical fire at 7996 Billmyer Hwy. Apparently a short circuit occurred in an electrical box. Fire was extinguished before firemen arrived to double check.

New Year's day firemen were called to 1200 Willow, the Meryl Eaton residence. Apparently a chimney was buring out on a wood burning fireplace. The fire was contained by the time firemen arrived.

'Hands' Program Still Active

The Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary and Tecumseh Kiwanis Club are still actively working on the Helping Hands program which they introduced to Tecumseh last spring.

Helping Hands is a program in which families agree to help children who may run into trouble while walking to and from school or a playmate's home.

"Blue" hands printed on cardboard signs are placed in windows of Helping Hand homes to tell a child in trouble that this house would be safe for him to approach for help.

There are several Helping Hand homes in Tecumseh, but more are needed to reach the service clubs' goal to have a Helping Hand home on every block.

All homes which have these "Hands" are carefully screened by police. Only those people who apply and have been screened obtain a "hand" to display.

Anybody interested in the program will find applications at the Tecumseh Public Library, at the Tecumseh Police Station, Tecumseh Spotlight broadcast location (The Grey Fox Floral) and at Doby's Donuts.

"If you don't have a "Hand" in your window, why not? We'd like to see a blue "Hand" on every block in Tecumseh. Our kids are the most important resource we have. Let's keep them safe and secure," said the clubs in a recent news release.

A public meeting on the program will be held at the Tecumseh Public Library Jan. 17, 1979, 7-9 p.m. The clubs urge people to attend and learn about the program.

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

Looking for an alternative for beef recipes? Both of these recipes combine a limited amount of meat with other ingredients to serve several hungry appetites.

Jambalaya is a popular dish in the deep south particularly in the Louisiana area. Delicious.

JAMBALAYA

1 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped celery
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
3 cups canned tomatoes
1 bay leaf, crushed
1-1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 cup diced cooked ham
1-1/2 cups instant rice, uncooked
1-1/2 cups water
1 package (12 to 16 ounces) shelled frozen shrimp, cooked

Put all ingredients except shrimp in a 10-1/2 inch skillet. Stir enough to distribute ingredients evenly. Add shrimp. Cover and cook over medium-low heat, (225 degrees) for 15 to 20 minutes. Serves 8.

Melody Klanke sent this recipe for Sweet and Sour Pork which is her husband's favorite meal.

SWEET AND SOUR PORK

1 pound boneless pork chunks
1 large onion, sliced
1/2 green pepper, sliced
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 cup water
cherry tomatoes, halved
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/3 cup vinegar
1 tablespoon soy sauce
15 ounce can chunk pineapple

Brown pork in small amount of grease. Add small amount of water and simmer until tender. Add salt and pepper to taste.

When fully cooked, add sliced onion and green pepper and simmer for a few minutes.

Blend cornstarch into 1/2 cup water and add to meat. Combine brown sugar, vinegar, soy sauce, and juice from pineapple and add to mixture. Add pineapple and continue cooking until it is thoroughly heated.

Add a few cherry tomatoes in the last 3 minutes of cooking. Serve over cooked rice or chow mein noodles. Makes 6 servings.

Car Rolls, 2 Injured

Two persons were injured when an automobile overturned early Jan. 1 on Occidental Hwy., just south of Dinius Rd.

Driver Mark D. Tolford, 18, of Adrian, and his passenger, Susan Ahrens, 16, of 1050 Willow Rd., were taken to Bixby Hospital, where Ahrens remains in fair condition with serious injuries.

The car was northbound on Occidental when Tolford drove off the right shoulder, lost control, crossed the road and struck a tree on the left side of the road. The vehicle rolled over on its top, throwing Ahrens out of the car.

Clinton State Police continue to investigate the mishap.

Tax-Deferred Retirement Accounts

First Federal Savings of Lenawee offers you two 3-year savings certificate retirement accounts, paying an annual interest rate of 8% — the Individual Retirement Account (I.R.A.) for those not covered by any private or government pension plan; and the Keogh Account, for those who are self-employed. Under these plans, you may contribute up to 15% of your annual income each year to your retirement savings (with a yearly maximum of $1500 for I.R.A. and $7,500 for Keogh) — and those savings are tax-deferred until retirement! What's more, with your I.R.A., you will have until April 15, 1979 to make your 1978 contribution or to open your account.

You just can't afford to retire without a pension plan — so why not come talk to us? We'll be happy to tell you more about our I.R.A. and Keogh tax-sheltered retirement accounts and help you plan for your future financial security. Or mail in this coupon today, and we'll send you the information on how you can benefit from a First Federal Savings of Lenawee retirement account. Why tax yourself any longer?

Each participant in an IRA/Keogh plan is insured to $100,000

Case Spearheads Holiday Programs

BRITTON — Britton Congregational Christian Church's new pastor, the Rev. Richard Case, spearheaded several Christmas programs for the congregation.

Dec. 17, an evening program was held with the Sunday school children. They patomined the Christmas story. Afterwards Santa arrived with gifts for all and the program was closed with a coffee hour in the fellowship hall.

Dec. 20, the Rev. Case and his wife, Janet and three children, Doug, Jim and Debbie, held an open house at their recently remodeled parsonage. Refreshments were served and gifts from the guests were presented to the family.

Christmas Eve a candlelight service was held in the sanctuary with the Rev. Case singing in German.

The deaconesses assisted the deacons. At the closing, the choir hummed "Silent Night" as the pastor read the words in German.

After the candlelight service, the pastor and some church members caroled at the homes of shut-ins.

During the morning service, the choir sang "Birthday of a King". John Arft played piano and Nancy Lorenz played organ for "O Holy Night."

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson, who traveled from Florida to attend church and be with families.

The Rev. Case's Christmas "wish" for a "full" church came true during all the programs.

Indian Host Grosse Ile Friday Night

The Tecumseh basketball squad's first place standing will be on the line this Friday as the Indians meet Grosse Ile.

Grosse Ile is presently 4-1, tied with several teams in the league for second. The Indians are alone in first at 5-0.

JV game begins 6:30 with varsity scheduled for 8 p.m.

Clinton Takes First Place in Invitational

The Clinton basketball team played some fancy basketball during its Christmas break and went away from the Adrian-Madison Invitational with first place.

Against Whiteford in the first game, Clinton posted 62 points for the victory to Whiteford's 49.

Jeff Porterfield scored 18 points, Mike Karapas had 15 and Mark Dettling also hit double figures with 13.

The Redskins then faced Adrian-Madison in the finals. Madison was 7-0 at the time and rated fifth in the state in class D competition.

Clinton coach Jim Pittman reports that his team played one of its best games of the season, both offensively and defensively. Clinton outscored their opponents, 56-42.

Clinton was actually up only four points at the end of the third frame. Then Madison began to press and Clinton broke through. Madison also got cold offensively while Clinton added 20 points to their score.

Dettling and Dave Porter were high for Clinton with 18 points each. Dettling also had 17 rebounds while Porter had 15.

Dave Porter and Jeff Porterfield were chosen to the all-tournament team.

Clinton is now 7-0, 4-0 in the league.

FIRST IN LEAGUE — The season is young, but it's been good to the Clinton Redskin basketball team so far. They're undefeated and in first place. Team members include: front, l-r, Kevin Pike, Terry Carlton, Ray Phelps, Mike Karapas and Todd Rockwell. Back, Barry Yocum, Jeff Porterfield, Dave Porter, Mark Dettling, Ed Foreman, Doug Mowrey, Tom Foreman and coach Jim Pittman. (PHOTO COURTESY OF CLINTON LOCAL)

Volleyballers Set to Open

Donna Sass is the head volleyball coach at Tecumseh this year. This is her first year with the Indians and the year is young. She just doesn't know yet how her girls are going to fair overall. She does know the team has talent.

And while coach Sass is sure she has a lot of talent, she promises that her girls are going to have to want to play enough to practice and improve. She is looking for a lot of improvement.

Returning from last year are Sandy MacGeorge, Gloria Fosbender, Connie Retan, Sandy Humphries, Kathy Perry and Kim Adams.

Coach Sass is looking for Retan, Perry and Fosbender to set along with newcomer Therese Rapin. She's looking for spiking help from MacGeorge, Humphries, Adams and newcomer Kris McDonald.

Other newcomers include Donna Bohannon, Kathy Kruger, Kerry Hamilton and Chris Spagnoli.

The girls are going to run a 6-2 offense this year. Although the team plays with only six players, the idea is to play with six spikers and use two of them also as setters. Spikers will be in the front row at all times.

The Indians ended their record at 15-6, 10-5 in the league last year. As far as the team will go this year, Sass just doesn't know. Not only is it very early in the season, but she is unfamiliar with the league and doesn't know how tough her schedule is.

Indians play the season opener against Adrian, away, Wednesday, 7 p.m.

Gymnasts Begin

Tecumseh coach Mary Wood is looking for a number of things from her gymnasts this year. Primarily, however, she is aiming the girls at 84 points as a team effort. Then three girls can compete in the regionals in each event.

The girls have four events to score in; vaulting, on the beam, floor exercises, and on the bars. With three participants in each event scoring, to reach 84 each of the three girls in four events must average seven points.

That 84 point aim is a high mark, no doubt about it. In fact, in the beam and bars, girls on an individual basis must reach only 6.6 four times a year to go to the regionals. The mark to hit for the vaults and floor exercises is 7.2.

Two officials judge the girls on a number of points, including difficulty (the set category), composition, execution, dance combinations, amplitude and originality. The two judges average their score for the competitors final mark.

And while this may seem basic, it is only the beginning of the work for the individual competitor. Coach Wood explains that practice and actual competition in front of a crowd is two very different things.

Her girls must establish poise, confidence and self discipline. It is as high a mark for the girls individually as 84 points is for the team as a whole.

Surprisingly, the team this year is composed of only 14 girls. Last year, the team was over twice the size. Wood is aiming at motivation with a smaller group with the pressure on all gymnasts. She's working for more depth, maturity and better self control.

And Wood has a good start with those goals in three outstanding returning performers and two new freshmen. The very promising freshmen are Martha Hans and Sue Erb.

The returning group includes Joanie Rapin, who is outstanding on the bars and an all-around worker. She also works the floor exercises.

Becky Schneirla is also an excellent performer, especially on the beam and floor exercises. She was injured last year, but has progressed rapidly.

Joanie Spencer is the other girl to especially watch. She went to the regionals last year along with Rapin on the bars. Spencer also works on the vault.

And to stress depth, Wood is also looking at nine other girls very hard for a great deal of help with the team effort. Those girls include Debbie Patten, Theresa Dangler, Nancy Phelan, Judy Harris, Tammy Moulton, Isle Vase, Toni Vargas, Leslie Oliver and Brenda Avery.

The girls ended their season last year with a 4-7 mark. That's a mark that will almost certainly be improved this year, but it is a mark compiled against all size schools. There is no league for gymnastics.

Girls begin competition Wednesday, hosting E. Jackson, 6:30 p.m.

ONE SURVIVES CRASH

Doctor, 2 Passengers Perish in Caribbean

Private funeral services will be held Friday at 1 p.m. at the Purse Funeral Home for Dr. John R. Thompson, Jr., 60, formerly of Tecumseh and a director here of the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh.

He is believed to have died Monday after his airplane crashed near Great Inaqua Island, north of Cuba in the Caribbean area. Two others perished in the accident, and one survived.

Kathy Brown of The Herald talked Wednesday morning with Chief Petty Officer Ray Baker of the United States Coast Guard, Public Affairs, Miami, Fla.

According to Baker, the party's aircraft left St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands and was flying to the Ft. Lauderdale airport. They had planned to stop in Georgetown in the Bahamas enroute, probably for refueling.

The lone survivor, identified as Lyle VanAman, has indicated the party was on vacation and island hopping.

Baker said the Coast Guard received a call at 8:15 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 6th. An Eastern commercial airliner had intercepted a Mayday signal and relayed it to the Miami airport tower.

The aircraft, piloted by Dr. Thompson, had developed propeller trouble.

The chief petty officer said the Coast Guard was then mobilized for a search and informed search and rescue craft in the area. A navy aircraft spotted their location at 2:15 p.m. Monday.

A Coast Guard helicopter picked up VanAman and a female body, not identified as of Wednesday morning.

Officer Baker said that message traffic showed Dr. Thompson's body was picked up by a passing merchant vessel and taken to Key West by the vessel. He was not alive at the time of the rescue.

A third body, that of another female passenger, was not recovered, according to Baker, and that VanAman told the Coast Guard that he was certain that she had died.

VanAman was taken to the Guantanamo Naval Hospital in Cuba where doctors report him in good condition but severely dehydrated and suffering from shock.

In his first debriefing, VanAman told the Coast Guard that all four people had made it out of the aircraft. In the Coast Guard report, he said the two women died from injuries suffered during the crash and Dr. Thompson two days later from exposure.

VanAman will be debriefed again by the Coast Guard as soon as he recovers.

The two women were Janet Sorrell, 42, and Linda Dienhart, 35, both believed to be from Fremont, Ind. Only one body, not identified, was recovered.

Dr. Thompson, a surgeon, made his home in Fremont, Ind., where he was born July 21, 1918, to John R. and Ruth (VanAman) Thompson. She survives.

He was a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and once practiced in Tecumseh and Manchester. In March 1977, he was elected a director of the United Savings Bank and had planned to attend the bank's board meeting here Wednesday.

He was a veteran of World War II, serving as a major in the medical corps of the United States Army.

Dr. Thompson did his undergraduate work at the University of Michigan and later graduated from the University's Medical School. His surgical training was through the University of Toledo.

He was married to Augusta M. Staudt. She survives.

Other survivors include three sons, John P. Thompson of Angola, Ind., Nathan N. Thompson of Marshfield, Wisc., and Joseph A. Thompson, Ascaschaffenburg, Germany; three daughters, Mrs. Stephen (Karen M.) Picquignot of Hunterstown, Ind., Mrs. Felix (Ruth A.) Muth of Randersacher, Germany, and Johanna Rose Thompson, Ft. Wayne; eight grandchildren, and one sister, Ruth Anne Thompson of Tecumseh.

His father, John R. Thompson was one of the area's most respected bankers. He retired in 1962, and died in 1976.

The Rev. Edmond I. Watkins will officiate, and burial will be in Covenanter Memorial Cemetery, Ray, Ind.

Visitation at the Purse Funeral Home will be after 7 p.m., Thursday.

DR. JOHN THOMPSON

First Federal Is Building Tecumseh Office in Spring

First Federal Savings of Lenawee will begin construction of a new Tecumseh office in early spring, Allan Graybiel, a president, announced Tuesday.

A $300,000 expenditure is planned for the 2,100-square-foot building which will face S. Occidental Rd. at the street's intersection with W. Chicago Blvd. Although First Federal's downtown Tecumseh office is fairly new, built about 25 years ago, the new facility will provide three primary advantages:

Drive-up facilties for motorists.

Additional parking for First Federal's customers.

Improve loans and closing services which are limited in the present downtown office.

Colonial architecture will be evident in the new office, a duplicate of the institution's office in Brooklyn. Besides the auto drive-up facility — one is planned at this time although future expansion is anticipated — there will be a large lobby and teller area, three business offices, lounge and storage area.

Special feature of the building will include the installation of the heating plant, air conditioning equipment and other related mechanical equipment in the attic.

Entry will be off W. Chicago Blvd. and Occidental with an exit drive only to Occidental. Tentative plans also include a specially designed time-temperature sign, one that cuts energy costs by two-thirds.

Completion of the building is scheduled for mid-summer. General contractor is Krieghoff-Lenawee Company, and the architect is David J. Siler of Adrian.

Tecumseh's office will mark the fourth new office for First Federal in the past six years. Other offices have been constructed at Blissfield, Clinton and Brooklyn. During this period, the home office in Adrian was expanded and remodeled.

First Federal, with nearly $133,000,000 in assets and the largest financial institution in Lenawee County, has approximately 4,000 Tecumseh area customers, not including Clinton customers.

B&Es Continue, 3rd at Saw Shop

For the third time in a month's period, Tecumseh Saw Shop was the site of another B&E.

The N. Evans St. business lost four chain saws this time, although Tecumseh police report that two have been recovered in Milan. In the previous break-in, which occurred Dec. 27th, eight chain saws were taken.

According to the police report, an 8x6 plate glass window facing N. Evans St. was smashed by two pieces of wood, apparently taken from a neighbor's pile of wood.

The chain saws were valued at nearly $1,100.

A neighbor had alerted the police that a car had been driving around in the area, but officers were unable to locate it just minutes later. Shortly afterwards, same neighbor called the police again, saying that she saw two men running towards the Marlboro Apartments and they were carrying "something" in their hands.

Police are continuing their investigation.

Tecumseh has had a rash of B&Es in recent weeks, break-ins that have involved both businesses and homes. On Dec. 6th, police just missed catching the burglars at Tecumseh Saw Shop. They were loading chain saws into a trunk of a car when officers surprised them.

They escaped over the embankment there and were later tracked to the A&P parking lot.

A B&E at Tecumseh High School was reported Wednesday morning. Entry was gained by breaking a window in a door. Officers report that a tape recorder, valued between $80 and $100, was taken from one of the rooms.

Last Friday, an attempted B & E was made at Whelan's Implement on W. Logan St. Bottom of a door had been kicked in, but entry apparently was not made.

Also Friday, a glass window and frame were broken for entry into the House of Pizza. Paul Pinter, owner, reports nothing was taken.

Other police complaints involved mainly vandalism. Resume is:

Jan. 5 — Windshields on two busses at Tecumseh High School were broken.

3 DAR 'Good Citizens'

By Hope H. Messing

Angie Spagnoli of Tecumseh High School, Carol Clark from Clinton High School and Karen Wielfaert from Britton-Macon Area School are the students selected as Good Citizens this year to represent Abi Evans Chapter of the DAR.

Since 1934 National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution has conducted in each state, in accredited high schools, a Good Citizens contest to select one student in the senior class who has demonstrated the qualities of a good citizen.

The National Association of secondary school principals has placed this program on the advisory list of national contests and activities for 1978-1979.

The program has the approval of the State Department of Education.

Citizenship refers to the student as a citizen of the United States and of his or her high school, regardless of race or creed. The qualities of good citizenship are based on leadership, dependability, service and patriotism.

Angie Spagnoli is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Spagnoli, 6762 Gove Ct. She is a president of the National Honor Society and a student council representative.

Angie has been active as a cheerleader, a member of the track team, varsity club and pep club, Tecumseh Dance Workshop and her church youth group.

Carol is a member of the Tecumseh Players and has performed in three of their productions. During her high school years she has been a part of the Band Follies each year.

Pre-applications by the elderly or handicapped should be completed and returned to Preston at city hall no later than Feb. 2. Information on the forms, which are available at city hall, library and in the Jan. 4th issue of The Herald, are confidential and for Preston only.

Nancy Nichols To Chair County Commissioners

It is the first time that a Democrat has held the post since the mid-1960's. She is the first woman to be chairperson of the county board.

NANCY NICHOLS

Nichols' election marked the first time since 1972 that a Tecumseh area commissioner served as chairperson. Martin Halley, retired commissioner, from District 5 held the chairperson's office in 1972.

Nichols defeated Commissioner Larry Gould, Republican of District 8 from Morenci, by one vote in the secret ballot. Republicans dominate the board. They hold elght of the 15 seats.

County Commissioner Jane Davis, Republican of District 1 from Manitou Beach, was elected the vice-chairperson of the Lenawee County Board of Commissioners.

It marks the first time in state history that women have held the top two posts in county government.

Drive at Midpoint

With the drive halfway to the target date of March 1, $28,410 in cash and pledges has been received by the Lenawee County Historical Society in the initial phase of its capital fund raising campaign for the county museum.

Heritage Fund Drive chairman Dr. John Dawson expressed confidence that the Heritage Fund will reach its $100,000 goal by deadline.

Many of the donations were "leadership" gifts of $1,000 or more from individuals and groups.

Of the amount to date, $1,759 has been received from Tecumseh individuals, businesses and groups. (This amount excludes financial institutions. United Savings Bank of Tecumseh contributed $1,000). Tecumseh's conservative drive goal is $5,000.

In addition to these gifts, the Lenawee County Historical Society has received $30,100 for the sale of its former location at 108 S. Main, Adrian.

It has been hoped that museum supporters will be generous enough that the proceeds from the sale of the present museum may be used as a nest egg for future needs.

Fund raising effort is for renovation of the former Adrian Carnegie Library, adjacent to the Adrian City Hall. LCHS purchased it in December.

A federal grant for $104,500 has been approved for the Lenawee County Historical Museum by the History Division of the Michigan Department of State.

However, whether or not the county historical society will receive the full amount hinges on the county's ability to match the grant, dollar for dollar.

"This should serve as a real incentive to donors as they will know that whatever they give, will be matched by this grant," said Elwood Little, County Historical Society President.

Museum curator, Dr. Charles Lindquist, reported the move to the new building has begun this month and will continue through February. Renovation of the Carnegie Library will begin after specifications and bidding forms are prepared.

The former museum site at S. Main was closed as of Jan. 2.

Tax-deductible gifts to the Heritage Fund may be sent to the Lenawee County Historical Society, P.O. Box 511, Adrian, Mich. 49221 or call 265-6071.

"This is Lenawee County's only full-scale, historical museum and therefore our only repository for the vast number of historical documents and artifacts within Lenawee County.

"This is our museum. Support from all over the county is needed. Large contributions are greatly appreciated, but the small contributions, the pledge of a few dollars a month over several years, the memorial gifts, all add up to make you a part of this important undertaking," said Betty Kline, president of the Tecumseh Area Historical Society.

Paul Preston Is Speaker

Tecumseh's assistant city manager Paul Preston will speak about senior citizen housing Thursday at 10 a.m. on the Tecumseh Spotlight radio program with Kay Russell, hostess.

Program will be caried on WLEN, 103.9 FM.

Install Additional Tipton Equipment

Additional dial switching equipment was recently installed in the Tipton central office, according to Les Moench, Jr., division manager for General Telephone Company.

Two hundred lines of central office equipment was installed. These "lines" are the circuitry or communications channels necessary to route customers calls within and through the Tipton office.

Moench said that the existing "lines" would have been completely utilized within several months, necessitating this $34,000 project.

Disaster Loans Are Available for Lenawee

Lenawee County was one of 10 adjacent counties to have been declared a disaster area due to heavy crop damage caused by drought from February through September, 1978.

Under the disaster program, the Small Business Administration is authorized to make direct low interest Physical Disaster Loans to farmers in those counties who sustained drought related crop loss and/or damage.

The infent of this program is to return farmers to pre-disaster conditions by helping them meet current financial obligations and/or plant a new crop.

Farmers in the Tecumseh area desiring more information or applications for disaster loans may contact the temporary Adrian field office of the Small Business Administration located at the County Extension Center, 199 N. Broad St., Adrian, Mich. 49221.

Hours will be from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursdays and Fridays only, during January. Those dates are Jan. 11, 12, 18, 19, 25 and 26.

After the temporary field office closes Jan. 26, all information will be handled in the Detroit branch office.

Businesses that have suffered economic injury as a direct result of the disaster may apply for and Economic Injury Disaster Loan. Such businesses are required to submit documentation showing that the economic injury suffered was directly attributable to the disaster.

Funds received form these loans may be used to provide working capital to meet financial obligations that otherwise would have been met had the disaster not occured.

Where possible and without causing undue hardship, a business must use its own assets or credit from the private sector, if available at reasonable rates, to meet its financial obligations.

Interest rates on Physical Disaster Loans for crop losses are three percent on the first $25,000 or 6 5/8 percent thereafter.

Disaster loans are to be repaid by the earliest date possible without causing undue hardship.

Typical maturity runs from seven to 10 years; but could, under extenuating circumstances, go up to the maximum of 30 years.

Chamber of Commerce

MONTHLY NEWS REPORT

Goals and past projects were discussed last Thursday morning by 20 members of the Chamber of Commerce at the organization's monthly meeting at Don's Beef Buffet.

Recent Christmas promotion was debated relative to Santa's arrival, decorations, participation by merchants, and advance planning.

For Christmas 1979, it was generally agreed that a September or October meeting would be held to determine the day that Santa would arrive, shopping hours, covering off-street parking meters, and the possibility of having a band available for Santa's arrival.

Band Boosters will be contacted for scheduling the high school band. Chamber had planned having a band this past season, but the schools cancelled a couple of days before Santa's arrival.

Other items discussed included a possible expenditure of $1,000 for Christmas decorations in the west section of Tecumseh, fireworks, community brochure, post cards with Tecumseh scenes, and a raffle.

Chamber promoted a raffle in 1978, and it was disappointing. This year's raffle will start earlier, possibly with Promenade the Past or Sidewalk Sale and end with Santa's arrival. Raffle discussion included expanding sales effort and involvement of more organizations.

Dr. David Blanden announced that the board would meet this Thursday night, Jan. 11th, at seven o'clock in the board of directors' room at United Savings Bank, to review a tentative budget and to organize various committees and chairmen for 1979.

This meeting is open to all Chamber members. Entry will be off N. Evans St.

Including the board, 20 members attended last week's session.

B-M Tory Girls Play First Home Volleyball Match Tonight

The Tory girls' volleyball teams play their first home matches Thursday evening against a strong Ida team. The JV match is scheduled to start at 6 p.m.

Last Monday night, the teams traveled to Ann Arbor to face Gabriel Richard in their season opener. The Britton varsity team won by scores of 15-3 and 15-14, sparked by seven service points by senior Janis Tubbs and six by Dorothy Bush, also a senior.

After winning the first game 15-13, the team was not able to handle the Irish girls and lost the next two games, 8-15 and 13-15. Sophomore Anita Denny was the leading Tory scorer with 10 serving points. Classmates Julie Kniffen and Debbie Weyher had seven and six respectively.

Returning varsity letter winners for the Tory team are seniors Patty Armstrong and Janene Schultz, who will handle most of the team's setting responsibilities and are also strong spikers.

Another player from last year's team is senior Mary Oswald who is expected to be one of the team's leading servers.

Moved up from last year's JV team are juniors Judy Frayer, Sandy Judkins, Debbie Szabo and Erin White, all of whom are expected to see a lot of action.

Other members of the team include sophomore Shannon Skelton, exchange student Pia Heikio, and new players Dorothy Bush and Janis Tubbs.

Sophomore players on the squad are Anita Denny, Carrie Farmer, Teresa Faust, Julie Kniffen, Lee Price, Brenda Reum and Debbie Weyher, all of whom have had one year of volleyball experience. Freshmen members of the team include Gloria Gonzales, Rita Handley, Kellie Hillner, Trisha Hintz, Suzie Oswald and Amy Rohrs.

Next week, the Tory girls have two home matches in their schedule, Monday night with Sand Creek, and Deerfield on Thursday.

When Kathy Prays

When Kathy prays I can almost hear angel wings flutter. Her simple conversations with God are so full of trust and confidence, I feel as though I am standing at the doorstep of heaven.

After prayers, I tuck her into bed, turn out the light and go downstairs. And I find myself continuing the conversation she has started. My prayer is always the same . . . that as she grows, and her needs and wishes change, my little girl will continue to develop her understanding and love of God.

How grateful I am for my church. It has been a constant source of inspiration for my own religious growth. I know it will be ready to help me answer Kathy's questions. It is wonderful to know that I do not have to tackle the religious education of my daughter alone.

Attend your church. Let it help you as you guide your child's religious thinking.

Thru My Window

BY MARDA GENE DUNCAN

The tiny red-breasted nuthatches are, at least of this dictating, my most favorite birds. They are cute, busy every minute, and most faithful. They were the saving grace of what would have otherwise been a most disastrous day.

It was most embarrassing. Fun, but embarrassing. Several weeks ago I told you about the Michigan Audubon Society's Bird Feeder Bird Count. Well, shortly after dictating that article, I was asked to participate in the Lenawee County Audubon's Society's Christmas bird count.

Each year bird watchers from all over count the birds they see on a particular date and, of course, the information compiled is invaluable in giving a picture of the state of bird life in this country.

I was to keep track of the birds I saw Dec. 28 and at day's end my visitors would be included with those tallied by other members of the counting team.

When that Thursday dawned bright and clear, I knew we were in for trouble. Exactly how much trouble I knew only later. To make a long story short, Mom was not overly busy that day keeping track of what we saw.

The first count we made for the Michigan program was in November and one of our totals was 16 different species seen. Would you believe that on Dec. 28 our count was only 16 birds of seven different species? Absolutely disgraceful!

Among the ingrates who did not cooperate and show themselves on the 28th were gold and purple finches, pine siskins, and cedar waxwings. There were also no woodpeckers of any kind, no song or tree sparrows and, surprisingly enough, not even any juncos.

Because this count was interested in all birds and not just those attracted by a feeding program I kept searching the skies for crows and hawks but with no success.

The grand total for the whole day was two blue-jays, two cardinals, three English sparrows, two mourning doves, two chickadees, three white breasted nuthatches, and two red-breasted nuthatches.

It was these red-breasted nuthatches who 'saved face' for me. When my report was collected they were the only ones which had been turned in so far.

And, by the way, the National Geographic's "Song and Garden Birds of North America" containes a super description of the red-breasteds. "...black capped, black eye stripe on white cheek, gray back, tawny underparts." How perfect! Yet it does not portray the nuthatch look, the short blunt tail, broad shoulders but no neck, and the pointed needle-like bill.

There are four members of the nuthatch family living in North America. We in this area play host to two, the white breasted who is a year around resident and the red-breasted who usually appears only in winter.

Although tree climbers, these are not woodpeckers. They do not use their tails as propping devices. Instead they rely upon the incredible strength of their toes or claws.

By placing one foot forward under their breast and the other back under their tail they dig in with all their might and nimbly work their way up or down or around and around a tree.

In one place this book talks about the 4 1/4 to 4 3/4 inch red-breasted nuthatches as being sociable and rather noisy. Their words are "...chattering constantly among themselves".

Perhaps a flock on their nesting grounds in the coniferous forests of the far north would be but here we have never hosted more than two a winter.

And they are such serious little characters too, their sole purpose in life seems to be taking sunflower seeds and bites of suet to the nearby trees and wedging their goodies into the crevices of the rough bark.

That other birds, and probably even squirrels, raid these caches seem to bother the red-breasteds not a whit. I am not surprised, what else but open hearted generosity could be expected of birds who loyally show up on a count date when few of the other freeloaders do!

READ IN COMFORT — Children will now be able to read in comfort in the Tecumseh Public Library "Reading Tub" thanks to five Tecumseh senior citizens who stuffed pillows for the library. And who do you think they be? L-r are Lucille Knaggs, Florence Smith, Evelyn Swanston and Helen Foster, seated. Belle Brinkley was not available for the picture.

'The Pastor's Study'

By Rev. R. Richard Case
Britton Congregational Church

In a recent letter someone asked, "Shouldn't a pastor be more concerned about the spiritual welfare of man, more than the state of the nation?"

My answer is quite simple and understandable.

If the church (collectively) and it's many children of God, would have kept their concern alive and active, this great republican might not be in the shape it is. Wishful thinking won't bring a turnabout, only concerned Americans can do that.

"A HOUSE DIVIDED
'N' DIVIDED
'N' DIVIDED"

If any one thing is disastrously wrong in our system of government as we new know it, it is what we have let our state houses and Capitol building become.

What am I speaking of? I'm speaking about the fact that those good men we have elected to take care of our government are hampered, and cannot act and react for our benefit in a totally free atmosphere.

They are dogged day and night. They are wined and dined to death by special interest groups of all manner, shape and size. We have, to name a few, farm lobbyists, labor groups, civil rights advocates, conservationists, gun lobbyists, various foreign interest groups, many and differing race groups, etc.

What elected official can work to his best potential for his nation, and it's total best welfare when he is constantly being pestered by professional lobbyists. And really, they will lobby for any cause if the pay is right.

These groups are afraid of the real American system, and so they resort to child's play. Pester mommy long enough and you will get your way!

That's just what a lobbyist does! Wouldn't it be a good idea for our state and national representatives to pass a bill that would make it illegal for any outside influence to tamper with or try to persuade in any way elected government officials.

In this way your representative could act freely with his own intelligence and conscience as his guide. This would also lessen the chance for payoffs and kickbacks that seem to be so common today in the function of our government.

A national TV network recently did a documentary on this subject. Likewise a state television station did exactly the same type of program. It concerned lobbying in our state house.

Yes, the problem is here and it's a deep, far reaching problem. It is affecting you and I, no matter who you are. Yes, even if you happen to benefit from one of the lobbying groups.

The one that is being hurt the most is dear old "Uncle Sam". Although these groups would say that a bill such as this would be denying them their freedom, they overlook one basic fact, one basic truth. This nation under God was set in motion and with one premise: The majority shall rule, not a minority of special interest groups rule the majority.

Well Mr. Representative, you promised us a better government if you were elected. We're waiting.

But wait a minute, as Americans we are all to-blame for the plight of our nation today, including those who persist in negativism.

You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free.

A good example of lobbying can be taken from the arrest and trial of Jesus. It was not Pilate who sought Christ's blood. It was a small group of priests and scribes in the Temple who feared Christ's power. They lobbied against Christ in an effort to persuade Pilate.

SKIP JOHNSTONE

Skip Joins Air Force

Skip Johnstone recently entered the U.S. Air Force under the delayed enlistment program.

Induction ceremony, which took place Nov. 28 in Detroit, was attended by his parents, Gerald and Kathi Johnstone, of 1203 Willow St.

Skip, who graduates in June from THS, received a nearly perfect score on the 400 question exams. His high overall scores qualified him for specialized training in the field of his choice.

He will report for active duty Aug. 27, and then, following basic training in Texas, will enter technical school at Chanute AFB, Ill., for special instruction and training in automatic flight control systems.

Those who successfully complete the training program will be issued a snowmobile certificate.

Mowat Sets Up Capitol Office

State Senator Jack Mowat has set up his office in the State Capitol and is prepared to serve the residents of his district.

Senator Mowat, a Republican from Adrian, was elected last November to serve as Michigan's 19th District Senator, replacing retired Senator Hal Ziegler (R-Jackson). He formerly served eight years in the State House of Representatives.

His office in the State Capitol is located in Room E, 2½ Floor, South Wing. His telephone number is (517) 373-2426.

Residents of the 19th District are urged by Senator Mowat to visit or contact him at the State Capitol to express their views on state issues, to obtain information on state legislation, or to request assistance in resolving problems with state agencies.

Announces Revision

Jack Germond, president of Commercial Savings Bank, has announced a revision in holiday policy recently effected by the board of directors of the bank.

In the interest of offering more banking service to the community, the board has decided that the bank will maintain regular banking hours on five holidays on which it had previously been closed.

These are holidays that usually occur on Mondays and are not generally observed by other business organizations.

The bank will continue to observe the major holidays of Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Years Day.

The revised policy of the bank came about from changes in holiday statutes in the state of Michigan, as well as, from a recent opinion by the attorney general of the state of Michigan.

Previous to the change in legislation and the attorney general's opinion, banks in Michigan were required to close on holidays. However, that is no longer a requirement.

Drop By To Claim Photos

By Kathy Brown

"Should old acquaintance be forgot and never brought to mind? Should old acquaintance be forgot and days of Auld Lang Syne?"

While reorganizing the Herald's photo file, this reporter came across a collection of baby pictures of the Class of 1961. (Tecumseh's?) Apparently they had been used during a graduation party given by Ruth Bishop.

They were since bequeathed to Tecumseh Herald society editor emeritus Dorothy Grigg and are still in the Herald's possession. The owners never claimed them.

Some are studio portraits. Certainly these classic baby pictures will mean something to someone, someday. Almost all the pictures have names on the back and some have addresses. However, it is not known how current these addresses are.

Not having the heart to pitch them out, we are printing a list of those pictures and hope the owners will claim them by Feb. 1.

To claim your picture, drop by the Herald during business hours, Monday through Friday, 8-12 and 1-5, or send a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Indian Basketballers Burn Grosse Ile's Red Devils

The Tecumseh Indians literally swept by the Grosse Ile Red Devils Friday night on their straight Huron League victory, 72-58.

The Indians jumped to a 23-12 first quarter edge behind eight early points each from Mark Creswell from the inside and John Faulkner from the outside.

The game was never in doubt from that point as the Tecumseh team out played and out rebounded the Red Devils.

Leading scorers for the Indians were John Ely with 18 points and seven blocked shots. Ron Smith also hit double figures with 10. Creswell had 15 and Faulkner had 12 points.

The Indians hit 50 percent from the field, 25 of 50. Grosse Ile hit 24 of 65 shots from the floor for 37 percent.

From the line, the Indians made 23 of 34 while the Grosse Ile squad could manage only 10 of 26. In rebounding, the Indians had a 38-33 edge with Ely high for the local team with 15.

Tories Drop Two Games

This week just isn't one that the Britton basketball team cares to remember for very long. Everything that could go wrong for a team did, as Britton lost to Whitmore Lake Friday and Adrian-Madison Tuesday.

Friday, the Tories lost 73-67, but that loss comes with questions over the officiating.

Britton was up by seven at half, 34-27. Then Whitmore flew by the Tories with one Whitmore player hitting 14 points in the fourth frame. As a whole, Whitmore went to the line 20 times that second half while Britton went to the charity strip just eight times.

According to coach VanArnsdalen, the Britton players played well, but they were outplayed the second half and the officiating was one sided.

Leading scorers for Britton were Terry Benedict with 18, Troy Bailey with 14, and Randy Dusseau and David Bruce, each with 11. Leading rebounders were Bruce with 12, and Fanslau and Benedict with 10.

Britton was 28 of 63 from the floor for 44 percent while Whitmore was 26 of 62 for 42 percent. Britton out rebounded Whitmore 39 to 22.

Tuesday again was a bad day for the Britton team as Madison played the best game of its year and beat the Tories 88-49.

The first frame told the story of the game when Britton connected with the basket for 16 points and Madison had a 28 point first frame surge. Madison just didn't miss all night.

Again the officiating was questioned and tempers did fly in the game.

Leading scorers for the Tories were Dusseau with 15 and Bruce with 11. Bruce also led in rebounding with eight.

As a whole, the Tory team was 22 of 61 from the floor and five of 11 from the line. Madison was 33 of 15 from the floor and 22 of 29 from the line. Madison out rebounded Britton 33 to 24.

Wrestlers Are 1-1

In LCAA action Thursday, Jan. 4, Clinton's unbroken string of mat victories was interrupted by Addison 45-24. The Redskins record now stands at 1-1 in the league and 4-1 overall.

Winning for Clinton were Rich Armstrong, Chris Morely, Clayton Semanske, Andy Hoag and Bordon Miller.

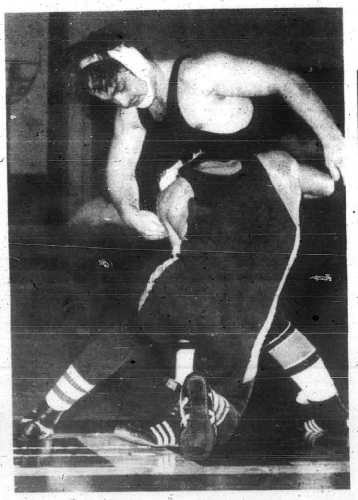
Women [illegible], 15-8

The Tecumseh First Baptist women played their first basketball game of the season Jan. 2 against Palmyra at St. Johns in Adrian. Tecumseh's girls came out on top, 15-8.



WIN ONE, LOSE ONE — Don Ringman, above, is able to stop his CC opponent from pinning him while teammate Mike Fagan, right, goes for the take down Thursday against CC.

THS Indian Wrestlers Drop Opening Huron Meet, 40-32

Midway through the league meet with Monroe C.C. Thursday, it looked as though the Indians were going to put one over on the Falcons. The lighter classes fared well against their opponents but the Indians ran into trouble in the heavier weights.

Marty Barrett, Matt Barrett, John Southard and Tracy Miller all contributed pins to the Indian effort. Lenny Castorena and Jack Bagby also posted victories.

The meet was the first league competition for either team.

After losing 40 to 32 the Indians will be looking forward to avenging themselves against Airport here on Thursday, Jan. 11.

At the Parma Western Invitational held in Jackson Saturday, Jack Bagby took third place in stiff competition which included 17 teams, four of which were class A.

You Are What You Eat

Brunches have become a popular way of entertaining. They can be casual or fancy. These suggestions are for brunch or lunch.

First recipe, from the American Mushroom Institute, suggests that eggs and mushrooms are terrific go-togethers.

MUSHROOM EGG DIVAN

1 lb. fresh mushrooms or 2 cans (6 to 8 ounces each) sliced mushrooms
4 Tbsp. butter
1 can cream of mushroom soup
¼ cup milk
2 Tbsp. minced chives or onions
⅛ tsp. ground pepper
4 ounces (1 cup) shredded Cheddar cheese
2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen broccoli spears, cooked and drained
6 hard-cooked eggs, peeled and halved.

Rinse, pat dry and slice fresh mushrooms (makes about 5 cups) or drain canned mushrooms; set aside. In a large skillet melt butter. Add mushrooms and saute for 5 minutes. Stir in soup, milk, chives and black pepper. Bring to the boiling point. Stir in half of the cheese; cook and stir until cheese melts. Arrange broccoli in a buttered 10x6x2 inch baking pan. Top with eggs. Pour sauce overall. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Bake uncovered in 375 degree oven until hot and bubbly, about 15 minutes. If desired, serve over toast points. Note: Fresh asparagus, wilted spinach or green beans can be substituted for the broccoli.

BRAN MUFFINS

2 cups All Bran
2 cups boiling water
1 cup melted shortening
3 cups sugar
4 eggs beaten
1 quart buttermilk
5 cups flour
4 cups Bran Buds
5 tsp. soda
2½ tsp. salt
1 lb. raisins

Pour boiling water over All Bran. let stand. Mix sugars and shortening, add eggs and milk. Add moistened All Bran. Combine flour, Bran Buds, soda and salt. Add to liquid mixture. Dough thickens as it stands. Raisins may be added. Bake at 375 degrees for 20-25 minutes in muffin tins.

Dough can be stored in container in refrigerator for six weeks. In fact, they are better after setting a while. Recipe yields six dozen muffins.

Raisin Board Separates Supervisor, Assessor Job

Raisin Township Board voted Monday night to separate the job of assessor from that of supervisor. In return, the supervisor will accept a salary reduction of some $3,000 a year to help offset the expense.

The board also voted to have a professional assessor come into the township and bring the tax roll up to date for 1979. More than $3,000,000 in new construction has not been entered on the roll over the last year.

Robert D. Moore, who became supervisor Nov. 20, asked for help in updating the roll, so that the rest of the township wouldn't be penalized with higher tax assessments from a state equalization factor.

The assessor will check all new properties and structures, and compare them with properties already on the roll to make sure that all are being assessed at the same rate.

This action grew out of the board's meeting of Jan. 2, when the hiring of an assesor was rejected by the board until further information could be gained.

Also at that meeting, the board approved two final plats for Hyde Park and Lake Arrowhead subdivisions, approved contracting with EMT Ambulance Service to serve the township and approve a bid for a trench to be dug at the township sanitary landfill.

The board also discussed road work proposed for this year, and continued the discussion at a joint meeting with the Lenawee County Road Commission Friday.

At that meeting the township board learned that the county has been given tentative approval for a federal grant to build a new bridge at the River Raisin and Raisin Center Hwy. Eighty percent of the project $300,000 cost would be paid by the federal grant.

Monday, the board, in a three-two split, voted to reject the project, because it would be tied to a rebuilding of Raisin Center Hwy. that would cost the township an estimated $90,000, plus the $30,000 for the bridge, and in effect using an entire year's road funds for one project.

Among roads which the town board hopes to give attention this year are Ives Rd., Dinius Rd., and further hard-surface treatment on as many roads as the budget will allow.

Church Celebrates Epiphany Feast

St. Elizabeth Church celebrated the feast of the Epiphany - the coming of the wise men, at masses Saturday evening, Jan. 6 and Sunday morning, Jan. 7.

At each mass, three men portrayed the Magi, dressed in flowing robes and jewels and bearing gifts of gold, frankincense and myrhh.

Representing the kings at the 5:30 p.m. Saturday mass were Robert Meyer, Richard Niedermier and Robert McKee.

Those serving at the 8:30 a.m. Sunday mass were Lawrence Cote, David Robinson and Elmer Spreeman; and at the 10:30 a.m. mass, John Hartley, Hy Le Dinh and Edward Furstenberg served.

Costuming was done by Frances Spreeman.

Epiphany is a Greek word meaning "to show". The spiritual significance of the feast, the visit of the wise men (non-Jew's), is that from His birth, Christ made it known or "showed" that He came for all peoples.

When the wise men followed the star in the East, they came to worship the infant Jesus and brought rich gifts. The treasures were valuable in themselves and they were also symbolic.

In ancient times gold was rarer than it is now. Only kings could wear golden ornaments. In bringing some of the most precious metal then known, the wise men recognized that Jesus was truly a king.

Frankincense was an aromatic, spicy, solid perfume. It was considered to be so sacred that only priests were allowed to prepare and use it. Burning with a bright, white flame, it's fragrant smoke is symbolic of God's presence. The child's divinity was acknowledged in the offering of this coetly gift.

Myrrh was a resinous spice related to frankincense. The ancient Egyptians used myrrh in embalming. The gift was prophetic of Christ's life and death.

Society Plans Dinner Meeting

The annual dinner-meeting of the Tecumseh Area Historical Society will be Jan. 24, at the First Baptist Church, 5920 Milwaukee Rd.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. Reservations are necessary by Jan. 20 and may be made with Michelle Worley or Betty Kline. A minimum of 30 reservations are necessary. Dinner will include juice, salad, entree, dessert and coffee.

Meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Barb McCann will present a progam on the former Lilley State Bank, which she and her husband James own.

Also during the meeting, three new board members will be elected to assume the offices held by Michelle Worley, Stan Legenc and Cecil Eby. All voters must be paid members to vote at the meeting.

Special awards will be presented at the annual meeting.

Work has begun on the repair of the Pioneer Park and Brookside Cemetery fences. Contributions are still being accepted for the project. Send them to Fence Fund, c/o TAHS, P.O. Box 26, Tecumseh.

Theresa and Wesley Powers are leading preparations for the First Historic Tecumseh Antique Show slated for March 3, at the Community Center. To assist in the plans, call Theresa at 423-4148. Proceeds will be added to the fence fund.

VISIT WITH BEN — John Kruger and Hazel Tribble, second grade students of Dolores Colson at Patterson School, met with Ben Franklin (actor Ralph Archbold) last Thursday. He also appeared at Herrick Park School.

Ben Franklin Entertains Patterson, Herrick Park Schools

By Kathy Brown

If your eight-year-old came home last week and told you he saw Ben Franklin, you can believe him if he's a student at Herrick Park or Patterson Schools. Ben Franklin was a guest at both schools last Thursday in Tecumseh.

Ben came to bring the children a firsthand lesson in American History, over 200 years old. He talked about his life, his experiments in the printing trade, with electricity and his inventions, such as bifocals, the lightning rod and the stove, to name a few. He reminisced about starting the fire department, the library and "Poor Richard's Almanac."

Ben will be 273-years-old Jan. 17. You may not believe that he's still alive. But his spirit is presented in a lively, timeless fashion by actor Ralph Archbold. Coincidentally, Archbold will be 37 years old on Franklin's birthday.

"Some adults don't want to be told that I'm not just Ben Franklin. I'm an actor," said Archbold with a gleeful smile.

His presentation of Ben is geared to the age of the audience. To the younger children, he is just Ben, but with the older children, he discusses the job of being an actor as well.

Archbold makes about 800 appearances a year to business, fraternal groups and conventions. He performs at Greenfield Village during the summer and at school assembly programs across the country. He will spend a week in Hawaii for a convention and tour of local schools.

"I started doing this about six years ago. I started as a photographer and when Greenfield Village needed someone to do Ben Franklin, I started doing 10 minute shows," said Archbold.

"I thought that the demand would 'go down after the Bicentennial, but the demand has increased. I'll just keep on doing it. It's like a lifetime annuity," he went on.

In Franklin conscious Philadelphia, Penn., Archbold's likeness to Franklin earned him a free dinner.

"Not much is known about the mannerisms of Franklin. They didn't have the media then that we have today. Back then, we were busy just trying to stay alive as a country. Not many people were recording history.

"But there are so many interesting things about Franklin. Some anecdotes are quite funny, but they are hard to document. I try to be as accurate as I can be. I research when I have time, but it's hard to get time for vaction with my family. I have a library on Franklin and people send me things, too.

"I do a timeless Franklin, a Disney type character, because that's the type I grew up with. Most of the Franklins you see are a hobbling character with a cane that goes around giving everybody advice."

Archbold doesn't appear to use any makeup. His long hair is his own, natural silvery-blonde color. "Actually I don't like long hair," he admitted.

His long coat, ruffled shirt and knee-britches are sewn by his wife, Susan, who does his costuming with handsome detail. They have three children, soon to have four.

"My kids are at an age where they can accept that you can be Franklin if you want to be," told Archbold. "This Christmas, I played Santa Claus and thought I was fooling somebody. When I came downstairs, dressed as myself, my 3 1/2 year old said to me, "Can you come back as Santa Claus?"

Essays on Ben Franklin's visit were submitted to the Herald by members of Ruth Puffer's second grade class. Writers were: Carolyn Klein, Laura Burns, Shawn Adams, Rachel Werner, Laura Pemberton, Rhonda Langmeyer, Craig Martinus, Kevin Poppink, Jill Gregory, Jimmy Casarez, Christa Beauchamp, Mark Mastie, Jennifer Malone.

The children were amused with his explanation of knickers compared to the slacks men and boys wear today. Ben's "age" was betrayed as one of the children noticed his wristwatch and bifocal glasses.

CAUGHT HIDING IN APARTMENT

Police Arrest, Charge 2 in Armed Robbery

Two Tecumseh youths, arrested last Wednesday night and charged with armed robbery after seizing nearly $1,200 at George's Market, were scheduled for examination Wednesday afternoon in district court.

In Lenawee County jail and under $50,000 bond are Richard L. Stewlow, 20, of 1204 W. Chicago Blvd., and Carl D. Boswell Jr., 18, of 309-1/2 N. Pearl.

Also arrested at the time but since released is Samuel D. Marcum, 21, Russell Square Apartments. All arrests took place at the apartment complex.

According to the Tecumseh police report, George W. Heeman Sr. and other employees were just leaving the market at Russell Rd. and Occidental and were outside the building when Stewlow and Boswell approached Heeman, who was carrying a deposit bag.

Stewlow demanded money from Heeman, who had not yet locked the door. He ducked back inside the market but the two forced their way in before the door could be locked.

Inside, Stewlow, brandishing a six-inch hunting knife, again demanded the money. Heeman handed over the deposit bag and the two youths took off running east on Russell Rd.

Officers were on the scene by this time and with help of fresh snow and radio reports quickly traced the two to Russell Square Apartments. An informant then advised officers which apartment the youths entered.

When police were first told that no one else was there, they finally obtained permission to search the apartment. Stewlow was found in the bathroom and Boswell beneath a bed.

Money was found in a closet on the floor and some between towels on a closet shelf. Deposit bag was recovered from beneath some clothes.

The youths were questioned at the Tecumseh police station and statements were taken before being transferred to the county jail. Their armed robbery stint started shortly after 10 p.m. and they were in custody within an hour.

The case remains open and under investigation.

Other police complaints were minor. A resume is:

David A. Francisco, 18, of 406 N. Union St., was charged Friday with being a minor and in possession of beer.

Eric G. Amstutz, 18, of 11075 Billmyer, was cited Saturday for having open intoxicants on a highway.

Monday, Ginger Y. Sturtvant, 37, of 223 N. Evans, was arrested on disorderly person charges.

Also Monday, Nora Lewis, 210 S. Ottawa, reported damages to a window.

Bradley S. Hoffman, 28, of 206 S. Democrat, was charged Tuesday with open intoxicants in a motor vehicle.

Council Stalls CAA in Sharing Funds

Tecumseh City Council stalled action on the request of the Region II Community Action Agency for the city's annual contribution of five percent of its federal revenue sharing funds until other local units of government contribute their share.

The Community Action Agency is multi-service agency, that offers legal, medical, job replacement and job training services, outreach and referral to low income individuals and families in Lenawee County. It opened a Tecumseh office last year at St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Tecumseh has contributed five percent of its federal revenue sharing funds or approximately $4,400 since 1974.

Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation also contributes to the agency. The cities of Adrian and Hudson and the village of Deerfield are the other municipalities that contribute to its operation.

Council was interested in how many Tecumseh city residents are assisted in the programs. Acting director Arnold L. Golembieski said that figures could be obtained. Statistics he cited encompassed the Tecumseh area.

For example, 69: "On the Job Training" positions were filled in Tecumseh area industries. He explained that the program is not income, maintenance, but designed to help people acquire basic work habits and place them in jobs in the private sector.

Council asked how many of these individuals were still productive. Golembieski said that he would check into it.

"I like your agency. I think what you're doing is fine, but I think that we're contributing more than our fair proportion," said Council member James H. Palmer.

"Could you come back (before final budget committments in April) and say that you're really getting support from the townships? I would like to see other portions of the county contribute their share."

"I have to, it is a must for me," Golembieski answered. "Our agency needs the support of the community, the entire county. You cannot depend on federal dollars for your existence. Too many people have been spoiled by federal money and I think this is wrong. I don't think such a local agency such as ours should depend on funds from Washington."

But, Golembieski explained that as federal grant programs are written now, agencies such as Community Action Agency cannot get federal support without showing local funding effort.

He explained that federal programs, such as the home energy conservation program, which offers money for insulating homes of low income families, do not provide money for staff. Some staff positions are currently being funded through CETA. With cutbacks coming in that program, the Community Action Agency will need more funds for staff in order to implement federal programs.

The agency's plight is further complicated by different funding sources that each begins its fiscal year at a different time of the year.

Former City Attorney Questions Elderly Housing Project Here

Tecumseh's plan to build a housing project for the elderly and handicapped has come under fire from former city attorney, James C. Beardsley.

In a letter to Council Monday night, Beardsley called the concept of Orchard Terrace Housing Complex an inappropriate activity for the City of Tecumseh:

"First, the project would be largely Federally directed, funded and dominated. The United States Government is many billions of dollars in debt, and going further every minute. Every non-vital expenditure should be resisted and discouraged. Perhaps the City could point a lesson, where the Federal Government lacks the moral fiber to do so. This sort of thing is inflationary in the extreme — and we currently are suffering far more from inflation than from a housing shortage.

"If the need really be crucial, then the Complex should be completely locally owned, financed and operated.

Taking money from the Federal Government because it is available — or because if we do not take it, the mayor of Detroit (or Oklahoma City) will take it, is neither realistic, nor moral.

"Second, the Complex would devolve into a center for low-income persons — many of whom might migrate to this area — and eventually Tecumseh will be forced to support them in their entirety, or see them starve.

Finally, and perhaps the most important: What gives us the God-given right to encourage and subsidize the removal and isolation of elderly and handicapped from their families and current associates? Should not our efforts be towards keeping them in the mainstream of life, so to speak? Must we, in a class-less society, create yet a new class of segregated and subsidized sub-humans?"

'Button Up Your Overcoat'

The intermediate bid of Dundee Plumbing and Heating in the amount of $2,127 was accepted by Tecumseh City Council Monday night for a second, modulated boiler unit to add to the current incompetent system at city hall.

The city installed a new system with its recent addition, but not until temperatures went below 10 degrees did the city find the single unit could not keep up.

David Siler, architect of Adrian, explained to Council that as a free service to the city, he analyzed the system and recommended replacement with a series of smaller units that would operate only as the weather conditions required. In recording information, the design selection required a single unit not multiple unit. But he told Council the information he recorded was wrong.

Dundee Plumbing and Heating is the supplier of the first unit. City Council decided to stick with one supplier so that there would be no question of maintenance responsibility.

The low bid of Fry Mechanical, Inc. of Adrian of $2,035 and the bid of Clauda Plumbing and Heating of Tecumseh at $2,432 were rejected.

City expects delivery on the new unit this week with completion of the work by Monday.

Cost of the first unit and second unit is still about $2,000 below the original $6,000 estimate for an adequate system.

Snow, Cold Close Schools

Approximately six inches of snow fell here Saturday and about five hours of freezing rain followed it. Result was a mess!

Although it didn't come close to matching last January's blizzard, Saturday's storm brought back memories.

The ice and snow were coupled with below zero weather Monday morning, forcing all schools in the area to close Monday. Most side streets and rural roads were icy and hazardous.

Area temperatures ranged from 11 to 14 below zero, coldest weather of the season.

Automatics Are 1st for Schools

The Tecumseh School Board Monday night approved the purchase of four automatic transmission bus chassis to replace four busses eligible for replacement this year.

The four automatics are the first ever for Tecumseh and all four local dealers approached for bids recommended the transmission.

Board members were told that reasons for buying the slightly more expensive unit included less maintenance, higher trade-in allowance, and child safety.

The bid of Tecumseh Equipment, W. Chicago, was accepted by the board for a unit cost of $11,072; $12,147 with the automatic transmission. The chassis were 65-passenger busses.

Bus Agreement To End June 30

The Lenawee County Intermediate School District will be maintaining their own bus fleet beginning June 30, according to the Tecumseh School Board Monday night.

The board voted to discontinue the Tecumseh maintenance agreement for the special education busses.

Board members explained that their own facility was crowded, that it was in the best interest of local schools to be able to take care of their own busses, and that the extra number of busses had grown beyond Tecumseh's limit.

The intermediate school district, assistant superintendent Gene Cooley told the board, has grown enough to take care of its own vehicles. They have grown from a small fleet to 17 busses presently.

The School Board went on record as saying they would stop the agreement last year, but the intermediate district did not have ample time at that point to make necessary arrangements to take care of the busses. The board at that point renewed the agreement for one more year.

Parents Meet over Policy

A group labeling itself "Concerned Parents" has initiated parents meetings Mondays at 6:30 p.m. to discuss a broad range of concerns on local school policy and how to effect change.

Next meeting, open to all parents concerned, is Jan. 22 at 511 W. Pottawatamie.

The group identified itself as one "united to voice out opinions against the schools in our community. Goal is to change the school's policies for our children's welfare."

There is no formal leadership. It will be elected at the next meeting.

Topics that concerned the 12 parents at the first meeting Jan. 15, included school policy in sending children outside in cold weather, some disciplinary actions taken by teachers such as reportedly putting tape on a child's mouth, breaking a child's pencil.

The group said it is not affiliated with another that formed last year entitled "Concerned Parents of Tecumseh Junior High School students." That group was formed in response to charges of racial and economic status discrimination, after a Hispano student was struck by a teacher.

The new fledgling group said it has not presented its complaints to the school administration as a whole as yet.

Report 10-Hour Meter Shortage

There seems to be a shortage of 10-hour parking meters in the northeast city parking lot, at least that's what some employees and apartment dwellers in that business block contend.

Their concerns were voiced Monday night by Council member Harold Easton.

City manager Cal Zorn said that the north row of meters is still all 10-hour parking. "There are just as many as there were before. We only changed the head on them and put in the same mechanism. All the four-hour meters are in the new section," Zorn replied.

Still at least one user of that lot disagreed and told Zorn that some of the meters required .50 cents instead of .25 cents a day.

In fact, some employees are parking free. They don't put any money in the meters. On days that the meter maid comes around, the employees settle for a .50 cent parking ticket.

Zorn commented, "I'm in favor of uping fines. They haven't been changed since we started the system 20 years ago. If we put in all long-term parking meters, where are the customers going to park?" The problem Zorn referred to is that employees have been found taking advantage of parking spaces closest to their businesses.

"I don't think the city should provide parking for renters. Landlords should provide that," commented Council member Easton.

Council member James H. Palmer suggested using the 10-hour parking spaces in the city's southeast business block.

Workers and residents protested the shortage of long term meters in the northeast lot and were going to ask Council for more long term meters or else parking stickers to avoid parking fines.

Construction Up

Construction within the city during 1978 more than doubled that of the previous year, according to the annual report to Council Monday night by Robert Hamden, building inspector. In 1977 it was $1,142,505.

Building, including additions and alterations, totaled $2,485,300. One hundred one permits were issued compared to 81 in 1977.

Hamden's complete report for 1978 is:

New Construction	Permits	Cost
One family houses	30	$1,095,000
Two-family houses	3	148,000
Multiple family units (9)	1	130,000
Residential garages	13	43,100
Industrial buildings	3	146,000
Non-residential	4	277,000
Other than buildings	6	104,300

New Office

Barb and Jim McCann have leased a section of their 129-year-old Union Building to Whatley Real Estate of Adrian, which will open a Tecumseh office mid-February.

The office on West Chicago Blvd. was formerly Glenn Kohler Real Estate and the historic Lilley State Bank.

HONOR TWO OFFICIALS — City manager Cal Zorn and Council member Harold Easton were honored Monday night by the city as two outstanding citizens who have contributed to Tecumseh's growth since it became a city 25 years ago. Mayor Aden Mead presented the two with a dedication plaque. The city's history is outlined in a city brochure included in this week's Herald. (PHOTO BY KATHY BROWN)

He and his brother, Bob Baker of Westland, were two victims of a lone gunman that went on a shooting spree in Washtenaw and Wayne County last October.

Both men spent the holidays with their families.

Council, Chamber Compliments Crew

THE ONE THAT DIDN'T GET AWAY — The cold vigil of an ice fisherman is sometimes rewarded in a big way. Here Warren Towns stands outside his home with the trophy pike he hauled out of Devils Lake, Jan. 10. The catch weighed 17 pounds and measured 43 inches -- honest. And then there were those fishermen who only caught cold.

Review 'Courtland Place'

Tecumseh's nine-member planning commission approved the pre-preliminary plat review for a planned residential district in the north section of town.

The development is being considered for an area bounded on the north by Macon Rd. on the south by Burt St., on the east by development of Clark St. and on the west by Vanette Street.

The 100-lot planned residential development will have 96 single family lots and center lots for cluster townhouses.

The property was purchased by the Tecumseh Heights Association. The developer is called the Tecumseh Development Group, Inc. with Richard Heglin of Tecumseh, as president. Heglin is vice-president of refrigeration sales at Tecumseh Products Company and Tecumseh School Board member.

Other members of the developing group are Robert Kendall, builder-developer of Jackson; Steve Janick, planner-architect of Design Concept of Ann Arbor; Del Dunbar, a certified public accountant from the Ann Arbor area; Willard Johnson, hospital administrator for Chelsea Community Hospital and James England, financial officer for Chelsea Community Hospital.

The subdivision is being called "Courtland Place". The design concept features 16 courts with cul de sac streets.

It will be a complete development with city sewer and water, tennis courts, jogging trail, community-building and green areas for plantings and play area.

With approvals running on schedule, building could begin this summer.

Merchants Want More Sidewalks

"Watch for the walkers. There is a definite pattern. Teenagers walk to work at McDonald's and Big Boy's. Older people walk there, too. There are a lot of apartments on the west end of town," commented Nadine Seitz of the Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce.

She called City Council's attention to the increased pedestrian traffic in the west business district.

She said some businesses want the city to install sidewalks. However, this is done by special assessment in Tecumseh. "Some of the merchants feel a little neglected out there," said Seitz.

Await Light

The Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce told City Council Monday that it would like the city to purchase Christmas decorations for the west entrance to the city's west business district.

First, however, the city must wait until the traffic light at Occidental and W. Chicago Blvd. is installed before a design can be selected.

Talking It Out

What documents will my family need at the time of my death?

One of the most frustrating responsibilities of a spouse or family, at the time of death, can be that of locating important papers and documents. A current and updated listing of these papers can, indeed, be a benefit to survivors.

This is a difficult activity for anyone to do because no one really wants to anticipate death or even prepare for it. On the other hand, you would be doing a real service to your family if you follow through on this. Make a list of your documents, indicating where each is.

The type of such papers and documents, along with location, might include: 1) your will, 2) Social Security papers, veteran's records, 3) cemetery deed, 4) insurance policies, 5) such certificates as birth, marriage, organization and/or union membership, educational, military, 6) bank accounts and safety deposit boxes, 7) financial papers such as montgages, contracts, promissory notes, negotiable papers, stocks, bonds, trust funds, 8) all recent tax returns or W2 forms.

Sometimes this information turns up information about assets either forgotten about or not known of by the survivors.

Thru My Window

BY MARDA GENE DUNCAN

January has been a good month for the creek. So what else is new, Marda, you always seem to find something interesting and lovely about that twisting and turning, bubbly stretch of water. However Evans Creek has performed well. And one of the joys of living by a creek is learning to love it.

The first of the month found Evans Creek ice free with high, fast running water. It was really quite low in December but melting snow and, even more important, these heavy, hard rains of New Year's weekend left their mark.

The high water was not approaching flood stage, it simply covered the rocks and pushed back the sides so that we had a wide creek instead of a narrow one.

However, one result was the same as it would have been had Evans Creek risen to flood stage. The cardinals are excited and fascinated by fast running water. We have often noticed that these red beauties simply cannot stay away from a raging creek.

During the wildest of floods we have watched them flit and dart over the water, males and females both seemingly captivated. When not flying they select branches extending over the stream for perches.

Settling down they apparently just watch the water. I know why, it is spellbinding.

As said before, the first of January found the creek high but not anywhere near a torrential flood. Even so, the cardinals enjoyed the action and appreciated the fast current.

They perched on overhanging branches and watched the water-flow beneath. They were far too busy to think about eating.

It was a good thing they enjoyed Evans Creek when they did because it changed quickly. A weather front moved through and the bottom fell out of the thermometer. Zero and below temperatures were no match for the rushing creek. We could almost see the ice form.

Of course it froze from the edges in towards the middle. All too soon there were only long narrow open stretches. The cold was bitter and the water was much warmer than the air.

Suddenly we saw that the creek was steaming. Well no, it was not like the geyser basins in Yellowstone but there was most definitely steam rolling off the surface of our little Evans Creek.

The next morning there was no open water at all, the creek was completely frozen. The cardinals went back to their usual way of life. Eating superseded creek gazing. It was still cold though and we felt sorry for the birds.

All of them, but especially the cardinals. As they took turns coming, one at a time, to the near-my-window feeders their feathers were fluffed and puffed. They looked round and about twice as big as usual.

Settling in front of a pile of sunflower seeds, Papa C. would balance on one foot while he pulled the other up and snuggled it into his tummy feathers for warmth.

Soon the warmed foot would be down and the other one pulled up. All during the cold snap the cardinals acted as though they had cold feet.

Almost more years ago than I care to remember, a frozen over creek meant just one thing, ice skating.

That the ice was not always perfect or that we sometimes had to spend more time shoveling snow to clear the ice than there was time for the actual skating itself, did not matter a bit. We had absolutely marvelous winters of ice skating up and down Evans Creek.

Remembering this, I could hardly believe my eyes when I looked out to see bicycles being ridden on the ice. Bikes on ice, bikes instead of skates? What is wrong with today's kids?

Fortunately, there were skaters on the ice the next day. I am still not quite over the shock of the bicycles but a few weeks of good skating, pickup hockey games and struggling to cut figure eights will restore my faith.

YOU TOLD US!

By Kathy Brown

If you have a window view and looked up into the sky last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, you may have sighed at the sight of the cloudless, azure blue sky.

"It almost looks like spring. Listen. You can hear a lawnmower," said Sharon Baxter, Herald office manager. Her daydream was broken when we looked out the window to see that the "lawnmower" was a garden tractor with a snowplow.

With single digit temperatures and a sub-zero wind chill factor biting your face, it doesn't feel like spring. With chimney smoke suspended over stacks in the pre-dawn hours, it sure doesn't look like spring. With powdery snow and ice crunching under foot, it sure doesn't sound like spring.

Still it seems there is one minute more of daylight every evening when we leave for home. Spring is coming. We wait in joyful hope for its coming with flowers of green and gold.

Meanwhile, we have some reports on people who couldn't wait for Michigan's spring and are traveling in search of a sky of blue in the Southwest.

They visited New Orleans, ate seafood Christmas Day at Galveston, Texas on the Gulf of Mexico, toured Carlsbad Caverns and Juarez, Mexico.

Before New Year's day, they arrived in Arizona. We haven't heard from them since. We expect that they are so busy sightseeing, sunning and eating fresh fruit, that they haven't had time to write.

Helen Jewell of Port Huron had an exciting New Year's Day. She noticed from her apartment window that about 12 members of the area's Polar Bear Club were swimming in the St. Clair River.

"Neither sleet, nor snow, nor sub-zero weather stops some people from brr-r-ringing in a new year," she wrote. Her mother is Gertrude Jewell.

'The Pastor's Study'

By Rev. R. Richard Case
Britton Congregational Church

"SODOM—GOMORRAH AND THE USA"

"You shall know them by their deeds".

The age we live in is most difficult. I look up at my bookshelf and notice one of my books, "Whatever Became of Sin", and I begin to ponder.

Yes, the things that in an earlier and greater age were taboo seem now to be acceptable and in vogue. At least this is what the devil's advocates would tell us.

Last year Anita Bryant was the guest speaker at the Baptist Convention. While she was speaking to the delegates in the auditorium, 2,500 homosexuals were parading and chanting outside. We were also informed that Anita was heavily guarded, for her life was in possible danger. What a sorry situation.

You might ask: "Don't you have compassion for homosexuals?" My reply would be quite clear, YES. However, the idea that homosexuals are essentially normal would be a fantastic untruth.

Years ago I was fortunate enough to have been a [illegible]ian in the Big Band era. Certainly in that line of work I did meet some men who were homosexuals. For all general purposes, they were fine gentlemen in a broad term, but they were quite different from me and the rest of the band members.

Homosexuality is a form of illness. It is often triggered by a chemical inbalance and/or a slight mental attitude, or a problem in placing things in the right perspective.

In simple terminology there is a cause and affect situation. The problem can be in many cases administered to, if one cares enough to do so. The intent of our creation is self-evident.

It does our hearts good to see so many states and municipalities overturning previous decisions that were in favor of this kind of immoral attitude, not designed by our creator.

We as Americans are finally awakening to the kind of nonsense going on in our land and even being upheld by supreme (?) courts.

As for you parents, do you really want to send your children to a school or church that is being taught by such a person? Wouldn't you be a bit concerned?

It is almost mind boggling that homosexual desire to be clergy. This [illegible]s even more weird when we hear of church hierarchy that put their stamp of approval on the concept.

I ask the question: "What Bible are you using, when you make such a decision?"

Our schools across America are faced with the same problem, again due to government control of the local schools, that would give homosexuals freedom and at the same time, take ours away.

The (sweety pie) Florida Citrus growers fired Anita Bryant because she spoke out of favor of wholesome morals, and then at a later date rehired her because public opinion was in favor of Miss Bryant's cause.

Anita has moved forward in your behalf. America should be proud that she is speaking out on behalf of God and good.

My friends, when someone is ill with any kind of disease common to mankind, we cannot heal them by merely saying they aren't sick, can we? Likewise, this is true of homosexuality.

You know in your hearts I am right.

You Are What You Eat

By Shirley Weekley

America is called the melting pot of the world because people from every country and nationality settled here.

Tecumseh is no exception. Many people living in this community (or their parents or grandparents) are originally from the "old country." Their heritage, customs and foods are passed down from one generation to another.

For the next few weeks, this column will be devoted to international cuisine. I have thoroughly enjoyed visiting with the people who have given me these new recipes and I think you will enjoy trying these new dishes.

Mary Ann Froelich's parents were born, raised and married in Poland. They came to the United States and settled in a Polish community in East Detroit.

Mrs. Froelich was born and raised there. She attended Polish speaking schools for several years.

In 1960, she and her husband, Eugene, moved to Tecumseh. They have three grown sons and 10 grandchildren.

GOLABKI

1 head cabbage
1 pound ground beef
½ pound ground pork
1 onion chopped fine

Place in pan, add 1½ tablespoons butter and one cup of hot water.

Simmer slowly on top of the stove for two hours, or bake in 350 degree oven for 1½ hours.

Cabbage rolls may be served with mushroom sauce, tomato sauce or sour cream. These are even better reheated next day.

Witnesses Travel to Holt

The Tecumseh Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has just returned from a two-day Bible seminar at their assembly hall in Holt.

Ten other nearby congregations were also at the convention, making for a total attendance of over 1,400 persons.

The purpose of the assembly was to educate the witnesses in the truth of the Bible and to show them how to apply Bible principles in their daily lives.

Encouragement was also given to continue to preach and teach the Bible's message of the "good news of the Kingdom".

The information was presented in discourses, group discussions, interviews and questions-answers.

One feature of the assembly was the baptism of 15 witnesses.

The principal speaker at the convention was H. Fetzik, district overseer of Jehovah's Witnesses in Michigan. His keynote address was "Meeting the Test of Christian Loyalty", given Jan. 13.

TOOLS and SKILL

Because I've never been a handyman I admire those who are.

The few times I've tried to repair anything I made a horrible discovery. People like me not only lack skill . . . we don't even have the tools. There's a ruthless logic in that. If you have no idea how to use a drill press, you're not likely to get one for Christmas.

Sometimes I see a parallel in the spiritual demands of life. Living constructively in our society requires faith in God and the ability to express one's convictions in meaningful relationships, in acts of kindness and love.

So we have become a church-going family. The children are benefiting from moral and religious training. We are devoting our Sundays to acquiring the tools and skill so needed in our time.

SOUP LABELS YIELD GIFTS — Tecumseh Acres and Patterson Schools are both in the midst of a Campbell Soup label drive to gain educational aids for their respective schools. Carol Nash, at left, is chairperson of the Patterson PTO drive. With her are sons, Norm in second grade, and Jamie, 4. Janis Baker, Tecumseh Acres PTO president, represents that school for drive chairperson Judy Eaton. Anyone from the community can help the kids by contributing labels. (PHOTO BY KATHY BROWN)

Campbell Labels Yield Prizes

Thousands of soup labels are being saved by schools all over the country participating in the Campbell's Soup Company project to help schools acquire athletic equipment and learning aids.

Patterson and Tecumseh Acres Elementary Schools are participating in this year's program.

Students bring labels to school from Campbell's Soup, V-8 Juice, Franco-American products and a number of other Campbell's products.

The labels will be turned into Campbell's towards the many prizes offered in a catalog sent out by the soup company.

Patterson's project is chaired by Mrs. Norman Nash. Mrs. Harry Newton is responsible for making the giant soup can where the students deposit labels.

Patterson is just 140 labels away from reaching its goal of 4,150, which will buy a "Speak and Spell" electronic computer to help children learn spelling. Last year the school was able to get a projector cart for the labels brought in by students.

Judy Eaton is chairperson of the Tecumseh Acres School drive. Last year the school mailed in 6,000 labels for a filmstrip projector, jump ropes and line markers used for field day activities. Approximately 2,300 has been collected to date.

The Campbell soup label drive is year around. Any one from the community may contribute labels to either school to support their efforts.

Abi's Role Was Vital

By Kathy Brown

On North Evans Street, just before the bridge on the east side of the road is an entity with trees and open spaces that resembles a park beside the Raisin River's bend.

It is a park, though most people may not think of it as such as they pass by it each day on the way in and out of town.

It is called Pioneer Park. A stone and bronze marker designates the site of the first home in Lenawee County, built by Musgrove and Abi Evans in 1824.

While the role of Musgrove Evans as Tecumseh's founding father has been popularized, the role of his wife, Abi, has received less attention, but it is not any less important.

Two sources help to preserve Abi's role in local history, Clara Waldron's "100 Years A Country Town," and the Abi Evans Chapter of The Daughters of The Revolution.

Abi Brown Evans, 1789-1832, was the first housewife of Lenawee County.

She was born the year George Washington was elected president. Married at age 20, she came to Tecumseh in 1824 at age 35 with six chilren. In 1825, she gave birth to her seventh child, the first white child born in Lenawee County, George Evans.

Abi Evans died at age 46, eight years after she arrived in Tecumseh and just when the worst of hardships seemed near an end.

During her lifetime, she experienced fatigue, anxiety and exertion as she sought to make practical improvements in the temporary home the family had midst wilderness conditions. Abi was said to have a superior education for the day. Winter in the wilderness must have challenged her ingenuity many times.

She spent two winters in their first home, a 20'x20'x16' log cabin, covered with elm bark. It had no floor, no stove. Meals were cooked outdoors. When it rained, indoor fires of chips were built in her skillet, and they say she had to cover the baby with a washtub to keep him dry.

Scant supplies were all she could manage with six children on the journey from Buffalo via Lake Ontario and Lake Erie to Detroit. They loaded and unloaded their belongings, sometimes without the benefit of dock facilities.

In the fall of 1824, when her younger brother, Gen. Joseph Brown and family arrived, the cabin was enlarged and a fireplace was added. The cabin housed 17 family members and as many as 20 others involved in clearing the land. Supplies were obtained partly from the Indians.

Hardships of pioneering the wilderness were known to Abi (pronounced 'A-buy') as early as age eight when she moved with her family from their well-to-do homestead in Bucks County, Penn. to Brownville, Jefferson Co., N.Y. after her father lost his investments.

When Abi's husband Musgrove, and his cousin, Austin Wing, found the Raisin River area, promising water power and trees for building, he returned to New York and recruited tradesmen and farmers.

The men went ahead to explore and prepare the way. Abi took charge of the traveling party and with her six children made the voyage from Buffalo to Detroit.

During those first two years in the cabin, Abi lost two children. Charles, three, drowned in 1825 and Pamela died of malaria in 1826.

After their loss, Musgrove decided to build their new home, an inn, inside the town. It was built on Chicago Blvd. In 1886, it was relocated to 409 E. Logan St. where it is occupied today.

Abi was the official hostess to all newcomers. She continued in that capacity on a commercial basis when the inn was built.

She died March 5, 1832 and was buried in Elliot Park, formerly the community cemetery until the village gave a free lot to the Evans family at Brookside Cemetery about 1853.

No photographs of Abi are available.

Dedication of the Pioneer Park boulder was recorded in the June 8, 1909 edition of the Clinton paper. Nearly 800 people witnessed the ceremony.

After a basket dinner was served at Military Square, the site of today's public library, the group marched to the park and listened to L.M. Waldron, president of the Pioneer Society:

"A stone suitable for this monument was found on the David McWilliams farm, the newspaper article said. The stone was placed on a foundation, a bronze marker purchased to designate the site of the first home in Lenawee County, built by Musgrove and Abi Evans.

The Henry Smith heirs presented the plot of ground to the Village of Tecumseh for a park to be called Pioneer Park, with the request that the women's clubs be entitled to make improvements.

Today, the Tecumseh Area Historical Society is undertaking a project to restore the wrought iron fence at the site of Pioneer Park and also the fence at Brookside Cemetery. The society has employed blacksmith John Kosirnik of Clinton for the work. It has pledged money for Promenade the Past receipts.

Public contributions may be made to the Fence Fund, c/o Tecumseh Area Historical Society, P.O. Box 26, Tecumseh, Mich. 49286.

4-H Mall Day Is February 17

Feb. 17, is a special day for Lenawee County 4-H'ers; it's the annual 4-H Day at the Adrian Mall.

The 40 4-H clubs of the county have worked hard to put together of fun and sharing for the public's enjoyment.

Clubs will prepare their displays beginning Feb. 16 and Feb. 17, until 11 a.m. At 11:30 a.m., demonstrations and show will begin, including application of clown make-up, a talent show, and a style show with 4-H'ers modeling garments from mall merchants.

The Expanded Nutrition Program will also join 4-H Day with many demonstrations on food preparation and new recipes by the nutrition aides.

A mini-float parade, dog training shows, a farm animal display, and demonstrations on "how to do" projects will add to the day, and will be topped off with a square dance open to anyone who would like to join.

Prepares Kits for Red Cross

The Tecumseh Monday Club observed its annual Sunshine Day Jan. 5.

Mrs. Charles Cox and her committee conducted a work session which included the completion of emergency kits for the Red Cross and the preliminary work on layettes for those in need of such items.

A cooperative luncheon was served at noon to 20 members. Devotions were given by Elizabeth Hayden.

Arrangements for the luncheon were in charge of Helen Sisson and her committee.

Next meeting is Jan. 22. "Show and Tell" will be the topic with Mrs. Paul Maves as leader.

Discuss Lenawee Emergency Service

Police Chief Merlin Mowery and city engineer Charles Kipke attended a meeting Jan. 15 to discuss the Lenawee County Emergency Services at the county Sheriff's office.

State and federal guidelines were explained in applying for snow removal costs.

In conjunction with the meeting, Council designated Monday night, Richard L. Germond, sheriff, as the local agent.

Richard Lewis Re-Appointed to Commission

Tecumseh City Council appointed Richard Lewis to succeed himself as a member of the Historic Preservation Commission for a three year term.

Council postponed action on filling the expired term of Millie Saksewski, leaving a three year vacancy until a candidate can be contacted.

Limit Trip to Washington

BRITTON — The Board passed a resolution limiting the senior trip to Washington D.C. starting with the graduating class of 1980.

The board expressed an interest in forming a citizen's committee to study the future needs of the Britton-Macon Area School.

The board officially signed the master contract that was negotiated with the Teachers Association.

Individual teaching contracts were also signed by the board.

The board raised the price of hot lunches. The cost for lunches starting the second semester will be 45 cents for elementary, 50 cents for junior high and high school, and 75 cents for adult lunches.

The board approved the purchase of an International school bus chassis from the Tecumseh Equipment Company for $10,077. The bus body bid was previously awarded to McFadden Corporation for $8,460.

Approval was given to the athletic department to purchase approximately $1,427 worth of football equipment.

Open Campaign

The Lenawee County Farm Bureau officially opened the 1979 membership campaign Jan. 10, at a meeting of volunteer farm leaders who will conduct the grassroots membership drive.

Campaign workers in 20 townships will meet with eligible residents to offer them the opportunity to join their organization.

H. Fred Long, of Tecumseh, membership campaign manager, challenged the volunteer workers to reach their goal of 1,528 family members at an early date.

"It is vitally important that we reach our membership goal early so that we can get to the business of implementing the policies of the Farm Bureau membership organization," he told the workers.

Long explained that Farm Bureau members not only determine the policies of the organization through the statewide policy development process, but also put these policies into action at the local and state level.

The Farm Bureau campaign manager also reminded the volunteers that those members who wish to maintain their eligibility in several member-only programs, including the Blue Cross-Blue Shield group insurance, must renew their membership not later than Jan. 31.

Bells Share Jewish Dishes

RIDGEWAY — Jewish style dishes prepared by members were shared at a dinner meeting of the Ridgeway Blinker Bells, Jan. 11, at the home of Diana Henery.

Members discussed a possible trip to Toronto, and a dance in September is being considered.

The hostess entertained by playing the organ.

After March 1, 1979 they are payable at the Lenawee County Treasurers Office with 4 percent collection fee and 3/4 percent per month interest. If you have not received a notice of current taxes, contact your local township or city treasurer.

Bailey Shines, but BHS Loses

Britton basketballer Troy Bailey turned in his best effort of the season but it wasn't enough as Britton lost to Whiteford Friday night, 68-37.

Whiteford literally towered over Britton, intimidated the shorter team, and dominated the boards. They led 20-8 at the end of the first frame and Britton was never able to threaten.

Bailey connected with 10 points for the Tories while teammate Terry Benedict had seven points and seven rebounds.

Team rebounding left Britton on the short end with 18 to Whiteford's 59.

In shooting, Britton was 13 of 60 for 22 percent while the visitors were 29 of 78 for 37 percent.

Frayer Hits Eight Points

Judy Frayer had a very good night for Britton Thursday, but her eight service points fell short of a Britton volleyball victory.

Ida beat the Tories 16-14 and 15-2. Both teams are 1-1 for the season. The Britton JV's also lost 15-8, 15-5.

Britton hosts Summerfield Friday and travels to Dundee Saturday.

Clinton Wrestlers Beat Morenci

Clinton's wrestlers beat Morenci 44-23 Thursday and then placed third in the Fourth Annual Dave Elliott Invitational Saturday.

Thursday, Clinton captured nine of the 13 weights for an easy victory.

Winners for the Redskins included: Rick Armstrong, Clayton Semanske, Mark Prichard, Andy Hoag, Lee Russ; Jeff VanSickle, Gordon Miller, Brad Williams and Bill VanTuyle.

Clinton hosted the invitational Saturday with Ida taking first and Dundee second.

Place finishers for Clinton included: Armstrong was third at 98, Grinnell was first at 112, Semanske was third at 119, Hoag was second at 132, Miller was third at 191 and VanTuyle was second at heavyweight.

Grinnell was chosen the most valuable player under 138 pounds.

Plans were made for an ice skating party for February, date to be announced, at the David Irwin residence.

The Friendly Neighbors Farm Bureau had met at the home of Hester Wooster Tuesday afternoon, preceded with a luncheon at noon.

Winter meetings will be held in the afternoons.

The group donated to three fire departments, Raisin, Palmyra and Ridgeway.

Discussion topic was "International Marketplace" led by Mrs. Wooster. Farmers, more than other groups, represent the heart of American isolation naturally from the life the farmers had.

The independence on the farm forces the farmer to be self-sufficient. Before World War II, they didn't think they needed foreign trade. They failed to recognize that it was essential to marketing opportunity.

Changes brought the family farming to a new level, requiring skills and financial support.

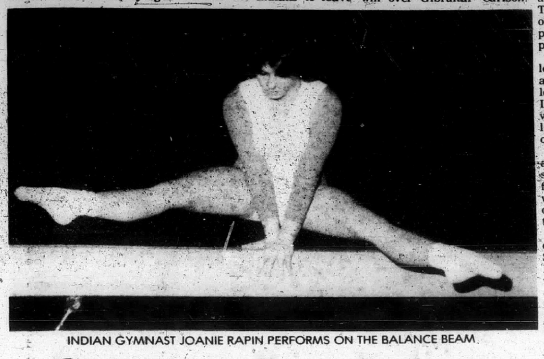
THS Indians Win with 29-10 4th Frame Surge Over Carlson

Key foul shooting and some excellent basketball playing in the fourth frame Friday night allowed the Indians to leave their home court with a 64-43 win over Gibraltar Carlson.



INDIAN GYMNAST JOANIE RAPIN PERFORMS ON THE BALANCE BEAM.

The Indians were down 11-10 at the end of the first quarter. They did not lead until the end of the half when they surged past Carlson with 12 straight points, 23-20.

The end of the third frame left the Indians one less point ahead, 35-33, and the game looked very close. Then the Indians exploded. They shot well, made few mistakes and literally flew by Carlson, outscoring them 29-10.

Foul shooting was certainly a key here to the Indian success as they hit 13 of 17 from the line. In the game as a whole, they only shot seven other fouls, hitting three of them.

Leading scorer for the Indians were John Ely and Ron Smith with 13 each. Tom Maves also hit double figures with 10 points.

As a team, the Indians hit 24 of 48 shots for 50 percent from the floor. Carlson hit the same percentage, 19 of 38.

In rebounding, the Carlson team held a slight edge with 28 to the Indians 27. Tecumseh forced 28 turnovers while committing only 10.

The Indians remain unbeaten in the league and are in sole possession of first place with Airport just one game out.

The home team favorites travel to Monroe Jefferson Friday and then host New Boston Tuesday and Flat Rock next Friday.

Gymnasts Beat Jackson

Tecumseh opened its gymnastics season Wednesday against East Jackson and left their home court with a very pleasing 70-64.85 victory.

Debbie Patton and Joanie Spencer captured top honors for the Indians, but all the girls did an exceptionally good job according to coach Mary Wood.

Patton took two first places, one on the vault with a 6.7 and one on the beam with a 6.3. Spencer was first on the bars with a 6.6 and second on the vault with a 6.15.

Other winners for the Indians were: Martha Hans, fourth on the vault with a 5.95; Becky Schneirla was second on the beam with a 5.65 and Sue Erb was fourth with a 4.4.

Nancy Phelan was third on the bars with a 5.85 and Judy Harris was fifth with a 5.2; on the floor exercises, Theresa Dangler and Martha Hans tied for third with 6.0's and Spencer was fifth at 5.6.

Remain Undefeated

A 22 to 10 point edge over league foe Hudson in the third frame Friday night lifted the undefeated Clinton Redskins to a 65-56 victory in the LCAA.

Mike Karapas, Mark Dettling, and Dave Porter led the charge for the Redskin squad. Karapas hit 10 of his 13 points in the second frame and hit Dettling in the center.

Dettling had game high honors with 18 points. Dave Porter also hit double figures with 12 points.

Hudson was up by three at the end of the half, 31-28, but that lead dwindled behind a Clinton press and offensive running game.

Clinton host 52 percent from the floor while Hudson found themselves behind and shooting to catch up. They shot only 34 percent.

Clinton is 5-0 in the league, in first place. Both Onsted and Blissfield occupy the number two spot with 3-2 records.

Clinton travels to Hudson Friday and Britton Tuesday.

THS Volleyballers Lose

Kris McDonald and Sandy MacGeorge led two strong comebacks for the Indian volleyballers Wednesday. Still, the Indians were unable to dominate their Adrian opponents and lost 13-15 and 9-15.

In the first game match, Tecumseh was down 7-0 but came back when McDonald hit five serves in a row and made two more points later. The Indians, however, did not continue to get their serves over the net and had defensive problems.

In the second game, MacGeorge strung six serves but again the Indians momentum was broken when their serving broke down.

The Indians JV's also lost, 15-8 and 15-11.

Drop to 0-2

The Tecumseh Indian wrestling squad dropped to 0-2 in the league Thursday when Airport just slipped by the local squad, 30-29.

Tecumseh posted four pins in Jack Bagby at 132, Chris Silberhorn at 155, Tim Steuwe at 165 and Randy Halvin at 178.

Other winners by decision for the Indians were Stuart Williamson at 105, 6-2 and Lenny Castorena at 110, 4-0.

Fifteen Photos Still Unclaimed

Are you a member of the Class of '61? If so, the Herald may still have one of your baby pictures on file.

Somehow an envelope of Class of '61 baby pictures were left in the Herald's possession and remained here for past decade. We printed a list of those pictures that had names and addresses printed on the back.

If you are one of 15 alumni who has not claimed his or her photo, you have until Feb. 1 to do so.

Owners or relatives may drop by the Herald office weekdays, 8-12 and 1-5, or send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to have pictures returned.

Interestingly enough, only two women of the Class of '61 showed up in person to claim their photos. The others so far were picked up by a mother, aunt, uncle, sister or friend.

Pictures claimed so far were: Mary Tilten, Sandra Ruttkofsky, Harvey Lee Spreeman, Linda Davis, Jerry Decker, Sally Cutler, Alex Bacus and Wilma Shelhart. We tried to get a little information about where they are now, but they were reticent to give personal information.

Here are the names on pictures not yet claimed:

LOOK OUT WINGS — Tony Harris, Scott Strack, Ben Yenor and Paul Strack had a pickup hockey game Monday afternoon in the Stracks' driveway. Brothers Tony and Ben beat the Strack brothers 3 of 3 games. "We're ready for the Wings anyday," said Ben. The afternoon wasn't all play. The teens interrupted their game to help a motorist out of the snow, then resumed their game in the paralyzing cold that closed area schools Monday. (PHOTOS BY KATHY BROWN)

Wins Top Prize

Carl Reive, Franklin Township, has won top prize in the Ortho Chemical Michigan No-Till Corn Yield contest for first time no-till farmers. John Hewlett of Clinton Township won second place.

First prize was a trip for Carl and his wife to Hawaii to attend the National No-Till Conference. John Hewlett received $100.

As the name implies, "No-Till" means that normal plowing and fitting operations are not done. Instead, a special planter is used to plant directly into last year's crop stubble. Weeds are controlled chemically.

The advantages of the "No-Till" method of farming are many; less fuel, less time and labor, more soil moisture retention, and better erosion control are some.

This contest was part of a new pilot program of Ortho to get more farmers to try no-till. A farmer consultant was hired to plant test plots on 10 different farms.

Paul Schafer of Schafer Farm Supply was the Lenawee consultant who planted the plots. Rieve's plot of seven acres was planted in clover sod. The clover and weeds were controlled by paraquat, atrazine, and lasso. The no-till field was the best corn on the farm. The killed sod formed a protective blanket on the ground which helped hold the moisture in this summer's dry weather.

John Hewlett planted 14 acres into sod. He got excellent weed control, which is the key to successful no-till. The big benefit to Hewlett was the erosion control seen. On an adjacent conventionally tilled field, a lot of erosion was evident from some hard rains, but the no-till showed no signs of washing.

Both men indicated they would be trying some more no-till next year.

Adrian College Receives Gift

Adrian College has received a major contribution from the Addison Products Company of Addison. The gift was voted by the company's board and forwarded to the college by V.C. Knight, chairman.

Adrian President Donald Stanton said, "Because the gift is unrestricted, it may be used for whatever purpose the college leadership determines is most improtant. I want to thank Addison Products and Mr. Knight for this gift and expression of faith in our college."

A member of the college's Board of Trustees for two years, Mr. Knight was a pioneer in the rapid growth of the residential air conditioning industry after 1950. He bacame a part owner of the Primus Company of Addison in 1951 and a year later, the company became Addison Products and Knight became its president.

Request Service

In other Council action Monday night, the city adopted a resolution requesting electric service for the Tecumseh Industrial park sewer lift station from Consumer Power Company.

Charges to the city will be in excess of $13,000 for the service, with a winter construction charge of $3,286, for about 1,200 feet.

Carmer, 60, Still Serious at St. Joseph

Harold Carmer, 60, of Brooklyn is still in serious condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. He was injured Dec. 26 when a tractor toppled on him at Tecumseh Equipment Company.

He has been listed in serious condition since Dec. 27, after four hours of surgery for internal injuries the day of his arrival at the hospital.

Suggestion Approved

Tecumseh City Council approved the suggestion of the Tecumseh Area Historical Society to locate a repaired section of a historic wrought iron fence to its original site at Pioneer Park on North Evans Street.

The Tecumseh Area Historical Society agreed to replace that fence and the one at Brookside Cemetery with some funds from Promenade the Past receipts.

Public contributions are also sought to complete the work.

John Kosirnik, blacksmith of Clinton, has been commissioned to do the work.

Save the Windows at Smith-Kimball

CLINTON — While cleaning the stained glass windows in the double doors of the entry to the Smith-Kimball Community Center, the Historical Society Christmas Walk committee discovered how close to collapse they were from leading lost over their long years of use.

These windows are examples of the art of leaded glass making and the Society feels they shouldn't be allowed to be destroyed for lack of needed repairs.

It is especially fitting that these repairs should be undertaken in the 150th year of Clinton as a community.

The Marks Stained Glass Studio in Tecumseh has been contacted for an estimate of the cost of repairing and further protecting these windows and others in the community center.

The Historical Society will hear a report from Mr. Marks about the results of these inquiries at the Jan. 18 meeting of the Society at 8 p.m., in Lyster Hall of the St. John's Church.

While it is doubtful that the windows are Tiffany creations, they are undoubtedly early efforts of the leaded glass producers of either Detroit or Cincinnati. Their origins will be explored further.

This will have to be a community project, as was the marker for the site of the Clinton Inn.

The Society suggests that the whole community give a hand financially with this project, since all benefit from every piece of beauty that surrounds us, whether it is natural or man-made.

On the same program will be Betty Kline of the Tecumseh Historical Society. She will speak about the efforts of the Lenawee County Historical Society to renovate the old library in Adrian for the future home of the Lenawee County Historical Museum.

Jaycees Organize

CLINTON — Jan. 21-27 is national Jaycee week. During this time, young men between the ages of 18 and 36, who are members of the Jaycees, are recognized for their various contributions to their communities.

The Clinton Jaycees, this year, under the leadership of Doug Goldsberry, local president, have proved themselves to be young men of action.

Goldsberry also serves as district director for the Michigan Jaycees in the areas, including and surrounding Lenawee County.

Some of the contributions the Jaycees have made to Clinton have included the new warming shed at the local ice rink, organization of the two yearly Red Cross blood-mobiles, a children's Halloween party, sand box project and the shopping spree for needy children at Christmas (funded in part by the Clinton United Fund).

Through their fund raising efforts, including the Fall Festival pig roast and chicken barbecues, the Jaycees have contributed to various groups and purchased a mini-computer system for the school's use.

In addition, internal programs offer personal growth and leadership training to the organization's individual members in order to help accomplish their goal of "Building Tomorrow's Leaders Today".

This year marks the completion of six years of service to the Clinton area by the Jaycees.

The Jaycees hold monthly general membership meetings the first Monday of each month at the Pizza Pit. Any interested young man is welcome to attend.

CLINTON'S NEWEST FIRE TRUCK — Fire Chief Harlon Ruhl shows off the new $64,500 pumper truck, co-owned by Clinton Township and Village of Clinton. The truck will pump 1,000 gallons per minute, with a 1500 gal. capacity, much larger and faster than earlier pumper. There's more compartment area for gear and equipment, and a larger 4" supply line. Taxes to pay for the pumper are levied on Clinton Township residents, which includes taxpayers in Village of Clinton. Truck was ordered in July 1976 and has increased in cost by several thousand dollars since it was ordered.

Postponed

CLINTON — Board of Education of Clinton Schools will schedule the postponed January meeting until Jan. 24, due to the illness of Superintendent Richard Wegner.

Report of the state mediators fact finders report on the negotiations on faculty contracts with the Clinton Education Association will be given at this meeting.

Library Friends Are Important

CLINTON — "Friends of the Library are important!" was the subject for a talk by Janet Welch, librarian at Clinton Township Library, for the members of the Clinton Woman's Club, [illegible].

Mrs. Welch prefaced her remarks by saying that the United States is the only country that has public libraries.

She gave a history of the library and its procedures in lending books to patrons.

She explained that she can arrange to borrow needed books from many other libraries, such as the Huron Valley Library Service and the State Library in Lansing, since the state now recognizes the local library as an independent one.

Mrs. Welch suggested that members might like to help with the Fall Festival sale of library books, and possibly, participate in another book sale in February.

She suggested that they could appoint a book reviewer to have reviews in the newspapers.

She also urged local persons to write to their representatives in Congress on library issues that would be desirable bills to be passed.

A feature of the refreshments was a birthday cake made by Mrs. Dan Goodman to honor Ruth Davis.

Social committee was Mrs. Dan Goodman and Mrs. Roy Bower. Mrs. Alene Cahill poured.

Next meeting will be Feb. 14.

Anyone who would like to support the choir in its efforts can either pledge so much an hour or make a donation by contacting Clinton High School at 456-7441.

All are welcome to stop in during any hour of the weekend Jan. 19-21 to witness this history-making event at the Clinton High School auditorium. Coffee and refreshments will be served.

Tecumseh . . .

A Pleasant Place To Be

If you were asked the question what is a city, what might your answer be? If you were to say that a city is an inanimate object you would be wrong.

It is true that a city does consist of inanimate objects, i.e. houses, factories, streets, sewer and water lines. It is much more than this however, it is a living thing; because of it's people, because it experiences birth of new subdivisions, industry, housing and public facilities.

Just as it experiences birth and growth, it also ages. Tecumseh has been fortunate in that many of our neighborhoods have aged extremely well. In fact, the Chicago, Union Street Historical District is one of the finest examples of historical preservation in the state.

The purpose of this supplement is to inform the citizens of Tecumseh of the changes and accomplishments that have taken place over the last 25 years, the time that Tecumseh has officially been a city. We have every reason to be proud of our community, it's citizens and it's accomplishments.

In our promotional material for the city industrial park we have a slogan, "Tecumseh, the pleasant place to be." We feel that this statement signifies the whole history of Tecumseh.

CAL ZORN

HAROLD EASTON

Dedication

When examining the last twenty-five years of Tecumseh's progress we find the names of two outstanding citizens constantly coming to our attention. Truly we owe a great deal to these men whose efforts and concerns have contributed so much to the progress of our city.

Cal Zorn became our City Manager in 1963, only the second man to hold this position since the inauguration of our city government. His tireless devotion to his work and his sound business sense have served us well, and we are grateful to have such a competent manager of our city affairs.

Harold Easton, first elected Mayor of Tecumseh in 1960, and since that time having served 16 years as Mayor, is a second citizen to whom we are most grateful. He has represented us well and has devoted many hours throughout these years in a tireless service to our community. He has also contributed invaluable service to our City Council.

To both of these men, who in the past twenty-five years have given so much of themselves to the city of Tecumseh, we dedicate this Progress Review.

TECUMSEH
MICHIGAN

25 Years a City . . .

For over 100 years Tecumseh was a village. In 1953 a Charter Commission began work on a new charter for Tecumseh. The Commission consisted of nine members: Robert H. Moore, Glenn Driscoll, Charles Mensing, Frank Smith, E.M. Campbell, Edward Escolme, Hugh Hanna, J.C. Beardsley, P.C. Satterthwaite. The Charter Commission recommended that the village be incorporated as a city and the form of government be the Council-Manager form.

Charles Mensing was elected the first mayor and Ed Nelson was appointed the first city manager. The following men have served as Mayor over the last 25 years.

1954-	Charles Mensing
1954-1959	Hugh Hanna
1960-1969	Harold Easton
1970-1971	William Holmes
	George McCombs
1971-1972	Wayne Gillespie
1972-1977	Harold Easton
1978	Aden Mead

In 1963 Cal Zorn became city manager and has served in that position for the last 15 years.

While the city manager handles the day to day operation of the city, the council is responsible for setting policies and programs. The city council also has direct control over many boards which they appoint, these are: Hospital Board, Planning Commission, Board of Review, Election Committee, Parks and Recreation, Retirement Board, Housing Commission, Board of Appeals, Electrical Board and Board of Review.

OLD FIREBARN, CITY HALL

City Hall . . .

The construction and expansion of the city hall symbolizes the growth of the city. The original council chambers was housed above the old fire station.

Three years after Tecumseh became a city, (in 1957) the new city hall was constructed at it's present location. As the town grew so did the city hall. The police station was added in 1971 to include a radio/reception room, file room, squad room and Chief of Police office.

The last expansion occurred approximately a year ago with the addition and remodeling of administrative and service offices.

City Budget . . .

We have seen a lot of changes over the last 25 years, one of the most dramatic has been in the area of budgets. In 1955-6 the city budget was $301,035.00. This year's budget is $1,951,315, a six fold increase.

This seems like a sizeable increase but if you take into consideration the fact that the population has nearly doubled, therefore increasing the need for city services, and the fact that inflation has increased approximately 145%, add to this the fact that certain items, i.e., refuse collection, special assessments and auto parking funds, were not contained in the 1955 budget, it would appear the budget increases have been quite reasonable.

It is interesting to note that local real estate taxes actually make up less of this years budget than the budget of 25 years ago. At that time local taxes accounted for nearly 42% of the budget, this year the figure is 28%. This means that 72% comes from other sources, specifically state collected taxes, federally collected taxes; local utility fees and federal grants.

Even though the budget has increased along with city services, the number of employees has remained essentially the same. In 1954 there were a total of 35, in 1978 a total of 44.

B&H MANUFACTURING, FIRST TENANT IN TECUMSEH INDUSTRIAL PARK

The industrial park represents a major committment on the part of the city to economic expansion of the community. The total cost to develop the park is approximately $350,000 to include all underground utilities, asphalt streets, curb and gutter.

A shell building program was instituted with the cooperation of the Tecumseh Area Industrial Development Association, and has proved quite successful as the building was sold before it was even completed. It is anticipated that the shell building approach will be used again.

Industry has always been the backbone of Tecumseh and good strides have been made over the last few years to strengthen and expand that base.

Public Utilities...

TERRY HAUGHN, PUBLIC UTILITIES SUPERINTENDENT

The original sewer plant was built in 1952 with a design capacity of 700,000 gallons per day. With the addition of wastewater from Fisher Body in 1965 the maximum capacity of the plant was reached. A new addition was added in 1966 at a cost of $750,000 increasing the daily treatment capacity to 1.4 million gallons.

The methods of treatment was changed from the Trickling Filter type to the Activated Sludge Type increasing the percent removal of the waste material from 80 to 95 per cent. The last major improvement to the system occurred in 1971 with the construction of the holding tank at a cost of $520,000.

The city receives all its water from wells. We are presently pumping from six wells, a total of 1.5 million gallons a day. We have a capacity of producing six million gallons a day, which is more than enough to meet any anticipated future needs. Both the sewer and water departments are under the direction of Terry Haughn.

Housing and Population . . .

HOUSING SCENES IN TECUMSEH

As we said before a city is a living thing because of its people.

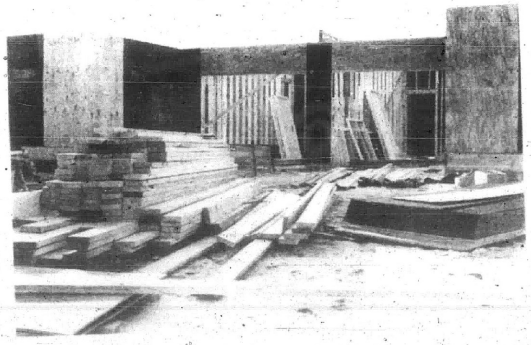
Since 1954 the city has experienced almost a doubling of it's population. In the 1950 census there were 4,020 residents. In 1960 there were 7,045, and in 1970 there were 7,120. In 1978 there is an estimated 8,033 residents.

As can be seen the greatest population growth occurred in the decades between 1950 and 1970. Much of the expansion can be traced to the growth and expansion of Tecumseh Products and other industries in and around Tecumseh. The dramatic growth of the population and housing can be seen in the number of building permits issued over the last 25 years.

YEARS	NO. OF UNITS
1954-1959	392
1960-1969	234
1970-1979	365

There is now in excess of 2,400 residential units within the city, a majority of which are single family. Region II Planning Commission estimated in 1975 that over 90% of all residential units were in good condition, the remaining 10% were in need of either major or minor repairs. The assessed value of all property in Tecumseh in 1954 was approximately eight million dollars, as of 1978 it had increased to 42 million dollars.

Tecumseh has a wide range of housing available, ranging from older architecturally significant homes to the most modern and in different price ranges.



Public Works . . .

CONSTRUCTION OF RUSSELL RD. BRIDGE

The city did not always have the excellent streets it now has. In fact, many of the original subdivisions were constructed without city utilities or curb and gutter.

Over the last 25 years we have increased the street mileage from 16.5 to nearly 38 miles. In 1954 few if any streets had curb and gutter and none had bituminous paving. Now just the opposite is true, very few streets do not have curb and gutter and bituminous paving.

Several major bridges have also been constructed over the last 25 years; the Evans Street Bridge over River Raisin; and the Occidental Street Culvert. The Russell Road Bridge, approximate cost $450,000 is presently under construction, this will connect Russell Road with Rogers Highway.

During this period literally thousands of feet of sewer and water lines were constructed to service not only existing subdivisions but new ones as well.

Much of the off street parking in the central business district was acquired and improved during the last 25 years, a system that was added to just last year with the acquisition of the Tuckey property.

Modernization and upgrading is the key to our excellent street maintenance program. We have equipment which allows us to undertake construction and maintenance programs without the necessity of going to outside contractors. Two new city garages, one for storage and the other for maintenance were constructed in 1974 and 1971 respectively.

The city is fortunate to have a well qualified public works department under the direction of Dave Williams who has been with the city most of the last 25 years. Even with the increased workload the size of the department has remained essentially the same over the last 25 years.

DAVE WILLIAMS, PUBLIC WORKS SUPERINTENDENT

CHIEF OF POLICE, MERLIN MOWERY

Police Department . . .

If there is one word to describe our police department that one word would be professionalism. There are 12 uniformed officers, the Chief of Police Merlin Mowery, and the dispatcher. Of the 12 officers, 6 have an associates degree or higher.

In addition, each policeman hired by a municipality in Michigan must be certified by the state. To obtain this certification a policeman must either possess a bachelors degree or complete 256 hours of class room work in police related courses.

The average length of service for all policemen is 10 years, varying from twenty-four years to a new hire of less that 60 days. There is round the clock protection with at least one patrolman on the street during each shift.

Fire Department . . .

The City of Tecumseh has a unique combination of a full time and volunteer fire department consisting of 3 full time drivers and eighteen volunteers.

Major improvements have been made to the department over the last 25 years. The most significant was the construction of the new fire station in 1971 at a cost of $74,000. Three pumpers have been purchased, the largest of which pumps 1000 gallons of water per minute.

Another extensively used piece is the rescue truck purchased in 1972. The truck contains equipment for extraction of accident victims from automobiles, emergency medical equipment and other emergency equipment. This equipment has been used throughout the area on a large number of rescues.

In addition to providing protection for the city we also provide service on a fee basis for 3 other townships, and have mutual aid agreements with surrounding departments. Over the last eight years, the department has averaged 115 calls a year.

Under the direction of chief Wallace MacGeorge the city has a well trained professional crew of firefighters and the department has just been rated as excellent by the Region II Planning Commission in Jackson, and the city has the lowest rating available to a volunteer fire department.

FIRECHEIF WALLACE MacGEORGE

TECUMSEH PUBLIC LIBRARY

Tecumseh Public Library . . .

One of the finest community facilities in the city is the library. The original library was housed in what is now the Board of Education Building. The new library was constructed in 1962 through the efforts of the Tecumseh Community Fund.

The library has in excess of 35,000 volumes on all subjects, plus a large collection of records, pictures and magazines. In addition the library has one of the finest historical rooms in the area containing a large collection of material on the history of Tecumseh and the area.

Herrick Memorial Hospital . . .

Through the generosity of Ray Herrick and the Herrick Foundation, as well as many other concerned citizens, Herrick Memorial Hospital stands as one of the finest medical facilities in the area providing comprehensive medical services.

The original structure was open to the public on May 30, 1938. A number of additions have been constructed since then in 1941 and 1951.

The addition in 1951 nearly doubled the number of beds from 55 to 106. In 1966 further construction added new rooms, expanded the X-Ray facilities, emergency room facilities, pharmacy and laboratory space.

Over the last five years the hospital has undergone a major renovation and a remodeling program. Nearly 3.9 million dollars was spent for the remodelng of patient rooms, a new intensive coronary facility, new laundry, new laboratory, new broiler room, new pharmacy and a new dietary department.

In addition to the hospital in 1963 the Herricks donated funds to construct a 25 patient nursing home.

HERRICK MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Tecumseh Parks and Recreation . . .

One of the largest percentage increases in the city budget has been in the area of parks and recreation. In 1955, the total park budget was $3,900. This year it has been increased to nearly $127,000. Not only has the city budget increased but the actual number of parks and recreational facilities have increased dramatically over the last 25 years.

One of the first major recreational facilities to be constructed at a cost of $86,000, was the Joyce Andrews Swimming Pool which opened in May of 1954. In 1961 the city was given the community center. It is used to this day as one of our major indoor recreational facilities and offices for the parks and recreation department.

The next major recreational facility constructed was the recreational building at Tecumseh Park, "The Pit" in 1967. In 1970 and 1971 two new tennis courts, handball court, basketball area, shuffle boards, and horseshoe pits were constructed at the park.

The last major recreational facility to be constructed was the four lighted tennis courts at Satterthwaite Park. These were constructed in 1978 at a cost of $88,000, half of which was paid locally and the other half from Federal Recreational Funds.

In addition to the major facilities described above the city during this period acquired a considerable amount of park land. The city and it's residents are quite fortunate in that we are well endowed with parks and open space. There are 64 acres at the public schools and 114 acres in the city parks.

The National Recreation and Park Association standard recommends a total of 10 acres for recreational land per 1,000 population. We have a ratio of 32 acres per 1,000 persons. In addition to providing a physical setting for recreational activities the Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department under the direction of Ward Eardley provides a full range of recreational programs and activities as well as for all age groups, both men and women.

ORCHARD TERRACE ELDERLY HOUSING — The need for elderly housing has been discussed for a number of years. The Tecumseh Housing Commission submitted a pre-application to Farm Home Administration and has received tentative approval of the project. There are still many hurdles to overcome and we have no absolute guarantee that the project will be built in the near future but we feel we are closer now than we have ever been. The project will be located at the corner of Adrian and Pottawatamie streets and is designed to accommodate 121 one-bedroom units, each with its own kitchen facilities. In addition to the individual units the building would have a multi-purpose room, lounge, kitchen, storage and central laundry. The project is estimated to cost approximately 2.5 million dollars. If everything proceeds as anticipated, construction could begin in the summer of 1979 with occupancy in mid to late 1980.

Future . . .

1979 to 2000

It is right that we take this opportunity to look back and be proud of the progress the city has made over the last twenty-five years. If the city is to continue to grow we must look to the future, not only next year but 20 years from now.

Region II Planning Commission projects the following population for Tecumseh to the year 2000.

8,620	9,370	10,120	10,870	11,620

Population projections are important because it can serve as a guide to the types and amount of land that will be required for new housing and types and amounts of services that the city must provide to it's residents.

We believe that growth is inevitable for Tecumseh and it is important that we plan for that growth. The city has taken the proper steps with the completion of the FUTURE LAND USE PLAN.

For example, it is anticipated that we will need 1,250 new residential units by the year 2000. Of these numbers single family homes are expected to account for about 60% of the new units, two family structures will account for about 10% and multiple family about 25%. This number of residential units would require approximately 240 acres.

This could mean that the city would have to annex additional property. It is also anticipated that future expansion in the area of Commercial Development would require an additional 8.5 acres of land.

In addition to this plan, studies are now underway for the beautification and future marketing of our central business district and a long range recreation plan.

In the area of parks and recreation, the parks and recreation plan calls for an additional 12.8 acres of neighborhood parks and playgrounds and the development of the Raisin River lowlands. The plan not only calls for additional park land but also pinpoints where it should be located in relation to anticipated growth areas.

60 Pre-applications Received for City's Housing Project

The city of Tecumseh has received only 60 pre-applications for its proposed senior citizen housing project after three weeks, according to assistant city manager Paul Preston.

Preston said that he had hoped the city would receive more pre-applications from senior citizens. He urged them to pick up a form at the library or city hall.

Completed pre-applications are due Feb. 2 at city hall. Information is confidential for the Tecumseh Housing Commission.

The housing will be available to anyone over age 62 or handicapped, regardless of age. Ten units in the project have been designed especially for those with physical handicaps.

Preston commented that some senior citizens may not be interested in filing a pre-application since it will not guarantee an apartment in the planned 122-unit project at Adrian and Pottawatamie Streets.

However, the major reasons for the pre-application is to help the Tecumseh Housing Commission determine if the project is economically feasible, how many people are interested in renting an apartment and how much income would be generated.

A more complete application will be required later.

So far, most of the pre-applications have come from Tecumseh residents, said Preston. Most are female, single or widows. It appears that 75 percent will need some kind of rental assistance, as the city had anticipated.

Preston will compile statistical results of the pre-applications for the housing commission after the Feb. 2 deadline.

Players Pick Director, Cast for 'Love' Comedy

The director and lead actors were selected for the comedy "Love Is Contagious", a Tecumseh Players production to open March 2 at the Community Center Glass Room.

Susan Benish Santner of Dundee will direct Marty Frolich of Tecumseh as the female lead, Sally Winters. Her romantic interest will be played by Kevin Baetz of Brooklyn. The role of Sally's brother will be portrayed by Randy Guernsey, also of Brooklyn.

Others in the cast will include Laura Mead, Becky Hite, Richelle Marks, Guilford Rothfuss, Mary Ann Bone and JoAnn Dalgard.

Rosann Frolich and Dick Egli will protray another couple in the play.

Gary Mills will be technical director, a job he held during last year's "Two Blind Mice."

Director Santer is an active member of the Tecumseh Players. She showed her skills in technical areas by being stage manager for the past musical "Bells Are Ringing".

A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, she holds a bachelor of science degree with major in dramatic arts and literature and a minor in oral interpretation. She has had training in fencing, pantomine, stage falls and dance.

She has made numerous appearances on stage with other groups.

She appeared as Nurse Flinn in "One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest" in Tampa, Fla. and as Jenny in "Death of a Salesman" at the Quirk Theatre. In the Madison, Wisc. area, she participated in children's theater and also at the Madison West Theater where she played Elvira in "Blithe Spirit".

Entertainment Center To Be Built Near Fisher Body Plant

A large entertainment center, one designed for disco and as a banquet center, has been planned across from the Tecumseh Fisher Body Plant on S. Occidental Rd.

Construction for a 12,000-square-foot building is expected to start next month, Ken Swope, one of three partners involved in the center, announces. Hall Bros. of Coldwater is the general contractor.

Swope said little is available for teenagers in the area and has hopes that this entertainment center will fill the gap. He says the center will not become a dope den and will be carefully supervised. No beer or liquor will be sold.

All three owners, including Bill Coker and Don Pettigrew, are employees at the Fisher Body Plant. Swope is a resident of Raisin Township, Coker of Tecumseh, and Pettigrew lives in Dundee.

They acquired the 10.5 acre site last month and expect the building to be ready in June.

Besides a disco center, owners will make the building available for wedding receptions and other large gatherings. Kitchen facilities are included in the building.

Record Songfest Raises over $2,000

By Maxine Calhoun

When the Clinton High School Choir started rehearsals, Saturday at 8 a.m., (a start postponed from Friday morning) it planned to sing 50 hours to surpass last year's Guiness record of 48 hours for a continuous singing group.

Then, Sunday night it was learned that the Mt. Unity College choir, in Ohio, had completed a 60-hour try for the title, Sunday at 9 p.m.

The students were pretty well exhausted, but when director Ed Aluk asked for a vote of choir members, they voted to continue for another nine hours to make it 61 total.

Throughout the event, with the assistance of area radio stations, pledges were phoned in. Together with pledges raised by the choir members, the fund raising effort is expected to top $2,000.

Funds will help send the choir to the international choir competition in Toronto, Ont., in May.

Many parents helped make the marathon event a success by serving as official witnesses, and bringing in food throughout the three days.

Several local nurses volunteered their time to be at the school.

Toledo Channel 11-TV showed the choir in the final hours of their marathon singing event.

Choir members are: seniors, Carol Clark, Alison Bailey.

Juniors, Laura Soctt, Janet Hilderly, Ronda Sell, Pamela Wyrick, Kelly Kruchkow, Pamela Murphy, Ed Schmidt, Jim Hall, Tina Stoner.

Sophomores, Lisa Paissant, Barbara Phillips, Janet Ingersoll, Patricia Foreman, Elaine Beardmore, Alex Kruger, Liz Reske, Debra McMurray, Moranda Graves.

News from the Tecumseh Library

OURSELVES AND OUR CHILDREN, A BOOK BY AND FOR PARENTS focuses on parents. Written by the Boston Women's Health Book Collective, it is based on discussion with over 200 parents at all stages of life.

The authors urge all parents and prospective parents to "Consider Yourselves." They ask many questions they believe should be answered in considering parenthood.

One such question is "How does being a parent interweave with your work, your relationships, your social and political concerns, your own childhood, your sense of yourself?"

Separate chapters deal with all aspects of parenthood: considering parenthood, pregnancy, early-middle-teen years parenthood.

Another chapter deals with being parents of adults. Family groups other than the traditional father-mother-children are presented.

Sharing parenthood duties is another important aspect presented in this book.

The interviews and discussions with parents make OURSELVES AND OUR CHILDREN an interesting, personal book.

Parents will discover that their own fears, troubles, joys and successes are part of a natural cycle. They can find help through suggestions of the authors, through the extensive bibliography and through the organizations listed.

This book is similar in style to the Boston Women's Health Book Collective's "OUR BODIES, OURSELVES.

A COMPLETE GUIDE TO SKIING IN THE MIDWEST, by Patricia Skalka, lists over 200 ski areas in the states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri and Wisconsin.

Information in the guide is really complete, writes the author. If the listing doesn't indicate that the ski area has a particular thing, then it doesn't have it.

The section for each state begins with a map of the state, showing the position of each ski area mentioned.

Under each ski facility, readers will find the following information (when applicable): locating, phone number, season dates, number and length of beginner, intermediate, and expert slopes, number and kind of lifts, lift tickets, and lessons available.

Ski information includes whether the facility has snowmaking equipment, night skiing, equipment rental and is patroled by the National Ski Patrol.

Lodging and food services are briefly described as well as the other activities the facility has to offer. Package deals are described. Special features of each facility and special events throughout the skiing season are listed.

In many cases, area accommodations and restaurants are listed. Local points of interest and comments on the ski facility will help readers plan their skiing outing.

Where can a Widow Get Advice on Financial Matters?

If your deceased husband had not assigned a trust company or an attorney to handle his affairs, legal advice is a wise move.

The financial decisions which must be made immediately following a husband's death should be accomplished with the competent advice of an experienced professional, such as an attorney or banker. The "brother-in-law" route is fraught with problems and high risk.

Certain aspects of the estate, whether there is a will or not, will be decided for you by law. The will -- and you definitely should have one for husband and wife -- will be of utmost importance when pondering these first decisions.

We suggest you prepare yourself by some library work and by reading certain books which have been written with the widow in mind. I suggest:

The Money Book by Syvia Porter

Sooner or Later by Jane Moore Howe

How to Manage Your Money, A Woman's Guide to Investing by Elizabeth Fowler.

We may be able to provide you additional sources of help and information. Your problems are our concern, so please feel free to call on us..

You Are What You Eat

By Shirley Weekley

In 1912 Steven Kiraly departed from Hungary and traveled to America to search for a better way of life for his family. In 1914 he sent for his wife, Anna and young son.

Although Anna spoke no English, she and her son traveled to America by themselves. The family settled in Detroit, in the Hungarian community of Delray. They raised five children. Today she has 18 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchilden.

Anna Kiraly, 85, now resides in Tecumseh with her son-in-law and daughter, John and Irene Baran. Anna still speaks little English and would love to visit with Hungarian speaking persons in the area. She was able to revisit her homeland several years ago, after being away for 46 years.

Irene Baran graciously provided me with these Hungarian recipes.

CHICKEN PAPRIKAS

3½ pound chicken, cut up
1 large onion
1½ tablespoons Hungarian paprika
½ small green pepper
chicken bouillion granules 1 or 2 teaspoons
½ pint sour cream
¼ tablespoon flour

DUMPLINGS

2 cups flour
2 eggs
½ cup water
½ teaspoon salt

Chop onion and fry in four tablespoons until slightly brown. Remove from heat and add paprika and stir until well blended.

Add chicken and 1 cup hot water and green pepper. Cover and let simmer on medium heat. Turn chicken once or twice to cook evenly.

Add chicken bouillon granules, and salt and pepper to taste and water as needed. When chicken is fully cooked, 1 to 1½ hours remove from pan. Combine the flour and sour cream and mix into the chicken broth. Stir until smooth and add chicken again. Turn heat to low.

Measure flour into bowl and make a well in flour. Add 2 eggs, ½ teaspoon salt and ½ cup water. Work flour into eggs until the consistency of dumplings.

Drop dumplings by teaspoon into boiling water. Cook about 5-10 minutes until the dumplings float to the top and are no longer doughy. Remove from boiling water and drain. Place on a platter, pour the chicken gravy over them and serve with the chicken.

SZEKELY GULYAS (SAUERKRAUT AND PORK)

2 pounds pork, cubed
1 large can sauerkraut
½ pint sour cream
2 tablespoon shortening
1 large onion minced
1 clove garlic
½ tablespoon paprika
salt and pepper

Brown onion and garlic in shortening until golden. Remove from heat and add paprika: Add pork, salt and pepper and ½ cup water and return to fire on low heat.

Continue cooking until meat is fully cooked and tender, adding water as needed. When meat is done, wash sauerkraut and add to meat. Add sour cream, heat thoroughly and serve.

STUFFED PEPPERS

6-8 green peppers
½ pound ground beef
½ pound ground pork
½ ground veal
1 large clove garlic
1 large onion
1 cup raw washed rice
3 tablespoons shortening
salt and pepper

Cut off tops of peppers and wash and drain. Mince garlic and onion and brown in shortening. Mix raw meat and rice and browned onion and garlic. Salt and pepper to taste. Stuff peppers with meat mixture. Put in pan and place upright.

Pour 2 cans of tomato soup over peppers and add enough water to completely cover peppers. Bring to boil, then reduce heat and simmer slowly. Place lid on pan loosely while simmering. Cook until rice is cooked, about 1-1½ hour.

'The Pastor's Study'

By Rev. R. Richard Case
Britton Congregational Church

"Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethern to dwell togther in unity."

Yes, dear reader, this is the scripture that we read in the Book of Psalms.

One would believe that all of our Bibles have disappeared or vanished for as we look around the world, the nation and even the communities, one might be led to believe many people of today do not read the "Good Book."

"Dwell together in unity". Where in the world, today, is man dwelling in unity?

Your first thought, as an American, would be our own nation. This would be my reply but after pondering the idea further I would still ask the same question. Where?

I have traveled a great deal throughout our great nation and it seems to me that there is much work to be done in order to unite men in brotherly love so that we might live in harmony.

For those who believe that we already have this unity or harmony, let me direct your eyes toward our alabaster cities and towns.

These will serve as examples of a brotherless society as far as race is concerned. But also we might look at the practices of some of our big business' methods the bribes, the payoffs and the like activity to illustrate lack of unity and brotherhood.

Thank goodness this does not happen too often, but we even find this lack of brotherhood within our churches, wherein man becomes so involved in personalities and petty dislikes that he becomes and acts like everything BUT a child of God.

Yes, much work is needed and it is not, nor will it be an easy task to follow the commandment, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

This wonderful commandment can be twisted a bit and often is much easier to keep. You have probably heard it twisted in such a manner, "Do unto others before they do unto you".

It is your choice to make. Which commandment will you

'Speck' Publishes Poetry Book

by Kathy Brown

E. L. "Speck" Simmons of Tipton is proof of the saying, "You're not getting older, just better." At age 74, he has recently published a book containing over 300 of his original poems. The collection is entitled "A Speck of Speck".

It is only the top of the carrot, for this prolific poet penned his first verse at age 14 and said he has written as many as 200 poems in a year during a recent period in his adult life.

He uses poetry to stretch his soul. In Speck's words, "Poetry to me has been like a balm to the soul, loosing one's self on a warm fall day, walking among the golden fallen leaves."

Speck's topics are the stuff that life is made of, the little things like "The Smudged Cookie Jar"; the pleasures of life, like "Kissing", "The Old Flannel Shirt" and "The Smile of a Child";

The joys of human relationships with spouse, family, friends and neighbors; and the pain as in "Careless Words" and "There Must Be a Tomorrow";

The familiar, such as the old neighborhood, the ol' swimming hole; and the memories of childhood, parenthood, married life and retirement.

As the Rev. Max Bailey of Tipton wrote about his work, "Little of life escapes Speck's pen."

Speck published the collection at the urging of friends who told him his work was too good to keep in a drawer. Indeed, it is good.

"A Speck of Speck" is poetry you just can't put down. Every verse creates a vivid picture in the mind. The commonplace becomes special in his words.

Part of the joy of his poetry is the spontaneity of his work. "When I write about walking in the leaves, I'm doing it," he said.

It is not unusual for Speck to wake in the middle of the night and pen a poem or idea. Or in the midst of a conversation, to be inspired, grab a pencil and quick, jot it down.

He described the words like a "Victrola in my head, reeling off in the middle of the night." Later at a typewriter, he amplifies the ideas and completes the poem.

Speck said that he's never been inspired by reading other poets. In fact, he avoids reading them. "If I read them, I wouldn't write me. It'd be them," said the poet.

His poetry is revealing about the man and his times. It is a local history in verse. Some of his 18 poems about his hometown of Tipton are in the book. They are about Tipton "as I knew it, growing up in the horse and buggy days. It used to be a separate entity with a meat market, pool room, barbershop, five trains a day, lifestock shipping yard," etc.

His poetry is revealing of his philosophy of life. For example, in "Windows of Gold," Speck tells that one day he saw his "own west windows, made gold by evening light" and concluded "No need in wasting time dreaming. If we look, our windows are of gold."

His poetry is autobiographical in the sense that it is based on his lifetime of experiences. Speck's great-grandfather, Ezra, settled in Franklin Center, which later became Tipton. His four grandchildren still live in the area.

Speck was a farmer, a Buick dealer in Milan for 18 years and later a Ford dealer in Tecumseh for two years.

The bulk of his poetry was written after he raised his family. He and his late wife, Grace, had two daughters, now Mrs. Robert (Gloria) Karle and Mrs. Joseph (Sandra) Gregory, both of Tipton.

Besides verse, travel is one of his hobbies. Speck's a dedicated Rotarian. At the Jan. 16 meeting of the Tecumseh club, he has honored with a birthday cake, commemorating his 74th birthday Jan. 21. The open book-style cake was decorated with the cover of his new book.

The nickname "Speck" was given to him his first year of district school in Franklin Township by an eighth grade graduate who shared a boyhood trait — freckles.

Fence Repair Project Continues

By Kathy Brown

Recently, the Tecumseh Area Historical Society committed $2,000 for its receipts from the Promenade the Past home tours to pay for half the repair cost for the wrought iron fences at Brookside Cemetery on North Union Street and Pioneer Park on North Evans Street.

The Society hopes that the public will join in its efforts and make contributions to see that the work is completed.

So what's historic about a fence?

The point of the restoration is one of aesthetics. Each fence is a landscape feature at each site which commemorates the history of Tecumseh.

A spanking, brand new aluminum fence might do the job, but it wouldn't make the properties look like the same distinguished landmarks.

The exact dates the fences were constructed are not known. City cemetery records may reward a sleuth with the answer.

John Kosirnik, the blacksmith restoring the fences, estimated that both were commercially made circa 1920. The company may have been Fisk, which is still in business today and manufactures weather vanes.

The granite cemetery monument at the entrance of Brookside Cemetery was given to the village of Tecumseh from the estate of George N. and Gertrude Stacy, circa 1914.

Kosirnik was able to locate a company in New Orleans that manufacturers replacement tops for the arrow-like castings or the points atop the Brookside Cemetery fence. He made 1,200 scrolls for that fence. It is simpler in design than the one at Pioneer Park which features cast and wrought iron medallions.

The 115-section of the Brookside Cemetery fence will be restored a few sections at a time and replaced as ready, since most of the posts are still in good shape and Kosirnik does not have storage room.

Repair on the Pioneer Park fence has been completed. It will probably not be replaced until spring. Kosirnik used savable sections of that fence to rebuild eight sections.

Kosirnik resides at 2848 W. Michigan Ave., Clinton. The fence was sandblasted by Shamrock Sandblasting, also on US-12.

Pioneer Park was dedicated in 1909 to Musgrove and Abi Evans, first settlers in Lenawee County. A commemorative boulder marks the site where the first house in Lenawee County was built, June 2, 1824.

Abi was one of the early settlers buried in Brookside Cemetery. Some of the others buried there were cited in a history of Tecumseh during the town's 125th anniversary.

In the following account, Clara Waldron and Edith Ingersoll indicated that in 1949, folks considered the cemetery a monument to the proud past:

Tecumseh's Path of Glory

The green cress, flowers and trees of Tecumseh's beautiful cemetery, located at the extreme end of North Union Street, provides the final resting place for many of the early settlers. Among them are:

General J.W. Brown, born 1793. First of early settlers, arriving in 1824. Built the first grist and sawmill, established first stage and mail route between Detroit and Chicago. Ground the first wheat, built the first house in the village in 1824. Died 1880.

Abi Evans, born 1789. Wife of Musgrove Evans, early settler, first homemaker in Lenawee County. Died 1832.

The Rev. Joseph Bangs, born 1777. Minister of M.E. Church for 45 years. Preached first sermon in Macon. Died 1848.

John J. Adams, born 1807. Came to Tecumseh 18 where he established branch of University of Michigan.

Mrs. George Spofford, born 1832. Taught the first school in Lenawee County in a small log building.

Judge Wm. Hoeg, born 1789. For several years was judge of the county. Died 1853.

Aaron Norcross, born 1812. Son of Revolutionary soldier, John Norcross. Came to Tecumseh in 1829. Helped clear the wilderness.

Selleck Boughton, born 1796. Postmaster of Tecumseh for several years prior to 1840.Civil engineer and surveyor for early landowners.

W.W. Tilton, born 1803. Came to this territory in 1825. In 1829 married Matilda Sisson, later in life he married Cynthia S. Bissell, the first bride in Lenawee County.

Hon. Consider A. Stacy, born 1817. First prosecuting attorney of Lenawee County, began practicing law in 1837. Old Puritan custom to name eldest son of each generation "Consider."

Dr. Increase S. Hamilton, born 1810, son of Revolutionary soldier, active supporter of Union cause in Civil War.

MARK CRESWELL SHOOTS FOR TWO OVER THE TOP OF HURON PLAYERS TUESDAY NIGHT

Redskins Up Record to 10-0

Clinton notched two more victories this week at the expense of Onsted and Britton. That ups their record to 10-0.

Friday against Onsted, Mark Dettling, Mike Karapas, Jeff Porterfield and Dave Porter all hit double figures with 18, 12, 11 and 11 points respectively to lead Clinton to the 63-53 win.

Shooting from the line proved to be the edge for Clinton team when they hit 27 more points than Onsted. Onsted found itself behind by three points going into the fourth frame and had to foul the Redskins.

The Clinton squad countered by hitting 10 of 15 foulshots in that fourth frame to put the game away.

Clinton was 34 percent from the floor and 67 percent from the line. Onsted was 40 percent and 55 from the line. In rebounding, Porterfield led the Redskin's 36-32 edge with 12.

Tuesday against Britton, Karapas hit 17, Dettling hit 15, and Doug Mowery had 10 points to lead Clinton. Randy Dusseau turned in a game high 24 points for the Tories while Terry Benedict added 10 to Britton's 52-82 losing cause.

The first frame was close for the two cautious team, but then Clinton began to open the game up more in the second frame by hitting from the outside and getting the ball to their taller players inside.

Clinton lead at half 36-22 and then put the game out of reach for the Tories in the second half with 9 fast break and extra height.

Britton was 21 of 55 from the floor and 10 of 13 from the line. Clinton was 34 of 56 and 14 of 17 from the line. Clinton also held an edge in rebounding, 40-28.

In the JV's match, Clinton was victorious over Britton, 53-40.

CHS Picks Up Volleyball Win

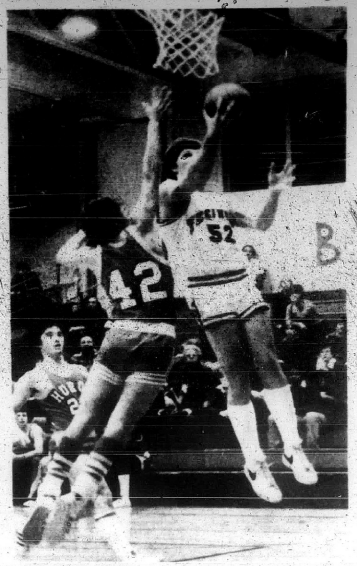
Monday night Clinton's volleyball team picked up its first win of the season against one league loss.

Senior Sue Richter and sophomore Renee Peterson captured top honors for the girls with 18 and 11 service points respectively.

Clinton won 15-8 and 15-0. Richter was responsible for all 15 service points in the second game shutout.

Lisa Cark had five excellent spikes to lead the team in the category and Kathy Sandborn had six sets.

The JV's lost their match, 0-15, 16-14, and 8-15.



UP FOR TWO — Indian senior John Ely lays one up for two points against Huron Tuesday night.

Indian Basketballers Win Two, Record's at 6-0

John Faulkner shined Friday night and Mark Creswell stole the show Tuesday as the Tecumseh Indians added two more league victories this week.

Friday, Faulkner had a career high 25 points to lead the Indians to their 80-53 victory. Teammates John Ely and Creswell also hit double figures with 23 and 15 points respectively.

The Indians rallied near the end of the half to pull ahead 37-31 and then blew the game open in the third frame. Ely hit 11 points that third frame and Faulkner added nine.

Tecumseh was 30 of 57 from the floor for 53 percent while Monroe hit 37 percent or 18 of 48. In rebounding, the Indians held a 37-26 edge with Creswell and Ely pulling down 14 and 10.

Tuesday, Creswell hit 22 points while Faulkner added 16 and Ely 13 for Tecumseh's 66-55 victory over Huron.

The Indians won the game on the line and in rebounding as they hit 20 of 28 and pulled down 45 to Huron's 27 rebounds.

Again the Indians sparked to pull ahead at half, 26-25. Then the team put it all together while hitting eight and seven points from the line in the final two stanzas for the winning edge.

Tecumseh was 23 of 60 from the floor

FAST BREAK — Ron Smith pulls out ahead of a Huron defender on a fast break. The Indians now look down the road to hosting Flat Rock Friday and play at Adrian Tuesday.

1st League Win

Britton's basketball team notched its first league victory in two years Friday night, when they surged ahead with a 17 point fourth quarter effort against Summerfield to win 45-39.

Britton was down by one point at the end of the third frame when the Tories switched over to a half court press. They forced Summerfield to turn the ball over and put 17 points on the board to Summerfield's eight.

Randy Dusseau led the attack in the fourth frame with eight of his game high 12 points. Troy Bailey hit three of four free throws in the last couple minutes of the game to help put the game out of Summerfield's reach.

Bailey, along with Terry Benedict, had nine points for the game. Teammate Greg Fanslau had his best game of the year with 11 points and 11 rebounds.

Statistically, Britton led the rebounding with 33 to the visitor's 22. Britton hit 28 percent from the floor to Summerfield's 29. From the line, the Tories were 13 of 25 and their opponents were 7 of 14.

Saturday, Britton traveled to Dundee and played a good game, but came up on the short end, 62-52.

Britton was down by only two at the end of the half, but grew tired in the third frame while Dundee hit their big men in the middle to pile up the points for the eventual victory.

High scorers for Britton wre Fanslau with 15 points and nine rebounds. Benedict had 14 points and eight rebounds.

Britton was 37 percent from the floor to Dundee's 35 percent. From the line, Britton hit eight of 16 to their host team's 16 of 24.

Win One, Lose One

Tecumseh's volleyball squad lost a match against Monroe St. Mary Monday night 12-15 and 11-15.

According to coach Donna Sass, the girls played well and fixed earlier mistakes but they also lost their momentum agressiveness when they needed it to win.

Gloria Fosbender served six in a row that second game to start the Indians toward the win. She got one serve later and Connie Retan added four before the St. Mary team pulled away for the win.

The JV's also lost. Scores ran 15-3, 5-15 and 11-15.

Tuesday the girls traveled to Bedford and turned in a 16-14, 5-15 and 15-10 victory.

Kris MacDonald led the girls by stringing six in the first match and five in the last game. She totaled 15 service points.

The girls won a very close first match and had trouble with the Bedford serves as they went dead the second game.

They then came back aggressively for the win in the third game behind some good serving and returning of Bedford serves.

The Tecumseh gymnastics team continued on its winning way this week as it beat Napoleon 75.85 to 56.15 and qualified four girls for the regional meet.

Thru My Window

BY MARDA GENE DUNCAN

The snow came, and came and came. It came in small, gritty pellets; large, lazy flakes and in wind-driven sheets. During the night there had been a half-way heavy snowfall and Saturday morning's storm merely added more depth to the white blanket. After lunch the red arrow on the outdoor thermometer inched towards the 30 degree mark and the snow turned to rain, freezing rain. Quite a weekend.

That morning, even before preparing our breakfast, Mom took care of the birds. She put out generous portions, primarily sunflower seeds and scratch feed. The first customers were a few chickadees and tufted titmice. Then a mourning dove or two came by and finally a bluejay.

We never did decide what the bluejay's trouble was, but instead of coming down to the feeder for a snack, he stayed on the limb of the nearby maple tree and screamed. Obviously he was displeased about something and was telling the whole world about it.

So fast and heavy was the snowfall that by the time we had finished our breakfast, the food Mom had put on the feeders was almost buried. We were thinking about giving the birds a second helping when two squirrels moved in. They scrambled up through the bushes and settled, one on each feeding tray, down to some serious eating.

It was fun to see two so close together. That the sunflower seeds were covered, bothered them not a bit. They used front paws to scrape the snow away and when that proved too slow, they simply nosed into the white stuff, bulldozing their way to the feed.

Sometimes their tails were flipped up over their backs, umbrella fashion. Seemingly they did not mind the weather, it was food they were interested in, they were devoting themselves 100% to eating.

While the squirrels were monopolizing the near-my-window feeders, the birds were busy too. During the heaviest snowstorms we did not see them much; in fact, during the worst of the blizzards we did not see much of anything except flying snow.

When the wind let up though, the birds flocked in.

With both feeders occupied by hungry squirrels they did not come to the feeders. They did, however, busy themselves on the ground beneath the feeding station. Always a great deal of food is spilled and the cardinals, juncos, tree sparrows, chickadees, and titmice found plenty of good eating under the yews.

Actually they were probably more comfortable down there than they would have been on the food trays. The yews had collected a heavy topping of snow. It was heavy snow and weighted the bushes down.

The combination of bent branches and snow provided all sorts of little sheltered areas. The birds make good use of these 'caves'. They could eat in relative comfort — at least they were sheltered and protected some.

Bird and squirrel action tapered off as the day wore on and the freezing rain continued. Sunday morning we opened our eyes on a breathtakingly, beautiful world.

Mom flew my bed down to the south window. The sunshine was incredibly bright and the sky a lovely blue. The ice encrusted threetops, looked like fine crystal.

Back in my usual position by the west window I was still looking out at a winter wonderland. It was simply one gorgeous sight after another.

The sunlight hung jewels on the ice covered trees. The cardinals perched on the whitest snow. Chickadees and titmice feasted on the sunflower seeds and the squirrels raced across the hard crusted snow.

But Mother Nature often does not know when to quit. Fifteen degrees below zero Monday morning was more than a bit much. And although we were fortunate in not receiving all of the snow predicted for us, we had enough. In fact, it is still falling.

I'm a Consumers Power gas serviceman, and it's my job to troubleshoot. If people smell gas in their homes, they call me and I get there fast.

But sometimes while I'm working in a customer's home, I find more trouble—like no insulation.

Customers really can't afford to pay for all the natural gas it's costing them by not insulating. Over the long winter, insulation doesn't cost money—it saves money and scarce energy. Believe me. I know. I get a gas bill at my home every month just like you.

Plan 150th Anniversary

CLINTON — At a meeting of the Historical Society of Clinton, Sharon Scott presented a a suggested calendar of events for the observance of the 150th anniversary of the settling of Clinton.

Calendar includes such events as: March, making maple syrup; April, Hootenany, an evening songfest and square dance; May-June, a "75 and Over" birthday party for Clinton residents in the tradition of the 1930's when an "Old Ladies' Party" was held annually to observe birthdays of those over 75.

A July 4th celebration might feature an old fashioned village picnic with games and contests.

For August, a kitchen tour might feature demonstrations of food preservation methods, such as making of jams, jellies, canning, bread-making, etc.

During the Fall Festival '79 the Society will host the Lost Arts Days, which will include a slide and movie presentation of the history of Clinton.

Betty Kline of the Tecumseh Historical Society told of the plans for a Lenawee County Museum in the former Carnegie library building in Adrian. Individual members were urged to help in any way they can to raise the funds needed for this project.

Richard Marks of Marks Stained Glass Studio discussed repairs to the stained glass windows in the front doors of the Smith-Kimball Community Center.

Although not Tiffany, they are an early example of stained glass, probably made by a Detroit firm.

Cost to repair is $600, according to his bid, and $200 for the windows in the transom. Other bids will be sought, and the information will be conveyed to the Smith-Kimball Community Center Board for its consideration.

Feb. 15 meeting will feature a talk by Donald Peterson of Westland, the Michigan Director of the Antique Tool Collectors Association.

Cars Crash, Three Injured

CLINTON — Three persons sustained injuries in a two-car collision which occurred Thursday afternoon just west of Clinton on W. Michigan Ave.

William J. Hodge of Detroit was westbound and crossed the centerline and struck an eastbound vehicle driven by Roger Pyror, 19, of Adrian. Pryor had swerved to avoid the Hodge vehicle, but was unable to avoid the collision.

A third vehicle, unidentified, was also forced to swerve but was not hit.

Hodge was unable to explain why he crossed the centerline to Blissfield State Police, who issued him a summons for driving left of center.

Taken to Bixby hospital were Pyror, and Larry Shuttis of Onsted, who were treated for minor injuries and released, and Walter D. Sell, 24, of Adrian, who was more seriously injured and admitted for further observation. Shuttis and Sell were passengers in the Pryor vehicle.

Clinton Fire Department was called to the scene to wash gasoline from the highway.

There was no injury and no citation.

Cars Collide on Icy Road

CLINTON — Two Adrian residents were treated for injuries at Bixby Hospital, Thursday, when cars they were driving collided on US-12, west of Lima Center Rd.

Karen Collins, 20, of Adrian, was driving west when she lost control on the snow-covered and icy road and crossed the centerline.

The Collins vehicle was struck by Parker Prater, 50, of Adrian, who was eastbound.

Clinton State Police did not issue citation since the highway was extremely slippery.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

Moving Decision

By Maxine Calhoun

Clinton's current controversy has arisen since local merchants have expressed a need for increased parking area.

A suggestion that the Memorial Park on W. Michigan Ave., beside the Clinton Township Library, be converted to a 50-car parking area, has brought consternation to those who appreciate the sentiment involved in the World War memorial, dedicated to the village area men lost in the war.

Many of these men whose names appear on the memorial were friends or classmates and I can understand the concern to keep the memorial intact.

However, one must also weigh the need for more parking near the village business block. It is uniquely landlocked with no available open space to utilize for more parking lots.

It is also worth noting that there hasn't been a time in more than 20 years when all the Clinton business places were occupied at one time as they are now. This makes parking places hard to find, especially during the busiest shopping and banking hours.

Perhaps the memorial sign could be replaced with a suitable monument in the tree-shaded grove at Riverside Cemetery, where the traditional Memorial Day observances are held.

That would be a more suitable, dignified setting than its present one, where it only serves as an eyesore because of its disrespectful treatment by some persons.

Other uses of the park, Rotary Club and Jaycee sponsored barbecues, and Fall Festival activities could be continued in a paved parking area, since such activities are usually held during weekends when local business parking is not so urgently need.

All those concerned can certainly work out an agreeable solution to this problem if all will give consideration to the viable alternatives for the greatest good for Clinton.

Cribbage Anyone?

CLINTON — Anyone interested in a cribbage tournament, which is going to be held at Pioneer High School, Ann Arbor, is asked to contact Doris Blom, 456-4603.

Tournament runs for three consecutive Mondays, starting Feb. 5 at 7 p.m. There is a $3 entry fee.

Took Two

CLINTON — Clinton State Police are investigating the theft of two snowmobiles, which disappeared while left for servicing at the Braun Implement Co., Bridgewater, Jan. 16.

He is a member of 5th Marine Amphibious Brigade, 1st Marine Division, Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The 12-day exercise involved more that 20,000 personnel, 38 ships and 250 aircraft from U.S. Navy and Marine Corps squadrons.

"Varsity Lance" began with advance inport training by all units and continued with an at-sea warmup preparation for amphibious landings at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The exercise then continued ashore at Camp Pendleton for Marine Corps forces, while naval surface and air units conducted antisubmarine and antiair warfare training at sea.

Concerned Parents Meet, 'Communication Breakdown'

Concerned Parents met Jan. 22 and elected officers.

The group will continue weekly meetings on Monday, 7:30 p.m. at the Boy Scout Cabin. Meetings are public.

The main topic of discussion was what the group called "breakdown of communication and cooperation between parents, faculty, administration and school board in local schools."

Parents have lost their voices in school matters," said a group spokesperson. "Our goal is to reestablish parental rights within the school system that we feel have been dissolved."

The spokesperson further commented that parents have found that written school policy is interpreted differently when practiced by administrators.

"We are not radicals, only people concerned about the health, education and welfare of our children," the spokesperson added.

Publisher Learns Plenty

There's a newspaper publisher in Michigan who spent 25 years of his life farming. As a newspaperman, the experience he gained as a farmer proved invaluable.

When asked recently what he learned from his 25 years of farming, the publisher listed the following:

1. Wipe your feet before you go into the house.
2. Don't raise sheep. They're always looking for a place to die.
3. Don't brag when your hens start laying an egg a day in April. Even the crows lay eggs in April.
4. Never sass a township trustee, and don't shoot the neighbor's dog.
5. Don't plan on your son being a farmer.
6. Never park your chaw in a chicken coop.
7. Never trust a Jersey bull, a man who says he'll make you rich, a woman who says she'll make you happy or a politician with two ears.
8. A drought will scare you to death but it's the wet years when you go broke.
9. Oats are the only sure crop. They're sure to lose money.
10. The government is the outfit that shows you how to grow two stalks of corn where one grew before, and then pays you not to harvest either.
11. Wipe your feet before you go in the house.

Plan Ban on Sno' Dumpin'

A new state law designed to eliminate piled snow as a traffic hazzard is in effect this winter, the Department of Transportation announced.

Basically, it prohibits businesses and citizens from dumping snow on roadways and shoulders or piling it so high at driveway entrances that it obstructs the vision of motorists.

Under the law, enacted last spring, snow, ice or slush may not be removed from a driveway or other property and placed across a roadway or its shoulders. Snow piled near a driveway entrance must not obstruct the view of a motorist entering the roadway.

Pushing snow from a driveway to the opposite side of the road also is prohibited.

"Citizens or hired snowplowing services usually clear driveways after the highway crews have cleared the roadway and shoulders," said John P. Woodford, department director.

Violation of the new law is a misdemeanor. Both property owners and persons hired to removed snow are responsibile for any illegal snow removal activities.

In addition, any accidents caused by illegal snow removal will leave violators open to lawsuits for public liability and property damage.

Both the Highways and Transportation Department and Michigan Department and Michigan State Police encourage property owners to make special plans for snow removal from their property. They recommended that snow be pushed away from the roadway and to the sides of the driveway for its full length.

Large businesses may find it necessary to truck snow from their parking lots.

KEEPING WARM — Michigan winters are so cold, even the snow people are wearing overcoats these days. The faces on the snow creatures were melting in the sweltering 29 degree heat Tuesday afternoon on the lawn of 8221 M-50 in Ridgeway. The thaw was a temporary reprieve from the winter weather which resumed Wednesday with six inches of snow and blowing winds predicted for the area.

Joins Realty World

Realtors Madeline C. Townsend and John M. Townsend, owners of Townsend II, announce the affiliation of their full service real estate firm with Realty World, an International organization of franchised independent Realtors with approximately 102 offices in Michigan and over 1,500 throughout the United States and Canada.

Located at 900 W. Chicago Blvd., in Tecumseh, the firm will henceforth be known as Realty World-Townsend II.

Affiliated with the Lenawee County Board of Realtors, Realty World-Townsend II, also covers a wide service area including Clinton, Tipton, Britton and the lake areas.

Membership in Realty World enables independent firms to give a wide range of services to their clients.

The staff of Realty World-Townsend II has recently completed the educational training provided through the regional office.

Realty World members are able to offer their customers the advantage of RealLine – the recently introduced toll-free referral service that provides virtually instant communications between the 1,500 plus Realty World member offices in the United States and Canada.

The Townsends also added that only Realty World brokers provide the unique Realscope – a color picture tour of homes listed right in the Realtor's office; it affords the home buyer an intimate, instant review of homes currently available through the Realty World office. These boards are currently on display in the Townsend II Office.

Mrs. Townsend also took this opportunity to announce the firms three top producers for 1978. M. Susan McKeever, sold and listed over a million dollars in property during 1978, while Toni Render and Pam Kurutz each listed and sold over a half million.

THE WILDERNESS WAR is Allan Eckert's fourth volume in his series, THE WINNING OF AMERICA. The series relates the "violent and monumental description of the wresting of the North American continent from the Indians."

This fourth volume begins in 1763 with the years following the French and Indian War and ends after the American Revolution.

About 1570, five great Indian tribes banded together to form the famous, feared Five Nations, or Iroquois League. Their empire stretched across New York State.

They had a remarkable representative form of government; in fact, our government may have been patterened after the Iroquois federation. These feared warriors were unsurpassed in skill.

By 1770, white men were again living in Iroquois land and fighting among themselves. It was war again for the Iroquois.

The American Revolution and the following years destroyed the Iroquois League and saw the Indians without a home.

This defeat came in spite of Chief Joseph Brant's alliance with the one than the Iroquois trusted, Sir William Johnson, Colonial Superintendent of Indian Affairs.

THE WILDERNES WAR gives a factual account of the final years of the Iroquois Empire and the first years of the American Nation.

Eckert used many primary sources: original letters and documents, wills, tribal records, newspapers, magazines, etc.; Wherever possible, he uses actual Indian names, rather than the diminutives or derogative names given by English speaking people.

Eckert's purpose in this book, as in his whole series, is to show in very human terms how this land was won from the Indians — through encroachment, treachery, trickery, grant, purchase, alliance, deceit, warfare, theft, and treaty.

He penetrates the stories and legends to expose the initial and basic causes. He presents these events as they appeared in original documents, often seeing things that seemed insignificant to observers at the time.

Eckert champions neither the Indians nor the whites. He recognizes that there were good and bad on both sides.

The facts are presented without moralizing or editorializing. In Eckert's words, "The facts speak amply for themselves and whatever conclusions are drawn must be drawn solely by the reader." +++

PLANT PRINTS AND COLLAGES can be your guide to making beautiful nature prints and pressed plant pictures. Ida Geary is a well known plant printer, teacher and author. Many of her published works contain samples of her prints.

Ms. Geary describes the materials needed and techniques used for several kinds of printing. These kinds include direct, offset, brayer and proof press prints.

Printing on cloth as well as on paper is covered. Another section describes mounting of the prints.

Even the directions for making your own decorative papers are not difficult. There are easy instructions for making your own hand-made, hand-marbled or hand-dyed paper.

'Save Topsoil'

Lenawee Soil Conservation District's 30th annual meeting was held Wednesday night at Blissfield High School. The Blissfield Band Boosters served a roast beef dinner to the 220 people in attendence.

After dinner, Tom Thrall, district conservationist, spoke on the importance of soil conservation. Valuable topsoil is being lost to erosion each year. If it is to be preserved for future generations, erosion must stop. Three-screen slide presentation on the necessity of agriculture in America was given by Phil Schmiege, a representative from Stauffer Chemical Company.

In the election for two director positions, Lloyd Ruesink and Roger Wolf were both re-elected to serve three-year terms.

Frank and Martin Oprsal were presented with the award of the "Conservation Farmers of 1978". The Oprsals have done a lot of work toward soil conservation. The erosion control structure they installed this year is the largest in Lenawee County.

Awarded Money

A total of $1,273,000 in financial aid has been awarded to Siena Heights College students for the current academic year college officials recently reported.

Of this amount, more than 290 students have received in excess of $127,000 in institutionally awarded scholarships. The majority of these scholarships went to residents of Lenawee County and Michigan community college transfer students.

This fall Siena experienced a 27 percent enrollment increase over the previous year and now has the largest number of non-traditional aged students in its 60 year history.

Memoriam

In loving memory of my grandson "Sunny" Carl Webb.
HEAVEN'S VERY SPECIAL CHILD

A meeting was held quite far from earth, "It's time again for another birth, Said the Angels to the Love above, This special child will need much love."

His progress may seem very slow, Accomplishments he may not show, And he'll require extra care, From the folks he meets way down there.

He may not run or laugh or play, His thoughts may seem quite far away, In many ways he won't adapt, And he'll be known as handicapped.

So let's be careful where he's went, We want his life to be content. Please, Lord, find the parents who, will do a special job for You.

They will not realize right away, The leading role they're asked to play. But with this child sent from above, Comes stronger faith and richer love.

And soon they'll know the privilege given, In caring for this gift from Heaven. Their precious charge, so meek and mild, Is Heaven's very special child.

—Author Unknown

I thank the Lord for giving me the privilege of having "Sunny" for three and a half years. He taught me what great courage and selfless love means.

Nadine Bancroft 1-25p

In memory of my beloved husband, Harry Richard, who left me three years ago, Jan. 24th.

Loving memories never die, As years roll on and days pass by,
In my heart a memory is kept, of the one I loved and will never forget.
Sadly missed by his wife, Bonnie and family.

To the Editor,

Saturday, Jan. 20, I was driving south on Occidental Road with my four youngsters in the car. About half a mile south of Russell Road, my car hit a very icy patch in the road. We ended up in the snowbank.

No one was hurt, but we were shook up. When we got out of the car, a young gentleman pulled over in his truck to the side of the road to help us.

He had a ham radio and proceeded to contact the sheriff, then AAA (to tow my car from the snowbank.) He even contacted the party with whom we had an appointment. All of this took place from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.

I believe a commendation is in order for this Tecumseh citizen who so willingly offered his time and help to complete strangers.

In these days when we hear so often, "I didn't want to get involved," there are people like Daun Yeagley of 9405 Newburg Road who really will lend a helping hand to those who need help.

He mentioned to us that one main reason he has his radio is so that he and his friends can give help to persons who need aid.

We are most grateful to this gentleman and wish to share our thanks to him for helping lessen the unpleasantness of this incident.

Tecumseh has indeed, through the unselfishness and concern of Mr. Yeagley, proved to be "our kind of town."

I am most happy to say I live in Tecumseh among many concerned citizens.

I hope in some special way, you will find it possible to include a special commendation to Daun Yeagley.

To the Editor:

I would like Tecumseh Fire Dept. and Raisin Center Fire Dept. to TOOT their fire whistles for the Mothers of Tecumseh elementary school children.

This is a constructive solution to a very big problem on days that the Board of Education must dismiss the children before normal dismissal time, because of inclement weather or maintenance problems.

For those mothers or guardians who cannot be tuned to a radio everyday or are out of the house, but still in the area, the fire whistle would be an effective alert. Especially a blast with an unusual sound.

I fear for the children who reach home to find locked doors.

The Helping Hands program in Tecumseh is building a network of homes to keep an eye on our children as they go and come home from school.

On days with bad weather, it would be a great asset to let these homes know—it's time to watch for the safety of these small ones.

I think this is a simple, effective plan that can be instituted now!

Thank you to the mother who first brought me the idea. I do hope she gets her wish.

Reconsider Bridge, Raisin Board Asked

The Lenawee County Road Commission wants the Raisin Township Board to reconsider financial support to rebuild the Raisin Center bridge, south of Sutton Road.

Otherwise the county may have to foot the entire cost of the bridge if it wants to keep a 90 percent federal and state matching grant from the critical bridge monies.

Raisin Township board will meet Feb. 5, 7:30 p.m. at the township hall, Raisin Center bridge is not scheduled on the agenda.

According to Raisin Township Supervisor Robert Moore, the Raisin Center bridge may not be discussed until a March meeting when the township plans to clear its calendar of other planning business.

Meanwhile, the Road Commission has asked the state to keep the funding open. Cost of the bridge two years ago was estimated at $148,000.

In a letter to the Township, Ron Lear, county highway engineer, stated if costs were $200,000, the federal government would pay $160,000; the state, $20,000 and the Road Commission would split the local cost with the township at $10,000 each.

Engineering design costs may be figured at six percent or $12,000. That could again be split between the road commission and the township.

The cost of the township's portion of the bridge project would therefore be $16,000.

Estimated life of the bridge would be 50 years, but from past experience it could last 70-80 years, said Lear's letter.

"This is a long time to deny the citizens of Raisin Township the privilege of using the proposed bridge," Lear wrote.

The Road Commission sees the inconvenience and the cost passed on to the potential users of the bridge.

Lear's letter stated that the shortest distance is a two mile detour which could be critical for emergency services.

Furthermore, Lear figured that if 250 cars a day made the detour, it could add up to a cost of $425,000 over 50 years for gas alone.

Lear's letter says, "If the bridge is replaced now, the road can be opened without expense to the township."

He told the Herald that the half-mile of road between Sutton and Kopke Roads that approaches the bridge, could be used as a graded, gravel road under the Road Commission's maintenance program, therefore at no cost to the township.

The bridge was a one lane bridge. The new one would be two-lane, but it appears that the road today is a one lane road, or else a narrow, two-lane road.

The federal and state money is not contingent on whether or not the road is improved, said Lear. If the township decided to rebuild that half-mile, "Today's cost of rebuilding a half-mile of road similar to Wilmoth Hwy. is $40,000," Lear wrote the township.

The question of rebuilding the half-mile of road appears to bother the township officials the most.

At its Jan. meeting, the township split its vote to defeat sharing the cost of the bridge project, 3-2. Trustees Robert Murray and Eugene Vaughn cast the dissenting votes.

Three of the five board members said they were verbally quoted a cost of $100,000 to rebuild the half-mile at the Jan. 5 joint meeting between the Road Commission and the township.

That constitutes almost a whole year of improvements in the Raisin Township road budget, Township officials say.

"We can't afford it considering other roads that need repair," said Raisin Township Clerk Marjorie Comfort.

"The bridge isn't necessary," said Supervisor Moore.

Moore said that there are only four houses on south Raisin Center Road from Laberdee to Kopke Roads (with Chase Road, running east and west from Wilmoth to Raisin Center.)

They are serviced by traveling Sutton Road west to Wilmoth and east on Chase or Sutton Road east to Rogers Hwy., and west on Kopke Road.

With repair of the Wilmoth Road bridge about two years ago, a majority of township officials feel that they can get by without a third bridge in that 1 1/2 mile area and get along without costly repairs for a road few people would use.

The bridge collapsed in 1972 when a road commission truck was crossing with a nine ton load. Bridge limit was 10 tons. No one was injured.

Two other bridges that are out in Raisin Township are Comfort Bridge and Academy Road bridge. Tecumseh's Russell Road bridge is expected to give some relief in the Comfort road area. Academy Road bridge serves about six families in Raisin Township but is closer to Palmyra Township jurisdiction.

Mr. Beach was a life-long resident of the Tecumseh area and was a businessman here for over 20 years. In 1932, he founded Beach Bros., Inc., a petroleum distributorship, and built it to be one of the largest of its kind in southeastern Michigan.

He and his brother, Chester, sold the business on Dec. 1, 1964 to Ray Dollison, present owner.

He was a member of the United Methodist Church of Tecumseh and The Tecumseh Masonic Lodge 69 F&AM and a former member of the Tecumseh Exchange Club.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Buck (Ileen) Maynard of Tecumseh; one brother, Chester of Tecumseh and two grandsons.

Paved Macon Road: 'Seeing Is Believing'

Macon residents may at last have a "street" to dance in for the 150th anniversary of the community's founding.

The Lenawee County Road Commission plans to asphalt some eight miles between O'Riley and Ridge Roads this summer.

Yes, the Lenawee Road Commission made the road priority last year, but necessary road grading had to be completed.

Prior to that, slow delivery of culvert pipes, the weather and court injunction over the cutting down of trees in the right of way all contributed to the delay in road construction.

The result was that Macon residents have suffered through five years of inconvenience and in the last two years, a muddy, messy road.

The statewide petition drive organized in late 1978 to repeal the two cent gas tax increase and license plate cost increase of one-third will not affect the road commission's plans since the increased revenue of approximately $500,000 was not considered in the 1979 Road Commission budget, said Ron Lear, county highway engineer.

[redacted]er lawsuit's [redacted] with a weak laugh, would be the only foreseeable hinderance to the county's plans now.

If you live in Macon, you may be saying to yourself, "We'll believe it when we see it."

Paving will include two sections of the road. Approximately 3.16 miles from O'Riley to Britton Rd., will be financed by federal aid funds. This is the section that runs through the community of Macon.

The approximate five miles from Britton to Ridge Roads will be asphalted with state motor vehicle funds (gas taxes).

City, Williams Family Reach Settlement

A tentative settlement has been reached by the city of Tecumseh and the family of James Michael Williams, 17, of 409 S. Adrian St.

Pending a signature of all parties concerned the case is expected to be dismissed from Circuit Court within a week.

Amount of the settlement was not disclosed.

J.B. and Reva Williams, parents of James Michael, brought suit against the city for at least $10,000 for damages.

The youth reportedly tripped on a snow-covered water valve on city property in November 1977.

Injuries included a broken arm. His hospital bill for treatment at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor was over $1,200.

Clara Waldron, 89, was made a life member of the Tecumseh Area Historical Society at its annual meeting Jan. 24.

Miss Waldron is the authoress of "One Hundred Years a Country Town," the history of Tecumseh's founding 154 years ago.

Housing Commission Faces Reorganization for $2.5 Million Loan

Tecumseh Housing Commission may have to reorganize and incorporate into a non-profit corporation, if it wants to qualify for a $2.5 million mortgage loan from Farmers Home Administration.

According to Ray Hughes, district loan assistant for FmHA in the Howell district office, FmHA can no longer loan money to a public body for rural rental housing.

The state FmHA office suggested Jan. 8 that the Tecumseh Housing Commission reorganize to form a non-profit corporation to make Tecumseh eligible for a senior citizen housing project loan.

FmHA sent the housing commission guidelines. The process to reorganize into a non-profit corporation includes adopting new articles of incorporation, new by-laws and electing a board of directors.

Hughes said that the delay on Tecumseh's pre-application for the loan will take only as long as it will take the local housing commission to act.

The city may lose some local control of the project if it is run by a non-profit corporation, Hughes indicated.

Tecumseh Housing Commission is scheduled to meet Feb. 8 to discuss pre-applications for the 122 unit senior citizen housing project.

Seventy pre-applications have been received as of Tuesday, according to assistant city manager Paul Preston.

Deadline for pre-applications is Friday at city hall, where the forms are available.

The project is being planned at a site west of Adrian and south of Pottawatamie Streets. The Housing will be available to anyone over age 62 or handicapped, regardless of age.

The Tecumseh Housing Commission will use the pre-applications to determine the economic feasibility of the project. Information will be confidential, and the pre-application also will not guarantee anyone an apartment.

Youth, 16, Caught After Car Theft

A 16-year-old runaway from Boysville was caught shortly after he allegedly stole a car on S. Evans St. Sunday evening.

The youth told Tecumseh police that he walked into town from Macon, discovered an automobile running and unattended on S. Evans St and then drove it away.

Daniel L. DeLeon, of 707 Russell Square Apartments, told police that he was visiting at 306 S. Evans and had gone out to his car to warm it up. After he returned to the house, he heard a noise outside and saw the youth drive it away.

DeLeon then gave chase in his mother-in-law's car and followed the 16-year-old south on Raisin Center Hwy., where the youth turned into Osburn Subdivision and lost control on a curve and ditched the car.

He fled, only to be tracked by a dog to Green Hwy., where the State Police apprehended him. He was taken to the juvenile detention center in Adrian where he is still confined.

He is scheduled in Probate Court on Feb. 15th.

In another complaint, police investigated a breaking and entering of the Tecumseh school bus garage on James St.

While on patrol last Friday, police discovered a door to the garage had been kicked in. Ten five-pound fire extinguishers, valued at $26 each, were taken, along with 10 spray cans of glass cleaner.

Only other complaint reported was from Doris M. Jenkins, 115 E. Logan St., who reported her vehicle was egged.

Mowat Addresses Meeting

State Senator John S. Mowat R-19th district said Tuesday he was optimistic the Michigan legislature will begin to settle down this year to tackle the problems that have tarnished Michigan's business climate.

Mowat's remarks were made at the annual lunch and meeting of the Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce at St. Peter's Episcopal Church parish hall.

Mowat cited two reasons that Michigan has failed to promote business.

First he said "the legislature has been dominated by lawmakers who chose to listen to representatives of large groups of employees" at the expense of the employers.

Second, the governor "has lacked, to a degree, forceful leadership" in reforms to improve Michigan's business climate, but also that he must have public support.

While costs for workmen's compensation have increased, benefits for those with actual reduced income capabilities have not, said Mowat. Workman's compensation must work to protect those it intended to protect, employees with legitimate claims.

Mowat proposed that retirees be excluded from receiving workman's compensation saying, "workers should receive (benefits) for job related not age related disabilities."

The single business tax burdens the small struggling business that breaks even or operates at a loss. He proposed reform to encourage small businesses that are forced to leave the state or go out of business.

Mowat said he is currently serving on the education, social services, and senate business committees and is Republican caucus chairman.

On a lighter note, Mowat was presented a "Jim Daly for State Senate" sticker, left over from the campaign with his opponents, Tecumseh lawyer James Daly.

Felony Charges Are Dropped

Charges against Gerald Fox, 35, for obtaining money under false pretenses were withdrawn Tuesday morning, according to Lenawee County Prosecutor Haravey Koselka.

Koselka said that police investigation disclosed a possible lack of criminal intent. The prosecutor concurred with the investigation and charges were discontinued.

Fox, a Tecumseh school teacher, was scheduled for trial on those charges Tuesday in Circuit Court before Judge Kenneth Glaser.

Koselka said that Fox agreed to pay back a loan of $10,500 from the bank, which he reportedly made on two vehicles not in his possession.

An officer of the United Savings Bank confirmed that the charges against Fox were withdrawn but deferred comment on the reasons.

All prospective members, who are interested in supporting the Chamber, are urged to join before February 12, to ensure being listed in the flyer advertising the Promenade the Past.

Reader Writes

To the Editor:

Thank you for running the very informative and enjoyable story about the Brookside cemetery and Memorial Park fences and the Historical Society's involvement in its restoration.

It is just one of the ways we can take an active role in preservation and put the monies that come from our annual Promenade the Past back into the community.

A visible thank you for the hospitality shown by those who open their homes and all those who by their work as hosts and hostesses as well as the behind the scenes work make a visit to Tecumseh something special to remember.

3 Accidents, Cite 3 Drivers

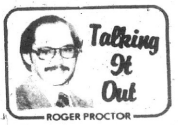
Only three accidents occurred on city streets the past week, but officers cited three in the mishaps, one for drunk driving.

Saturday, police responded to an accident on N. Evans St., where Ramon O. Saenz, 33, Adrian, ran into a vehicle operated by Charles K. Miller Jr., 32, of 1301 Southwestern.

Saenz was headed the wrong way on the one-way street. He was arrested for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Last Wednesday, Jack S. Geigler, 20, Britton, ran the traffic light at Chicago Blvd. and Evans St. and struck an auto driven by Tracie L. Brooks, 27, of 406 Seneca. Geigler was cited for disobeying a traffic light.

Friday, Debra A. Watson, 22, of 6943 Green Hwy., pulled out of Bidwell St. and struck Arling R. Heavener II, 28, of Clinton, on N. Evans St. Watson was charged with failure to yield the right of way.



Why Visitations?

A funeral Chapel visitation (or a wake) is not a religious requirement that we know of, but a traditional one. And our traditions are woven into the fabric of society. Aside from tradition, there are meaningfully significant reasons why it is advisable to hold and attend visitations at a funeral chapel or home.

Value to the bereaved

The family of the deceased must have an outlet for their grief; an outpouring, according to Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross and others, is necessary. Sorrow shared is sorrow diminished, and the gathering of friends and relatives at visitations provides an opportunity for this outpouring of grief.

Visitations will also add to the many statements of the very fact of death and will aid in the family's realization of this fact. Furthermore, those attending the wake or visitation are given the chance to console the bereaved personally and offer their assistance to the family.

Other direct and indirect benefits derived from the visitation are numerous. For more information, you may wish to stop by or write to me. I will be pleased to counsel with you.

Deborah Receives Top Honor

Deborah L. Randolph, 1978 alumna of Tecumseh High School, is the recipient of a Regent's Scholarship, the top honor awarded by Eastern Michigan University.

Deborah was recently recognized at an honors convocation at EMU.

A freshman, she is undecided as to a field of study.

Deborah was a member of the National Honor Society with a 3.9 grade point average at Tecumseh High School. She was salutatorian of her class and received the pre-calculus award and a semi-finalist in the National Merit exam.

Thru My Window

BY MARDA GENE DUNCAN

The morning belonged to the squirrels. They seemed to be everywhere — at one time Mom and I counted six. Two on the near-my-window feeders, one in the yews beneath the feeders, one on Diepenhorst's creek bank and two in the nearby maple tree. Great fun to see and fortunately neither Mom nor I had any urgent deadlines to meet that morning. To ignore such busy outdoor action is almost impossible.

Six squirrels — were we being invaded? No, it was just that time of year and one of those days. All of the squirrels were playing the mating game.

Squirrels, who several weeks before had been aggressive, were suddenly coy. Instead of being loners they craved company and the serious business of eating was replaced by fun and games.

Last fall's small squirrel has now grown and seldom can we pick him out of the crowd. However, there are a few we can identify.

One is probably the largest and fattest squirrel in southern Michigan. He is absolutely gigantic and when he sits on one of the food trays, he looks so 'broad a beam' that we all have to chuckle.

Another has a darker than normal back. A number of years ago, two black squirrels from Blissfield were released in the country but soon worked their way into town. Dark-Back always makes us wonder about his ancestors.

The third distinctive squirrel is unbelievably colorful on her underside. Her tummy and throat are such a rich russet-tan that they almost glow. Even when in the trees, way up on the end of the creek, she is noticeable. In fact, Gertie T saw her there this morning.

Our first indication that it was to be a squirrely day occurred shortly after the drapes were opened and fresh food placed on the near-my-window feeders.

All the time that Mom and I enjoyed our breakfast, the squirrels were enjoying theirs. First there would be a squirrel on each feeder, then one would playfully jump over to join his neighbor.

In the meantime a third head would appear over the edge of a tray and instantly squirrels were exploding in all directions. There was no nastiness in their actions though, as mentioned before it was all fun and games.

Then we noticed the coy twosome in the mulberry tree by the white end-of-the-street barrier.

As one squirrel jumped to a nearby limb it would turn and look to make sure the other was coming. Then they would both gingerly pussyfoot out to the end of the branch.

Their combined weight, of course, arched the branch low but they showed not the least bit of fear. Love conquers all.

When they could go no farther on that branch they either jumped to a nearby one or retraced their steps until a more stable one could be reached. Up and down the tree they went.

Never were they in a great hurry. Sometimes one led the way but again the other would be the leader. All of the action was accompanied with much tail flipping. It was not angry thrashing back and forth but almost sensuous, up and down waving and lazy circle twirling.

The above firsthand observation, for the rest of the scenario, I went to the bookshelves. THE ANIMAL KINGDOM edited by Frederick Drimmer.

In about a month and a half the female squirrels will bear their young in a leaf nest or a hollow tree which she herself has prepared.

The litter will number up to five and the babies will be less than an ounce each of naked helplessness. Fortunately most female fox squirrels are excellent mothers.

It will be about six weeks before the youngsters' eyes open but their fur coats begin to appear about two weeks after birth.

During the eighth week they are switched to eating solid food and usually about the tenth week their teeth have grown and their jaws are strong enough for them to manage nuts.

Now they are ready to take off on their own. And it is about then that we should begin to see some more intersting squirrel business.

The engagement of Stephanie Kay Pratt to Lee R. Cheever is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David J. Pratt, 408 Jackson St., Clinton. Bride-elect is a Clinton graduate, attended Michigan State University and is presently a student at Eastern Michigan University. Mr. Cheever is the son of Lois Cheever, 930 N. River Acres Ct., and the late Russell Cheever. He is a Tecumseh graduate and employed as a mason. Wedding is planned for Sept. 15.

Mowat Awarded Vice-Chairmanship

State Senator Jack Mowat will serve as the Republican vice-chairman of the Senate Health and Social Services Committee during the new legislative session.

The Adrian Republican was awarded the vice-chairmanship this week by his colleagues in the upper chamber.

Mowat, who was elected to his first term in the Senate last November, was also appointed to the Senate Committees on Education and Administration and Rules.

Mowat said he is particularly looking forward to holding a leadership position on the Senate Health and Social Services Committee. During his previous legislative service as a State Representative, he served on the House Committee which also reviews health and welfare-related legislation.

Mowat also brings to the Senate Education Committee a number of years of experience in education, having previously served on the House Education Committee.

He said he intends to seek support this year for revising the state's school aid formula, with an eye toward providing local school districts more control over funds they receive from the state for specific educational purposes.

"I recognize a need for the state to identify programs which need to be funded, such as special education, but I believe local school districts should have more authority to decide exactly how much of their state aid should be devoted to these programs," Mowat stated.

Tecumseh Indian Legend Traced to Kissing Hollow

In anticipation of St. Valentine's Day, the Herald excerpts the legend of Kissing Hollow, from the effects of Dess Holdridge, grandmother of Lawrence Holdridge, 201 S. Democratic St.

About one mile and a half from the center of the city of Tecumseh on the road from Tecumseh to Clinton the traveler crosses a little ravine through which, in pioneer days, there was a rippling stream that flowed into the beautiful River Raisin.

At the point where the road crosses the ravine, the ravine is called Kissing Hollow.

There is a legend of how this came to be Kissing Hollow.

Now a legend is truth and fiction blended, and so nicely are they blended that one cannot tell where truth ends and fiction begins nor where fiction ends and truth begins.

In short a legend is a historical novel.

The legend was written by a Frenchman drafted into the French army under Napoleon Bonaparte. He deserted, crossed the Atlantic and came to Tecumseh with the French and Indian voyageurs, more than 100 years ago.

The deciphered legend reads — On Sept. 25, 1802 the Indian Chief Tecumseh married the beautiful daughter of the great Indian Chief Redjacket. It was on a September afternoon when "the world is full of the wine of beauty;"

When the woodland was changing its dress of glossy green to the gaily tinted leaves of autumn;

When the wood nymphs were loosening the leaves from the parent streams and on them riding gaily down;

When the pure air makes the youthful blood rush through the veins like rivers;

When the ardent lover longs for a mate.

Such was the September afternoon when Tecumseh the Indian chief with 50 young men and 50 maidens left the Indian village on the right bank of the Raisin and took the trail that led from Tecumseh to Clinton and thence to the great northwest.

Tecumseh himself gaily dressed and with his gaily dressed and frolicsome attendants started out to meet Redjacket and his daughter attended with a like number of gaily dressed young men and maidens coming on the trail from the northwest.

It so happened that the two companies met one on either side of the ravine.

Across the ravine and over the stream two monster oaks, old monarchs of the forest, had fallen from either way and lay close together side by side.

On these fallen trees the trail ran across the stream. It was at that hour of the afternoon when the shadow of the elm tree on the north side of the stream falls directly on the stream.

Tecumseh approached and the three met under the shadow of the elm tree directly over the center of the stream. Then Redjacket gave his beautiful daughter to the Indian brave.

Tecumseh took her right hand in his and gently lifted their hands above her head. He kissed her on the lips then they turned on the trail, followed by Redjacket.

So it was each Indian warrior and Indian maiden from either side approached by twos and met over the stream, under the shadow of the elm.

And each warrior exchanged his mate, and kissed the maiden that he met upon the cheek, then followed Tecumseh on the trail.

There never can or will be a more joyous and happy crowd, said the Frenchman who witnessed the event.

They followed the trail back to the village and to the dancing ground on the east high bank of the Raisin about 30 rods west of the Standish sawmill and there they ate the feast and danced the marriage dance.

Ever since then til now the ravine has been called Kissing Hollow.

And it is now, and has been ever since that day, the privilege if not the duty of every gentleman to kiss the lady that may be with him, as they cross the bridge in Kissing Hollow.

If a lover, on her lips and if a friend, on her cheek.

But what is most singular of all is the air of Kissing Hollow is most strangely infected.

It is said that every gentleman with a lady is seized with an irresistible impulse as soon as they enter and approach the bridge of the Hollow. And the pleasure no where else is so delightfully felicitous.

Thus it came that the ravine is called Kissing Hollow.

Volleyballers Win at Home

The Indian volleyball squad split a pair of matches this week, losing to Airport Wednesday and then beating Grosse Ile Monday night.

Wednesday, Airport posted a 15-8, 11-15 and 15-9 win despite 10 and nine service points from Indians volleyballers Kris McDonald and Sandy Humphries.

The JV's also lost, 8-15, 15-9 and 15-13.

Monday night was a different story as the girls played their first home match.

The varsity won 16-14, 15-8. The JV's posted three 15-13 scores, winning the first and third matches.

Coach Donna Sass reports that her girls are beginning to play the way they need to play to win and the home court setting sure helped.

The Indians were actually down 12-5 the first match when they steadily came back for the win. The second match looked like a reversal, but Tecumseh held off the Red Devils and came back for the win.

Kris McDonald served the first seven points of the second match for the Indian squad.

The Indians travel to Monroe Jefferson Monday and then host New Boston Huron Wednesday.

CHS Redskins Beat Rival Manchester

Clinton's basketball team traveled to play a rival Manchester team Friday night and came out on top, 55-45.

Clinton was up only one point, going into the fourth quarter, when Mark Dettling and Dave Porter combined to score 16 points. Clinton outscored their opponents that frame, 20-11.

Mike Karapas led the Redskin attack with 13 points while Porter added 12 and Dettling 10.

Clinton had the point edge from the floor, but were lacking in the percentage area as they were 22 of 50 to Manchester's 20 of 40.

Clinton was 40 percent from the floor to Manchester's 50 percent. From the line, Clinton held a distinct advantage. They were 11 of 16. Manchester was five of eight.

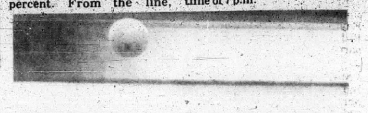
Lose to Huron Despite 74.65 Point Marking

The Tecumseh gymnastics team placed only one girl in their meet Monday night even though they scored a very respectible 74.65 points.

The girls traveled to Ann Arbor Huron, a much larger class A school. Huron had 85.3 points for the win.

Joannie Spencer placed third on the bars for the Indians with a 6.45.

The girls now travel to Adrian Monday with a meet time of 7 p.m.



Indians Win Two More, Big Test Is Here Friday

Tecumseh's basketball match against Adrian Tuesday started out being a sleeper for the fans. The game was slowed down and the two teams combined for less than 80 points.

Still, the last 30 seconds proved to be the most exciting of the season as the Indians were able to nip Adrian by just one point, 40-39.

Neither team held more than a five or six point advantage the entire game with the Indians up by five with less than 30 seconds to go.

Adrian then whittled the score down and the Indians found themselves up by only two when Mark Creswell was fouled. He hit the first of his one and one situation and missed the second. The Indians were then up by three, 40-37.

Adrian called time out and then took the ball down to score. The Maple player was fouled on the shot but missed the third point conversion. The score sat at 40-39 with just four seconds left.

Adrian grabbed the rebound and put the ball up. They missed and got the rebound again. Again they missed and the longest four seconds the Indians probably ever felt finally ran out for the one point victory.

Creswell was high for the Indians with 13 points. As a whole, the team was 12 of 34 while Adrian was 18 of 34. The Indians won the game from the line. They were 16 of 22 while Adrian was only three of nine.

Friday the Indians took a 82-64 win over Flat Rock, but the game was a lot closer than the score indicates.

Tecumseh had a 58-50 point edge going into the fourth frame but Flat Rock cut that edge to just four points with two and a half minutes left on the clock.

Then the Indians suddenly began playing errorless ball while Flat Rock could do nothing right. The Indians ended up out scoring their visitors by 10 points, 24-14.

John Ely and John Faulkner each had 20 points. Jeff Osworth added 14 and Creswell had 12 points. In rebounding, Tecumseh held a 39-26 edge with Creswell taking high honors with 11 rebounds.

The Indians preserved their eighth place ranking in the Detroit Free Press poll with the two wins. Their toughest test is still ahead Friday when they play second place Monroe C.C. After hosting C.C. Friday, the team meets Airport, here Tuesday.

Britton Wins in Last Seconds

It was certainly a good week for Britton basketballers and fans as the Tories notched their second straight league victory Friday. They defeated Deerfield, a team Britton has not beaten since 1971.

Greg Fanslau turned in the winning points for Britton when he sank two free throws with just 13 seconds left for Britton. Deerfield then came down the floor to score and Britton held on the last four seconds to win 53-52.

At half, Britton was up 27-23 and Deerfield could make up only three of the four points difference.

David Bruce turned in his finest game of the year with 19 points. Randy Dusseau added 12 and Terry Benedict also hit double figures with 10 points and nine rebounds.

Shooting percentages were the same for the teams from the floor but Deerfield lost the game at the line when they hit only four of 18. Britton was nine of 18.

Britton then handled Pittsford Tuesday night, 62-44. Four players hit double

Volleyballers Lose After Strong Start

Clinton's volleyball team dropped two matches this week, but not before they gave their opponents hard earned victories.

Thursday, Clinton met the Tigers of Hudson, losing 5-15, 15-11, 15-8. Sue Richter was the leading server with 16 points.

Kathy Sanborn added six serving points for Clinton while Diana Weirich had an excellent night setting and Lisa Cark scored on six spikes.

The JV's won their match against Hudson, 1-15, 15-6, 15-9. Mary Campbell led the girls in the second game with 11 serving points in a row.

Monday, the Redskins tore after undefeated Blissfield with a 15-4 victory the first game. Then they lost their 12-7 lead in the second game to eight straight Blissfield points.

Simple errors continued to bother Clinton the third game and they lost the match on 12-15, 13-15 scores the last two games.

Beth Langowski had 14 serving points while Sanborn was setting well for Richter and Langowski.

Clinton's next matches are at home Thursday against Ida and at Morenci Monday.

THS Notches Two Wins

A week's rest seemed to agree with the Tecumseh wrestlers as they notched two league victories and placed seventh in the Monroe Invitational Saturday.

Thursday against Carlson, the Indians out wrestled their opponents for a 54-9 victory.

Chris Silberhorn and Tim Steuwe turned in pins while teammate Jack Bagby decisioned his man at 19-1.

Tecumseh also picked up three forefeits and four other decisions from Don Ringman, Lenny Castorena, Tim Day and Gregg Aranda.

Bagby then stole the show for the Indians Saturday when he became the tournament champion at 132. He wrestled to three decisions for the honor. With Tuesday's win, Bagby pushed his record to 19-4.

Other finishers Saturday for the Indians included Ringman, Randy Halvin and Marty Barrett, all fourth places.

Tuesday the Indians defeated Monroe Jefferson 49-9. Winning by pins were Silberhorn and Tony Turner.

The Indians got three forefeits and decisons from Day, Kevin Williamson, Ringman, Nick Osburne, Bagby and John Southard.

Coach Pat Connor's team upped their record to 2-3 in the league with the two victories.

Britton Girls Split

Britton's volleyball team beat Madison Monday night in two games, but Whiteford turned the tables on them in two games Thursday night.

Monday, Britton won 15-8, 15-0. Mary Oswald scored 14 straight service points in the second match and was high for the team with 16 total points.

Janene Schultz had four excellent spikes with assists from Sandy Judkins and Patty Armstrong.

The Britton JV's also won, 15-5 and 15-8. Anita Denny served 10 straight points for the JV's.

Last Thursday, Britton just wasn't emotionally ready and made a lot of mistakes as they lost 15-5, 15-8.

Thursday, the girls host Onsted and then Whitmore Lake travels to Britton Monday.

Varsity is now 3-1, 4-2 overall.

STACY CHRISTOPHER — Magic Friend "Backwards", a trained dove, and live rabbit, and the custom made magic box are just a part of his Wonderful World of Magic the 14-year-old Clinton youth has developed into an entertaining performance.

Magic Opens World

By Maxine Calhoun

CLINTON — The "Wonderful World of Magic" of Stacy Christopher Hicks has opened a whole new world for the 14-year-old , who is afflicted with dyslexia, a malady that causes his brain to record the words he sees backwards.

When his malady was first discovered a few years ago, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hicks, of Brown St., Clinton, were told to try to find something the boy could be interested in.

Three years ago the family visited the Houdini Museum at Niagara Falls on a vacation trip, and Stacy Christopher's interest in magic was sparked immediately.

From small magic materials, purchased by his parents, he learned fast. Then, he attended a convention of magicians at Colon, Mich., the Magic Capitol of the World.

At Colon, Alexander Great, a magician for more than 50 years, took a special interest in Stacy, and made several custom magic feats for him to use.

For the past two years, Stacy has attended Magic School in Ann Arbor, under magician Darrell Hurst.

He entered the Croswell Opera House Talent Show, and has appeared at shows for the Family Day Care Council, the Adrian Eagles Club Christmas program, and recently performed a benefit for the Shamrock Senior Citizens.

Stacy Christopher is now working with Harold Tesch and Magic Co., and will appear for entertainment for groups or birthday parties. He has many references from his audiences and instructors.

Besides all this, he is a seventh grader at Clinton Middle School, and has just returned from Disney World, Fla., a trip he earned as an Adrian Telegram newsboy.

Next, he'll go to New Orleans to ride in a Mardi Gras float on Feb. 23.

He plans to make a career as a magician and master illusionist.

For information about Stacy Christopher and his Wonderful World of Magic, call 456-7253.

Reader Writes

To the Editor:

As athletic director at Clinton High School, I would like to clarify a statement concerning the athletic director's salary increase.

Please be advised that the statement made concerning the 18% increase in the athletic director's salary is incorrect.

I have been paid the same salary for the past three years. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to correct the error.

For better athletics,
Fred McCrate

Editor's Note: The following point of clarification came from Supt. Richard Wegner:

"The minutes of the December Board of Education meeting states that curriculum coordinators and the athletic director were granted 10% and 18% pay raises respectively. This must be clarified.

"For the last several years the extra duty pay for these positions has been set at 10% of salary for coordinators and 18% of bachelor's level salary for athletic director. But in previous years these positions were part of the teacher's bargaining unit, and were determined at the bargaining table.

"This year after the teacher's association reorganized and became the Lenawee County Education Association, the coordinators and athletic director positions were excluded from the teacher's bargaining unit and were recognized as administrative positions.

"Therefore, the board of education establishes their salary, which it did at the December meeting. This does not represent a pay raise; it simply continues their pay at the same percentage as in previous years."

Start Fact Finder

CLINTON — As a result of the Clinton Education Association decision to hold to its current position regarding salaries, stated at the last negotiating meeting Jan. 22, school board has authorized Superintendent Richard Wegner to start fact finding procedures.

Russ Pichlik, math coordinator, was present to give a demonstration of the PET computer, a recent gift from the Clinton Area Jaycees. The board was impressed with the flexibility of the computer, which will be used by students.

A letter of thanks will be sent to the Jaycees for their gift.

A donation has been received from the William Stuart family to the Brad Shelley Pool Fund, in memory of their deceased son, Dan Stuart. A letter of appreciation will be sent to them.

Board will make a correction to a previously issued report concerning staff salaries.

Superintendent Wegner presented the proposed budget for the school year 1978-79 with emphasis placed on inflationary costs spent on transportation vehicle repairs, building supplies and book accounts.

He mentioned that the Athletic Fund Account was tentatively figured to be $10,000 in the red for this year. To try to offset this deficit in the general fund, the cash balance brought forward from last year will have to be used.

Board voted to adopt the budget as presented.

Board voted not to contest the issue of an application of Peerless Gear Division for Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate on newly purchased property in Clinton. Hearing on this matter is Feb. 5 at Clinton Village office.

Board voted to affiliate with the Lenawee County Association of School Boards. Steve Bowman volunteered to serve as Clinton's representative on that board, which will organize Jan. 31.

Superintendent Wegner reported on the new Public Act 397, recently signed by the Governor, giving the employee the rights of access and challenge and limits disclosure of personnel records to third parties without employee consent.

'The Pastor's Study'

By Rev. R. Richard Case
Britton Congregational Church

A Right to Live

While downtown a stranger stopped me on the street and told me, "I read your column each week, but tell me Rev. Case, how do you feel about the right to life movement?"

First of all, let me quote from our Bible, "Thou shall not kill."

I prayerfully hope that our Congress and Senate enacts a definite law that has teeth in it, and that actually says something.

Why do I say this? Because I do not believe that the Supreme Court has the right to speak and decide on such a personal issue, especially one that has to do with mankind's relationship to God or morality as we once knew it.

Certainly the court decisions of the past 20 years have "demonstrated supremacy" to me or a good number of solid Americans. Let's give them a hand in running our country.

When does life exist? This is a frightening question. However when an object can move on its own volition, such as a baby in a womb, would you not say, "It's alive."

When you can hear a heart beat at 11 weeks with modern medical techniques, would the doctor say to the expectant mother, "It's dead." Certainly not.

To say that a baby isn't alive because it can't function without the help of its mother, or that it isn't living until it is on the outside, is pure hogwash.

What about the thousands of elderly people who couldn't exist outside of a nursing home or hospital, those who could not exist without the help of nurses and doctors, those who need to be given nourishment?

One wonders when some dubious crusader will crusade to have the right to put the older citizens to death legally.

Let's look at another facet. Morality in this nation is at an all-time low. No it isn't this pastor saying so, it's an actual bonafide statistic.

In years past, sex was saved for marriage. Today students in senior and even junior high have adopted the premise that sex is a most normal activity for them.

Now the do-gooders want to even add to the problem by allowing abortions at the drop of a hat. My friends, if the nation and its men and women want to persist in playing around, there is still no need for legalized murder with the many and varying contraceptives.

There are cases in which abortion should and could be allowed such as rape, incest or when birth can endanger the life of the mother.

This is a topic too vast to cover in one short column. Speak out. Write and let your men in Washington know you are against wholesale murder and the continual downgrading of all that is good and wholesome.

Corruption, apathy, immorality—yes, these were the very elements that led to the clumbling of great empires and nations in the past like Persia, Babylon, Greece, Rome, etc. Who said it can't happen here?

For the love of God, Americans, wake up.

Area Youth Participate in YMCA Program

by Kathy Brown

Did you think that the YMCA located in Adrian was only for Adrian?

Then think about this. Every Friday for the past three years as many as 55 boys and girls have participated in what the 'Y' calls its Tecumseh bus-in program.

Youngsters are picked up after school at Herrick Park, Patterson and Tecumseh Acres schools, chauffered to Adrian for 90 minutes of sports and swimming and then returned to Tecumseh via the 'Y' bus.

The program enables both members and non-members to participate in 'Y' youth activity and provides transportation.

The program has been popular, as evidenced by near maximum enrollment each session. Some youngsters decide to repeat the program.

Jim Morin, 'Y' outreach director, said that kids appear to really enjoy the program.

"Some of these kids might not be able to come to the 'Y' without the bus as transportation," he commented.

Youngsters in grades one through five are eligible to register in the program on a first come, first serve basis.

The different age groups get along well, said Morin. "No kid is left out. They don't sit. We have activities everyone can get involved in. We plan sports activities, but if the kids want to go another way, we work with them."

At the 'Y', the group is divided into two groups. While one uses the pool, the other group participates in gymnastics or sports. After 45 minutes, the groups switch.

Supervised sports activities include kickball, volleyball and floor hockey. Gymnastics facilities in the 'Y' mini-gym include tumbling mat, parallel bars and trampoline.

In the pool, the students are divided into advanced and beginner swimmers. The advanced are those that can swim across the pool with their faces in the water and roll over on their backs. They are then encouraged to work on their crawl and breast strokes, and get some diving instruction.

For the beginners, the individual and group work involves developing a positive attitude about being in the water as well as working to develop basic skills.

Both beginner and advanced swimmers have 30 minutes of class and 15 minutes of recreation.

Ed Broom, acquatics instructor, said that the class motto is "Try again." For those youngsters who are timid in the water, the 'Y' encourages parents to help their kids think positive.

"If they've accomplished anything, they've accomplished something," said Broom. Mental rewards, such as a pat on the back or words of encouragement are used in class to boost confidence.

The Tecumseh bus-in program is publicized in the elementary schools through flyers distributed in cooperation with the Tecumseh board of education.

Parents complete and return registration blanks with an assessment of the child's water skills. Cost of the program is based on a six or 10 week session, depending on the season.

For more information about the next session starting in February, readers may call the 'Y' at 263-2151.

The 'Y' is concerned with the safety of the youngsters in the bus-in program. "We know parents aren't always able to pick up the kids when they get off the bus at the schools," said Morin.

"We don't leave unless we're sure someone is able to pick them up if the kids don't live within walking distance."

If parents plan to be in Adrian on a Friday evening, they can arrange to pick up their child at the 'Y'.

The Tecumseh bus-in program is the only one outside the city of Adrian that the 'Y' operates on a regularly scheduled basis.

The YMCA is a non-profit organization supported in part with United Way funds, including contributions from the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

Village Adopts New Oridnance

BRITTON — A new village ordinance for sidewalk clearance was adopted by the village council at Jan. 15 meeting.

The ordinance will be effective beginning Feb. 15 and states that all sidewalks within the village shall be kept clear by the owner or tenant.

If the owner or tenant neglects to do so the village shall clear the sidewalk and charge the owner or tenant.

The tenant or owner will be subject to a penalty of a $100 fine and/or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed 60 days.

Triple Surprise for Baileys

BRITTON — The William Bailey residence was the location for not one, but three surprise parties last Sunday.

Original plans were made for a surprise house warming for the Bailey family by their former neighbors, but it turned out to be a surprise birthday party for Brian Vallie and a surprise baby shower for Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rohrback.

The Bailey family received an oil painting for their new home, Brian Vallie received various birthday gifts, and the Rohrbacks received a stroller.

A potluck dinner was served along with a decorated birthday cake.

Afterward the group played cards with prizes awarded for high and low scores.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bailey and Troy, Kim Carothers, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dicks and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Frayer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibson and Alex, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Lorenz and Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rohrback, Paul Seagert and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vallie and Brian.

Actor Entertains Kids

A bit of magic came to Sutton School Jan. 23 and 24 and Tipton School Jan. 26 as Phil Bowman presented The Magic Company, a combination of one man show and participation theater.

Bowan is affiliated with The Association for the Performing Arts of Manchester and Black Sheep Repertory Theater.

In his first meeting with each grade level, Bowman explained the role of the audience in theater, discussed what an actor does and entertained the children by performing a skit in which he played all the roles without stage props or scenery.

His performance encouraged the children to exercise their imagination as he portrayed a gamut of characters, both animate and inanimate.

In the afternoon, all classes assembled to participate in a folk tale in which each age group portrayed a role, such as a growing cornfield, thorny thicket, pond filled with ducks, etc.

The actor's visit exposed the children to the fine arts with the help of PTO funds from both schools.

Tom Sura, principal of the schools, said that such performances are followed up in the classroom with creative writing and other projects that enable children to critique what they have seen.

The object is to help them learn to be critical and help them learn to give reasons why they like or dislike what they view or read.

The exercise also gives the children an opportunity for them to experience the process of creativity, get in touch with their own creative abilities and learn to recognize and appreciate their own creative talents and abilities.

figures in Greg Fanslau with 19, Randy Dusseau with 14, David Bruce with 11 and Terry Benedict with 10.

Teammate Troy Bailey had only eight points, but probably turned in the best game of the five with nine assists and five steals.

Britton opened the scoring gap to 20 points at the end of the third frame after pressing for two frames.

The two teams finished the fourth frame with 12 and 10 points, Pittsford's advantage.

Britton was 27 of 69 from the floor for 40 percent. Pittsford was 19 of 72 for 26 percent. From the line the Tories were eight of 17 and the home team hosts were six of 16.

This is the third article in the series on international recipes.

Jack and Marie Pear's parents all came from Poland and eventually settled in Detroit and raised their families.

When Jack and Marie Pear married, they moved to Hudson and their three children grew up there.

Mr. and Mrs. Pear moved to Tecumseh after their retirement. They have five grandchildren.

Here are two of their favorite Polish dishes. (I tried the Pierogi and it is great.)

PIEROGI

PIEROGI DOUGH:
2 cups flour
pinch of salt
2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons melted butter or oleo
1/2 cup sour cream

PIEROGI MEAT FILLING: small pot roast, fully cooked
1 medium onion
1/2 celery
1/2 cup green pepper
1 egg

Chop fine the fully cooked pot roast, onion, celery and green pepper. Add one egg and a little bit of the broth from the meat and mix well. Set aside.

In bowl, combine flour, salt, egg yolks, melted butter and sour cream and mix well. Knead a few times and let "rest" for 5-7 minutes. Roll out to 1/8 inch thickness or less and cut with round cutter.

Place one or two tablespoons chopped meat filling in center and fold over to make half circles. Crimp sides with tines of fork to seal.

Gently drop in boiling water for 2-3 minutes. They will float to the top. Remove from water and fry in oil until golden brown.

Serve hot topped with sour cream or gravy.

POTATO SOUP

1 soup bone potatoes
1 pint sour cream
2 tablespoons flour
bay leaf
2 or 3 tablespoons vinegar

In water cook soup bone for 1½ to 2 hours; add cup of potatoes. Continue cooking until potatoes are tender.

Mash the potatoes with a masher and remove from heat. Add the 2 tablespoons flour to the sour cream and blend well. Add some hot broth to this and stir it into the soup.

Replace on the heat and let it come to a boil. Add 2 or 3 tablespoons vinegar (or juice from dill pickles). Add a pinch of sugar, 1/4 teaspoon. The soup should have a pleasing taste and not be sour. Serve hot.

Adrian Man, 24, Dies in Crash on N. Evans St.

A 24-year-old Adrian man was killed and his 20-year-old passenger was seriously injured early Friday morning when their car crashed into a tree on N. Evans St.

Pronounced dead at Bixby Hospital was Arturo Guterrez, whose funeral services were held Monday morning in Adrian.

In St. Joseph's hospital at Ann Arbor is Belinda Sue Turpening. She suffered multiple injuries and was first taken to Herrick Hospital.

According to the Tecumseh police report, Guterrez was southbound on N. Evans St. when his car left the east side of the road, 239 feet north of the tree, located in front of the Jack Smith Jr. residence.

Police, who were notified of the accident at 4:18 a.m., found the woman wandering around on the west side of the street. Guterrez was pinned in the car and had to be removed by the local fire department.

The accident is still under investigation.

In another accident, Tecumseh police officer Gaylord Long, 23, of 105 S. Democrat, suffered minor injuries last Thursday when a vehicle driven by Johney L. Bice, 33, Adrian, came out of N. Evans St. and struck the westbound police car.

State Police, which handled the accident, ticketed Bice for failure to yield. Long was taken to Herrick Hospital for treatment.

All six other traffic accidents investigated by police here were minor. A resume is:

Feb. 2 — John W. Twomey, 66, Clinton, attempting to park on W. Chicago Blvd., backed out instead and was hit by Linda M. Knape, 30, Clinton. Twomey had put his car in reverse position rather than park.

Feb. 3 — Leland R. Carter, 57, of 1104 E. Valley Rd., parked on E. Patterson St., was stuck by Sharon J. Schmidt, 36, of 4221 Raisin Center Hwy.

Feb. 3 — Samuel J. Schmidt, 18, of 8610 Mills-Macon Rd., was charged with making an improper turn after turning in front of Stephen G. Brosamer, 24, Holloway Rd., on W. Chicago Blvd.

Feb. 4 — Calvin O. Richard Jr., 30, Clinton, slid on icy N. Union St. and struck a pole.

Feb. 4 — Jon S. Martin, 17, of 1000 Murray Dr., was cited for failure to stop within an assured clear distance after running into the rear of a vehicle operated by Timothy L. Lapham, 18, of 902 Murray. Accident occurred on S. Maumee.

Feb. 5 — Carl J. Sowery, 60, Clinton pulled out of an E. Chicago Blvd. parking space and struck Jean M. Sampsel, 42, of 302 E. Pottawatamie.

State Schedules Traffic Light

The stop and go traffic light at the corners of Occidental Road and W. Chicago Blvd. will be installed in June or July, according to Larry Suboski, district traffic and safety engineer at the Jackson office of the Michigan State Department of Transportation.

Suboski said that a work order was approved this week, engineering has been completed and Consumers Power Company will install the necessary poles before the signal crew completes the job.

At its Jan. 4 meeting City Council agreed to share costs to install the light with the state. Cost is $11,185 and $476 for annual maintenance.

Petitions were circulated for the light December 1977. State traffic count revealed that 15,000 cars per day travel through the intersection, compared with 15,400 in downtown Tecumseh. Although city records did not show an increase in accidents in recent years, the area is highly conjested.

City Reviews Audit Costs

Tecumseh City Council reviewed Monday night a survey of the costs to audit nine other units of government in Tecumseh's population league.

Tecumseh currently pays $10,815 for its audit by Moore, Smith and Dale of Southfield which has served the city almost all of its 25 years.

The highest audit fee was paid by Three Rivers, $21,000. The lowest fee was paid by Manistee at $4,000. In line with Tecumseh were Fenton, $11,310; Hillsdale, $10,790; Flushing, $9,933. The other four cities paid fees ranging from $8,725 to $7,865.

One community said it selected its auditors by bid. Six said they used local firms.

Tecumseh City Council took no action Monday. Auditors for the city must be appointed later in the year.

Report 26 Properties Not Hooked to Sewer

A list of 26 properties within the city limits that are not connected to the sewer system was presented to Tecumseh City Council Monday night. These properties have septic tank systems.

Assistant city manager Paul Preston and City Manager Cal Zorn told Council they feel that the potential health hazard should be corrected.

Council took no action.

In 1969, the city adopted a sewer use ordinance that states any property in the city or served by the city's sewer system shall, at own expense, connect to available public sanitary sewer system "when a connection is practical."

The ordinance further states, "The superintendent shall give a reasonable length of time" to make the connection, not less than 90 days nor more than 18 months from the time of written notice from the superintendent.

City manager Cal Zorn told Council that the city has rarely ordered anyone eligible to hook up with city sewer system, although the ordinance empowers the city to do so.

Zorn said that in several cases, properties among those 26 on the list have leads and in some cases, the tap in fee has been paid for. He estimated average cost per property could be $1,000 to connect with sewer, $5-$6 per lineal foot for leads plus the city's $200 tap in fee.

Councilmember Carlton Cook stated, "I don't think we've got a lot to lose by sitting tight."

Concerned about the ability to pay of some property owners, Councilmember Len DeMoss commented, "I think we've got to show some compassion."

Councilmember Jay Tressler pointed out that it's not always the case that all city property owners have city sewer and water. One of the 26 properties listed is reportedly involved in litigation because the seller did not tell the buyer that the property was not connected to city sewer.

"It certainly isn't the city's fault. We want to be reasonable," Tressler added. "Let the buyer beware."

Council OKs Purchase Plan

Tecumseh City Council adopted a resolution Monday night to enable the city to purchase goods and supplies at a savings through state contracts with the State of Michigan Purchasing Division.

The agreement does not require the city to make all purchases through state contract, but the state does not want the city to use state contracts as leverage to gain lower prices.

The city agreed to pay a two percent fee to the state for its service if the city orders something under state contract.

The city purchased its last three patrol cars and a new radar unit through the state procedure at a considerable savings. For example, the radar unit cost $200 less than Council had anticipated.

Some Council members were concerned that Tecumseh businesses would be left out as suppliers.

"If these merchants don't stay in business, we won't have their money to save anyway. I think we should use this judiciously," said Councilmember Jay Tressler.

"I don't think we are talking about many items," said city manager Cal Zorn. He cited an office copier machine and the radar unit as examples.

Zorn said in previous years, the city was able to purchase its street salt supply cheaper than the state's contract price, but "I don't think we'll see that again," he said. This year the city bought its supply at $2 a ton savings through the state, "a good move" Zorn added.

Under the agreement with the state, the city will still purchase through area dealers and in other cases, the city will be required to send a purchase order to a central supplier. The state would not become the city's purchasing agent. The city would still issue its own purchase orders, accept deliveries and issue checks.

The city would not violate its bidding requirements as per charter since the state takes the bids, reported assistant city manager Paul Preston.

Any Volunteers? City Seeking Parade Marshal

Tecumseh's Memorial Day parade may be a memory of the past. It appears that each year it becomes increasingly difficult for the city to find someone willing to be marshal of the day.

"Nobody wants to do it anymore," commented Councilmember Harold Easton at Monday night's council meeting.

Service organizations, the American Legion Underwood Orr-Post and VFW Hall-Slater post, or any individual interested in the volunteer job may contact Paul Preston at Tecumseh City Hall, 423-2107 as soon as possible.

AMONG THE BEST — Debbie Rodgers of Tecumseh, a member of the top rated MSU cheerleading squad, practices a routine with Dave Green.

Debbie Is Cheerleader on Top MSU Team

Although she doesn't play on Michigan State University's nationally ranked football or basketball teams, Deborah Rodgers of Tecumseh still belongs to a top rated MSU squad.

Debbie is a member of the MSU varsity cheerleaders, selected as one of the five finalist teams in the National Collegiate Cheerleading Championships.

The final competition, sponsored by the International Cheerleading Foundation, will be held in Provo, Utah, and will be televised in a 90-minute special on CBS April 16, with hosts Suzanne Somers, George Burns, and Donnie and Marie Osmond.

Competing with MSU for top honors are Mississippi State, North Carolina, Southern California, and Tulsa.

The 16 Spartan cheerleaders will perform a five-minute program that includes pyramids, cheers, the MSU fight song, dances and pom-pom routines. The competition will be judged by a panel of cheerleading authorities, athletes, and celebrities, and the winner, along with the runners-up, will receive scholarships and honors.

In reaching the final five, the Spartans were judged on versatility, performance overview, rapport with music, uniqueness of novelty material, cheer routines, personality-smiles, enthusiasm, projection and neatness and general appearance.

Debbie, a junior psychology major, is a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

She is a 1976 graduate of Tecumseh High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rodgers of 509 S. Occidental Highway.

Marshall, St. Johns . . . Something in Common

Roger Proctor of the Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce will serve a third year as chairman of Tecumsh's Michigan Week celebration May 12-19.

Tecumseh City Council confirmed Proctor's appointment at Monday's regular business meeting.

As a traditional highlight of that week, the city may arrange to exchange mayors with the city of Marshall on Mayor's Exchange Day. Marshall, a city of Tecumseh's size, is strong on historic preservation. Its project is senior citizen housing.

current major project is senior citizen housing.

Another community with which Tecumseh may choose to exchange is St. Johns. Located north of Lansing in the heart of Clinton County, it has a smaller population of 6,672.

St. Johns has a major wastewater treatment plant expansion underway, something Tecumseh will face in the future. That community is also interested in industrial development and Tecumseh's industrial park accomplishments.

New Owners at Cedar Shack

Ron and Pat Doncouse, formerly of West Bloomfield, acquired ownership of the Cedar Shack restaurant Friday from Duane Bihlmeyer and Richard Ford. Negotiations had been underway for a number of weeks.

The new owners, residents of Tecumseh now and living in the Westhaven Subdivision, have numerous plans for the business, although both are newcomers in the restaurant and bar business.

Within the next couple of weeks, they will install new carpet and tile, new restrooms, renovate the booths and do other decorating work. Considerable remodeling will be made in what was the tavern section of the restaurant. This section will be converted strictly into a lounge without a pool table and other distractions.

Mr. Doncouse, former transportation director for Spartan stores at Plymouth, plans a grand opening for Feb. 23-24-25.

Cedar Shack will be closed Sunday, Feb. 18, for completion of the remodeling.

The restaurant was started in 1970 with Bihlmeyer, Ford and Delbert King as owners. In 1972, an addition was added for a dining room.

Officials Approve Ambulance Pact for Tecumseh

Tecumseh City Council approved an ambulance contract with EMT Ambulance of Palmyra Monday night.

The ambulance contract was negotiated over the last few months according to bid specifications designed by the county board of commissioners in cooperation with the Lenawee Human Services and a consortium of governments in northeast Lenawee County.

The same contract is being signed by other Lenawee County government units who bid collectively for the ambulance service.

EMT's bid was $1 per captia for every government unit involved. County reimbursement plan was for the same amount. In Tecumseh, the amount totals $7,120.

Under the bid specifications, EMT agreed to maintain one vehicle and two licensed personnel on duty 24 hours in Tecumseh.

Dick Payne, EMT owner, said the new Tecumseh location is officially 114-1/2 N. Pearl St., above the Time-Out Pro Shop.

Payne said that the unit will also service Ridgeway, Macon, Franklin, Clinton, and Tecumseh Townships and half of Raisin Township. When emergency transport is necessary, an Adrian unit will back up the Tecumseh area.

Ambulance users will still be billed for service. County subsidy was initiated in an attempt to insure an efficient emergency service for residents of governmental units that do not have public providers and enable the ambulance service to recoup on its uncollectible bills.

For ambulance service from EMT, residents may call the company directly at 263-0110. Unit will be dispatched from Tecumseh.

Another ambulance service operating in Lenawee County, but without benefit of county subsidy, is Bennett-Navarre, 423-3000. That local number is for central dispatch, located in Monroe with units in Adrian and Onsted to serve the Tecumseh area.

2 Stand Mute in Robberies

Last week before Judge Rex Martin in Circuit Court, two Tecumseh youths stood mute to armed robbery charges.

Carl D. Boswell, 18, who has pled guilty to armed robbery at George's Market, stood mute to a similar charge arising from a robbery on Dec. 17 at the Britton Carry-Out. A plea of innocent was entered for him.

Richard L. Stewlow, 19, also of Tecumseh, stood mute to an armed robbery charge that involves Kapnick Orchards. The court entered a plea of innocent for him.

Stewlow, already charged in the armed robbery at George's Market along with Boswell, has pled guilty to the Britton robbery.

Last fall, approximately $700 was taken at Kapnick Orchards, between $450 and $500 from the Britton store on Dec. 17, and over $1,000 on Jan. 10 at George's Market.

Dewayne Norton, 18, of Britton, pled guilty to armed robbery before Judge Martin last week relative to the incident at Britton.

All three remain in the county jail.

Police chief Merlin Mowery of Tecumseh says a pre-sentencing date has not been scheduled as of Tuesday.

Veteran Fireman Resigns Position

Ernie Oliver, Tecumseh businessman, has resigned from the Tecumseh Volunteer Fire Department after 25 years of service.

Tecumseh City Council plans to honor his record of service at its next Council meeting Feb. 20, 7:30 p.m.

Appoints Procter

Diane Proctor was appointed to the Historic Preservation Commission for a three-year term by Tecumseh City Council Monday night.

She will replace Millie Saksewki, who chose not to serve another term.

Change Meeting

Next regular business meeting of Tecumseh City Council will be Feb. 20, 7:30 p.m. owing to the legal holiday of Washington's birthday Feb. 19.

Talking It Out

When should funerals be planned in advance?

The most direct answer I can give would be "as soon as you're ready and able to do so", but of course this "readiness" and "ableness' is primarily a matter of one's state of mind, not just physical being.

The following poem (Author unknown), makes a worthy statement.

Tarry not, make haste to put your life
in order;
Set aright, make amends
before you cross
life's border.

Since no one can say with certainty when the time of death is to come, the knowledge of being prepared is comforting.

With your comfort and peace of mind, and that of your loved ones uppermost in our planning, we suggest preparedness in pre-planning your funeral, sparing your family this task. By doing so, you are assured that your wishes will be made known and followed; that the services will be no less and the costs no more than you want them to be.

Society Honors Pat Connors

"Union Building: This Is Your Life" was Barb McCann's topic at the Jan. 24 annual dinner meeting of the Tecumseh Area Historical Society.

Fifty-two members and guests attended the roast beef dinner served by the First Baptist Church Women.

Pat Connors, Tecumseh High School history teacher, was honored by the Tecumseh Area Historical Society for making history a tangible experience for Tecumseh teens. He has encouraged study of local history with such class projects as his annual bicycle tour of historical Tecumseh.

Also known as Indian football coach, Pat and his wife Sharon are active members of the Macon Historical Society.

In other business at the annual meeting three directors were elected to the seven-member board. Michelle Worley was re-elected and Pat Beardslee and Ray Puffer are new members that will join Harvey Schmidt, Edna Smith, Theresa Powers and Betty Kline on the board.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Puffer of Tecumseh were thanked for donating a copy of their son's doctoral dissertation to the Clara Waldron History Rooms of the Tecumseh Public Library.

The work is entitled "The Michigan Agricultural Frontier: Southeastern Region, 1820-1860".

It is an in-depth study of six pivotal counties during the pioneer period, emphasizing geological, social and economic areas of importance.

The 450 page volume contains approximately 100 pages relevant to Musgrove Evans and his founding of Tecumseh.

It was useful to the historical society for facts to be included on a historical marker at the site of the Evans home, 411 E. Logan.

Dr. Raymond L. Puffer is a 1956 Tecumseh graduate. He received his doctor's degree in history from the University of New Mexico. He is historian for the U.S. Air Force-Kirtland Air Force Base.

His wife, Kathleen, is chief of library services at Pettis Memorial Veterans Hospital, Loma Linda, Calif. The couple reside in Redlands, Calif. with their two children, Faith Anne, 10 and Ted, 9.

The historical society newsletter will be sent out shortly. Dues for 1979 are $2 and must be paid to be included on the mailing list for programs and special events.

A membership list is being included in the newsletter to facilitate carpooling. Dues may be sent to the Tecumseh Area Historical Society, P.O. Box 26, Tecumseh, 49286.

When it comes to IRA accounts...

1978 ISN'T OVER YET!

Changes in the federal law have stretched the calendar. If you are a farmer, businessman, contractor, professional or anyone else whose income and earnings are not covered by a company pension plan, you can establish and contribute to a tax deferred Individual Retirement Account (IRA) until April 16th. That gives you over three extra months to determine just what your income was in 1978 and calculate exactly what 15% of it would be. Fifteen percent up to $1,500 is the maximum contribution to an IRA allowed under the law.

Right now, United Savings Bank of Tecumseh is paying 8% annual interest on all IRA accounts. That's the highest interest you can earn from any financial institution.

An Individual Retirement Account can save you tax dollars and provide a more secure future. There's nothing tricky, complicated or difficult about them. Ask about an IRA account at any of the five convenient offices of United Savings Bank . . . . . you have until April 16th this year.

Museum Passes $50,000 Mark

The Lenawee County Historical Museum has reached the half-way mark in its goal to obtain $100,000 in local donations for restoration of its new museum home.

Dr. Charles Lindquist made the announcement at the annual dinner meeting of the Tecumseh Area Historical Society Jan. 24 at the First Baptist Church.

The restoration of the Andrew Carnegie library in Adrian is one of two receiving top priority for state and federal matching funds for restoration in Michigan. Orchestra Hall in Detroit is the other Michigan priority.

Dr. Lindquist emphasized that receipt of the $100,000 grant will depend on local efforts to match it dollar for dollar. He said that Michigan State History Division officials are anxious for Lenawee County to succeed in its fund raising efforts to carry the project to restoration.

The museum has received $30,000 from the sale of the old building, but is not including this in its $100,000 goal.

In Tecumseh, Betty Kline, president of the Tecumseh Area Historical Society and Pat Lamb, historical society member, have been active in organizing fund raising efforts in this area of the county. Contact either to make a donation or send it care of the Lenawee County Historical Museum, P.O. Box 511, Adrian, Mich. 49221.

Police Handle 4 Complaints

Of four complaints handled by Tecumseh police the past week, two involved drunk driving, one an attempted B&E and vandalism at the high school, and the fourth, larceny from a car at Les Dallas, Inc.

Friday, Maynard R. Hills III, 20, of Clinton, was cited for driving under the influence after police stopped him for running a stop sign at Brown and N. Union.

Two panels were kicked out of a small door at the high school garage in an attempted breaking and entering Saturday. Officials also found windows on a bus there spray painted.

Monday, Ronnie A. Louchart, 23, of 1650 Munger Rd., was stopped by police for traveling the wrong direction on S. Evans St. and then charged with drunk driving.

Also Monday, Jerome J. Robinson, Palmyra, reported a tire and wheel missing from his vehicle which had been parked at the Les Dallas agency lot.

GREAT PRODUCTION — Years will come and go, and Croswell productions will come and go, but the children appearing in the 1975 production of 'Music Man' won't forget the experience. Neither will the audiences who were overwhelmed with the production, and the children shown here rehearsing the scene with Music Man Glenn Crane which later brought down the house. Scene stealers were the two little blondes in the front row, Barry and Gary Purse, of Tecumseh.

Something for Everybody

Something for everybody will fill the Croswell Opera House in Adrian on Saturday, Feb. 10, as people from all over Lenawee County demonstrate their commitment to art and the Croswell as being important in the life of area residents.

From 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Saturday, choral and instrumental ensembles, magicians, tap dancers, community leaders and favorites from Croswell Summer Theatre productions of the past will occupy the stage. They will perform for the benefit of a live audience filling the historic theatre's 739 seats, cable television viewers watching from their homes, the grand old theatre itself and the commitment to art in many forms that it represents.

The occasion will be a telethon sponsored by the Adrian Rotary Club to help complete the restoration of the Croswell Opera House, and hundreds of people who benefit from Croswell programs and facilities will participate. You can help by making a pledge. Call 263-1330 between 10 a.m. and 10 p.m. Saturday.

The telethon wil be broadcast live over Liberty Cable channel six, and major portions of the program will be aired on WABJ-AM and WLEN-FM in Adrian.

After more than 100 years of service as a legitimate theatre, community auditorium and movie house, the Croswell was scheduled for demolition in 1967 when it was purchased by the Adrian Foundation and given to the Croswell Opera House and Fine Arts Association.

The purpose of the telethon on Saturday is to generate additional funding for a second renovation phase which is expected to cost about $300,000. One-half of that total has been underwritten by pledges from the Rotary Club in Adrian and two local donors.

Second phase will provide for audience needs in the front of the theatre and preserve the historic aspect of the building which was designated a Michigan State Historic Site in 1976.

Already two small buildings situated between the historic theatre and street frontage have been acquired, allowing exposure of the original theatre and creating an area for court yard and entry way in phase two.

Other planned changes include creation of a ticket booth, improved and expanded restrooms, concessions and checking area, art exhibit hall, a meeting area below grade and a manager's office.

"AN EYE FOR AN EYE"

By Rev. R. Richard Case

Last Thursday afternoon the telephone rang. I quickly answered. I was told to be at the hospital bright and early the next morning. Well, here it is Monday morning and my world has been drastically changed.

I began pondering the past few days and I have come up with a thought. If there could be an 11th commandment, I think it could well be: "Thou Shall Not Waste."

Yes, as I look up I can now see out of my left eye. You see I went blind when I was 18. Sight came back to my one eye, but the other was gone. Now for the first time in 30 years I can again see.

What then do I say? I suppose the person that died could have gone to his grave with all the organs God gave him.

His eyes would have been decaying with his body at this moment, but he chose to leave his eyes to the eye bank and because he did I now see.

Yes my friends, it would be sheer waste not to leave behind a gift for mankind. May I suggest that you put this in your will, better still have your driver's license so marked.

You are given gifts by God. Why not pass your gift on to others?

I can see, because he gave and my surgeon gave of his skill and lastly God will continue to love and take care for both, you and I.

Forty Attend Raisin Meeting

Forty persons attended the Raisin Township Board meeting Monday night at the township hall, the largest audience in recent memory.

Most were concerened about Township Supervisor Robert Moore's refusal to sign a permit for William Meni, to carry a concealed weapon.

Moore refused to sign the permit for the Tecumseh police officer because he objected in conscious to the wording of the permit that implies the supervisor gives personal approval for the individual to carry a concealed weapon.

The permits have been signed by previous supervisors as a matter of course, based on a Michigan statue dating 1929 which applies to all unincorporated areas in the state.

Township lawyer Ted Durst has contracted Senator John S. Mowat, district 19 and state Representative James Hadden, district 40 to seek legislation that would relieve supervisors of the responsibility to sign such permits.

Move Brings Visitors

CLINTON — Several visitors were present for the meeting of the Clinton Village Council, Monday, when discussion concerned the proposed use of Monument Park for a parking area, necessitating the moving of the War Memorial.

Henry Treat represented the American Legion; Mary Hull and Mrs. Treat represented the American Legion Auxiliary; Joe O'Donnell represented the Clinton Chamber of Commerce, and others were Norman Pratt and Norlene Hicks, residents near the area of concern.

O'Donnell presented a proposal of the Chamber to grant $1,000 toward the cost of construction of a new memorial, possibly in the Riverside Cemetery.

Objections were voiced by representatives of the American Legion and Auxiliary, which is seeking to have the monument retained in its present location.

The parking lot and memorial matter were placed in committee for further consideration.

Public hearing was held concerning the 12-year tax abatement request by Peerless Gear Division, for their recent addition. No objections were raised and the proposed tax abatement, according to P.A. 198, will be granted.

New subdivision ordinance will be discussed at a special meeting of council Feb. 19 at 7 p.m.

Ken Gonser, executive director, reported that Goodwill-LARC served a total of 243 persons of varying disabilities and classifications during 1978.

This was a net increase of 66 clients and employees served over the previous year.

The final payment of $10,000 retired a $20,000 indebtedness incurred several years ago to obtain new equipment and to underwrite programming.

Plans for program expansion and the remodeling of a portion of the existing facility will be released in detail at a special dinner meeting to be held for community participation in April.

An adjusted operational budget of $447,567 was accepted for 1979.

Building Tops Half Million

CLINTON — Clinton Township Board heard the 1978 report of building inspector, Charles Wilson, at Monday's meeting. Value of the year's building and repair was $566,976, which included 10 houses, five barns, garages and additions.

Board voted to compile a letter of intent to contract with a private provider EMT, for ambulance service, and to send this to Lenawee County Human Services office.

The new boiler has been installed in the township hall and is functioning satisfactorily, board was told.

Board voted to renew membership in the Region II Commission, and to pay the dues.

The writer suggested, "We are joined to one another, to our universe by a shared aliveness, like an underground spring of water, from which everything draws its existence. That spring is the living God."

Plans were made to hold a household products party at the church at 7 p.m March 1.

Mother-daughter banquet was scheduled for May 12 at 8:30 p.m. Program will again feature the Sunshine chorus from First Baptist Church Tecumseh.

The church will observe its 150th anniversary, April 21, with activities to be announced.

New Ice Rink Is Successful Due to Kelly

By Maxine Calhoun

CLINTON — It's a joy to relate that there is a program that is working right. That is the new ice rink at the location of E. Franklin St. across from the Clinton Middle School.

The success of the ice rink project is largely due to Kelly Pawlak, 68, who is in charge of the skating program there.

Mr. and Mrs. Pawlak are recent newcomers to the village and reside, in Water Wheel Estates. He's a retired tool and die maker from Detroit, but he hasn't settled down yet.

When the Clinton Chamber of Commerce completed the $3,500 ice rink and opened it the first of January, Kelly Pawlak volunteered to direct the skating program.

He's been a skilled figure skater for more than 50 years and performed on ice frequently in the Detroit area, as an avocation.

Besides caring for a wife who is ill now, Kelly spends five or six hours daily at the rink where he teaches skating to area youngsters and adults.

He says he has some little folks, almost toddlers, and several adults who are learning to enjoy skating again.

Because the facility is so new in Clinton, many skaters are beginners, but some are learning fast—and the after 8 p.m. hockey group may shape up into a team by another year.

There's skating classes from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday and Sunday mornings, and open skating afternoons. He's there after school hours and conducts some 18 classes a week.

Clinton Area Jaycees built a warming shed, and Jaycees recently donated some time to scrape the surface and refill the rink.

Kelly could use some more volunteer help, whenever it snows, to prepare the rink for skating. He's been doing it alone up to now.

Discipline is not a problem, he says, the youth accept his authority pretty well.

He's obtained funds for some 10 bright sweaters for his young skaters, and would appreciate some donations for more sweaters.

If anyone here sees Kelly—tell him thanks for a job well done.

Program Theme Is 'America'

CLINTON "America of Thee I Sing" will be the theme of a patriotic presentation arranged by the Elementary Parent-Teachers Organization, to be held at 7 p.m. in the Clinton High School gymnasium, Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12.

Every picture—every song says, "America, you are beautiful."

In addition to the stereophonic music and multimedia projectors, this program introduces a new visual experience—kenestatic projection.

This 'flash frame' technique permits the projection of 1,300 slides in three minutes. This condenses 200 years of American history into three volatile minutes.

This is but a small portion of the 45 minute look at America and her people.

The program was developed by Robert B. Wells, who teaches science in the Monroe Public Schools.

Wells' various programs have been presented in several states. During the Bicentennial he appeared in over 150 cities, receiving national state and local awards for his inspirational message and photographic excellence.

PTO president Ann Schulz extends an invitation to all community families to share this experience.

Play Music of Big Bands

BRITTON — The Britton Congregational Church will present a musical and sing-along this Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. featuring the "Big Band Era" music.

Gerald Bach, band director at the Tecumseh Schools, will assist the Rev. Case with the program.

The public is invited to attend. Admission is on a donation basis.

Proceeds will go toward the insurance fund for the church.

Rev. Case has been interested in Big Band music all his life and actually played with Les Brown beginning in 1939. He was 14 years old.

The band was labeled the Mailed Milk back then and the young kids played up and down the east coast.

Most of Rev. Case's career in the Big Band business was spent with his own band however, the Dick Case Band. They played both big time and regular dates.

Still, the music was a hobby for him, not a living and Rev. Case gave the business up for the seminary.

The music's place in Rev. Case's heart is still obvious, however. He feels that the church is not just a place of worship, but also a center of family activity and that's how this program came about, "Yesterdays with Rev. Case."

Yesterday with Rev. Case

When the going gets rough, sometimes we wish we could be magicians and simply pull a rabbit out of a hat at the right moment.

But, it doesn't work that way. We have to face up to things like rising prices, the energy crisis, the kids' education and getting braces for Susie's teeth.

Sometimes there seems to be no end to it. And we're not magicians. Yet, even on the gloomy days, we have something that keeps us going. Guess you'd call it faith. It's not easy to come by, either — but once you have it, it is yours for keeps!

Where do you start looking? How about in the church of your choice?

Debbie Patten and Joanie Rapin turned in first place performance in the vault with a 7.4 and uneven bars with a 6.7 mark respectively.

Martha Hans also placed for the Indians with a 7.25 second place mark in the floor exercises.

BHS Beats Aggies, Raise Record to 3-6

Britton has turned what started out to be a bad season into a winning one for their basketball fans. Britton beat Sand Creek Friday, 55-45, and that makes their fourth win in the last six starts.

Britton started with a 23-18 half time edge and then increased it to 37-24 in the third frame when they hit nine of 12 from the floor.

The Aggies hung in there and closed the gap to just seven before Terry Benedict scored on a three point play. David Bruce and Randy Dusseau each scored on fast breaks and Sand Creek found itself in too big a hole to overcome.

Dusseau paced the Tories with 17 points. Benedict added 14. Overall, the team was 23 of 52 for 44.2 percent from the floor. Sand Creek had 18 turnovers, Britton 16.

In rebounding, the Aggies held a light edge, 32-31. Still Britton controlled the boards when they had to. Benedict and Greg Fanslau dominated the inside game when the Britton squad built their first half lead.

Benedict was high for the Tories with 15 rebounds. Fanslau was just behind with nine boards.

Britton also won the JV match, 45-34. Tom Lutz was high for the Tories with 14.

The varsity win raises Britton's league record to 3-6. Madison is still undefeated in the Tri-County area and remains on top of the league.

Britton's next basketball games are at Northwood Friday and they're home against Whitemore Lake Tuesday.

Janene Schultz and Patty Armstrong were the top players for Britton with five spikes each. Schultz had 12 service points, 10 the first game. Armstrong added seven.

The loss drops Britton to 4-3.

The Tory volleyballers travel to Summerfield Thursday, and play at Whitmore Lake Monday.

Carlson Beats Indians in 3

The Tecumseh volleyball squad started slow, came back strong, but then broke down again Wednesday against Gibraltar Carlson to loose the match, 8-15, 15-2 and 8-15.

Sandy Humphries served five in a row for the local team in the second game to start the girls' rally. She also added the last three points for the win.

The JV's slipped past their opponents, 15-4, 12-15 and 15-12. Lori Burach and Janice Bishop were the top servers for the young Indians.

Next three games will be at Tecumseh with New Boston Wednesday, Flat Rock Monday and Monroe St. Mary Feb. 14.

Indians Lose Heartbreaker, 64-62, in Sixth Overtime

The Indian basketballers won one and lost one this week, but the game the whole town will remember for quite some time came Friday as the Indians lost to second place Monroe C.C. by two points in six overtimes.

It looked like senior John Faulkner gave Tecumseh a win Friday against Monroe when he sunk two free throws with just three seconds left on the clock.

Those two points put Tecumseh up by two, 47-45. But then the Falcon's Jeff Spaulding hit an unbelievable 50 foot jump shot, from more than half court out, to tie the game.

Both teams then went into a shoot-once and stall game as the Indians and Falcons went through four timeovers with two points apiece. The fifth overtime, the teams each scored four points to put the score at 59-59.

The Indians then went one up with a free throw by John Ely. Monroe then shot and scored. The CC player turned the play into three points from the foul line to make it Monroe 62, Tecumseh 60.

The Indians took the ball out and threw it right back into the hands of a CC player who put it up for an easy two points. The Indians cut that four point lead down to two at the buzzer for the final score, 64-62.

The Indians held a comfortable lead at half, 31-23, but then went cold the whole second half. C.C. scored 14 and 10 points in the last quarters while Tecumseh hit just seven and nine.

That poor second half hurt the Indian's shooting percentages. They hit 38 percent from the floor to Central's 48.

High scorer for the Indian's was John Faulkner with 23 points. Ely and Mark Creswell also hit double figures with 11 each.

In rebounding, the Indians came out on top 42-36. Creswell finished with a game high of 12 bords.

Tuesday against Airport at at home, the Indians found they had to hurry for the win when they blew an 18 point lead with just 3:40 to go in the second quarter.

Airport ended just four points down at half and tied the game in the third quarter.

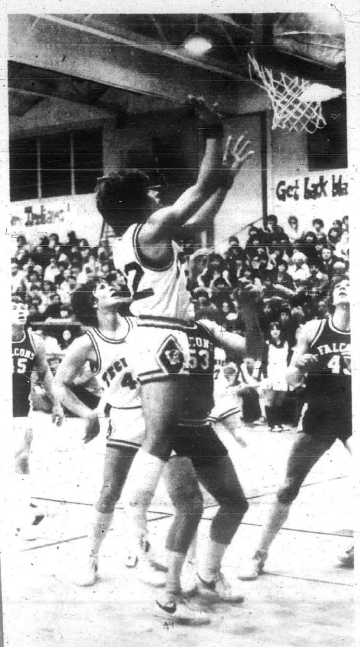
They ended up one down at the beginning of the fourth frame, 46-45. The Indians then outscored Airport 19-15 for the final 65-64 win.

For the win, the Indians were up by three with 50 seconds to go and the game was still up for grabs. The local squad then hit another bucket, however, and went five up. Airport just didn't have the time to catch up.

Tecumseh hit 20 of 46 from the floor and 25 of 38 from the line. Airport was 24 of 61 from the floor and lost the game at the line. They were 12 of 19.

Leading scorers for the Indians were Creswell with 19, Ely with 18 and Faulkner with 10. Crewsell also lead in rebounding with 12 boards.

The Indians are still in first. They are one game up on Monroe CC with an 8-1 record. The team travels to Grosse Ill Friday.



SIX OVERTIMES — Ron Smith shoots for two for the Indians in their disappointing 64-62 loss to second place Monroe CC Friday night. Monroe needed six overtimes to win, but the Indians still remain one game ahead in the standings with an 8-1 record.

Clinton Wins Two Matches

Clinton matched up against Ida Thursday in a non-league volleyball match and easily defeated the visiting team, 15-4, 15-6.

Laurie Porterfield and Lisa Cark each had nine service points. Porterfield tallied all of hers in the first game of the match.

Monday the girls traveled to Morenci and beat their host team in two games, 15-9, 15-5.

Lisa Cark had 13 service points and eight spikes while teammate Beth Langowski added seven spikes. Kathy Sanborn came through for the team with outstanding sets.

The girls' record is now 3-4 overall and 2-3 in the league. Their matches are home, Thursday against Dundee and Monday against Manchester.

Plan Game

The Britton and Deerfield faculty are planning a basketball game to be held at the Britton gym.

Date for the faculty match is Saturday, Feb. 10 at 6 p.m.

SHOOTS FOR TWO — John Ely puts one up for the Indians with Mark Creswell ready for the rebound if necessary. Creswell fouled out for the Indians but still led the team with 12 rebounds. Ely tied with Creswell in scoring, each with 11.

Edge Hudson 31-30

Bill VanTuyle decisioned his man 14-1 in the heavyweight class Thursday night to lift Clinton just one point past Hudson 31-30.

The win boosts Clinton's record to 3-1, 9-3 overall. The Tigers dropped to 3-2 in the league.

Pins by the Redskins went to Rick Armstrong, Devin Schindler and Clayton Semanske.

Gordon Miller, Andy Hoag, and VanTuyle each decision their Hudson opponents for wins.

Clinton wrestles Onsted at home Thursday and then at the LCAA meet Saturday.

Call with Complaints

If Tecumseh customers are having any problems with garbage collection, Lenawee Disposal at 265-8573 will take your calls between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

That was what general manager William Priebe told Tecumseh City Council Monday night. The company has a recorder system to take calls when the office personnel is not available.

Priebe answered Council's questions regarding difficulties in sack distribution and refuse collection that started the first of this year.

Late delivery of paper sacks from the supplier and communication problems were at the center of the disrupted service, Priebe told Council. He said the recorder system is just one step his company has taken toward smoother operations.

Priebe said that all customers in town should now have their supply of disposal bags. Those with problems should call Lenawee Disposal.

Some thefts of bags, hand delivered to customers' doors, were reported. Priebe said that he and the city will work toward a solution to replace those. The company is seeking a better method to distribute the bags.

This year's distribution was also complicated by the exchange of bags purchased at the old contract rate of .48 cents. Residents with bags with blue printing left from 1978 may receive a refund of .48 cents per bag by calling 265-8573.

George's Market, 2998 Russell Road, is the new location to purchase additional bags for use in city limits at .68 cents each.

Last month, trash pick up dates also changed.

Monday pick ups are now on Tuesday. Pick ups formerly scheduled for Tuesdays are now combined with Wednesday's schedule. Wednesday and Thursday trash pick ups have not been affected.

In case of holidays, pick ups will run one day later.

Accepts Charter

Tecumseh Kiwanis Club president Pete Clark accepted the 1979 charter for Boy Scout Troop 102 at Tuesday's meeting. Dennis Rice, Lenape District Scout Executive, made the presentation.

The troop, composed of young men from the Milton C. Porter Education Center, has been sponsored by the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club for 15 years.

During 11 of those years, Harold Tesch has served as scoutmaster. He received a scoutmaster plaque during the program that celebrated the 69th birthday of the "Wonderful World of Scouting," this year's theme.

Chuck Williams was general program chairman.

Committee membership cards were presented to Craig Rosacrans, Tony Catros, Russ Scott and Ed Walters.

Russell Scott, Kiwanis, troop chairman, presented Troop 102 representatives Brian Budwit and Carl Breese with membership cards for the boys.

Harold Tesch and Scouts Budwit and Breese highlighted the scout program for Troop 102.

Roger Wilcox of Meyers Industries and Dennis Rice were inducted as two new Tecumseh Kiwanis Club members by Ed Walters, lieutenant governor.

Bridge Added to Critical List

Comfort Road bridge was added to the priority list to receive critical bridge monies from state and federal government, Ron Lear, Lenawee County highway engineer told the Raisin Township Board Monday night.

Under the program, Comfort Road bridge is eligible for 90 percent funding for reconstruction. The remaining 10 percent would come from the township.

The Lenawee County Road Commission also asked the Township Board to reconsider its January decision not to participate in the Raisin Center bridge reconstruction under the same funding.

Lear estimated the township's cost would be $16,000 at most for the Raisin Center bridge, south of Sutton Road. This does not include repair of the half-mile of road which would cost the township $40,000 for a road similar to Wilmoth Rd., Lear said.

The Township Board took no action.

The concensus of the board Monday, however, was that neither bridge project is necessary nor is affordable due to other roads that must be maintained.

Thru My Window

BY MARDA GENE DUNCAN

The TV was on, Mom and I were watching the early morning news. My bed was still flat and she was sitting in her favorite straight chair by the west window. Suddenly her hand flew to her mouth, she rushed toward the south window but after a few steps changed direction and positioned herself in the middle of the west window. All the while she was exclaiming. I, of course, was wondering what was happening. Upon hearing her story I joined in the exclamation.

However, I only heard her story after she grabbed the AUDUBON BIRD GUIDE and had settled back into her chair. It seemed that something had attracted Mom's attention and she looked out the south window just in time to see a large hawk snatch a mourning dove.

The dove was on the ground east of the driveway. After seizing his prey, the hawk took off but landed in the middle of the front yard, apparently to readjust his grip on the hapless dove.

In an instant he was off again and this was why Mom went to the west windowr. The hawk flew across the yard, over the creek bank and landed in the middle of the snow-covered frozen stream. Too soon he was off again. This time he headed up the creek and was soon lost to sight.

But wow, a hawk! As Mom said, it all happened so quickly and was so unexpected that she hardly had time to collect herself.

So shocked, and almost horrified was she that there was no thought given to small details. The hawk was large, dark above and light underneath.

He most definitely grabbed a mourning dove. As he headed for the creek, she could clearly see the dove clapsed in its captor's claws.

When he left the creek she could not be sure but, since there was no dead dove left on the ice, we assumed he took his breakfast with him. Probably he was heading for a less open place to eat.

To lose a dove out of one's own yard is a bit gruesome — exciting too. As long as it does not happen often we can feel this way. After all, predators play an important, even vital role in Mother Nature's scheme of things.

Any population, whether it be birds or animals, if left unchecked will soon increase to such a size that neither food nor living space is adequate.

Most predators will 'harvest' the young, old, sick or crippled. By doing the natural thing, preying on the weakest and most easily caught, they cull the herd or flock, leaving the healthiest and strongest.

As further salve for our somewhat guilty consciences, we hang onto that thought about sick birds.

The day before the hawk adventure there had been a lone mourning dove who stayed perched in one spot in the mulberry tree for several hours. When finally he did move it was merely to the nearby maple tree and there he stayed for another lengthy period.

He was statue-still most of the time. Obviously he was not a healthy bird. We hope this was the one the hawk picked out of the yard.

The next obvious question is what kind of hawk. Well, as I have often said, hawks are confusing. We seldom see them and for such brief glances that it is difficult to tell who is who. At least for us it is.

A guess would be that ours was a Cooper's hawk. These large birds are fully capable of handling mourning doves; in fact, it is these hawks that are sometimes called chicken hawks. They have short broad wings for easy maneuverability and long rounded tails.

Several days after the mourning dove incident Mom and I saw a large hawk soaring high in the sky — broad wings and long, rounded tail. It could have been a Copper's.

Society Plans Antique Show Here March 3

The first Tecumseh Antique Show will be March 3 at the Tecumseh Community Center, sponsored by the Tecumseh Area Historical Society.

There's no need to comb the countryside this winter weekend for "antiquing". The society will have several dealers assembled under one roof to satisfy the public's browsing urge.

Hours of the exhibit are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Proceeds from the show will be added to the Tecumseh Historical Society's Fence Fund for repair of the Pioneer Park and Brookside Cemetery wrought iron fences.

Theresa and Wesley Powers, 301 N. Union St., are the volunteer coordinators for the show. Readers may contact them at 423-4148 to volunteer for some aspect of the last minute arrangements or for more information.

This is the first time that the historical society has undertaken such a show. If the community is responsive, dealers may be encouraged to return to Tecumseh for an annual show.

Other contributions to the fence fund are being accepted. Write to Fence Fund, Tecumseh Area Historical Society, P.O. Box 26, Tecumseh, 49286.

The antique show will enable history buffs to see the variety of items once considered utilitarian by great-grandparents. Anyone with a "what's it" in the attic may at last have the opportunity to identify exactly what it is and how it was used. Antique dealers are also a good source of information on refinishing antiques.

Official Signs Application for Gun Permit

Robert D. Moore, Raisin Township supervisor, signed the township resident William Meni's application for a handgun permit Monday night at the township board's special meeting.

Moore gave his signature after the supervisor's three-man handgun application advisory board gave its written approval.

At the Feb. 5 township meeting, Moore refused to sign the application for gun permit because he felt some liability.

In response to Raisin Township officials, Michigan representative James Hadden, R-Adrian from the 40th district, said he will introduce legislation that will relieve township supervisors the responsibility to approve applications to carry handguns.

In a letter to the board Hadden said, "There is a difference between saying 'I approve' and 'I do not object' and it can be significant."

An appeal procedure will be incorporated in the bill that will allow the applicant to take his request to the county concealed weapons board over the objection of the supervisor.

No action from the supervisor on the application within 14 days will be considered as no objection from the supervisor, Hadden continued.

In the interim, Moore appointed three members of the Lenawee County Conservation League, Don Withrow, Glen Griewahn and Charlie Comfort to advise him on whether to approve or disapprove a gun permit application.

Moore stated the committee has no authority and is not in the township employ, but will interview the handgun permit applicants.

13 Democrats Are Appointed to Party Posts

Thirteen Tecumseh and area Democrats were named to either offices or other positions at the recent Lenawee County Democrat Convention.

Lynette Sayler was appointed to the party's finance committee; James Daly, chairman of the leadership committee; and Jeff Ely to the state central committee.

Delegates named for the party's state convention in Detroit this week are Jeffy Ely, Nancy Nichols, Frances Daley, James Daly, Marlene Webber and John MacGeorge.

Alternates include Angela Spagnoli, Ray Jackson, Mary Utterback, Lillian Dewey and John Ely.

Injury Settlement Costs City $9,000

The family of James Michael Williams, 17, of Tecumseh, received $9,000 in a settlement with the city of Tecumseh. The teen was injured in a fall on city property in 1977.

The case, which was to be tried by a jury in circuit court, was officially dismissed Feb. 7

81 Pre-applications Qualify for Senior Housing Project

Seventy-three percent of the pre-applicants for Tecumseh's proposed senior citizen housing project qualify for an apartment rental subsidy, according to statistics prepared for Tecumseh Housing Commission by Assistant City Manager Paul Preston.

The need for rental subsidy was determined by the norm of charging 25 percent of the individual's income for senior citizen rental housing under a federal mortgage.

The city received a total of 101 pre-applications. Eighty-one were considered answered completely to compile a profile of the pre-applicants. However, others who did not fill out complete forms indicated interest in the senior housing, said Preston.

He projected that 42 subsidies would be required. This does not include 23 earmarked by the Farmers Home Administration for the Tecumseh project. FmHA has not set a dollar limit on those rental subsidies.

Preston said that the FmHA has not yet approved the city's pre-application for a $2.3 million mortgage loan for the city's proposed four story, 122-unit project.

Called "Orchard Terrace," it would be built on acreage at Adrian and Pottawatamie Streets, donated to the city for the sole purpose of senior housing.

At its meeting last Thursday, the Tecumseh Housing Commission learned FmHA no loger can loan money to public bodies. Therefore, it must incorporate into a non-profit body before the city's application for the loan can advance for state and federal approval.

Tecumseh has until mid-March to show it wants to reorganize to qualify.

"We've got a heck of a lot of work to do in a short time," said Preston. "But if you ask me for my opinion, I'm more optimistic now than I was a week ago." He added that the Housing Commission is interested and is willing to take the necessary steps to complete the project.

Other data on the pre-applicants shows:

+ 72 percent are from Tecumseh.
+ Average age is 73.
+ Percentage of single females is 68 percent; single males, 5 percent; couples, 23 percent.
+ Average monthly income, $525.
+ Adjusted monthly income, according to FmHA formula, $497.
+ Adjusted income ranges: 21 percent, the highest percentage at $3,000-$4,000, followed by 17 percent in the $5,000-$6,000 range, 16 percent in the $4,000-$5,000 range and 10 percent in the $7,000-$8,000 range.
+ Average monthly rent of seniors, including mobile homes, $128.

Complaints Investigated

Tecumseh police handled 11 complaints the past week with five related to alcoholic beverages and one that resulted in seven charges against two residents.

Wednesday of last week, Cheryl L. Obenour, 28, of 810 Waskins Dr., and Ernest W. Oliver, 21, of 133 E. Chicago Blvd., were arrested after a scuffle with police on Waskins Dr.

According to the police report, Obenour was observed speeding on Russell Rd. After she was stopped and questioned, she took off again only to be pulled over on Waskins Dr.

When officers attempted to arrest her, Oliver reportedly interferred.

She was charged in the police report with fleeing and eluding, assaulting a police officer, resisting arrest and violation of the controlled substance act. A substance was found in her purse when she was booked at the county jail in Adrian.

Officers cited Oliver for obstructing a police officer, assaulting a police officer and resisting arrest. He posted bail of $100 at the jail and Obenour was released on personal recognizance.

In alcohol related complaints, Daniel L. Higgins, 17, of 307 S. Evans, was charged with open intoxicants in a vehicle, and Rodney W. Higgins, 20, of 506 Pawnee Heights, with furnishing alcohol to a minor. Police had stopped their vehicle Saturday for driving without headlights on.

Sunday, officers cited Alan D. Hyder, 18, Britton with open intoxicants and possession of marijuana, and a juvenile passenger with open intoxicants. Juvenile has been petitioned into Probate Court.

David A. Esterline, 22, of 9800 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., was charged Sunday with driving under the influence after police attempted to stop him for driving too fast. Esterline's vehicle hit a snow bank and a tree limb on N. Evans before stopping in the Meyers Industries parking lot.

Monday, officers charged Alfred Wesley, 57, of 314 N. Maumee with being a disorderly person, and Bobby Olajos, 17, with assault and battery. Alcohol was involved in the incident, according to the report, when Olajos attempted to stop Wesley from drinking beer.

Fred Alaniz, 20, Saline, was stopped Saturday for a headlight out and was then charged with open intoxicants in his vehicle.

Officials at Tecumseh High School reported tire slashing incidents on Saturday and Monday.

Henry J. Pawlik of Detroit was arrested Monday on a warrant from Detroit.

Lloyd Stites, 1954 Russell Rd., reported Tuesday that a mirror had been broken on his vehicle.

Township Broke, Can't Afford New Bridges

"We're broke. If the county board of commissioners wants to pay for our bridges, we'll let them," said Raisin Township supervisor Robert Moore at Monday night's special meeting.

The township board decided to send a letter to the county explaining that due to a deficit of $75,000 created by last year's projects, the township cannot afford to participate in the local funding share of three township bridge projects eligible for 90 percent federal funds.

The board and audience concensus was that Comfort Road bridge was not necessary due to Tecumseh's Russell Road bridge project a half-mile away.

However, township people favored rebuilding the Raisin Center Bridge, south of Sutton Road. They reasoned with 90 percent federal funding, they would never be able to build a bridge as cheaply.

Charles Kipke, chairman of the county road commission, told them the local share of Raisin Center bridge work and design costs would be $16,000.

Estimates were not available on the Academy Road bridge. Palmyra township officials, present Monday night, told Raisin people they would like them to cooperate in building the needed bridge.

Kipke told the audience that other roadwork in Raisin Township may be delayed if the road commission spent its budget on the local share of the bridge money.

He told that the road commission has asked the county board of commissioners' physical resources committee for the local funds. He asked Raisin Township officials to lobby for this.

Kipke explained that if a local government declines federal funds, it will find the federal government less receptive the next time federal funds are available. This furn it happened that three Raisin bridge projects, of four eligible in the county, were funded with critical bridge funds.

Schools' Absenteeism Up, but Not Alarming

While other schools in the state are reporting high student absenteeism through sickness, Tecumseh schools' rate is up but not alarming, Supt. Robert Duhan reports.

Monday, for example, the Ridgeway elementary school absenteeism ranged between nine percent and 16 percent. Overall of the schools Monday, student count was down 12.3 percent, Duhan reported.

Most sickness now involves chicken pox, flu and simple colds.

Duhan said, depending on the sickness, the schools would not close unless the absenteeism rate hit 35 to 40 percent. Hopefully, the flu epidenic scheduled to hit southeastern Michigan within the next few days will bypass the Tecumseh, Clinton and Britton area.

Influenza has closed Hudson schools indefinitely and Morenci schools until Monday.

The decision to close the schools due to flu rests with each school superintendent, explained Jerry Homminga, Lenawee County health office administrator. But the Lenawee County Health Department is available to counsel administrators.

The public health nurse calls each school in Lenawee County every day and keeps a log of absenteeism.

Homminga declined to say what percentage of absences could convince administrators to close schools. He pointed out there are factors other than flu that cause absenteeism. He said each administrator makes the choice based on the school's situation.

In other health matters, Homminga said that people should not panic about the suspected cases of Reye's Syndrome. There is no known case in the Tecumseh area.

The syndrome is not contagious and is rare. Awareness is important, however. Parents should become familiar with symptoms of the disease.

These include vomiting, emotional upset, dizziness—in short a sudden change in health after a child appears to be recovering from the flu.

Parents are advised to consult the family physician, or if one is not available, take the child to the nearest hospital for examination.

B&H Moving into Plant

B&H Manufacturing Company of W. Stadium Blvd., Ann Arbor, will move to Tecumseh Monday and become the first manufacturing company to locate in the city's 53-acre industrial park.

The firm, owned by James F. Curley of Manchester, bought the 20,000 sq. ft. building in November.

The industrial shell was constructed by the Tecumseh Area Industrial Development Association in cooperation with United Savings Bank of Tecumseh.

B&H is a 32-year-old firm that employs approximately 30 people. Curley became owner in 1977. He was associated with the business for 20 years.

The company does machining for automotive related companies including the marine and truck division of Chrysler.

Another Ann Arbor firm, Jebco manufacturing, anticipates moving to Tecumseh in April, according to owner R.J. Diebold.

His firm will locate at 610 S. Maumee St. in the building vacated by Standard Steel Products Inc.

Jebco manufacturing is adding 12,000 sq. ft. to the 6,000 sq. ft to the Tecumseh industrial building.

Work is progressing on the $282,500 improvement job that includes lighting, remodeling of business offices and black topping and clean up of truck areas.

Tecumseh city council granted the 18-year-old firm a 50 percent tax break for the maximum of 12 years for its expansion as outlined by Michigan Act 198.

Planners OK Initial Plat

The preliminary plat review phase II of the 100 lot planned community of homes north off Burt Street was approved by Tecumseh's Planning Commission Tuesday night.

Phase II included engineering of roads and construction plans.

In other planning business, the commission approved the plan of Redman Construction to build two multiple family apartment units on Cummins in the vicinity of Pawnee Heights.

Some minor recommendations were made on landscape aesthetics and exterior design materials. The builder plans a total of nine apartments in two units.

Airport Warns of Prosecution

Al Meyers Airport reported extensive damage to electrical systems by snowmobilers and 4-wheel drive vehicles. The systems were repaired just two weeks ago.

The airport administrators issued this warning:

Vote Down New System

Raisin Township board vetoed a computer accounting system at its Monday meeting with a 3-2 vote.

Dissenting votes were cast by treasurer Lynette Sayler, trustee Eugene Vaughn and Chris Ruggirello, deputy clerk, proxy for vacationing clerk Marjorie Comfort.

Supervisor Robert D. Moore and trustee Robert Murray touted the new system as more efficient. Charter township legislation requires quarterly budget statements. Murray said in the past, it has been difficult for officials to get such an accurate statement.

Additional cost would be $350 plus initial set up fee.

Treasurer Sayler led the objections. "We don't need another expense with a ($75,000) deficit. For $50 a month extra, you can hire me." She added that the clerk and treasurer, working together, could produce an accurate statement in four-five hours a month.

Ruggirello said clerk Comfort would agree to a $300 salary cut if the board insisted on going to the new system. However, Comfort wanted to try, Ruggirello told.

The audience of approximately 40, for the second meeting in as many weeks was vehemently opposed to spending money for the computer system. They wanted the board to give the clerk and treasurer a chance.

"The people here are trying to tell you that they'd like to see people go to work instead of spending more money," commented a man in the audience.

Closed Monday

City hall will close Monday owning to Washington's Birthday. Other closings include Tecumseh post office, United Savings Bank and First Federal Savings and Loan.

Cast Starts Rehearsing for 'Love'

Martie Frolich starts in her first lead role for the Tecumseh Players as Sally Winters in the comedy play "Love is Contagious" opening March 2, at the Tecumseh Community Center.

The play will run March 2, 3, 8, 9 and 10. Curtain time is 8 p.m. each night.

Martie has worked backstage for the Players and had a cameo role in their 1978 production "Two Blind Mice." While in high school she was Mrs. Savage in the senior play "Curious Savage" and in her junior year she was in "Spoon River."

In "Love Is Contagious" Sally Winters comes to New York fresh from a Kansas farm to stay with her brother Robbie, who hasn't been writing home as often as his mother would like. As a matter of fact, it's been close to five years since they saw him.

Sally wants to take New York by storm and be an actress or a model. Naively she thinks this will only take a few days. The Big Apple teaches her that life is different from back on the farm.

A friendly, yet mercenary cabbie exposes her to some hard financial facts and an artist's model exposes her to another side of the glamorous modeling life.

Brother Robbie, played by Randy Guernsey of Brooklyn, tries to get his roommate Sam Harway, played by Kevin Baetz of Brooklyn, to stop quarreling with Sally and let her stay a few days until she finds a place of her own.

Sam has his art studio in the apartment and his whole life is disrupted by Sally who insists on mothering him and cleans constantly.

Randy Guernsey and Kevin Baetz have appeared together in Columbia Central school productions. oKevin portrays Harold Hill in "Music Man" with the Blue Lake Fine Arts group and Balke Barton in the Tecumseh Players' musical "Bells Are Ringing" this past fall.

Laura Mead of Tecumseh is back as a girlfriend. In "Bells Are Ringing" she was Olga, the demanding girlfriend. In this play she is Robbie's fiancee, Diane

Roberts, forced to choose between a career as a business woman or a full-time housewife.

Laura was the Wicked Queen in the Players' children production of "Snow White" last summer.

Sam's current flame is Kitty Guage, a voluptuous chorus girl played by Richelle Marks. Richelle was in the fall musical "Bells Are Ringing" and has been in a number of Siena Heights shows.

Becky Hite plays MiMi Lamarr, the French model who charms everyone. She is attracted to Robbie and can't understand Diane's objections.

Dick Egli, a veteran of the Tecumseh stage of 13 years, returns after being the romantic male lead in "Bells" to be the lovable drunk Harry Turner.

Harry always comes to "good ol' buddy Sam" to sober him up. He doesn't realize what a Kansas farm girl can do with a drunk.

Another one who doesn't realize Sally's power is Georgia Rutherford, played by Rosanne Frolich. Rosanne was Ermengarde in the 1978 Croswell presentation of "The Matchmaker" and a waitress in "I Never Sang For My Father." Rosanne is a board member of the Players, and also works backstage for numerous shows.

Guilford Rothfuss of Brooklyn has been with the Players for many years and is active as a board member, treasurer, and producer. His credits include Brooklyn Little Theatre.

Director Susan Benish Santner cast Guil as Guy Ketchen, a conniving outspoken hack driver. Guy tries to get Sally to wise up to the big city and to "wear a dress."

Another stage veteran is JoAnn Dalgard. Tecumseh audiences will remember her as Dora in "Dear Ruth." At the Croswell she was Dolly Levi in "The Matchmaker" and April Green in "Hot L Baltimore."

In this play she is Mrs. Kayser, the landlady, who tries to "keep the place respectable" and is forever checking up on the rumors she hears about Sally.

The rumors are told to her by a snoopy neighbor, Miss Lerner. Nothing happens in the apartment building that Miss Lerner doesn't know about. This straight laced spinster is portrayed by newcomer Mary Ann Bone.

Mary Ann is a member of the Players board and has worked backstage for the players for two of their productions. She was active with the Windsor Light Opera Association in Windsor, Ontario, before moving to Tecumseh in 1977.

Seating is limited in the Glass Room at the Community Center. Reservations are necessary. To assure a seat earlh, call Marge Hart, 423-2770. Senior citizens will have a special rate opening night.

JOHN DEERE DAY — Hoyt Whelan's of Tecumseh represented by Dick Whelan at left, marked 53 years celebrating John Deere Day Feb. 7 at the United Products Workers Union Hall. Also attending were her grandfathers Elmer Marks of Britton and John Marks of Palmyra to complete the four generations.

Deere Day Draws 350

by Kathy Brown

Feb. 7 marked the 53rd anniversary of John Deere Day, sponsored by the implement company and Tecumseh dealer Hoyt Whelan's.

The power farming entertainment program was held at the United Products Workers Union Hall.

Not many events can brag such continuity or attendance. Deere Day in Tecumseh drew 350 people, the largest crowd in the county for a commercial agriculture event of this kind.

Movies and equipment were shown. A free lunch was served. Door prizes were awarded to young and old alike. Agriculture students from local schools were welcomed to the family-style event.

John Jansen, Clinton Ag teacher, won a Deere gas powered weed cutter, the first prize he has won in 20 years attendance.

Clarence Hall, 86, of Macon said he attended the first Deere Day in 1926 and never misses 'em.

Some three and four generation farming families of the county attended.

And one reporter learned you never ask a farmer to take off his hat for a picture. Never.

How Can I Help a Child After Death of a loved One?

Reading books or phamphlets which describe how others have adjusted to death can often provide insights and understanding.

Studying these books help you to help the child and will suggest ways to communicate with the child effectively. Some of the basic books on this subject which we recommend are:

Learning to Say Goodbye by Eda LeShan

Telling a Child About Death by Edgar N. Jackson

Explaining Death to Children by Earl A. Grollman

Helping Your Child Understand Death by Anna W.M. Wolf

Death, Grief, Mourning, The Funeral and the child by William M. Lamers

Consult the local library for these. Discuss it with clergyman. Or call us. If you have any special concerns about children and death, please do call on us so we can share our professional understanding with you.

Thru My Window

BY MARDA GENE DUNCAN

They have not visited the feeder often this winter but they have come around just often enough so that we keep looking and hoping. Purple finches are exciting birds and one of the reasons is their unpredictability.

They seem to come and go according to whim — there is no rhyme nor reason as to why they will be plentiful one year and scarce the next. Neither is there a good explanation of their patronizing a feeder one week and ignoring it the next. In other words, these birds do their own thing.

In addition to never letting us take them for granted these are attractive birds. To see a male posing on the feeder in bright sunlight and against a background of fresh white snow is an unforgetable experience.

The description is old but it is still the best I have read — the male purple finch looks like a sparrow who someone has upended and dipped headfirst into a jar of raspberry jam.

Several weeks ago Mom and I had the pleasure of seeing just such a well-dipped purple on the near-my-window feeders. To say he was gorgeous is an understatement.

He stood in the middle of the tray for some moments and posed first one way and then another. It was almost as if he wanted to make sure we were fully impressed and completely conscious of just exactly how gorgeous he was. And we had to admit that he has reason for such vanity.

It takes bright sunlight to show a purple at his very best. Under any circumstances one can appreciate his slightly over six inches of length, sleek body, rather short but forked tail, and his finch-like bone colored conical shaped bill.

However, brilliant sunshine shows the highlights as well as the subtleties of his color. As an example of his many shadings, Birds of America uses such words as wine-purple, light brownish red, and dusky brownish red.

Sorting this out, the head of the male finch is a true raspberry color, his wine-purple back is faintly streaked with brown, his wings are a darkish red-brown with light brown, his front shades from raspberry on the throat to almost a gray-white on his lower tummy.

What surprised Mom and me the most was the absolutely brilliant raspberry color across his lower back at the base of his tail.

Young males closely resemble the females. In fact, it takes them several years to molt into the truly handsome colors of the adult male. This is no doubt why, when a large group of purple finches is seen, it looks as though there are far more gals then fellows.

And yes, these birds sometimes do travel in flocks although this winter our purple finch sightings have all involved a single gorgeous male. In past winters we have also had purple finches traveling with gangs of goldfinches, pine siskins, and occasionally even redpolls.

They are all lovers of the tiny black thistle seeds and the finches seem almost equally fond of sunflower seeds.

Certain things can only be avoided so long and I have reached a point where the female purple finch must have her 'day in the sun'. (Actually, even sunshine does not help her too much.)

More than most gals she is a far cry from her handsome mate. So sparrowish is she that I know we have overlooked her presence on the feeders.

She has the brown and dark brown striped back of most sparrows and, although many books say her front side is white with heavy brown stripings, the white is really more of a dirty lightish white-tan.

Her head is about the only distinctive feature she can boast. It is dark brown with two noticeable light stripes. One is over the eye and the other under.

These buffy streaks are separated by a dark brown patch through the eye and a stripe along the chin. She's far from being a glamorous gal.

Croswell Auditions

The Croswell Players will hold auditions this weekend for their production of "The Night Thoreau Spent In Jail" by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee.

Audtions will be held Thursday, Feb. 15 and Friday, Feb. 16 from 7:30-10 p.m. at the Croswell and Saturday, Feb. 17 from 1:30-4 p.m. at the Plotter Center.

The play, written by the authors of "Inherit the Wind" and "Mame", offers roles for 11 males and four females. The male roles cover a wide variety of ages from the 20's into the 50's or 60's.

The female roles require women of all ages. There also is a role available for a 9 to 13 year old boy.

In the summer of 1846, Henry David Thoreau, American poet, philosopher and naturalist, chose to spend a night in jail rather than pay taxes that would support a war against Mexico, which he felt to be immoral.

This play gives insight into what brought Thoreau to this decision and gives a glimpse into the life of the man whose words and actions later served as a source of inspiration for Gandhi, Tolstoy and Martin Luther King.

The show will be presented at the Croswell Opera House March 29, 30 and 31. Lance Tucker of Tecumseh is directing. For more information call 263-5674.

SUNSHINE GROWS TO 17 MEMBERS

Share Christ Through Song

Though winter skies be gray, Tecumseh has Sunshine—a witness group of young women who share Jesus Christ through singing. Starting five years ago with a handful of members, the group has grown to number 17.

Sunshine isn't just a singing group to its members, it is a growing ministry that shows how Christ can work through teenagers and give them, as well as their audience, a feeling of strength and love from God.

The average age of the members is seventh grade, or 12 years old. The girls wish to share God with others and fulfill God's command to spread the Good News to all mankind.

Sunshine performs for dinners, evening services and other functions throughout Michigan, Ohio and Indiana. The group recently made a record and is distributing it.

To arrange to have Sunshine perform, contact the director: Carol McLeod, First Baptist Church of Tecumseh, 5920 Milwaukee Rd., Tecumseh, Mich. 49286, (517)423-3110.

A copy of their record is available at the Tecumseh Library to hear them before arranging a concert. Those who have heard these girls have given them praise and encouragement.

The members include Karen Barret, Susan Bless, Lynn Boyd, Dawn Champanois, Carol Clark, Lisa Deserrano, Carol Fisk, Carol Henning, Jackie Johnstone; Jeannie Johnstone, Jeanne McLeod, Patty Mitchell, Rhonda Rhora, Terri Rickard, Minnie Rodgers, Kim Seay and Stephanie Shied.

You Are What You Eat

By Shirley Weekley

This is the fourth in a series on international cuisine. This week these Italian recipes are from Rose Rebottaro.

In 1920, Eugene Rebottaro, 25, sailed from his homeland Italy to settle in Detroit. There he met and married Rose, whose parents also came from Italy.

The Rebottaros moved to Tecumseh and have lived and farmed here for the last 37 years. They have three sons and four daughters, 28 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Their sons have all remained in Tecumseh and live and farm within a couple miles of each other.

Boil in pan of salted water until edges become translucent. Drain; serve with spaghetti sauce topped with parmesan cheese.

Oil a 9"x13" pan, pour in the rice mixture, sprinkle with more parmesan cheese and dot with butter. Bake in 350 degree oven for 20 minutes or until brown.

Educators Plan Saturday Session

Dr. Uvaldo Palomares will be the keynote speaker, Feb. 17 at Siena Heights College when county educators engage in a workshop on building self-concepts.

The workshop, sponsored by the Lenawee County Professional Development Council, is in response to needs which county educators identified in a questionnaire which the council circulated.

Palomares is a former school teacher, migrant laborer, college professor, author, educational psychologist, intercultural arbitrator in Washington, educational innovator, consultant to the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights and the Office of H ealth, Education and Welfare.

He created the Magic Circle/Human Development Program and is currently president of the Human Development Training Institute in California and New York.

Workshop goals are to teach participants how to recognize and identify poor mental health and poor self concept behaviors, and to demonstrate ways to improve mental health and build positive self-image.

County educators, including both teachers and administrators, will hear the keynote speech, then move into small group workshop learning sessions.

In these groups, educators will experience and learn classroom management techniques to build self-concept, communications skills and other ideas and information about effectively working with others.

GM STOCK PLAN — "1975" class savings-stock purchase portfolio highlights are pointed out by plant manager William J. Polk to Lorrain Wesson and Robert Schyett, second shift supervisors, trim fabrication at Fisher Body Tecumseh Plant.

Stock Return Benefits Workers

Chairman Thomas A. Murphy announced that $307.3 million is either being paid or kept in trust for 94,300 U.S. salaried employes participating in the 1975 Class of the General Motors Savings-Stock Purchase Program that matured Dec. 31, 1978.

Of these employes, 65,700 elected immediate distribution and will receive GM common stock, government bonds and cash valued at about $217 million.

The average overall return of this distribution to the employe is the equivalent of $2.19 for every dollar saved by participating employes during 1975, Murphy said.

Eighty employes of the GM Fisher Body plant in Tecumseh accumulated a total payout of $237,392 and employe savings of $108, 431 under the program.

Since inception of the program in 1955, employes have saved over $3 billion. This sum, together with the GM contribution, has been used to purchase about 52 million shares of GM common stock and $1.5 billion in U.S. Government bonds.

Currently, 88 percent of GM's U.S. salaried employes -- saving an average of 7 percent of their salaries -- are participating in the program.

Generally, salaried employes with six months or more of employment are eligible to participate in the program on a voluntary basis, with savings permitted up to 10 percent of their salary.

On each dollar currently invested by an employe, the corporation adds 60 cents. A similar program is available for salaried employes in Canada.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

To some people of Clinton. Shame, shame on the greedy, money hungry people of Clinton. A fine example they are setting for our young people to follow. Thinking of only self gain. Little or no respect for the ideals of the men and women that gave so much.

We have a son in the Army, a foster son we raised in the Marines. We tried to raise our children to respect other people's property and what a shame it would be to have them come home to an asphalt park. A desecrated park for our war heros defiled by the greedy.

How low can humanity sink. How soon we forget those that gave so much.

Nadine Bancroft
12579 Clinton

To the Editor:

There are lots of people who want to save our Memorial Park in Clinton.

At the last Clinton Village Council meeting there were representatives from the American Legion, the Lady's Auxiliary and the property owners. But there was no mention of this in last weeks issue of the Local.

You might also ask anyone who has played in the park or had a loved one whose name used to be written on the memorial.

But it seems the people have lost their rights in this town. The Village Council meeting was living proof that money talks.

And there is only one man in Clinton on the Village Council that really cares to listen and act for the people. Thank you Mr. Stout.

The people had better start waking up to just what is happening here in our little village. We voted in people on our Village Council that have moved out here from the city because they couldn't stand the concrete and now want to cover up our little bit of green in town with more asphalt.

By the look of the front page of the Clinton Local last week anyone can see the park would be an advantage to the bank with the enlargement of the bank into the bank's parking lot. A $1,000 is a pretty cheap price the Chamber of Commerce is paying for the park. That is what it boils down to.

Just how much can you put on another person giving up their lives for our country. If they move Memorial Park I just wonder what will be next.

Is there no respect or moral feelings left anymore?

God help your young people.

Norleen Hicks

(Editor's note: The Tecumseh Herald did print mention of those who attended the Village Council meeting.)

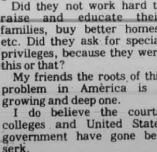
The Pastor's Study



By Rev. R. Richard Case
Britton Congregational Church

"THAT'S ME"

According to Mr. Webster, the word "minority" is defined in this manner: "A group consisting of less than 50 percent of the total number".

Well, then what is a minority supposed to be? It certainly appears to me that Americans with German heritage must be a minority. That's Me.

Those with blue eyes are not numbering over 50 percent, so again, that's me.

Certainly my profession is one less populated, men of the cloth. That's me.

I am a Christian. They number much less than 50 percent of the world's population, that's me.

Yes my friend, I'm gettting to be like the rest of you, a bit sick and tired of hearing the old "minority" cry.

When my grandfather came to this great land, he was a "Kraut", but did this stop him? No, he went straight to work, tilled the ground and a few years later, he sold the farm and began a cement contracting business.

Granddad did quite well. At 62 he retired, quite well off. What did it? Hard work with no special privileges.

The same applies to all those other folks from Italy, Ireland, Poland, Greece and many, many more foreign countries. (By the way, we gave them nicknames, too.)

Did they not work hard to raise and educate their families, buy better homes, etc. Did they ask for special privileges, because they were this or that?

My friends the roots of this problem in America is a growing and deep one.

I do believe the courts, colleges and United States government have gone berserk.

But furthermore, I believe they all owe me and my children something extra and special. You see I'm a minority, that's me. And aren't we all?

Britton Loses Three Matches

It was a rough week for Britton's volleyball team as they dropped a double match to Whitmore Lake Monday and lost to Summerfield Thursday.

Monday, the girls just weren't warmed up for the first match as Whitmore ran over the Tories 15-7, 15-0. The girls came back with much better execution the second match but still lost, 15-12, 13-15, 15-13.

Patty Armstrong had 16 service points for the Britton squad. Janene Schultz captured top honors at the net with eight spiked points from setter Armstrong.

The JV's won their match, 16-14, 15-9. Anita Denny had 11 service points and Suzie Oswald had eight.

Against Summerfield Thursday, the varsity girls just never got started as they lost 15-10, 15-5.

Schultz had three spikes that led to scores. Armstrong and Sue Vallie notched five service points each.

Britton plays a double match at Deerfield Monday after hosting Dundee Thursday.

Tories Lose Two, Drop Record to 3-6

Britton's basketball squad played hard this week but suffered two losses. Friday Northwood defeated them 63-48 and Tuesday Whitmore Lake edged the Tories 45-43.

Friday, Britton got double scoring from Randy Dusseau with 12, Troy Bailey with 11 and David Bruce with 10. That was not enough, however, as Northwood hit 12 of 15 from the floor the last frame for the victory.

Britton was down six, 31-37 going into that last surge of Northwood's. They just couldn't catch up as the Tories hit 17 points that last frame to their host's 26.

Britton was 19 of 51 from the floor for 37 percent. Northwood was 2 of 60.

In the game Tuesday at Britton with Whitmore Lake, the Tories got off to a bad start and trailed 14-2 at the end of the first quarter.

They were down 30-16 at half before coming within three twice in the third frame and within one the last quarter. They just couldn't get that bucket to ever go ahead.

Dusseau had 12 points for the Tories and Bailey had 10. Greg Fanslau had seven boards.

Britton was 20 of 66 for 30 percent from the floor. Whitmore was 21 of 50. Each team hit three free throws with Britton's seven attempts and Whitmore's eight.

Britton's record now falls to 6-10, 3-6 in the league. They travel to Adrian-Madison Friday.

THS Girls Win Two, Lose One

The Indian volleyball team met Lumen Christi Tuesday night in a rescheduled game. The girls lost that match, but notched two victories earlier this week.

Tuesday, the girls were just too inconsistent as Christi scored 15-10, 15-7 to win in two games. The JV's also lost. Their scores were 15-11, 15-12.

In earlier games, Kathy Perry served 14 points of the first game Wednesday against New Boston Huron to lead her team to an eventual 15-3, 15-8 win.

Kris McDonald also scored high for the Indians when she served eight in a row the second match.

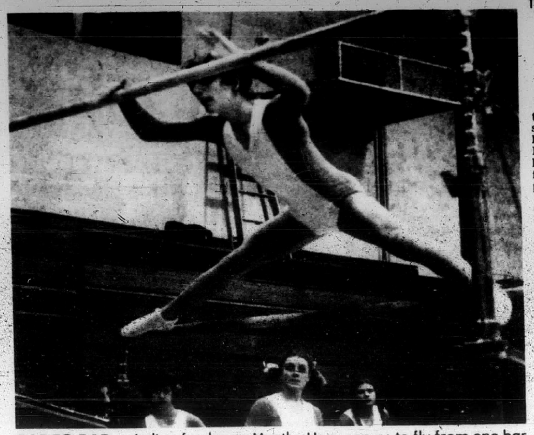
The JV's won their match. Laurie Burack had 12 service points for the young Indians in their 15-4, 15-6 win.

Then against Flat Rock Monday, the Indians easily handled their visitors the first game, 15-6. The second game was a scare for the girls when they led 12-5 but had to hold on to win 16-14 after Flat Rock tied the score at 14 all.

Therese Rapin turned in a fine performance for the Tecumseh team. She got the last two serving points for the second victory and served 10 total points.

Again the JV's won, 15-5, 15-4. Kendra Anderson was the top server with seven points. Della Righter and Kelly Fosbender each added five.

The girls next go after Airport at home Monday and then play at Grosse Ile Wednesday.



BAR TO BAR — Indian freshman Martha Hans seems to fly from one bar to the next above. Hans did not place in the bars but did turn in top performances for the Indians against Christi Thursday and again against Hillsdale Monday in floor exercises. (PHOTOS BY KENT DOWNING)

Indians Cruise by Grosse Ile

The Indian basketball team was without the services of starter John Ely Friday night against Grosse Ile. That did not stop them, however, as they got double figure scoring from four players for an easy 83-55 win.

Jeff Osworth and Mark Creswell each hit 16 points for the Indians while teammates Tom Maves and Ron Smith pumped in 13 points apiece.

The Indians worked the ball inside very well Friday and mounted a 17-6 first quarter and 43-16 halftime edge. The Indians then out scored Grosse Ile by one point, 40-39 for the final 28 point edge.

Tecumseh hit 28 of 51 attempts from the floor for 55 percent. From the line, the Indians hit 27 of 42 attempts. The Red Devils fell way short from the line as they hit only seven of 13 attempts on Tecumseh's 17 fouls.

The Indians are still in sole possession of first place with a 9-1 record. Monroe CC is right behind with an 8-2 record.

The Indians host two teams this next week, last place Carlson Friday and next to last place Monroe Jefferson Tuesday. Their records are 1-9 and 2-8.

THS Gymnasts Win Two Meets

A justly proud Indian gymnastic team captured two wins this week. They beat Lumen Christi Thursday 79.9-72.75 and Hillsdale Monday 74.65-72.3.

Thursday by event, on the bars, Joanie Spence took first with a 7.15, Joanie Rapin second at 6.4 and Judy Harris third at 6.0.

Beam, first Sue Erb with a 6.6, Debbie Patton fourth with a 5.7 and Rapin fifth at 5.6.

Vault, Patton second with a 7.35, Theresa Dangler third at 7.3 and Rapin fourth at 7.2.

Floor exercises, Martha Hans second at 7.25, Beckie Schneirla third at 6.8 and Rapin fifth at 6.55.

Monday by event, vault, Patton was third at 5.9, Dangler fourth at 5.75 and Hans fifth at 5.0.

Bars, Rapin was second at 7.15 behind Hillsdale's first place performance from Marie Reed. Reed scored 8.7. Harris was third at 6.15 and Nancy Phelan was fourth at 5.7.

On the beam, Patton was third at 5.55, Erb was fourth at 5.5 and Schneirla was fifth at 5.3.

Floor exercises, Hans tied for first at 7.5, Schneirla was third with a 7.4 and Dangler was fourth at 7.15.

The girls have a rescheduled match Thursday, at home against Columbia Central. After Central, they travel to Vandercook Lake, next Wednesday.

THS WINS — Judy Harris took third place with this bar routine Thursday and then repeated the third place performance Monday against Hillsdale. The Tecumseh girls won both meets.

Clinton Beats Blissfield for LCAA Championship

The Clinton basketball team ran away with two victories and the LCAA championship title this week.

The wins push the Redskin's record to 10-0 in the league, 12-0 overall. They still have two league games to play, but second place Blissfield is three games behind.

Friday, four Redskins scored in double figures against Morenci with Mark Dettling capturing top honors with 16. Mike Karapas added 13, Jeff Porterfield 12 and Dave Porter 10. Dettling and Porter each grabbed 11 boards.

Clinton actually started that game with an 8-2 deficit before gradually tying the score in the second quarter. They executed a good fast break and ran good defense to turn the game into a one sided 83-59 victory.

Clinton was 37 of 65 from the floor for 57 percent. They were nine of 18 from the line. Morenci was 23 of 70 from the floor and 13 of 22 from the line.

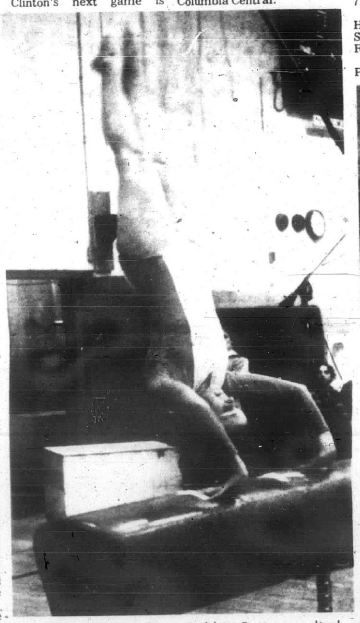
Tuesday against Blissfield, Clinton blew a 12 point lead in the second quarter and ended up down one point at half, 27-26. At the tip, however, Clinton grabbed the ball and took it down to score.

From then on, Clinton led as much as 10 and Blissfield could come only within six. Clinton won that match by eight, 58-50.

Porter played one of his best games Tuesday as he added 14 rebounds to his 20 points. Doug Mowrey came off the bench and played very well for the Redskins, scoring 14 points. Porterfield added 11 and Dettling also hit double figures with 10 points.

Clinton was 22 of 50 from the floor for 44 percent. From the line, the Redskins hit 14 of 25 attempts for 56 percent. Blissfield was 21 of 46 and eight of 13 from the line.

Clinton's next game is Tuesday at home with Columbia Central.



EXCELLENT SCORE — Debbie Patton vaulted her way to a second place finish Thursday against Christi with a very high 7.35 score.

Finish 4th in League

Like the Indian basketball team, the THS wrestlers are doing much better than anyone expected this year. They're not first in their league, but the unexperienced squad has steadily improved and ended up taking fourth place overall in the league this week.

The wrestlers were actually only in fifth place going into the league meet Saturday. Then they took one individual championship, two second places, three thirds and three fourths.

They finished with 124 points to take third place in the meet and that pushed them up one place in the final standings for the league.

Coach Pat Connors stated that his "wrestlers did very, very well" and specifically applauded Jack Bagby and Chris Silberhorn for their performances.

Bagby turned in the Indian's lone championship weight win at 132 pounds. He out-wrestled Gail Cagle of Huron 7-4. Cagle placed fourth in the state meet for Huron last year.

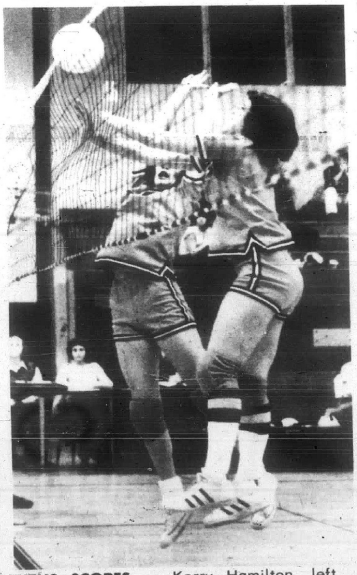
Silberhorn finished second for the Indians. Silberhorn is a first year wrestler but beat his Monroe man 2-1 in overtime.

Other finishers for the Indians were Randy Halvin, second at 178. Marty Barrett, Matt Barrett and Tony Turner each finished third., Stewart Williamson, Don Ringman and Tim Steuwe each took fourth places.

Earlier in the week, the Indians beat Flat Rock 44-24 to end their regular league season.

Wins for the Indians went to Kevin Williamson, Ringman, Lenny Castorena, Barrett, Bagby, John Southard, Silberhorn, Steuwe and Halvin.

The wrestlers now travel to Dearborn for the districts Saturday.



THS SCORES — Kerry Hamilton, left, and Sandy MacGeore go up for the dink against Flat Rock Monday night. The Indians won the match 15-6, 16-14.

Place Second in Tourney

Clinton wrestled Onsted Thursday and easily won 45-15. Then they traveled to their league meet Saturday to take second behind Addison.

The Redskin wrestlers must still make up a match against Blissfield and that outcome will effect the standings of the other teams in the league.

Thursday, Clinton took all but three matches for their 45 point win. Winners for the Redskins were Rick Armstrong, Devin Schindler, Clayton Semanske, Mark Pritchard, Lee Russ and Jeff VanSickle.

Saturday, Clinton posted 142½ points to Addison's winning 198½. Hudson was third at 115.

First place finishes for the Clinton squad went to Rick Armstrong and Clayton Semanske.

REACHING TOWARD GOD

Copyright 1979 Keister Advertising Service, Strasburg, Virginia

People keep teaching their children to say their prayers at bedtime; but how many do it themselves?

Maybe sometimes they pray in the darkness, silently, so that no one will know. But why the secrecy? Because prayer is a very deep, personal kind of expression? Because we reveal ourselves through it?

The truth is that more of us sense the reaching of our souls toward God than have yet openly admitted our religious need.

Why wait? In church you can pray alone or with others . . . in darkness or in light. But always in peace . . . reaching toward God.

Drivers Exceed Limit, Say Village Residents

by Kathy Brown

RIDGEWAY — Something is different on the horizon in Ridgeway. A lower speed limit, 40 mph, became enforceable Dec. 28 when the state highway department posted the new signs at the east and west village approaches on M-50.

The lower speed limit, reduced from 50 mph, is something local residents say that they have struggled to get for years.

But in the six weeks since the signs were posted, villagers have not noticed much change in the speed of traffic traveling through the town, whose spot on the map is marked by a yellow blinker light that cautions motorists to slow down at the village intersection where buildings set close to the highway.

Some villagers admitted that they themselves did not notice the reduced speed limit. And apparently they are not alone. An accident report by the Lenawee County sheriff's department noted that the speed limit is 45 miles per hour.

Why are the residents so concerned?

They are afraid that their school age children will become injured or killed in accidents that villagers say happen requently.

Though none of the reported traffic accidents that occurred at the intersection in the last three years has involved a child pedestrian, long time village residents recall the deaths of three children that happened as long as 30 years ago, after school hours. According to villagers, the children disregarded traffic.

The village of Ridgeway is about four miles east of Tecumseh. It has one intersection on state highway M-50 at Ridge Road, marked by the blinker light. Inbound motorists are to slow down from 55 mph to 40 mph.

The Ridgeway Elementary School is located about 1/10 of a mile west of the intersection. It has 200 children, grades kindergarten through six, enrolled in the Tecumseh School District.

Nine children are regular "crossers" on M-50. The others are bussed to school. After school hours, the walkers are assisted in front of the school by at least one of four sixth grade student crossing guards wearing white safety belts.

At one time, walkers numbered 35, according to Lois Fleming, principal of 13 years. "We've tried to keep track of the kids (that walk)," she said. "I think the traffic is slower than it used to be because of the lower speed limit all over. But the traffic here still looks fast.

"People are aware of the kids crossing due to the PTO. Our kids are super aware of traffic, probably more than the kids in town," she added.

At the urging of the Ridgeway Parent Teacher Organization, the Ridgeway Township Board donated $500 to the school district to employ an adult crossing guard on a one year, trial basis in 1975-76 school year.

Meanwhile, the number of walkers has declined due to the school bus program and school dismissal time is earlier so children leave before the exodus of Tecumseh industrial traffic through Ridgeway.

The most recent development in the Ridgeway traffic situation was the 40mph speed limit posted late last year. Neighbors credit the persistence of Brenda DeLisle, 8305 East Monroe Road, who received the support of the Ridgeway PTO.

The family moved from Blissfield late in summer 1977. A son, Adam, 8, crosses M-50 across to the school.

"What really surprised me was that (the villagers) tried with petitions in the past and nothing was done" to lower the speed, said Mrs. DeLisle.

Betty DeJonghe wrote a letter and Mrs. DeLisle made two calls in September 1977. The district traffic and safety office, Michigan Department of Transportation in Jackson began to investigate. Mrs. DeLisle said she continued to call "until they got to know my voice."

After a radar speed study and field investigation, Larry Suboski, traffic and safety engineer and Sgt. Robert Fitzgerald of the State Police, recommended June 8, 1978 a reduced speed limit of 40 mph. Signs were posted six months later.

The PTO has discussed reinstating an adult patrol guard and getting the state to put up a flashing school light. Neither would be operative after school hours when uncounted child pedestrians use the school playground, visit friends across the road, walk to the corner store and post office or township library.

Flashers are put up only "when there is a demonstrated problem, a concentration of accidents or near misses, a concentration or large number of walkers," explained Suboski.

"Not to diminish the concerns of the parents, but you have to be selective when putting up flashers. Otherwise you could have a series of flashes down the road.

Another alternative is a safety program in school, individual teachers have an opportunity to discuss pedestrian safety, materials are ordered and kindergarten and first grade teachers annually invite police to speak on safety, told Mrs. Fleming.

Newspaper Needs Writer for Britton

BRITTON — A correspondent for Britton and area is needed by The Herald. Pat Yarckow, correspondent in recent months, has resigned, unfortunately.

Anyone interested is urged to contact Jim Lincoln at The Herald, 423-2174 or 423-2175, for an interview and discussion of the position.

This parttime position is not rewarding unless one considers the service that is provided to the community and schools. Properly planned a few hours a week is required to gather and report the news if news sources are cooperative with the correspondent.

No experience is required to be a correspondent. The Herald will offer sufficient advice and help to make the work as easy as possible.

Karl Sanders, 12273 Knipfen Rd., Britton, a Britton-Macon High School senior, will enter the United States Army upon graduation. He will train in Fort Knox, Ky. as a tracked vehicle mechanic.

BIG BAND ENTERTAINMENT — Rev. Case, above, hosted a program of 1930's and 40's big band music Sunday to the delight of a packed church. The program was titled "Yesterdays with Rev. Case."

B&Es Again in Tecumseh

Breaking and enterings again dotted the police blotter the past week when two B&Es were investigated and two attempts were reported.

Tecumseh Camera Shop was victimized again early Thursday night and the party or parties were nearly caught as local and state police arrived on the scene moments after learning of the B&E.

Police found the rear door to the shop open and inside a camera show case broken into. Owner Charles Saling reported nothing taken, however.

A tracking dog from the sheriff's department followed the escape route down a seldom used alley in the area.

Shortly before this downtown break-in, officers responded to a possible B&E at the Tecumseh Community Health Study building on N. Evans St. Police found a broken window there and were still there when notified of the Tecumseh Camera Shop break-in.

Friday, Ivan Bugbee of Bug's Super Service reported the front door of his service station kicked in. Two boxes of candy were found missing.

Just after midnight Sunday, a front window at the A&P was smashed by a heavy milk carton. Investigation has led officers to believe that entry was not gained.

Other complaints recorded were:

Feb. 15 — Don Heistand, 3831 Monroe Rd., was bitten by a dog while walking on S. Evans St. He was treated at Herrick Hospital. Owner of the dog, Vera Steele, 609 S. Evans, was told to keep the dog confined.

Feb. 17 — Guadalupe Avale, 23, Adrian, was arrested for drunk driving after driving on the wrong side of Russell Rd.

Feb. 19 — William Davis of the Tecumseh High School maintenace department, reported tire chains stolen from a tractor there. Chains were valued at $70.

Feb. 20 — Garry L. Humphres, 21, of 7790 Monroe Rd., was cited for having open intoxicants in a vehicle after police stopped his car in a private drive at 417 N. Evans.

Select 11 Buildings for May Promenade

Eleven historic buildings will be on tour May 19 and 20 during Promenade the Past in Tecumseh.

Included in the fourth annual tour will be seven homes, four of which are examples of Italianate style; two churches, one used as a business; and two other historic buildings used by businesses. Eight of the structures have not been on the tour before.

The oldest building on tour is the C.A. Stacy House, built in 1848 and "youngest" are the B.J. Pulver House built in 1912 and the Cobblestone Catholic Mission built in 1913.

Sponsors for the tour are the Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce, the Tecumseh Area Historical Society and the Presbyterian Woman's Association.

The tour will begin at the First United Presbyterian Church. The gothic revival building circa 1865 is located on W. Chicago Blvd. It first served as tour headquarters during the first Promenade in 1976 and was completely restored for the 1977 tour.

The Richard Marks Stained Glass studio, which did restorative work on the Presbyterian Church, is located in the second church on the tour, Tecumseh's first Catholic Church, a cobblestone structure built in 1913. It was on tour in 1977 and 1978. Visitors have had the opportunity to watch stained glass artists create their work. It's address is E. Chicago Blvd.

Another repeat on the tour is the C.A. Stacy House, 710 W. Chicago Blvd. Owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Worley, the Italianate Villa Style is the oldest of four houses on the tour in this style, built in 1848.

The Bidwell Exchange built in 1852, is another example of Italianate in the bracketed style. This business block has been the anchor of the corners of S. Evans and W. Chicago Blvd. in Tecumseh since it was erected.

It was recently restored by D.E. Limpert of Manchester. It is now the location of a series of small shops and services located in a mini-mall interior setting.

The third oldest example of Italianate architecture on the tour is the William Hayden House, built in 1862 at 108 W. Pottawatamie. Owned by Mrs. Carlton Cook, it is being used as an apartment housing.

Hayden was owner of Hayden Mills, one of the earliest and most vital businesses to the Tecumseh area from 1836 through 1977.

The fourth example of Italianate architecture on the tour is the J.S. Strong House built in 1878 and owned by Mrs. E.J. Aebersold, 109 S. Union.

Sutton Place, a Georgian style home on Sutton Road at Raisin Center Hwy., is the offices of Stauffer Chemical. Built in 1853, it is the only building on the tour located outside the city limits.

Other homes on the tour for the first time are according to age:

+ S. W. Anderson House, Victorian Gothic built 1880, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kline, 511 W. Chicago Blvd.

+ Carson Small Farms, a Victorian Farm House built in 1883, owned by Anne Carson, 509 E. Logan.

+ Jule Anderson House, Neo-Classical Revival built in 1900, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McDowell, 317 N. Union Street.

+ B.J. Pulver House, a bungalow built in 1912, owned by Elizabeth Wilson, 215 N. Union St.

Lapeer or Albion?

The city of Tecumseh lost in its bid to pair off with either the community of Marshall or St. Johns for the annual Mayor's Exchange Day during Michigan Week in May.

Mayor Aden Mead and Assistant City Manager Paul Preston will decide between Lapeer or Albion before the next Council meeting.

In the past Tecumseh has found itself matched with larger metropolitan suburbs with which it had little in common.

The Indians posted two wins this week to up their record to 11-1. Second place Monroe CC lost Tuesday and dropped to 8-3 in the league. With two games left, the Indians must win only once to be in sole possession of the league championship. Both games are away, this Friday and next. (PHOTO BY DEANE ERTS)

Need Non-Profit Group To Sponsor Elderly Housing

City Council received assurances on the city's proposed senior citizen housing project from Assistant City Manager Paul Preston Tuesday night.

He told the Tecumseh Housing Commission will meet Thursday to discuss recent developments.

Farmers Home Administration has not yet approved the city's pre-application for a $2.3 million mortgage loan for the project, but the federal agency is "setting aside the money" for the city's project, Preston said.

The project now needs a non-profit corporation to sponsor the project, a requirement Preston said surprised him. "When we started this project, one of the reasons was because public bodies (such as the city) could qualify for the mortgage loan. But I don't think it will be a big problem," said Preston.

"The housing commission feels that elderly housing is important and sees this requirement as a vehicle to obtain it."

He told Council preliminary talks were held with groups in the community that could qualify as a non-profit.

Second, Preston said that FmHA does not normally finance more than a two-story building. However, the city's four-story project could still qualify if it proves that a two-story, two building facility is not practical or economical.

Preston believes the city could build a case for this. "Considering the average age of the pre-applicants is 73, we would like to have an elevator in the building."

A two-story building would not be convenient for residents to get to common areas such as recreation rooms, Preston added.

Regarding the finances of the project, Preston learned that the city is not required to charge only 25 percent of the individual's income for rent. A tennant could pay more if willing.

This may enable the city to provide rental subsidies to those who are in greatest need.

From the pre-applications, Preston found 59 of 81 would qualify for some amount of subsidy. He projected that 42 subsidies would be needed.

This does not include the 23 subsidies with no dollar limit set that FmHA earmarked for the Tecumseh project.

Whelan Open House March 2

March 2 marks the open house celebration at the new facility for the Hoyt E. Whelan implement company.

The local John Deere dealer is located at 106 N. Occidental in the city of Tecumseh.

The spacious seven-acre site affords the 60-year-old business a main operations building with 21,000 square feet for show room, offices, parts and service departments. That is four times as big as the 5,000 square feet facility vacated on West Logan St.

The facility, about 1½ years in the planning, was designed to make traffic and material flow more efficient, told owner Dick Whelan.

A telex machine gives the company contact with its Moline, Ill. headquarters for direct ordering or contact with any John Deere dealer. A microfiche system is used to locate currently held in store inventory.

Energy saving measures such as fans to recirculate heat to lower levels and insulation were used in the store's construction which took seven months.

The company employs 15 full-time employes.

Hoyt W. Whelan Company is the oldest John Deere Agency in Michigan.

Hoyt E. Whelan started the business in 1919 on Evans Street. In 1927, the business moved to West Logan Street.

When Hoyt died Oct. 4, 1928, his wife, Florence, managed the business until their son, Fay, graduated from Michigan State University in 1931. He continued the business at that time. In 1948, a new store was constructed at the West Logan location.

In 1954, Fay's son, Richard, began working in the business and in 1969, he bought it from his father who then retired.

The John Deere company was founded by the inventor of the first successful street plow in 1837. Since that first plow, there have been many changes in the farming industry and farm implements.

In the last 10 years, the consumer product line has expanded to include grills, snowmobiles, clothing, toys, lawnmowers, space heaters, welders and high pressure washers.

Assessments Up, Could Increase Our Taxes, Too!

Taxes are going up.

Tentative equalization factors released last week by the county, reveal that Tecumseh's real estate properties are scheduled for nearly a 15 percent increase in assessment.

Robert Hamden, city assessor, says the final factor figure will be quite small when he's finished with his assessing and reports them to the county next month.

Although commercial property here has been assessed at 40 percent of actual value, according to the county, it will be increased as will industrial and residential properties.

Assessments are supposed to be 50 percent of true value. Industrial is currently 46 percent and residential 43 percent, according to the county. Overall, a 13 percent increase has been recommended.

Tentative factors released have Seneca and Adrian townships with the highest, 33 and 28 percent respectively, for the cities. Hudson's 15.5 percent is slightly higher than Tecumseh's 14.7 percent.

Other tentative factors are:

Clinton township — 17.1 percent.
Franklin township — 19.7
Macon township — 13.4 percent.
Raisin township — 9.7 percent.
Ridgeway township — 15.5 percent.
Tecumseh township — 21.1 percent.

Commission Lists 4 Goals for 1979

Four 1979 goals for the Historic Preservation Commission were outlined for Tecumseh City Council Tuesday night in the commission's first year end report.

1. Design of landmark plaques.
2. Develop a brochure "How to Research a House"
3. Investigate steps to establish a historic commercial district on Chicago Blvd. between Pearl and Oneida Streets.
4. Study expanding the historic district to include part or most of West Pottawatamie and West Kilbuck Streets.

Appointed early in 1978, the commission prepared application and rating forms for Tecumseh historic landmarks according to the city's historic district ordinance.

Two landmark designations were granted. One to the Robert and Betty Kline residence, 511 W. Chicago Blvd. and one to James C. Beardsley family, 401 W. Chicago Blvd.

As a matter of policy, the commission will help property owners find source of information to document the history of their historic buildings toward landmark designation, but work must be done by the applicant.

Toward this end, the brochure on researching a house will be developed.

Plaques to designate landmarks should be durable, or copper or bronze and uniform, the commission concluded. Design and production are the responsibility of the Tecumseh Area Historical Society, it further agreed.

An important function of the commission is to review requests for building permits for exterior alterations in the Historic District. These will be forwarded by the city assessor, Robert Hamden, when warranted.

Larry C. Beardslee, 505 W. Chicago was the first to consult the commission on detailed plans for alteration of his home. Commission gave preliminary approval.

Within the scope of the commission's work was a review of the plans to restore the Bidwell Exchange, owned by D.E. Limpert of Manchester.

The commission visited Manchester to see examples of his restoration work.

Completed in October, the building is now almost completely occupied by small businesses.

The Tecumseh Historic Preservation Commission meets the third Thursday of each month at 7:30 a.m. at Don's Beef Buffet.

Members are: Richard Lewis, Theresa Powers, Lynn Cook, Earl Mason, Edna Smith and Michelle Worley.

Diane Proctor was recently appointed by Council to fill the board vacancy of Millie Saksewski who completed her one year term.

VFW Handling 'Memorial' Parade

Selecting a marshal for the Memorial Day parade was the most debated topic at Tuesday's City Council meeting.

Council learned that the Hall-Slater VFW Post volunteered for the job.

The Underwood-Orr American Legion Post in Tecumseh declined and the new Lions Club offered assistance to whomever the city designated marshal.

Council voted 4 "yes", 2 "no" to appoint the VFW as marshal. Councilmembers Harold Easton and James Palmer cast the dissenting votes.

Councilmember Mary Bowers was absent from the meeting, still recovering from surgery.

Easton said it would be more appropriate that a non-veteran group plan the parade held annually in honor of the veterans. Having the veterans do it would be like "planning your own birthday party," Easton said.

Palmer suggested that a city official be appointed marshal to assure the parade would continue as a city tradition.

The majority of Council was glad that someone in the community still wanted the job and was willing to accept the VFW's offer.

Schools Close

Although Sunday's snow was light, winds that evening caused rural roads to drift and closed the Tecumseh and Britton schools on Monday.

Warmest day of the new year was Wednesday, when a light rain, sometimes freezing, pelted the area. Temperatures rose to the mid-30s, melting some of the ice and snow that remain as reminders of the cold winter.

Wednesday's warming temperatures were not expected to continue as more cold weather and snow have been predicted.

City Reviewing 'Courtland' Plat

The preliminary plat for Courtland Place will be considered by Tecumseh City Council at its March 5 regular meeting.

The 100-lot development is planned for the area commonly called the Goodacre Farm on the north side of Burt Street.

Developers plan 96 single family lots and four lots for multiple unit housing. The plan represents something new to Tecumseh. It will feature cul-de-sac streets and recreation facilities such as tennis courts and jogging paths for residents of the planned community.

Richard Heglin of Tecumseh is president of Tecumseh Development Group, Inc., project developer.

Tecumseh Planning Commission has already approved the preliminary plat.

Improvements Are Proposed

A tentative list of capital improvements for the city of Tecumseh's 1980 budget was reviewed by Council Tuesday night.

Council will consider the shopping list of improvements before the city's final adoption of the budget after a public hearing in May.

Included in the list were bituminous recap for sections of Red Mill, Maumee, Union Streets, cemetery drives, North Ottawa parking lots;

Completing construction of the industrial drive, Mill Hwy. and the Russell Road bridge;

Painting city hall trim, the fire station and tucking point on the community center;

Working on one of the city wells, painting water tanks.

Total cost of these capital improvements is estimated at $223,981.

Honoring Rev. Fox

The Rev. David Fox will be honored at a farewell social hour at St. Peter's Episcopal Church where he has been rector for the past five years.

He will deliver his last sermon Sunday, March 4. A social hour will be held in the hall after the 10 a.m. service.

Mr. Fox and his family will move to Tulsa, Okla. where he will assume duties as pastor of another church.

Meeting March 1

The next scheduled meeting for the Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will be held March 1, 7:30 a.m., at Don's Beef Buffet. The meeting is open to the public.

Mission Convention Begins Thursday

A Missions Convention will be held at the Tecumseh Assembly of God Church, on the corner of Rogers Hwy., and Chicago Blvd. in Tecumseh, March 1, 2 and 4.

The Rev. Lynn White, home missions pastor from Chesterfield, Mich., will start the convention off Thursday evening.

Friday evening, March 2, the Rev. Henry Linderman, missionary to Paris, France, will share his work with Teen Challenge as well as International Correspondence Institute.

Both evening services start at 7:30 p.m.

Martha Underwood, missionary to Nigeria, West Africa, will speak in the Sunday morning service at 10:45 a.m., March 4. She will share her experiences in working with missionaries children in the Hillcrest School there in Nigeria.

Pastor R.H. Warnick extends a warm welcome to all to come to the Missions Convention, March 1, 2 and 4 at Tecumseh Assembly of God.

The engagement of Susan Ann Palmer and Jeffrey Alan Peavey is announced by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Murray Palmer Jr. 5546 Milwaukee.

Bride-elect is a 1977 Tecumseh graduate and is attending Ferris State College. Mr. Peavey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Peavey, Jr., Mt. Pleasant. He is a graduate of Mt. Pleasant High School and attends Ferris State College. An August 25 wedding is planned at First Baptist Church, Tecumseh.

Antique Show Opens March 3

Theresa and Wesley Powers, 301 N. Union, have brought quite a breadth of experience to the first Antique Show they have organized for the Tecumseh Area Historical Society.

The couple has attended antique sales and flea markets from sea to shining sea, literally. The farthest they've gone to one is Hawaii, on vacation of course.

The Tecumseh show will be March 3, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Seventeen dealers from Jackson, Monroe, Hillsdale counties and the greater Toledo area will present their wares.

Most important of all, admission is free.

Among the specialties, visitors will find coins, finished furniture, children's antiques, antique guns, depression glass, china, postcards from the Lenawee County area, primitives, old fruit jars, bottles and baskets.

Dealers will display in U-shape booths designed with three tables.

Dr. Charles Lindquist of the Lenawee County Historical Museum will have a display on the new museum headquarters, the Adrian Carnegie Library.

Proceeds from the activity will be from the nominal rental fee charged the dealers.

A light refreshment concession, planned by the historical society, will supplement the proceeds which will be donated to the Fence Fund to restore the Pioneer Park and Brookside Cemetery wrought iron fences.

The Powersees were pleased with the response from area dealers. In fact, they have a waiting list. They hope that area readers will be as receptive to the ideas of a local antique show, come and browse and ask dealers questions.

The couple started the job by contacting people they met at other shows. A couple of friends in Dundee were especially helpful.

Publicity has been circulated to area media. Flyers were distributed in area antique shows and the Toledo malls.

Volunteers are needed to help with clean up after the Saturday's show.

The Powers family, including son Jeremy, 18-month-old, reside in a historic home on North Union. Last year their home was on tour in Promenade the Past. Theresa serves on the Historic Commission.

Area Obituary

HARVEY LEWIS

Services were Feb. 19 at the Purse Funeral Home for Harvey Lewis, 84, of 9474 Britton Hwy., Tecumseh. He died Feb. 17 at Herrick Hospital.

Mr. Lewis was born Sept. 22, 1894 in Somerset, Ky., to Charles and Hattie (Orendorff) Lewis.

July 31, 1919 he married Mabel Fluhrer in Palmyra. She died in 1976.

Mr. Lewis resided in the Holloway area most of his life. He was a fruit grower and operated the Lewis Orchards in Holloway for many years.

He was a veteran of World War I, serving in the U.S. Army, and a member of the World War I Barracks No. 2254 of Adrian.

Mrs. Lewis was also a former member of the Tecumseh American Legion and the Lenawee County Horticulture Society.

Survivors include one son, Dr. George Lewis of Comstock Park; two daughters, Mrs. Gail (Harriet) Austin of Tecumseh and Mrs. Allan (Virginia) Schmidt of Glen Lake, 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by one sister, two grandchildren, and LuLu Foot and Blanche Figgy, to whom he was married.

Burial was in Palmyra Cemetery.

Is it wise to plan my own funeral?

It was the Earl of Warwick who said there is nothing more certain than death and nothing more uncertain than the time of dying. He would be prepared for death at all times, he states, and his preparedness would not make him die the sooner, but the better.

This individual insight is very enlightening and practical. We have pre-planned funerals with many members of our community who share some of these same sentiments. Many have expressed great relief in their foresightedness. They say it's a comfort to know everything will be well-handled, and will cost no less and no more than you want it to be.

Rather than permit a third party to arrange things or cause your loved ones the anguish and painful burden of funeral details, you may wish to plan your own funeral down to the smallest details.

Escaping Flu

Although the Clinton elementary school closed Wednesday and is scheduled to be closed for the rest of the week, Tecumseh students are apparently escaping the flu bug and other communicable diseases that have forced a number of area schools to close recently.

Absenteeism in the local schools is up compared to the average rate, and absenteeism nearly doubled from Monday to Friday of last week. Supt. Robert Duhan reported absences of about 12 percent for last Monday, and Friday it was 23 percent.

Since schools were closed Monday by drifting snow, comparison of absenteeism of Friday to Tuesday's count is:

High school, 213 Friday, 230 Tuesday.

Junior high, 185 to 120.

Herrick Park, 83 to 99.

Patterson, 74 to 82.

Sutton, 81 to 68.

Tecumseh Acres, 82 to 81.

Tipton, 35 to 55.

Measles and chicken pox are blamed for the absences along with the flu.

Sponsor Carnival

The Tecumseh High School Student Council sponsored its annual Winter Carnival last Saturday in the THS gym.

Over two dozen different games and activities took place including an indoor moonwalk, eating contests, dance shows by the Modern Dance Club, movies and much, much more.

Any school-related club was permitted to rent a booth from the council. All profits from the club's booth went into their treasury. Even though a small amount of money was made on a few activities, the carnival itself is considered more of an activity than a fund-raising event.

The Medical Careers Club gave a portable television set, won by Judy Governo. The door prize, a 10-speed bike from Tecumseh Ace Hardware, was won by Charles Hunt.

Cindy Anschuetz was winner of the penny guess. She won a clock radio for her guess of $60.03. The total number of pennies was $61.02.

The marshmallow, pretzel and banana eating contests were won by Mike Hoffman, Tim Deming, and Andy Neilson respectively. Each was a cash prize.

Nearly 1,000 people attended the carnival.

A Winter Carnival dance will be held this Saturday for Tecumseh High School students.

Order Car for Police

Tecumseh City Council decided to order its next police car through the state purchasing plan.

City expects delivery on two cars about March 1 through state purchasing arrangement.

Delivery on the next new car is expected in June with a marginal cost increase expected over the last order.

Huttenlocher To Present Lion Charter

Lion District Governor Everell Huttenlocher will be in Tecumseh Feb. 24 to present the new Tecumseh Lions Club with its charter.

A dinner will be held at the American Legion Hall when each of the members will sign the charter.

The Irish Hills and Jackson Eye Openers Lions Clubs as co-sponsors will be here along with other district clubs to help Tecumseh celebrate their charter night.

B&H Requests Tax Exemption

B & H Manufacturing, Tecumseh's first plant to locate in the industrial park, requested Tuesday night a tax exemption under Michigan Public Act No. 198 of 1974.

City Council adopted a resolution that will begin the process with a public hearing March 19, 8 p.m. during the regular council meeting to hear public comment.

Jebco Manufacturing, which will locate at 610 S. Maumee was the first industry to receive such 50 percent tax break for 12 years, the maximum under the act.

B & H now plans to move to Tecumseh March 1.

Contribute to Restoration

Tecumseh City Council decided Tuesday night to contribute $800 toward the Tecumseh Area Historical Society's fence fund for repair of the city fences at Brookside Cemetery and Pioneer Park.

The society has already advanced $2,000 to John Kosirnik of Clinton who is doing the work of the wrought iron fences.

Total cost of the project is $3,800. The city's contribution represents 20 percent of the cost.

Public donations are being accepted by the society for the fund.

An antique show with free admission, is being held as a fundraiser March 3 at the Community Center. Proceeds from the booth rentals will be added to the fence fund. Historical Society is sponsor.

The occasion was the Morleys' 25th wedding anniversary. The couple was married Feb. 20, 1954.

Beside their daughter, Vickie, the couple's family includes Mrs. Chuck (Barbara) Locker of Tecumseh and three sons, Fred of Tecumseh and Chris and Bruce, both at home.

A family portrait of their five children and two grandchildren was presented to the honored couple.

Mr. Morley is employed at the Tecumseh Products and Mrs. Worley is a bus driver for Clinton public schools. They have spent their married life living in the Tecumseh-Clinton area.

Plan Orientation at THS Tuesday

Freshmen Orientation will be Feb. 27, beginning promptly at 7 p.m., at Tecumseh High School cafeteria.

Students and parents of students planning to enter the ninth grade at Tecumseh High School in fall of 1979 are urged to attend, said Principal Clarence Lacny.

Within the next two to three weeks, eighth grade students at the junior high school will schedule ninth grade classes with their counselors.

Tuesday's program is being held so that parents and students can find out together what the high school curriculum is all about.

Parents can learn how the selection of high school courses will affect their son or daughter's future education and career plans.

Parents' attendance is considered a first step in parents' interest in the student's high school career, valued by both the student and his advisors and teachers.

This will be the one and only opportunity for parents and students to learn together about subjects taught at THS and the role individual ability and motives play in selecting high school courses.

For example, college bound students will take different courses from students interested in vocational trades or business fields.

Tuesday's meeting will enable parents and students to ask questions of department chairmen and counselors, who will explain graduation requirements and course prerequisites. The program will conclude at 9 p.m. Afterward, parents and students will be welcome to a social hour. A tour of the high school will be optional at the end of the program.

3 Bands in Concert

The seventh and eighth grade bands and the freshmen band will perform Feb. 22 at 8 p.m. in concert at the high school gym.

No admission will be charged. The public is invited.

This is a pre-festival concert.

Richard Reamsnyder will direct the junior high bands. Jimmie Rice will direct the freshmen band.

March 3 the eighth grade and freshmen band will perform in a district Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association competition.

The engagement of Jennifer Jo Cook to Dale Phillip Aldrich is announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Carlton Cook, 140 W. Brown St. She is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and of St. Vincent's Hospital School of Nursing. She is a registered nurse on the staff of St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor. Mr. Aldrich is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aldrich of Mason. He is a representative for a pharmaceutical company and has a bachelor of science degree from Ferris State College. A May 5 wedding is planned at the First United Presbyterian Church, Tecumseh.

Taillights to Pistol

Driving here without tail lights on his car last Thursday night brought to the surface a number of problems for a Brooklyn youth.

After being stopped by Tecumseh police for the minor infraction, the record of Gordon D. Crenshaw, 18, surfaced.

After telling police that the vehicle he was driving had been stolen and he was returning it to the owner, a check showed the car had been stolen recently from a mall in Toledo.

Enroute to the Tecumseh police station, Crenshaw turned over an automatic pistol which had been wrapped up in his gloves in a coat pocket, and a knife. At the station, he revealed that the identification given the officers was false, and he had been using an alias.

A file on Crenshaw then showed the youth was wanted for parole violations from Jackson and Lansing. Toledo police also have an aggravated robbery charge against him along with car theft.

Crenshaw waived examination in district court Friday and is scheduled in Circuit Court on Friday morning at 8:30. He remains in the county jail.

Thru My Window

BY MARDA GENE DUNCAN

It was a fine grainy snow, the kind which has fallen on Tecumseh so often this winter. When our drapes were first opened that morning this storm was full-blown and it continued until mid-afternoon.

Because the flakes were so tiny they did not accumulate to the 'snow-bound' depth they would have, had they been large and fluffy; however, the weather was cold enough so that it was a dry snow and a howling wind soon whipped it into drifts and piles. Exciting to watch.

As might be expected, this was another morning when the birds received breakfast before Mom and I had ours. As it turned out, it was actually the squirrels who had breakfast more than the birds.

Hardly had the food settled to the feeding trays than bounding across the yard and scampering up the post came the first customer.

He was a big, heavy fur-coated squirrel whose tail seems shorter than most. He quickly settled himself down to the serious business of biting through the outer shell of the sunflower seeds and extracting the flavorful meats.

Of course, to teeth accustomed to gnawing through the tough shells of walnuts, sunflower seeds must seem as soft as butter.

It was not long until a second squirrel 'took up residence' on the other food tray. When the third tried to join the group there was trouble.

In fact, all the rest of the morning there were squirrels chasing each other, it was a wonder that Mom and I accomplished anything at all so busy was the action outside.

The squirrels must have felt half-playful. When ousted from the food trays they did not just jump, they leaped, almost like flying squirrels.

Often they cleared the bushes and landed halfway across the yard. It simply had to be fun.

Another thing that had to be fun was the way they crawled through the yews. These shrubs are thick now, and on this particular morning, snow covered. Icy too.

Often the third squirrel would scramble from one branch to another, work his way to one of the feeding platforms, poke his little head up over the edge of the tray and thus start another chase.

If somebody left he would take that feeder, but as often as not the intruder backed away.

While the squirrels were playing their version of 'musical chairs' the birds were on the ground eating food spilled from the trays, sitting patiently in the trees waiting their turn, or occasionally sneaking down to the feeders and grabbing a sunflower seed.

In the meantime the snow kept falling and the squirrels kept gorging themselves. It was interesting to note that two of the squirrels used their tails as umbrellas but the third never flipped his up over his back.

He simply let it lay on the tray with the snow coating it as well as his back. And yes, the large squirrel did indeed have a short tail, when raised over his back it barely reached his shoulders.

When finally the snow started letting up it was time for the food supply to be replenished. The squirrels, having eaten their fill, must have gone home for afternoon naps.

Once they left we never saw another one that day. As soon as the feeders were filled again we did see birds though. It turned into a super bird-watching afternoon. In fact, it was exactly the kind of bird-watching Mom and I most enjoy.

There was continual business at the feeding stations, everyone seemed concerned with eating and not fighting. It was a common sight to have Papa Cardinal, juncos, and chickadees at one tray while Mama Cardinal and more chickadees and perphaps even a mourning dove were on the other tray.

Bluejays did not allow for this communal dining of course but for a change the tree sparrows were quite sociable. Tufted titmice joined the group as did a small flock of winter-garbed goldfinches.

Several times a dapper little downy woodpecker came by to see what all the activity was about. The action was not confined merely to the feeders either — the trees were full of birds as were the yews beneath the feeders.

All in all, it was a wonderful exciting snowy day here where Logan Street meets Evans Creek.

Approximately 30 family members gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Robison Sunday, to surprise her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Gorton in honor of their silver wedding anniversary.

Charles (Bud) Gorton, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorton, Sr., and Janet Crittenden, daughter of Lewis Crittenden and Mrs. Ted Robison were married Feb. 13, 1954 in the Macon Methodist Church by the Rev. H. Vaughn Whited.

They have two children, Daniel and Cathy.

This correspondent well remembers that evening 25 years ago.

Bud and Janet were the first of our special group of young people who attended the Methodist Church and were members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship. They were also members of the choir.

After the wedding reception, Bud and Janet let everyone know that they were going to spend the weekend in Detroit. They left and the rest of the "gang" of young people at the church decided to "decorate" their new home.

Bud's brother, Bill, made sure that a window was unlocked so we could get in. We were all quiet when we arrived, not wishing to disturb Mr. and Mrs. Gorton, Sr.

Bill started to raise the window, when all at once a hand came out from inside and slapped his face, slamming down the window almost on his fingers!

I believe that we on the outside were much more surprised than the newlyweds who were on the inside! We piled in our cars and left, doing no more that night.

When it comes to IRA accounts...

1978 ISN'T OVER YET!

Changes in the federal law have stretched the calendar. If you are a farmer, businessman, contractor, professional or anyone else whose income and earnings are not covered by a company pension plan, you can establish and contribute to a tax deferred Individual Retirement Account (IRA) until April 16th. That gives you over three extra months to determine just what your income was in 1978 and calculate exactly what 15% of it would be. Fifteen percent up to $1,500 is the maximum contribution to an IRA allowed under the law.

Right now, United Savings Bank of Tecumseh is paying 8% annual interest on all IRA accounts. That's the highest interest you can earn from any financial institution.

An Individual Retirement Account can save you tax dollars and provide a more secure future. There's nothing tricky, complicated or difficult about them. Ask about an IRA account at any of the five convenient offices of United Savings Bank . . . . . you have until April 16th this year.

Winning Indians Pull Two Games Ahead of Monroe CC

The Indian basketball team clinched at least a tie for the Huron league championship this week when they posted two wins and second place Monroe CC lost Tuesday night.

The wins push the Indians's record to 11-1 while CC drops to 8-3. The Indians have two more league games and must win only one to finish alone in first. Both games are going to be tough ones. They play at New Boston Friday and at Flat Rock next Friday.

Friday against Carlson the Indians literally flew by their visitors 85-50. Mark Creswell was the high scorer for the Indians with 26. John Faulkner added 18 and Tom Maves also hit double figures with 11 points.

The Indians started out behind full court pressure with an 18-10 first frame and lead and never had to worry about Carlson catching up. They stretched their lead to 38-22 at half and then outscored Carlson 47-28 the second half.

The Indians were 56 percent from the floor or 34 for 60. Carlson was 14 of 34. From the line, the Indians were 17 of 22.

Creswell and John Ely pulled down nine rebounds each while the team as a whole held a 39-32 board edge.

Tuesday, the Indians again overwhelmingly beat their opponent. This time it was Monroe Jefferson that lost. Final score was 68-37.

Creswell again paced the Indians with 20 points while Ely added 10. In rebounding, Scott Schafer and Jeff Osworth each pulled down 10 while Tecumseh enjoyed a huge 46-27 advantage.

The game against Jefferson looked close at first with the Indians holding a slim 14-10 first quarter lead. The Tecumseh squad then began correcting their mistakes and mounted a 34-19 point advantage by half.

The Indians then posted 34 points to Jefferson's 18 the second half to notch their 11th league victory.

Peterson took top honors again serving. She had nine service points.

RANDY HALVIN AND JACK BAGBY

Bagby and Halvin Head for Regional

Jack Bagby took a second and Randy Halvin took a fourth place Saturday at the Class B district wrestling matches at Dearborn Heights Robichaud.

Both wrestlers now travel to the regionals this Saturday at Willow Run.

Bagby won three matches on his way to a second place, 6-1, 3-0, and 9-1, all decisions. He was beaten in the championship match by Larry Sirls of Schafer. Sirls has a 39-0 record.

Sirls beat Bagby 8-4 and won on a granby when he reversed Bagby and took three more points immediately with a near fall.

Halvin beat his first two opponents with high scores, 15-9, 11-6. He then lost his next two matches on pins to finish fourth.

As a team, Tecumseh finished 14th out of 22 schools. They had 44½ points. New Boston finished first with 137½ points.

Those wishing to travel to Willow Run for the regionals should stay on 12 to Ypsilanti. Willow Run is right on the left hand side of Business 12 going east.

CHS Sixth in Districts

Clinton finished sixth in its district tournament Saturday at Dundee.

The Redskins are sending three wrestlers to the regionals Saturday at Michigan Center.

Rick Armstrong finished second at 98, Clayton Semanske was third at 119 and Andy Hoag was third at 132.

Britton Nearly Beats First Place Madison in Tory's Best Effort

The Tories played their best basketball game of the season Friday only to lose in the end to first place Madison 62-56.

Britton rallied from a 10 point deficit early in the fourth frame. They were down 41-51 and then scored 13 points to Madison's two to lead 54-53 with just over three minutes left in the game.

Madison then grabbed a Tory rebound and scored. From then on, they never fell behind.

Coach Cam VanArsdalen gave the credit for Britton's performance to a scrappy defense. They played an excellent zone and ran a trap to put the pressure on Madison.

Shooting from the outside to help the Tory offense were Randy Dusseau and Troy Bailey. Dusseau finished with 21 points and Bailey with 19.

On the boards, Britton held a 30-24 advantage with Greg Fansiau hauling in 11 and Terry Benedict eight.

Madison turned the ball over 26 times, 13 times in the first quarter when Britton held its first lead 14-11. Britton had 21 turnovers.

Britton is now 3-8 in the conference. They host Whitford Friday and travel to Clinton Tuesday.

Varsity Starts Strong, but Loses

The Tecumseh volleyball team's record dropped below the 50 percent mark Wednesday when they lost a very close match to Monroe St. Mary.

The Indians took the first game with a 15-13 score but then lost the match 8-15, 5-15. The Indians started playing well offensively, but started to slip the second game and could do nothing right the third game.

The JV's also lost, 4-15, 15-12, 11-15.

Then Tuesday night, the girls made up a game with Monroe Jefferson and lost 15-3, 15-13.

Again inconsistency bothered the varsity. They played poorly the first game, but came back the second. They just didn't come back enough.

The JV's also lost, 15-5, 15-6.

The two varsity losses lowers their league record to 3-5.

The teams host Gibraltar Carlson Monday.

'The Pastor's Study'

By Rev. R. Richard Case
Britton Congregational Church

GIMME DAD - JUST BECAUSE

The Old Testament story of the boy who desired his father's riches before he died is a good example of today's problem.

The father gave the impatient son his inheritance ahead of time. You know the story. The son went away and lived it up. He spent all his money and ended up willing to eat food the swine ate.

Then the son came back to his father and begged forgiveness. The father tried to be loving and kind. He opened his doors and heart to his son; but in so doing the father created a terrible friction between the son and his other hardworking brothers.

The Bible says "emnity" existed between them. In those days, and in these days, this type of arrangement causes trouble. That's just sound logic.

In our nation today, our government fathers in Washington are doing the same thing, creating a barrier, putting emnity between the minority and the majority.

I wonder why we bother having elections by a majority vote when in essence the judicial portion of our government is constantly operating on a minority bent kick.

The recent Backke case in California was just unbelievable. However, the final decision, although a bit hairy, found true justice to triumph.

The most recent Wayne State fiasco also is unbeleivable, and if my son or daughter were with the 75 or 80 percent of the student body, I would remove them from such a college posthaste.

Can you accept the concept that because you are a small minority group you should be graded on a separated and lower scale than the majority or hardworking students. Yes these are law students.

Would you hire one of these minority graduates to defend you? I don't think so. You would hire the best you could possibly afford, one with a good intellect and a high degree of intelligence. Not one who demanded a better deal and got it from some flunky university.

This is a disgrace and downright degrading to those minority students who are willing to study, willing to work hard and receive their diploma as truly bona-fide counselors at law, capable in all respects.

To me that is no better than sending away in the mail for a $10 ordination certificate. It's worthless.

The other night I had an opportunity to meet a fine musician. This fine young man was teaching school. He gave up teaching to return to the university and work for his doctorate.

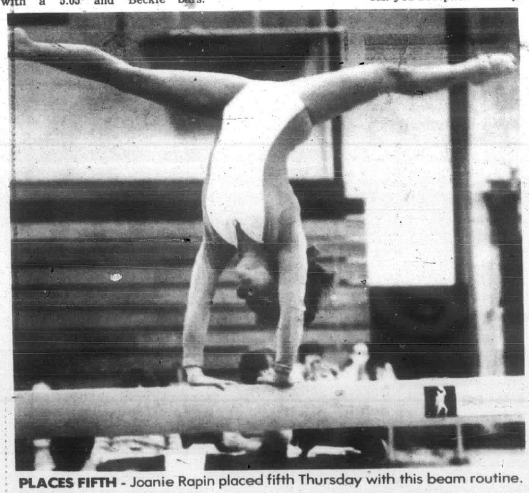
I said to him, "It's hard work, isn't it?" He replied, "Yes and it's time consuming, too."

Yes I must say this young man impressed me greatly and he is one of my brothers and I truly must say I love him as Christ would have me.

Oh! I forgot to mention, he was a black man. Yes he will deserve his coveted doctorate degree, not because he is black but because he did the work and has the knowledge to prove it.

You know, thinking about this situation in America today, one piece of scripture seems to fit.

"You shall know them by their deeds."



PLACES FIFTH - Joanie Rapin placed fifth Thursday with this beam routine.

Volleyballers Win Two Games

Britton's volleyballers traveled to Deerfield to make up a double match Monday after they beat Dundee in a close match Thursday.

Thursday, the Tories won in two games, 15-12, 16-14. The match proved to be one of Britton's best. They were behind 2-8 the first game and then went on to win with good team work and enthusiasm.

Janine Schultz and Patty Armstrong led the team with 12 and seven serving points, and five and six spikes respectively.

Monday the girls won their first match 15-12, 15-13, but lost the second one 15-12, 15-8.

Top serves were Schultz with 13 and Sandy Judkins with 11. Armstrong and Mary Oswald were stong at the net with 11 and eight spikes.

The split match put the Tories' record at 4-5, 6-7 overall.

For the JV's, Britton won both matches. Against Dundee, they won 15-11, 15-0 behind 15 straight service points the second game from Lee Price. Monday at Deerfield, the girls won in a best of five match, 15-4, 15-12, 11-15, 15-13. Debbie Weyher was the top server with 20.

Britton plays at home Thursday and Monday.

Win Two

The THS JV squad squeezed by Gibraltar Carlson's basketball squad Friday night, 57-54.

Derek Nababedian led all scorers with 17 points and nine rebounds. Scott Hans had 15 points and seven rebounds. Tony Forsthoefel also hit double figures with 11 points. He added five assists.

The young Indians jumped off to a quick 16-10 first quarter lead but Carlson came back and outscored Tecumseh by four in the second half. Both teams had 20 field goals, but Carlson kept itself in the game by making 14 of 18 free throws.

The JV's made it two in a row with a 68-62 victory over Monroe Jefferson, Tuesday night.

Both squads battled back and forth throughout the night in a tough run-and-gun game. THS gained a 34-28 half time lead. During the third quarter they expanded their lead to 53-44.

Jefferson battled back to within one point in the fourth quarter. THS was not to be denied and pulled it out with a strong finish.

Hans led the team with 21 points. Marty Wallich had 13 and John Duncan had 12. Derek Nababedian and Wallich each collected 11 rebounds.

Slow Down In Ridgeway . . .

by Kathy Brown

RIDGEWAY — Pre-dawn and dusk darkness, wet or icy pavement, failure to yield right of way and speeding are four factors that contribute to accidents that happened in Ridgeway.

The village is about four miles east of Tecumseh. It has one intersection on two-lane, east and westbound M-50 at Ridge Rd.

The intersection is marked by a yellow blinker light on the state trunkline. North and south traffic on the two-lane Ridge Rd. has a stop sign.

The four factors mentioned above were gleaned from data of 10 accidents at the intersection, reported to either the Lenawee County Sheriff's Department or the State Police. Accidents occured between 1976 and February 1979.

Accidents were logged by the State Police traffic and safety division, Lansing. Other accidents have occured within a mile radius of the village, but only intersection accidents were used in this story.

Though 10 does not seem like many accidents in three years, it seems considerable to the people who live here and talk about hearing fenders crunch in the night.

Though the number is not a big sample, it provides some insight into the kinds of accidents and the conditions under which they occured.

Eight of the accidents involved two vehicles; two involved one vehicle. Only one involved drinking. That driver was cited for speeding.

Weather was clear in eight of the accidents. Road conditions appeared to intervene in half of the accidents with icy roads in four cases and wet pavement in one.

Six accidents involved personal injury in addition to property damage in all. Injuries ranged from bumps and bruises to one driver who was hospitalized for a week.

Three of the personal injury accidents (minor injuries) occured when roads were icy in the dawn or dusk hours.

Six accidents involved two vehicles on the same side of the road; two involved two vehicles, one crossing the center line and two involved one vehicle, colliding with a fixed object.

Violations were issued in half of the accidents. Three were given for failure to yield right of way and one each for speeding and careless driving.

Four accidents occured between 6-9 a.m., four in the evening or early morning hours before dawn and two occured in the afternoon.

More than half of the accidents occured with two vehicles on one side of the road. Drivers did not yield right of way, notably to east and westbound traffic on M-50.

Those familiar with the intersection know that buildings close to the road reduce visibility at the crossroads, as does the illegal parking in front of the store on the northeast corner of the intersection.

Eastbound traffic from Tecumseh has time to gain speed in the four miles to the village. The curve on the eastbound approach to the village "hides" oncoming traffic from view of westbound traffic making turns. Speed and failure to yield right of way cause accidents.

Other potential accident causing factors are the after school and school hour pedestrian traffic in front of the Ridgeway School, just west of the intersection.

Pedestrian traffic also crosses M-50 to the combination grocery store and post office on the northeast corner and to the Jonathan Hall township library on the southeast block.

Since there is no sidewalk on the south side of M-50, pedestrians use the wide berm when crossing or walking along the road.

On the north side of the street, about three homes have sidewalks. Due to sewer assessments the cost to build sidewalks may be considered an economic burden to homeowners even though sidewalks may offer pedestrians some safety.

Laboring under a concern for the child pedestrians in the village, the Ridgeway School PTO persistently requested a lower speed limit.

After investigation by the Jackson district office, traffic and safety division of the Michigan Department of Transportation, the speed limit was reduced from 50 mph to 40 mph. Signs were posted Dec. 28.

Some people in the village said they did not notice the new speed limit. One reason may be that there are at least a dozen other regulatory, warning or guide signs posted on both sides of M-50 in the village. These compete for the driver's attention.

In summary, to avoid becoming a traffic statistic in Ridgeway, pay attention to these suggestions:

+Remember the speed limit is 40 mph.

+Yield right of way to traffic.

+Watch for turning vehicles.

+Watch for pedestrians at the school and crossroads.

Women Portray Timely Drama

Cecile Smith, Julia Titley, Naomi Sallows, Elizabeth Hayden, Olive Ann Ruettinger and Miriam Nixon attended the winter meeting of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs, held Feb. 14 at the Adrian United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Smith, chairman of the performing arts department, arranged a patriotic drama. She portrayed Martha Washington entertaining her friends during an afternoon "at home" in 1871.

The friends were represented by Naomi Sallows, Julia Titley and Elizabeth Hayden, all of Tecumseh.

The drama concluded with Mrs. Smith reading of the will of Mary Washington, George's mother. Mrs. Raymond Platt of Tipton played the national anthem.

Hendrika Hulett Speaks to Clinton Woman's Club

CLINTON — It is important that children of immigrants to this country be taught their native language and writing, Hendrika Hulett suggests.

Mrs. Hulett has journeyed to her native homeland of the Netherlands, three times in the past eight years, to visit relatives not places.

She told Clinton Woman's Club members, at a meeting Wednesday, that since her late parents had believed in the 'melting pot' theory, she had never been taught to speak and write in the language of the Netherlands.

Many older relatives are unable to communicate with her.

This summer she took a short course in the Netherlands language, while staying in a castle near Utrecht, not far from Amsterdam.

She also traveled to several cities on the continent, where she was impressed with the restoration of buildings and churches since World War II, while some of the residents were living in their well-built chicken coops.

She commented on the well-stocked markets, but noted that one does not receive any sacks or baskets to carry it home, and must provide one's own.

There are flowers everywhere, and the natives always take a bouquet or plant when visiting friends.

Her talk was illustrated with colored slides.

Mrs. Hulett also visited a daughter in Germany, who is married to a botanist doing research there.

The social committee had arranged refreshments on a table decorated in the Valentine's Day theme. Committee was composed of Aileen Cahill, Mrs. Richard Hittle and Mrs. William Neblo.

Mrs. Charles Helgren, president of the Clinton Historical Society, explained the needs of the Lenawee Historical Museum, to which the Woman's Club pledged a sum of money.

Mrs. Helgren also asked certain members to bring up to date the history of Clinton for the 150th anniversary celebration of the village.

Mrs. Chellman assigned Mrs. Neblo, Mrs. Eric Halladay and Mrs. Richard Broniman to that task, with the help of other members.

Mrs. Richard Strauss was welcomed as a new member. Mrs. Robert Winder, a former long-time member was re-installed.

The March 14 meeting will be in the evening at the home of Mrs. Wesley Procter. She will speak on her collection of antique dolls.

CLINTON — Clinton Board of Education discussed the mediation sessions concerning faculty negotiations with the Clinton Education Association, and approved a new proposal to be submitted to LCEA, CEA, MEA, NEA for ratification.

Proposal would raise increment percentage to 4.75%; require three-year contract with second and third-year economic reopeners; accept revised pay scale for extra duty assignments as previously worked out with LCEA.

In the third year of three-year contract the salary schedule shall go to five tracks; BA, continuing certification, MA, MA plus 15 and specialist.

In other action the resignation of Ann Allen, high school English teacher, was accepted.

Board approved the hiring of Sarah Vaillancourt for the remainder of the 78-79 school year to fill the high school English position.

Barbara Spahr and Russ Pichlik reviewed the 10th grade state assessment test results. Their presentation was based on a three-year analysis drawn up by Ozzie Hashley, high school counselor.

Results showed a high percentage of 10th graders rating below acceptable levels on the assessment results.

After discussing this information with students and stressing the importance of these tests, a re-test was given to students who failed at the acceptable levels, and a significant improvement was shown.

Trustee John Hoelzer was elected to serve as Clinton's representative at the meeting of the Intermediate School District, March 5 at 7 p.m. at the Intermediate District office.

Tammy Fisher Is New Queen

Tammy Fisher was crowned Michigan Pork Queen Feb. 15 at Long's Convention Center, in Lansing.

Tammy is a senior at Tecumseh High School where she is president of the student council, yearbook editor and member of the National Honor Society.

She has been active in 4-H for eight years, having won the Key Club leader and outstanding teen leader awards.

She was alternate in the state swine Teleward.

As a four year member of the Future Farmers of America at THS, she won a public speaking award.

She has participated in two leadership conferences in Washington, D.C. She was a Tecumseh delegate in Girls State.

She plans to major in agriculture economics at Michigan State University beginning this fall.

Tammy won the state Pork Queen honor after competing with eight other candidates from across the state in an oral presentation, questions and interview with the three judges. Her talk was about promotion of pork and nitrites.

Her parents are Vanda and Jay Fisher of 2315 Rogers Hwy., Tecumseh. They are active in the Lenawee County Pork Producers and Porkettes. The 60-member group sponsored Tammy.

As part of her honor, Tammy will preside at pork exhibits throughout the state in the upcoming year.

She received a glass terrarium, pig skin coat and a two-week modeling course.

Next March, she will be eligible to compete in the 1980 National Pork Queen contest.

MIS Depends On Local Organizations

At the Feb. 13 meeting of the Tecumseh Rotary Club, Rick Nadeau, director of marketing at Michigan International Speedway, told the group that MIS depends on local service organizations.

Six hundred community members help. Over $40,000 was donated to their treasuries for their assistance on such things as concessions.

"We feel that over the last five years, we've developed the rapport in the community which is very much a part of our success," said Nadeau.

MIS President Jim Melvin also acts as vice president of CART (Championship Auto Racing Teams) has brought national attention to it in press coverage. CART is a group of businessmen and car owners who seek to enhance and encourage growth in auto racing.

In other rotary business, Speck Simmons was named as the 1979-80 administrative year president beginning July 1.

Reader Writes

To the Editor:

During the past year, the membership of the Sand Lake Fire Department has been undertaking a project to raise funds for the purchase of a new pumper-tanker fire engine.

Although a number of fund-raising projects were conducted by members of the fire department, success of the project depended largely upon donations from private individuals, businesses and organizations in and around Franklin Township.

The response to our request for assistance in this undertaking was overwhelming. Because of the generous donations made by the residents, organizations and businesses in Franklin Township and surrounding communities, we have reached our goal.

Our new fire engine is presently being assembled by the manufacturer, with delivery scheduled for later this spring. When it arrives, it will be paid for in full.

A sincere thank-you is expressed to all of those who have helped to make this project a success.

Donald Daley, Pres.
Sand Lake Fire Dept.

Contract OK'd

Tecumseh City Council agreed on an $8,000 fire service contract with Tecumseh Township for the 1980 fiscal year.

The contract reached at Tuesday's Council meeting is the same as last year.

During the discussion City Councilmember Harold Easton pointed out that the city budget for the fire department is $93,000. Each run costs the city approximately $1,000.

The township had a total of 19 calls, eight for rescue and 11 for fire in six months of the 1979 contract with the city that expires June 30.

At that rate the township contributes slightly less than half the cost of a run.

But City Council agreed $8,000 was a fair charge to the township. "We're doing better than we did in the past," commented City Manager Cal Zorn. He told previous contracts were set at $2,000 for a number of years.

This is the fifth in the series on International Cuisine. These recipes, supplied by Mary Basterra, are from Spain.

Mary Basterra (nee Burns), grew up in Tecumseh. She attended Michigan State University and did her student teaching in Holland of the Netherlands.

She traveled through Europe during the summer and while in Spain met her husband, Jose. They now reside in Tecumseh and have a three-year-old daughter, Pili.

These recipes came from friends and family in Spain. One of the interesting differences in Spanish cooking is that the women still do their food shopping every day so everything is fresh. They do not have large grocery stores like we have, but individual markets.

POLLO AL VINO BLANCO (Chicken in White Wine)

1 chicken or favorite cuts
olive oil
3 garlic cloves, cut up
1 green pepper, sliced
1 can of artichokes
1 can dry white wine

Clean, cut up chicken and remove skin. Roll in flour and brown in hot olive oil. Remove chicken from pan and take out excess fat. Leave about 2 tablespoons fat to fry garlic and green pepper. Add salt to taste and artichokes. Put chicken and wine in pan and cook slowly until tender.

CHULETAS AL CHILINDION

6-8 pork chops
olive oil
1 onion, sliced in wedges
1 green pepper, sliced in thin wedges
2 or 3 garlic cloves, cut up
1 can tomatoes
1 slice of ham, cut in small pieces
3 hard boiled eggs, sliced
chopped parsley
green and black olives, cut in halves
1/2 cup dry white wine
cut up potatoes 6 or 8

Brown pork chops in olive oil. Remove pork chops from pan and take out excess fat. Fry onion, green pepper, garlic and ham in about 2 tablespoons of fat. Add tomatoes and let it cook down.

Return pork chops to pan. Add chopped eggs, olives, parsley, wine and potatoes. Cook until tender.

NOTE: This recipe is also excellent when substituting chicken or rabbit in place of pork chops.

ALBONDIGAS (Meat Balls)

1 pound ground beef
1/2 cup bread crumbs
1 tablespoon milk
1 egg
1 clove chopped garlic
chopped parsley
salt and pepper to taste
1 small onion, chopped
1 can tomatoes (16 ounce) garlic cloves
bay leaf

Moisten bread crumbs with milk and mix together ground beef, bread crumbs, egg, 1 clove of chopped garlic, parsley and salt and pepper. Form into balls; roll in flour and brown in hot oil.

Board Hears Parents' Gripes about Teachers

Mrs. Lynn Foughty represented a group of concerned parents at Monday's school board meeting and presented a list of grievances aimed at Tecumseh's elementary school teachers.

Alleged abuses generally involved either teachers pulling hair and slapping students or sending children outside in the winter despite written requests of parents.

Superintendent Robert Duhan met the group earlier and reported he will respond in detail after finishing his investigation.

Petition deadline is Monday, April 9 at 4 p.m. for anyone wishing to run for one of two four-year terms on the Tecumseh School Board.

The vacancies are available June 30 from the expired terms of Pat Tressler and Dick Heglin.

Election to fill the two seats will be held the second Monday in June and will not include school millage.

Millage for the library, however, will be on the ballot. It has been .7 of a mill for the last 10 years.

Petitions are available at the board office and must be returned there with a minimum of 20 registered voter signatures.

Records Elected to ISD Board

Jim Records was elected Monday night to be Tecumseh's representative on the Lenawee Intermediate School District Board.

The appointment came at Tecumseh's school board meeting and will allow Records to attend the budget hearing set for March 5. Local board members received preliminary budgets in advance of the meeting and relay Tecumseh's input to Records.

The meeting is required by law to set up a tentative budget for the ISD facilities, including the ISD office, Vo-Tec and the special education facilities.

Pick Tressler for Association

Pat Tressler was elected Tecumseh's official representative to the Lenawee County Association of School Boards Monday night at the local school board meeting.

Mrs. Tressler has attended two previous meetings held to this date and will represent Tecumseh's vote on the County Board's proposed constitution at the next meeting.

All-Around Champions Open Tourney Play Next Wednesday

Tecumseh's 11 member basketball team opens district tournament play Wednesday, March 5 at Saline, 7:30 p.m.

The local squad will play either Monroe CC or Milan. Those two meet in a game Monday while Tecumseh drew a bye for its first game.

Airport will play the winner of Tuesday's match-up of Jefferson and Saline. The winner of Wednesday's and Thursday's games play Saturday, March 10, for the District Championship.

Saline hosts all games with starting times of 7:30 p.m. each night.

At the beginning of the season, Tecumseh probably would have been picked to lose its first tournament game. Today, it's a different story.

The Indians have won 12 games to date to just one league loss. That one loss came against Monroe CC, the team the Indians will probably play in its opening district game. It was a game that went into six overtimes before the Indians lost.

Despite that one loss the Indians are the undisputed Huron league champs. CC finished in second place with two more loses. Both teams have one more game to play Friday.

But the real story behind the Tecumseh basketball team is probably not their won-loss record. "There's a lot more to life," as coach Curth pointed out and he has proven it to his players.

12 Complaints Are Investigated

Feb. 26 — Terry L. Edwards, 18, Adrian, was arrested on Burt St. and charged with being a disorderly person. He was intoxicated at the time.

Flu On Decline

The school board heard a report Monday night that Tecumseh's flu problem is on its decline.

Absence is reportedly down to 16 percent overall in the district. At its highest last week, attendance was down 23½ percent.

While the overall trend is down, school officials report that high school absenteeism is higher than a week ago.

Services Held for Wilfred Waldron, 91, Well Known Tecumseh Area Resident

Services were Feb. 24 at the Tecumseh United Methodist Church for Wilfred G. Waldron, 91, of 204 N. Maiden Lane.

He died Feb. 21 at Herrick Hospital in Tecumseh where he had been admitted earlier in the day.

He was born March 19, 1887 in Tecumseh Township to William and Isabel (Griswold) Waldron.

He married Lulu E. Brown June 12, 1915. She died Nov. 23, 1977.

Mr. Waldron was a resident of Tecumseh all his life. He was a farmer at the Waldron Farm, Tecumseh.

He graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1905 and was a member of the Tecumseh United Methodist Church.

He was a former member of the Tecumseh Grange, the sales commission of the Michigan Milk Producers Association and the school board for Tecumseh School District No. 5. He was also a former justice of the peace for the village of Tecumseh and a Tecumseh Township supervisor. He was a member of the Tecumseh Wit and Wisdom Club for many years.

Mr. Waldron built the fireplace and chimney of the Tecumseh Scout Cabin and was the first person to sell pictures of the Tecumseh areas.

He played in musical groups in Tipton, Clinton and Tecumseh and in the orchestra pit of the old Tecumseh Opera House.

He moved to his current address in 1965.

Mr. Waldron had a deep knowledge of the Bible, Greek mythology — he carried a coin to pay his fare across the river Styx — ancient and modern history and was especially conversant about the Civil War and on aspects of the history of Tecumseh.

He had a love for this community that was expressed in nearly his last words to the crew of the ambulance that took him to the hospital on the day he died.

He said that Tecumseh has mighty fine services, it is a fine community and a great place to live.

Survivors include one son, Dr. Wilfred Waldron of Scottsdale, Ariz.; one daughter, Mrs. John (Winona) Hamilton of Worthington, Ohio; seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by one daughter.

Pallbearers were John and Mark Hamilton of Columbus, Ohio; Ronald Brown of Onsted; Charles "Jerry" O'Brien, Gary Roberts and John Boyce, all of Tecumseh.

The Rev. Allan Gray and the Rev. Edmond Watkins officated services. Watkins offficiated services.

Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Arrangements were made by the Proctor Funeral Home.

Lions Roar Charter Night, Challenged to Active Roll

The new Tecumseh Lions Club was challenged to reach out, be part of the community and play an active role in doing all it can for Tecumseh.

Ray DeWitt, past district governor of the Michigan Lions, issued the challenge at the Tecumseh club's charter night Feb. 24.

Lions are well known for their aid to the blind, but DeWitt encouraged them to endeavor to aid all who are in need whether in the areas of sight, deafness or major illness.

The Lions offer screening services to detect sight, hearing and diabetic problems.

As a symbol of unity with its community and in appreciation for his visit, DeWitt was presented with a compressor from Tecumseh Products by charter member Dave Davis.

Lion district governor Everell Huttenlocher presented the club charter to Tecumseh club president Ed Baillargeon. Charter members then signed it.

They moved to New Zealand where they both taught school and lived there for three years. Before returning to the United States last April, they visited the Philipines, Thailand, India and Europe. They now reside in Tecumseh with their two young sons.

'The Pastor's Study'

By Rev. R. Richard Case
Britton Congregational Church

"LIGHT YOUR LIGHT"

Did you go to church yesterday, Ash Wednesday?

No, I'm not being corny or a religious fanatic. Most of the people that know me will tell you I'm about as liberal and solid as a pastor could be.

But really, these few weeks before Easter is a great time to reflect. Yes it is nice to think about our Lord, Christ, the fact that He is the Son of God. It is also great and refreshing to know that Christ died His earthly death for mankind both then and now.

It is quite possible that as a person you are not all that concerned about church, but let's look at this point. Christ is more than just the center of Christianity and the Son of God. Jesus Christ is a way of life. He taught and lived this throughout His entire life.

Today in this world man is going around frantically searching for an answer. Even some of the real off-beat cults use the same word when they try to sell us something new. That word is "love".

If mankind would only learn to love his brother man just a bit more, all of society could take a giant step forward.

Would it not be a better place to live if we could trust each other, more in business, in church, in our work?

This is what Christ meant when He said "Love One Another".

When Christ referred to the commandments, what was He saying? Well, first you might have to stop and think what the specific commandments were. But after you do this, you must admit that besides being God's law to us, they are truly the only code of ethics that make sense in this mad world in which we live and I don't care if you are a Christian, profess a foreign religion of if you claim to be an atheist.

When you think of Christ, think of Him as being real and alive, for He is. Think of Him as a man with emotion, able to be 'real enough to become angry, as He did in the temple. A man real enough to be invited to attend a wedding and be a part of the festive occasion. A real man able to lift heavy beams and timbers, for this was His work most of His life.

If you think of Him as being real it would be much easier for you to understand Christ and if you can do this, you just might have a clearer picture to pattern your life after.

I'm not saying you can be Christ, but you can be Christ-like, by being a loving person, by having a smile on your face, by being warm-hearted and compassionate.

Certainly if you do this you will find that Easter season will bring you greater happiness and the world will be a better place for it. Why not try.

To be a child whom no one cares about:

Who's never competed in sports . . . because he's never been encouraged;

Who's never entered a contest . . . because no one said he could;

Who's never developed personal talents . . . because no one took the time to show the way.

Yes, it's an empty feeling for a child, that could mean a lifetime of emptiness; a lifetime empty of the basics that make for happy, productive men and women.

But YOU can make the difference! Show a child the way, whatever your specialty may be. Participate personally. You'll wipe out emptiness . . . and make your own life a little fuller, too. This is the Kiwanis RIGHTSTART program. Won't you join it?

CLINTON MONUMENT TO BECOME PARKING LOT?

Many Citizens Oppose Monument Relocation

CLINTON — Soldier's Monument was built in the center of Memorial Park, W. Michigan Ave., downtown Clinton, soon after World War I, to honor those who gave their lives for their country.

Now village merchants want the monument moved and the area made into a parking lot for some 50 cars.

Several people oppose moving the monument to Riverside Cemetery, or elsewhere.

So far, those who need or desire more parking area in downtown Clinton have kept quiet.

Clinton Chamber of Commerce offered $1,000 to offset cost of moving monument.

Can those who oppose replacing the park with a parking lot offer alternative suggestions to ease Clinton's parking problem, or should local merchants just be expected to move if they want more business?

Village Council has delayed action on the matter.

Now is the time for interested citizens to express their opinions.

The annual spring planning meeting of the Michigan Child Study Association will be held at two locations, one being Clinton High School, May 5.

The second location is Waverly School, Lansing, April 7.

The Tecumseh Child Study Club will host the May 5 event. Guest speaker for the day is Goldie Bristol, author of "These Tears Are for Diane", a book which deals with the thoughts and observations which resulted from the tragic death of her daughter in 1970.

Workshops scheduled throughout the day will include leadership; the passing of fairy gold; children and books; school finance past, present and future; child abuse and neglect, diet fads and quackery, teenage alcohol and drug abuse, parenting the gifted child, listening with results, teenage alcohol and drug abuse, and bridging the generation gap.

The Michigan Child Study Association is a unique organization founded in 1920. It is a pioneer organization dedicated to parent education and child development. Only in Michigan is there a statewide organization devoted to the idea of studying parenthood.

Nearly 150 associate clubs serve approximately 2,500 members. The state association provides many helps and services to the local clubs. It provides an annual program plan in the form of a syllabus with individual units being prepared by clubs from around the state.

This syllabus is presented at the annual spring planning meeting. An annual fall conference is held at which time the year's study theme is developed by guest speakers through group discussion.

Also at this time, the executive board members of MSCA present their annual reports, elect and install board members takes place.

Newsletters are sent throughout the year to keep local clubs informed about statewide happenings.

Maple Syrup Party Heads Clinton Plans

CLINTON — The 150th anniversary of Clinton's founding started off with the Middle School Spelling Bee and promises to continue with other typical small-town events. These were discussed at the Feb. 15 meeting of the Historical Society of Clinton.

Members, gathered in Lyster Hall of the Episcopal Church, heard Jim and Leona Meeks tell of plans for maple syrup making as soon as Mother Nature provides 50 degree daytime temperatures to start the sap running.

Volunteers will be needed to tend the fires when the sap is boiled to make syrup.

Parents and children can see how early settlers satisfied their sweet toothe before white sugar was available in the stores.

A trip to a large, commercial, maple syrup farm nearby is also planned. Dates and times wil be announced.

The society learned the senior citizens will plant and tend an old-fashioned flower garden at the community center this year.

The society asks all to help see that work by these active senior citizens is not abused.

The 1929 Woman's Club of Clinton wrote a history of Clinton's first 100 years, and the 1979 club will update it with the next 50 years from 1929-1979.

Catherine Halladay, Lily Neblo and Irma Broniman will coordinate efforts to write the history of the past 50 years in 10 year segements.

Results will be published as a booklet with the assistance of Mary Ann Hunter.

Anyone having information that could be included should contact these coordinators, the Historical Society or Woman's Club president Mary Ann Chejlman.

Anecdotes of Clinton, events and yarns of everday life over the past 50 years are eagerly sought.

Carl Woodward of Woodward's Gift Shop is drawing plans now for a scale model of the old Clinton Union School to house the school bell owned by the society.

It will be displayed in the schools and the gift shop as well as other Clinton sites for a year after its construction.

It will then be on permanent loan to the Lenawee County Historical Museum in Adrian. They will be cared for in a controlled atmosphere, available for others to see and also easily available for any Clinton use as needed.

Volunteers who would like to help with construction detail of furnishings for the two classrooms which will be a part of the model, should contact Carl or the society now.

Donations to cover the cost of materials should be sent to the society or to treasurer Catherine Halladay. Carl is donating the skilled labor.

Save your sweet tooth for the society bake sale which will be held as soon as coordinator Barbara Bauer returns from Arizona. Proceeds will be used to help pay for costs to celebrate the anniverary.

May 17 will be a Pioneer Party luncheon given by the society in honor of all Clinton residents over 80 years old. Details will be forthcoming.

May 19 will be a trip to the Ella Sharp Museum in Jackson.

Twenty-five dollars wil be donated to the Lenawee County Museum for restoration of its new headquarters.

Others who wish to assist in the restoration and conversion of the old Adrian Library for the County Historical Museum should send their checks to Heritage Fund, c/o Lenawee County Historical Society, P.O. Box 511, Adrian 49221.

The Historical Society of Clinton has a post office box. Inquiries, donations and information can now be sent to the Historical Society of Clinton, P.O. Box 647, Clinton.

Ingerson Rated No. 1

CLINTON — David Ingerson received a "1" rating for his tuba solo at the Feb. 10 High School Solo and Ensemble Festival at Adrian High School.

He was one of six Clinton students to participate.

Others and their ratings were Leona Francis and Kathy Linden, clarinet duet, II; Melanie Cowhy, oboe solo, III; Kelly MacRae, flute solo, II; Mary Bowman, piano solo, II.

Mary Bowman and Sally Scheer provided the piano accompaniments necessary to complete the performances.

The students prepared solos and ensemble numbers which they played before a judge who rated their performance on a five-point scale and gave them written constructive criticism.

Comments ranged from choice of music to facets of musical technique. They guide the student and teacher to improve musicianship.

While the numerical rating is a guide to the present performance level of the student, it is less valuable than the comments.

Writes

To the Editor:

Neil, I thought you were going to correct your mistake in last week's Clinton Local. But I see you still will not print the facts as they are presented to you.

The letter which appeared in your Feb. 14 edition Joe O'Donnell told me was never written or signed by him. And the letter that was written by Joe O'Donnell to the editor was never published. (Only inserts).

The personal remark made by Mrs. Treat to Joe O'Donnell was no concern of the American Legion Auxiliary, the Clinton Chamber of Commerce and least of all, the Clinton Local.

Since when are personal remarks aired in a newspaper? The issue is park versus parking lot, not Joe O'Donnell's. Clinton Belle versus American Legion Auxiliary.

Let's stay with the issue.

Now I feel you printed the letter of Feb. 14 which was the first mistake and not printing the letter Joe gave you to print is the second mistake.

As these two mistakes are yours and you have made mountains out of molehills the apology should come from you who has caused the trouble, not the American Legion Auxiliary, who was in no way connected to the incident.

I think the price the American Legion Auxiliary and Joe O'Donnell are paying is too high just to sell a newspaper.

Signed,
Mary Hull,
126 Brown St.
Clinton.

The Indians mounted a 16-9 first frame lead over Huron and New Boston was never able to threaten. At half, the Indians were up by 14 and held a 46-24 edge at the end of the third frame.

The Indians were 29 of 57 from the floor while the Hurons were 15 of 45. In rebounding, the Tecumseh squad held a 49-37 edge with Mark Creswell pulling down 12 boards. Scott Schafer came off the bench and pulled down 10.

Win One, Lose Two

The Indian volleyball squad picked up one win against two loses this week to put their record at 5-8, 4-7 in the league.

Wednesday, the girls battled back after a 15-9 first game loss and won the second game 15-6. Kris McDonald served five straight in the second game and totaled seven points to lead the team.

Then the girls lost the last game and match after they were behind 8-0 and tied the score at 13-13. Final game score was 15-13. Grosse Ile's favor.

On Friday the girls jumped off to an early 15-5 victory but then dropped the next two games 15-7, 15-11 to Airport.

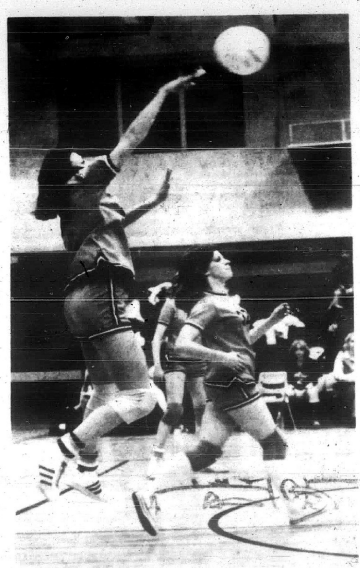
According to coach Donna Sass, the team began playing very well, but then the bumping broke down and the team could not put together an effective offense.

Monday was a completely different story for the girls as they swept by Carlson in two games for a 15-13, 15-11 win.

The girls set up a good offense Monday and hit the ball well. Sandy MacGeorge was the top server with six in a row the second game and added four more during the night.

The THS squad was down 8-3 the second game, but came back for the win.

This week for the JV's they lost to Grosse Ile Wednesday, 17-15, 15-0. They lost to Airport 16-14, 13-15, 15-13. Then the JV's also turned the tide on Carlson and won Monday 15-11, 15-12.



SPIKED POINT — Kris McDonald pounds the ball for a point while Sandy Humphries races to the net. The Indians beat Carlson in two games Monday night.

Bagby, Halvin Wrestle Well

Indian Jack Bagby returned with a second place finish and Randy Halvin wrestled the best of his career Saturday at the Willow Run regional matches.

Halvin pinned his first man in 1:44. The young Madison Heights wrestler was first seeded in the tournament.

Halvin was beaten 11-10 in a very close second match by a Woodhaven wrestler. If he had won the second match, Halvin would have finished at least second in the tournament. Halvin then lost his final match by a pin to a Saline wrestler.

Bagby beat his first man 2-1 overtime. The wrestler was from Madison Heights. Bagby then beat a Chelsea man who he had lost to earlier in the year. The Indian grappler won 4-3.

In the finals, Bagby lost to a Southgate wrestler 7-3 to finish second in his weight class. Bagby now travels to Central Michigan University Friday and Saturday for the state tournament.

Overall, the Indian wrestlers finished 20th in the Willow Run tourney in a field of 44 teams.

Notch 15th, 16th, 17th Victory

Clinton's basketball squad won three games this last week, beating Columbia Central last Tuesday, Hudson Friday and Britton Tuesday night.

Against Columbia, Clinton pulled out a 46-43 victory after Central stopped the Clinton squad from taking the ball inside the second half.

With just 30 seconds to go, the Brooklyn squad took a shot while down 45-43. They missed and the Redskins got the rebound. Mike Karapas was fouled and hit one of two to end the scoring.

Mark Dettling led the Redskins with 20 points while Dave Porter had 16.

Friday Clinton breezed to a 70-51 win behind good inside shooting offensively and good defensive execution.

Clinton led 20-13 at the end of the first frame and Hudson was never able to threaten. Dettling again led the scoring with 26 points while Jeff Porterfield was second high with 15. Porter also hit double figures with 11 points.

Clinton Beats Britton by 12

Clinton put their 17th win of the season behind them Tuesday against Britton, but not before the Tories gave the Redskins a very good game.

Final tally left Clinton on top, 74-62. Britton kept up with the Redskins until the fourth quarter with good outside shooting. Clinton dominated the inside.

Clinton led 18-13 at the end of the first frame and stretched that margin by two points at half. Britton tied the game up at 48-48 midway in the third frame and went ahead by two before Clinton caught them and eventually pulled away.

Britton had four players in double figures, as did Clinton. For the Tories, Troy Bailey, Randy Dusseau, Terry Benedict and Greg Fanslau had 14, 16, 10 and 19 points respectively.

For Clinton, Karapas and Porterfield each had 17 points, Dettling dropped 18 in and Porter added 16.

From the floor Britton was 28 of 62 while Clinton was 31 of 53. At the line, Britton hit six of nine and the Redskins were 12 of 20. Dettling led Clinton's 40-20 rebound edge with 16.

Earlier in the week, Britton dropped a game to Whiteford 70-63.

Again four Britton players hit double figures. Fanslau had 15 points, Dusseau was high with 18, Bailey and David Bruce each had 12 points.

Britton hit 24 of 64 shots from the floor for 39 percent while Whiteford was 31 of 60 for 53 percent.

Whiteford's squad had the height advantage but out rebounded Britton by just seven, 30-23. Britton pulled down more boards than their opposition the last two minutes of the game.

Britton is now 6-13.

Michigan Lung Association was the benefiting charity in two "Bowl Down Lung Disease" champion events held at Tecumseh bowling centers recently that raised $2,000.

Graham Morden received a championship trophy for collecting the most money in the event held at Airport Bowl.

Students representing a division of the Michigan Youth Bowling Association registered to bowl and sought pledge support in their neighborhoods. After the event, bowlers collected over $300.

Tophies were also awarded at Airport Bowl Jan. 27 to top fundraisers in the division—juniors Debbie Jedele, Tom Jedele and David Jedele.

Dan Richard received a championship trophy for collecting the most money in the event held at Ten Pin Lanes.

Students representing two different divisions of the American Junior Bowling Congress registered to bowl and sought pledges. Bowlers collected a total in excess of $1,700.

Trophies at Ten Pin Lanes went to top fundraisers in each division, Junior-Senior division recipients were Bruce Withrow, Wendy Graham and Kevin Gratz. In the Bantam division were Scott Wood, Bradley Withrow and Barbara Mort.

Ten Pin Lanes received a trophy for the largest percentage of bowlers participating in the 24 regional lanes that took part in the Bowl Down. Dawn Fleischer won a regional championship trophy for raising the most money from pledges in the region.

Karl Baer from the Michigan Lung Association, Huron Valley Region Council presented the two championship trophies.

The "Bowl Down" is one of the series of "special events" being held throughout the state. They make it possible for each community to show its concern for people who suffer from lung disease.

The funds raised will help support the lung association's programs in adult and child lung disease, anti-smoking education, environmental health, research and professional education and community services.

Health programs of the Michigan Lung Association are sponsored almost entirely by donations received during the Christmas Seal campaign and special events such as the Bowl Down.

VARSITY CHATS WITH NEUMAN PILBEAM AT HERRICK NURSING HOME

Champions On, Off Court

About six years ago the varsity club started helping less fortunate children on a limited basis. Two years ago it spread among all varsity players, not just the club.

The group would throw a Christmas party for the kids and then take them to a basketball game, usually in January. It was a unique interaction of players and kids.

Then the "helping" fever spread to visiting the Herrick Nursing Home, and the group visited two or three times each year. They went at Christmas and found that some of the people never received visitors.

One of the players then suggested that the team go two or three times a month to the home, and they have ever since.

The young players have realized that the older folks need them and they need the older folks. The team is helping others in their time of need.

And that is the lesson coach Curth would like everyone to learn. The most valuable gift in the world is the "gift of time." He doesn't want his players just to win ball games, he wants them to help a few people, spend some time with them.

Then coach Curth explains, the kids become "winners in life."

And one cannot help but wonder if "winning in life" has had an effect on the varsity on the basketball floor.

Of course, there is no direct correlation, but has the time they spent together at the nursing home made them closer?

According to the basketball players, it has. They have always been close. Most of the kids have played together since the fourth grade. Still the nursing home has brought them even closer. It's that closeness and the team work that has separated the Indians from other Huron League teams.

As one of the basketball players said, they use to go down there just to cheer the nursing home folks up. Now it's much more. The group converses freely with six or seven of their favorite folks.

They trade stories. They joke around. It's a relaxed, enjoyable learning experience for all involved. Both sides look forward to meeting again.

And it's not uncommon to hear someone yelling from a room as the team goes by in the hall, "Tecumseh by 12!"

Thru My Window

BY MARDA GENE DUNCAN

I looked out just in time to see a big yellow cat plowing through the snow drifts and heading right for the near-my-window feeders. My first thought was that it was Butterscotch, the neighbor's cat, and I called Mom. She has an almost mystical power over this cat, it is terrified of her.

So often has Mom chased it out of the yard that now all she has to do is open a door or window and the cat streaks away as if its life was threatened. It is funny to see because, of course, she would never hurt anything.

On this particular afternoon, however, she opened the west window and the cat did not run away. She clapped her hands and told it to go home but, instead of dashing frantically away, the big yellow thing simply started running faster toward the house.

It scooted under the yews and positioned itself right beneath the open window. Again Mother said go away but the cat merely stood on its hind legs and began meowing.

Quickly Mom closed the window. What we definitely did not need was that huge, yellow monster inside.

Next she got the yard stick. We thought perhaps she could send the cat home with a few gentle nudges. Cautiously she opened the window again and tried to swat the cat.

Oh my — not only did it mistake her threats for an invitation but the dumb thing thought the paddle-stick was a plaything.

What to do next? While Mom and I were trying to decide, the cat was under the window howling up a storm. Mom started telephoning. No, our visitor was not Royal's cat. Butterscotch was curled up napping on their davenport.

None of the other neighbors she called had yellow cats nor did they know anyone who knew anything about one.

In desperation she even called the police department. Yes, the courteous gal on the desk explained people do sometimes report missing cats but unfortunately no one had complained about losing a big yellow one.

She went on to say that usually cats will just wander back home. Not much help in this situation.

While Mom was busy with the telephone I was busy myself. The cat continued howling and I, of course, was a captive audience.

I was also keeping track of the feeders and frantically waving my arms at any unwary birds who headed for the trays.

It was bad enough to have the cat around but we certainly did not want it lunching on our birds. And I cannot help but wonder what the chickadees and titmice might have thought when suddenly they were being frightened away from the place where always before they have been most welcome.

Well, to make a long story short, it was a most frustrating afternoon. I kept shooing the birds away and was never more grateful that there were many other feeding stations in the neighborhood which they could visit.

The cat kept howling. Several times it did quiet down and once Mom opened the window and looked but no, it had not left and the meowing started all over again.

It was a fat sleek cat, someone's pet, and we did feel a bit sorry for it. We thought probably it was lost. Besides, the weather was bitterly cold and not fit for any animal.

All soft hearted thoughts we might have had now disappeared. The huge, yellow cat has been around several times since the first visit so obviously there is nothing lost or forlorn about it.

Actually the cat is not to be blamed, parking under a bird feeder is instinctive behavior.

However, people who have pets and do not take care of them properly deserve all the criticism in the world. Dog owners are expected to keep their pets at home and under control. Why should not the same be true of the people who have cats?

GT Plans $5.1 Million Improvements

General Telephone plans to spend $5.1 million for service improvement and expansion in 1979 for customers in its 15 southeastern Michigan exchanges.

All General Telephone customers in the company's Adrian division would benefit in some way—either by local or long distance service improvements or, in many cases, by both.

Equipment to provide touch calling—telephones with push buttons in place of the standard dial—will be installed in Britton, Clinton and Tecumseh among others.

There are over 60 vignettes of those who were inhabitants of Spoon River and whose secrets have gone with them to the grave in this constantly interesting entertainment. In an amazingly varied array of roles, from young lovers to preachers and teachers to the funny chronicle of the Jew and the Gentile who end up in the wrong cemeteries, both the sordid and the the humorous sides of life are portrayed, in fetching ballads and the free verse of Edgar Lee Masters.

A GERSHWIN SONGBOOK
Following the highly successful An Evening With Cole Porter and Jacques Brel, the Black Sheep presents an evening of songs by George Gershwin. From the folk drama of Porgy & Bess to the optimism of "I'll Build a Stairway to Paradise," from the lighthearted good humor of "Let's Call the Whole Thing Off" to the lightly sentimental "Somebody Loves me," from the drive and vitality of "I Got Rhythm" to the unabashed romanticism of "The Man I Love," Gershwin's music embodies the American Spirit of the 20's and 30's.

A LIFE IN THE THEATRE By David Mamet
In this Chicago playwright's brilliant comedy we see two players—a seasoned professional and a novice—interact in a cycle of roles in both onstage and backstage scenes. Their changing relationship, both personal and professional, is explored and examined with wit, irony and poignancy. "He is an eloquent master of the two-part harmony. An abundantly gifted playwright; he brings new life to the theatre." N.Y. Times.

Club Discusses Women Settlers

Cecile Smith, program chairman, spoke to the members of Tecumseh Monday Club Feb. 5, and chose the subject of American life.

Mrs. Smith began with the arrival of the early settlers, who came to this land to seek their fortune in the New World and to escape tyranny and despotic rule.

She traced their humble beginnings in establishing homes and described the crude furnishings, made by hand.

Much of the hard work depended upon the women of the family who prepared the food, either over an open fire outside or on the hearth inside, the family clothing, prepared herbs and other vegetation for medical use and acted as midwife.

She stated that much of the history of these early days was obtained from diaries kept by the men of the settlements and time was recorded by notches on a board.

She aptly described the progress of American life through the years and as it is now in 1979. She concluded with the thought that regardless of the hardships and struggles to establish the American way of life, we are always thankful for the many blessings bestowed upon us by God.

Club president Naomi Sallows, presided at the business meeting, during which officers for 1979-80 were elected.

Mrs. Sallows will again serve as president and other officers include Geraldine French, first vice president; Ann Waterman, second vice president; Vera Driffel, treasurer; Miriam Nixon, recording secretary and Mrs. Merrick Dibble, corresponding secretary.

Olga Stephenson and Eunice Bowen were appointed to the executive board.

The Lenawee County Federation of women's Clubs meeting will be held at the First United Methodist Church in Adrian Feb. 14.

Also a fashion show by Trickey's and luncheon will be held March 7 with proceeds for a charity hall in the fall.

Members reported ill and hospitalized were Ethel Coak, Frances Hewlett, Katheirne Redman and Bessie Wise.

Geraldine Trull of Waupaca, Wisc., attended the meeting as a guest of Edna Wilcox.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. William Snook and committee with Katherine Weikart and Elizabeth Wilson presiding at the tea table.

The Croswell Opera House and Fine Arts Association will present the Ann Arbor Comic Opera Guild production of "The Gypsy Baron" by Johann Strauss.

Scheduled for Saturday, March 10 at 8 p.m. at the Croswell House, the performance will be the final one of the season for the Ann Arbor-based group.

The Comic Opera Guild production features lush Viennese waltzes contrasted with exciting gypsy music, with both spoken dialogue and musical lyrics performed in English.

The production includes a cast of 45 and a full orchestra of 35 members, complete with full scenery and lavish costumes.

The plot of "The Gypsy Baron" includes a wide range of humor and fantasy, with adventure and mistaken identity, royal babies lost at birth, Gypsy armies on the march, a buried Gypsy treasure and Gypsy marriages taking place under the stars, and finally a 20-year-old secret which brings the operetta to a happy ending.

Individual tickets as well as group reservations are available at the Croswell Opera House or by calling 263-5674.

THS Plans Begin for Accreditation

Kathleen Kelso and Wayne Nix have been chosen to co-chair the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and College's study at Tecumseh High in 1980-81.

The local school was last evaluated in 1974 and accrediated at that time.

The accrediation involves a two to three day extensive study to review educational programs. It allows high school students to go on into secondary education if programs meet NC's academic requirements.

A team of educators and administrative personnel make up the different evaluating teams to cover high schools in 19 states, mostly in the mid-west.

Plans are already underway locally for next year's study.

After Care Program Helps Students Adjust

by Kathy Brown

Hank was called a troublemaker. He agreed with that opinion of himself. He admitted he liked to create a little hell in and out of school.

Hank (not his real name) spent five months at Maurice Spear Campus, a detention and treatment center in Adrian for unmanagable teens who are wards of probate court. A lot of his ideas began to change there, he admitted.

"I don't really want to go back (to MSC). I don't want to be looked on as a problem-type kid," said the 17-year-old freshman.

When he returned to Tecumseh High School, he volunteered to participate in an "after care" program, the first in the county.

Hank's grades have improved over the past 12 weeks, particularly the academic subjects, noted his probation officer Laurie Hamerman, with approval.

His attitude toward his teachers has changed. He has overcome some of the peer pressures to return to his trouble making behavior.

A girl, the second student in the pilot program at THS, raised her grade point average from an all-time low of .33 to a 3.0, a solid "B" average.

Her attendance improved. She too, was able to overcome peer pressure to return to problem behavior.

The after care program is believed to be the first of its kind in this region. It gives students who return from a youth detention center a one-to-one caring relationship with a teacher representative during the critical first 12 weeks back in public school.

The program aims to increase the returning student's chances of academic success, establish confidence in himself and become productive.

Before the after care program, a student was put back in school with no support. Like the proverbial fish in the sea, he became lost in the larger classes once he was removed from the supportive environment of the youth center on which he depended.

Studies on the State of Michigan juvenile correction system show that the first three months after a juvenile's release is the most critical time of readjustment.

Nearly three-fifths or 58 percent of all arrests that occur in the first year happen in the first three months after release. This is four times more than for the ensuing nine months.

Studies also show that students attend school for non-academic reasons like to have a place to go, to avoid loneliness and to socialize with friends.

"After care is one segment of a larger goal the Juvenile Court has to help the student stay productive in society," explained David Stanifer, director of the Lenawee County juvenile division of Probate Court.

"Success is important to the child. If he spends one-half of his time in school, there is an opportunity for success," Stanifer told.

"This is an inexpensive tool to help a student build confidence and self-esteem and attain a level he is capable of doing," he continued.

"We are on the brink of something...that can help the community schools and courts to keep these kids out of trouble and it is cost effective. We are sold on several angles of it," Stanifer said with satisfaction.

After care begins when MSC officials determine a student is ready to deal with his problems in the outside world.

Dorman Borders, probate officer and after care program volunteer coordinator, arranges a meeting with officials from MSC, probate court and the public school.

Staff then trains the public school teacher representative with valuable information about the student's behavior and academic ability, the student's needs, the juvenile court process, MSC treatment program including an on site tour, the after care program procedures and the role of weekly feedback for the student.

The new student and his teacher representative are introduced. The student signs a contract agreeing to attend school regularly, follow behavior policies and accomplish short and long term goals in his studies.

His academic teachers are acquainted with the program through the teacher representative.

The teacher rep and student meet each week for 12 weeks to discuss all classes. Every four weeks, the student may revise his goals.

Teacher representatives at THS were Kathryn Suydam, Kathy Kelso and Diane Wakeford. They credited their students' efforts with the success of the program.

"Before I just thought that teachers did their job and didn't really care about you," said Hank. "Now that I know a bit more about it, I feel that teachers care and will help you if you need help," he told.

Hank said that he would like to continue with the program because of the feedback from his teacher, but he has formally completed it.

"I think he knows now that the door is always open for him to talk with his teacher," commented Dorman Borders.

The program is now starting in Hudson with three more MSC students. "Our ultimate goal is to extend it to any interested school system," said Stanifer.

"This program is an example of people caring for people," commented Clarence Lacny, THS principal. He is proud Tecumseh was selected for the pilot program.

Perhaps Mrs. Suydam summarized the effectiveness of the relationship between teacher and student in the after care program. "I'm proud of you," she told Hank.

Hank's face, tense during the interview, became relaxed, as if from a quiet, inner feeling of acceptance and self-satisfaction.

GM Plans Award Excellence Program

The General Motors Award for Excellence in Community Activities program will begin soon at Fisher Body-Tecumseh and Chevrolet-Adrian.

W.J. Polk, plant manager, Fisher Body Division Tecumseh and D.L. Fruit, plant manager, Chevrolet Motor Division-Adrian, announced the program in letters mailed to all employes' homes.

Speaking as chairman of the Adrian-Tecumseh Plant City Committee, Polk noted the program is designed to recognize and honor Adrian-Tecumseh area employes who perform outstanding service for the betterment of their community and its citizens through voluntary participation in civic, charitable, and other activities.

In describing the program, Polk said, "Throughout the years at our GM operations in Adrian-Tecumseh, countless employes have devoted their time and energy toward making our community a better place in which to live, work, and raise a family.

"The awards program is our way of honoring such employes for their selfless and sincere work and at the same time demonstrate our support and interest in their endeavors."

All active Fisher Body-Tecumseh and Chevrolet-Adrian employes, except those directly connected with the administration of the program, are eligible to be nominated. The nomination period will run from March 5, 1979 until midnight, March 19, 1979.

There is no limit to the number of nominations an individual may submit. Nominations may be made by employes, their families, or the general public.

Activities meriting nomination include participation in citizen's groups, youth programs, United Fund, or other community fund raising campaigns, unusual acts of personal heroism or moral courage, service club projects in the community, interest and service in an elected or appointed public office.

Judging will be conducted by a team of prominent civic leaders. Announcement of winners will be made at an awards ceremony in May.

Judging criteria for awards will include the following: Amount of personal effort involved. Results of the employe's efforts. Extent of personal sacrifice. Degree of selflessness and sincerity of motivation. Uniqueness and originality of the employe's service. Whether or not the activity and service is a natural extension of the employe's job responsibility in his position at General Motors or in the union.

Nomination forms are available at the personnel departments of both Adrian-Tecumseh facilities, or can be obtained by writing to: Award for Excellence, Fisher Body Division, 5550 Occidental Hwy., Tecumseh.

Musical Is Program

A musical adventure was the program at the Feb. 26 meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Gerald Bach and the Tecumseh High School Stage Band entertained the group for an hour with oldies but goodies and modern tunes.

The group voted to make a donation to the stage band and the Lenawee County Historical Society.

Jeanette Gillis won a latch hook rug.

The March 26 meeting will be held again at St. Peter's Episcopal Church. A carnival evening will be held, open to the public. Details will be announced.

Settlement Is $3,000

A non-arbitration settlement of $3,000, one recommended by a Lansing law firm to the School Board, was made recently by Tecumseh school officials to Marjorie Barnes of Adrian, former elementary teacher at Tecumseh Acres.

A grievance had been filed by the Tecumseh Education Association in her behalf, according to Gene Cooley, assistant superintendent, relative to a disability.

Mrs. Barnes resigned from the schools on July 17, 1978.

President MacKenzie and Pauline Mueller attended the 6th district meeting Feb. 18 at the Mason Post 7309. The winner of the 6th district VOD scriptwriting contest, Dana Barfield of Huron High School, Ann Arbor, read his speech to the group.

State president Betty Connolly of Monroe made her official visit to the district. Mrs. Connolly stressed the need of volunteers for the continuation of the hospital programs.

When it comes to IRA accounts...

1978 ISN'T OVER YET!

Changes in the federal law have stretched the calendar. If you are a farmer, businessman, contractor, professional or anyone else whose income and earnings are not covered by a company pension plan, you can establish and contribute to a tax deferred Individual Retirement Account (IRA) until April 16th. That gives you over three extra months to determine just what your income was in 1978 and calculate exactly what 15% of it would be. Fifteen percent up to $1,500 is the maximum contribution to an IRA allowed under the law.

Right now, United Savings Bank of Tecumseh is paying 8% annual interest on all IRA accounts. That's the highest interest you can earn from any financial institution.

An Individual Retirement Account can save you tax dollars and provide a more secure future. There's nothing tricky, complicated or difficult about them. Ask about an IRA account at any of the five convenient offices of United Savings Bank . . . . . you have until April 16th this year.

Hebrews II:1-40 is suggested reading for preparation.

Spiritual Growth is the theme for the service prepared by Church Women United.

Readers will include Dee Jay Rinehart, Presbyterian Church; Cecile Smith, St. Peter's Episcopal Church; Marilyn Hewlett, Macon Methodist Church;

Margaret Krueger, Tecumseh Methodist Church; Frances Spreeman, St. Elizabeth Catholic Church; Naomi Sallows, Tecumseh Friends Church and Gisela Gero and Barb Strohl, Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

Ushers will include F. Sisson, H. Dick, L. McLeod and M. Pilbeam. Greeters will be M. Baaske and L. Geringer.

Linda Herman and Mary Ferguson will provide a duet.

Doris Baker and Jean Turlukowski will be in charge of the nursery.

A coffee hour will follow the service.

Consider Bid

Tecumseh's school board looked over a bid of $45,950 Monday night for the replacement of steel case windows in the older part of the high school.

The newer windows are designed to improve conservation and stop temperature radiation on cold, windy days.

The board asked for other quotes, but have not received them to date. They recommended waiting an additional four weeks before accepting the bid in hopes of obtaining others.

The building, grounds committee reported that some work could be done this year and finished next, but the board postponed all action.

Board OK's Lab Bid

Tecumseh shall soon have a new foreign language lab, according to school board reports Monday night.

The board accepted a bid for a new Fleetwood system in the amount of $11,419. Supplier is Michigan School Services.

The new system is wireless, FM, versatile and portable. It allows one teacher to monitor up to 30 individual students. As many as six different programs may be used at one time at different levels.

The system replaces an earlier Fleetwood one that has become out of date. At best, the old system's performance has been termed "marginal."

Board members had one other bid and chose this system after reviewing others and looking at their new system functioning on two occasions.

Report Finances Are Very Stable

Tecumseh has collected 80 percent of its property taxes and the school board reported Monday night that the schools are at a very stable condition financially at this time.

For the school period running from July 1978-January 1979, the board has spent 56 percent of its budget while 58 percent of the budget year has passed.

There could be a budget change if a proposed bill with a one percent cut in the August state aid payment goes through in Lansing. At this time, however, the cut involves a lot of unknowns and the bill's fate is uncertain.

If the cut does come, the board will know by its March meeting. No drastic problems of any sort are anticipated.

Seek Bids for Roof

The Tecumseh School Board heard a report from the building and maintenance committee Monday night that they are seeking bids to fix a leaky roof at Patterson and that carpeting for the kindergarten room at Tecumseh Acres had been purchased.

Officials reported that they will be able to report shortly on the Patterson bids, while the carpeting was a joint project of the Acres PTO and school board.

The committee also reported that the Ridgeway addition is nearly completed and will soon be occupied. One room in the older part of the school will now be vacated for conversion into a library.

Begin Telethon

The Siena Heights College Annual Alumni-Parent Telethon will be held at the college March 5-8 and March 12-15 from 6-9 p.m. More than 160 alumni, parent, faculty, staff and student volunteers will be contacting over 4,000 alumni and parents by phone for the alumni-parent fund.

Coordinating the event is Kathy Johnston-Betzoldt, director of Alumni-Parent Relations at Siena and Phyllis Robison, Fund Raising Chairperson of the Alumni Association.

promise

The Saxons had a word for Spring. It was Lencten, shortened, in time, to Lent.

So the name Lent was given to that springtime period of 40 fast days from Ash Wednesday until Easter.

Lent came to mean a time of penitence. And it is. But it is also a time of preparation, and of promise. For because Lent means Spring, it heralds good things to come. It forecasts the glorious message of Easter. It is the dawn of the most beautiful season of the year.

The bare branches of these trees will burst into bud and leaf with the touch of Spring. Our thoughts during Lent, our personal preparations, also will reach fruition when the 40 days are through.

Lent is the time for prayer and self-examination. Make this Lenten season really mean something by seeking help and guidance at your church services.

By Kathy Brown

Tecumseh lost a life-long friend when Wilfred Waldron died last week.

In the brief five years that I knew him, Mr. Waldron was one of Tecumseh's biggest boosters. One of his last remarks made to the ambulance crew that drove him to the hospital was that Tecumseh was a fine community to live in.

He often expressed his appreciation for the local newspaper and its staff. One day he came to the office bearing four shamrock plants as a token of friendship for myself and three of my coworkers.

I will always remember Wilfred Waldron for his kindness, his sharp memory of Tecumseh's history and especially for his determination and stamina. He once told me that in his late teens, a doctor told him that he would be lucky to live to age 25. He was advised never to marry, lest he pass the "affliction" on to his children.

Mr. Waldron said he built himself up by exercise and running. He died at the age of 91. His list of experiences, interests and accomplishements tell the story of a man who knew that life was for living.

Some of those interests he shared with me in conversation included local history, photography, boat building and travel.

He once remarked he had seen the sun rise and set on each coast. He was always obliging to talk about or participate in projects that dealt with Tecumseh history, like the Bicentennial tree marking by local garden club; but he was always too modest to allow this reporter to tell his story.

I believe nothing pleased Wilfred Waldron more than to live his life in the community he loved most.

The Rev. David Fox will give his last sermon in Tecumseh March 4 at St. Peter's Episcopal Church. A social hour will follow the 10 a.m. service.

Reluctantly, Tecumsehites will bid him and his wife, Lynn and children, Sarah, Catey and David, a farewell and good luck as they move to Tulsa, Okla., where the Rev. Fox will become rector of St. John's Episcopal Church.

During their five years in Tecumseh, Mrs. Fox was active as a leader in the Girl Scouts program and the Rev. Fox was an active Rotarian and involved in the comunity.

Perhaps the community at large came to know him best in his role as Tecumseh Bicentennial chairman.

One of the projects that grew out of Tecumseh's Bicentennial was the Town Meeting, which due to its supporters, had no small effect on Tecumseh's current situation.

Industrial growth and community development was one of the overriding concerns of the 200 that gathered at the October 1976 day-long meeting.

Today, Tecumseh is welcoming a new industry to its developing industrial park. New commerce seems to be attacted to once empty downtown buildings. It has required cooperation of city government, business and citizens who believe in Tecumsh.

Scouts Celebrate 69th Anniversary

The 69th birthday anniversary of Boy Scouts of America was recently celebrated by scout troop #272 and its sponsor, the United Methodist Men of the Tecumseh United Methodist Church.

During "Scout Week" Feb. 4-10, the UMM hosted the scouts and fathers for the annual breakfast meeting to salute the efforts of the unit and to provide the sponsor an update of the troop activities.

The presentations were keyed to the 1979 scout week theme "The Wonderful World of Scouting."

Special guests for the occasion were Dennis Rice, scout executive (Lenawee County) and David Hoover, district chairman-scouting. Both are of the Adrian area.

Donald Sass, president of UMM welcomed the group of troop representatives. Opening ceremonies were conducted by the scouts.

After the breakfast Ed Walters, scouting coordinator (UMM), introduced the special guests and commented on the exceptional opportunities available to youth through the scouting program.

John V. Deming, scoutmaster, then called upon several of the scouts who related facts and impressions concerning some of the troop program highlight events of 1978 and plans for 1979.

Scout presentors included: Rick Smoke (seminar of all faiths); David Compton (Scout-O-Rama); Andy Bick (Camp Kanesatake outing); Bill Beardsley (troop canoe trip);

Paul Vredeveld (Brown Sea II); Steve Covell (CK Camp-O-Ree); Karl Furstenberg (five mile hike); Mike Glenn (winter hike-12 mile); Jim Pully (Jackson Space Center); and John Birdwell (polar bear-winter camp).

To conclude the scout presentations, scouts Tim and John E. Deming, Bill Beardsley conducted a special "Scouting Rededication" ceremony.

The final highlight of the meeting was the presentation of a Scoutmaster's plaque to John V. Deming and service plaque to Sam L. Compton, assistant scoutmaster since fall 1977 in appreciation for their leadership to troop 272.

In conjunction with "Scout Sunday" Feb. 4, the scouts and leaders participated in the regular service of the Tecumseh United Methodist Church.

Those participating directly were Mr. and Mrs. John V. Deming, greeters and Andy Bick and Ed Walters, service. Others participated in presenting the flag and acted as ushers at the service.

In keeping with the scouting tradition members of troop #272 had two service projects tied to the 69th birthday celebration, one to the church and one to community, the latter being the set-up for the annual Gospel Ho-Down, Feb. 11.

Troop #272 was started in July 1972 with the UMM as sponsor.

The troop meets at the Tecumseh United Methodist Church each Monday night at 7 p.m. Any youth age 11 or over is welcome to attend.

Further information is available from John V. Deming, Sam L. Compton, Ed Furstenberg or Jim Dehring, scoutmasters.

Speaks on South Africa

Carol Goodrich, a former resident of Tecumseh and now living in Milford, was introduced as guest speaker by Hazel Bonner at the Feb. 19 meeting of the Tecumseh Monday Club.

Following the theme of the program, international affairs, Mrs. Goodrich spoke on South Africa, covering the political and financial status of the country.

Settled in 1870 by descendants of the Dutch known as Boers, the white population comprises only 17 percent of the population, but they hold 87 percent of the land and 77 percent of the wealth of this country.

They are known to have the highest standard of living in the world, while the blacks have the lowest standard of living.

She stated that the blacks are referred to as 'temporary sojourners' and emphasized that under the present opression of Third Reich conditions this area presents the greatest potential for violence in any area of the world.

Living in sprawling ghettos or on reservations assigned to them, the Blacks are used as slave labor which pays them 35c per hour where the same job would pay the whites $1.15 per hour.

Corporate investments by large business firms in the United States do not help the blacks. Where these companies normally expect a three percent profit here, in South Africa their return is 32 percent.

She concluded by stating that there is not much we can do but be informed and be able to better understand the situation in South Africa.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Naomi Sallows, who presented a memorial tribute to Gladys Rohweder, who died Feb. 11.

Mrs. Sallows reminded the club of the membership drive sponsored by the Federation of Women's Clubs which will end March 30, and urged all members to participate.

Refreshments were served by Katherine Welkart and committee, with Geraldine French and Irene Davis presiding at the tea table.

Teenage Disco Opening Here on March 17th

A disco for teenagers will open next week in the former Harry's Furniture building on Occidental Rd., across from Fisher Body Plant.

Grand opening of the disco, first in this area, is scheduled for St. Patrick's Day, March 17th.

Owner, businessman Ed Reaume of Manchester, says it will be one of the largest in the state with a 900-square-foot dance floor. Building itself is over 6,000 square feet.

Steve LaBuda, Ann Arbor disc jockey and a teacher at Boysville for the past three years, will be the disco's manager. He's studying for a degree in child psychology and criminalogy.

Management and regulating the disco will be strict, and misconduct will not be tolerated, Reaume explains. Security will be prominent with two employees patroling the parking lot and four overlooking activities inside.

Some of the regulations are:

- Maximum age for admission is 18.
- Must be properly attired.
- Smoking or drinking alcoholic beverages prohibited.
- Profane and boisterous language prohibited.
- Outer jackets or similar apparel may not be worn inside.
- No re-entering the disco after leaving.

Approximately 15 employees will be hired, including the six for security. A viewing area for parents only will be available with parents able to see the dance floor through a one way glass.

Features will include two lounges for teenagers with closed circuit color TV of the dance floor. Soft drinks, chips and popcorn will be served.

Disco hours will be 7 p.m. to 12 midnight on Fridays for ages 17 and under; Saturdays from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. for pre-teens, and Saturday nights from 7 to 12 for 17 and under. A Sunday afternoon schedule also is contemplated.

Extensive remodeling is underway with new carpet, walls, electrical changes, construction of lounge areas and installation of a $25,000 sound system.

Disco building also will be made available to acceptable instructors for qualified dance instruction.

Reaume says the parking lot will be enlarged and brightly lighted for security reasons.

The five-year-old building, built and owned by Jack Osburn, Tecumseh real estate broker, was sold to Edmund J. Sikorski Jr., Ann Arbor attorney, last Thursday. He will not be involved in operating and managing the disco.

Reaume expects to open another disco at Ann Arbor in the near future. His disco here is not related to the entertainment center and disco announced in January by Ken Swope, Bill Coker and Don Pettigrew, Fisher Body Plant employees.

Council OKs Initial Plat of Development for 700

After a public hearing at which a handful of residents expressed some concern about the effects of growth, the Tecumseh City Council approved the preliminary plat for Courtland Place, a subdivison planned for 46 acres of property on the north side of Burt Street.

The developer is the Tecumseh Development Group Inc., with Richard Heglin of Tecumseh as president.

The 100-lot planned residential community will have 96 single-family lots and four center lots for cluster townhouses.

The single family lots are designed around 16 cul-de-sac drives for privacy. Lot sizes range from 7,700 to 10,000 sq. ft. with average lot size of 9,000 sq. ft.

About 290 apartments are planned as the second phase of the development. They will be arranged in townhouse clusters of no more than four to provide privacy for both apartment dwellers and single family homeowners.

Parking will be clustered on the inside of the multiple units development. Landscaping berms between existing homes on Burt Street and the proposed townhouses are planned.

Heglin estimated that the total development will provide housing for 700 people. Access will be via two feeder streets, Vanette and Clark St., both dedicated city streets. Development of these will be the developers responsibility as will installing city sewer and water.

The developers added that present city utilities are adequate, the new development will not be a burden to the city.

Prior to Council's vote, Harold Lange, manager of Al Meyers Airport, told Council he wanted potential homeowners in that area to be aware of the airport activity.

Lange added that some people who move in to the area have the false idea that the airport is closing. Lange said the airport will continue to operate.

The developers said that the airport is a reality but they do not expect the light aircraft type of air traffic will deter people from living in Courtland Place.

Other residents from the area were concerned that two feeder streets will not be able to handle the traffic.

Heglin pointed out that the Region II planners, a tri-county planning agency, to which the city subscribes, were satisfied with the street plan. Further, the River Acres subdivision has only two feeder streets and the Herrick Park subdivision has only one.

Heglin said that single family development may begin this summer if all proceeds on schedule. He estimated that phase of development could be completed in three years.

The developers will meet with the Tecumseh Planning Commission, after about one-third of the single family homes are built, to have the site plan review for the townhouses, as required by city zoning restrictions.

The total development could be completed in four to six years, Heglin estimated.

Officials Vote 4 to 2 for Charter Revision

Tecumseh City Council decided in a 4-2 vote Monday night that the 25-year-old city charter needs revision and a charter commission should be elected by the people to do the job.

Council directed city attorney Greg Forsthoefel to work with Louis C. Andrews, attorney for the Michigan Municipal League, to draft a resolution for the next regular meeting.

Councilmember Harold Easton and Mayor Aden Mead cast dissenting votes.

Both said that they did not agree with the expense of a charter revision estimated at $5,000 for the city, including legal fees and election expenses.

Both Easton and Mead thought the necessary charter changes could be made economically through the second method of changing a city's charter, that of charter amendment by a vote of the people.

The basic changes that Council discussed for the charter included deleting such outdated provisions such as references to supervisors and justices of the peace.

More serious changes that Council discussed were clarifying some ambiguities in charter language, such as the section that refers to approval of city purchases, and changing the charter so that the mayor could be elected by a majority of voters.

Presently, the mayor is elected each year by City Council at its reorganizational meeting in January, after the preceeding November Council election.

Attorney Andrews suggested that if Council wanted a thorough charter revision, incorporting these more serious changes, it should consider charter revision by commission. Otherwise, simple revisions could be handled by charter amendment.

To start charter revision by commission, City Council must adopt a resolution. Then the voters must elect nine charter commission members, not members of the Council, nominated under the same procedures as are City Council candidates.

Andrews suggested that Council make the charter revision by commission an advisory question on the November 1979 ballot and solicit charter commission candidates as well.

If the advisory vote passed, charter commission candidates elected in November could immediately begin to work on the charter.

Following this schedule, the charter revisions could be presented to the electorate for approval by November 1980 and save the city some of the expense of special elections.

Charter commission meetings are public and would enable public input. Any charter changes, whether by amendment or by charter commission, must be approved by the voters.

Reports, Activities Reviewed by Chamber

Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce had a busy session last Thursday when the board held its regular monthly meeting. Topics and reports ranged from membership to the city's proposed senior housing complex.

Secretary Betty Preston's report on the meeting is:

Mike Marshall, director of the Lenawee County Chamber of Commerce and Economic Development Corporation, told the Chamber here that Tecumseh Printers intends to apply this spring for industrial revenue bonds for financing a new building in the Industrial Park.

Diane Proctor explained the objectives of the Welcome Wagon organization, and the board agreed to supply city maps, list of area organizations, and a letter of welcome from the Chamber.

Lincoln Lloyd reported that the recent membership drive increased the Chamber's membership to 87 with seven others interested. Dues structure and a membership questionnaire also were discussed.

Advertising flyers for the antiques and old craft sidewalk market, scheduled for the Promenade the Past days of May 19-20, will be mailed soon, Harvey Schmidt reported.

Don Dobrosky reported that printing bids would be sought soon for a new civic brochure. A discussion was held as whether or not copies would be sold to commercial firms.

Roger Proctor, chairman of Michigan Week, said a co-chairman was needed along with chairmen of the day. Paul Preston volunteered to be Government Day chairman.

Preston explained a need for a non-profit corporation relative to meeting financing requirements from Farm Home for senior housing. It was agreed to appoint four members from the Chamber board to serve.

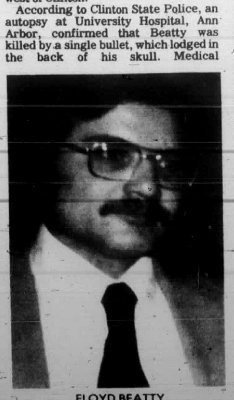
He also presented a drawing for possible renovations of downtown stores, the theme of which followed historic preservation.

Dobrosky reported that nine bands would be in Tecumseh for a band festival on June 29.

Man Shot, Murdered at His Rural Home

CLINTON — Floyd Neil Beatty, 28, was found shot to death at his home, at 9:18 a.m. Friday, when a friend stopped by the residence at 3900 US-12, four miles west of Clinton.

According to Clinton State Police, an autopsy at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, confirmed that Beatty was killed by a single bullet, which lodged in the back of his skull. Medical examiners established the time of death to be before midnight Thursday.



FLOYD BEATTY

State Police said Beatty was shot at close range, within three or four feet.

Police believe that Beatty was awakened sometime during the night by a knock on the back door of his home, and apparently was shot when he answered.

He was found lying inside the back doorway, clad in bathrobe and slippers.

Beatty was unmarried and apparently alone at the time of the shooting.

The residence was not ransacked. Police are discounting robbery as a motive.

No weapon was found, but police theorize that the gun used was possibly a .44 or .45 caliber pistol.

Services were Tuesday at Proctor Funeral Home, Clinton. Further information is on the obituary page.

Indians Need Win for Tourney Finals

A victory Wednesday night over Monroe CC will advance the Tecumseh Indians to the district tournament finals Saturday night at Saline.

CC trounced Milan Monday night and will face the Indians for the third time this season, upsetting Tecumseh in six overtimes in the last outing.

Saline, winner over Monroe Jefferson Tuesday evening, faces Airport Thursday night.

All games start at 7:30.

Condominiums Are Approved

Charles M. Cook of Tecumseh received City Council approval Monday night to divide his property at Bidwell and N. Pearl Streets into four parcels.

It is known as Out Lot C of Assessor's Plat No. 1.

Cook plans single family home development for two lots north of his own home at 512 N. Pearl St. and will build 30 condominiums on the five acres south of his home and west of Evans Creek.

Twenty-one of the condominiums will be two bedroom and nine will be three bedroom, according to Cook's plans presented to City Council.

Site plan review for the condominiums will be on the agenda for the March 13 meeting of the Tecumseh Planning Commission, 7:30 p.m. at city hall, told city building inspector Bob Hamden.

PC Developing Downtown Plans

For the past year, the Tecumseh Planning Commission has discussed what might be done to beautify the downtown business district.

Beautification of parking lots, development of downtown parcels and exterior renovation of business fronts were topics.

To assist property owners with suggestions on how their remodeling can contribute a more beautiful downtown, the Planning Commission has enlisted the help of a graduate student in architecture and planning from the University of Michigan to come up with some alternate proposals.

The student is working on scale model drawings of downtown business fronts of the four main business blocks. He will outline guides for renovation, ways to implement renovation and ways that city and business property owners can work together.

The student is being paid expenses for the study which is his class project.

Preliminary scale drawings of two business blocks were presented to the Chamber of Commerce at its last meeting by assistant city manager Paul Preston.

Final drawings, with overlays of alternative designs, will be presented to the Planning Commission in mid-April.

3 Approached for Housing Corporation

The Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce and two service clubs have been approached by assistant city manager Paul Preston to select members to form a non-profit corporation to own and manage the first proposed senior citizen housing in Tecumseh.

The Chamber has agreed to appoint four of its board of directors and Tecumseh Kiwanis club has agreed to appoint eight of its members. All as yet are unnamed.

Next Preston plans to enlist Tecumseh's Rotarians. About two years ago, Tecumseh Rotary Club went on record before City Council as being interested in helping the community get senior citizen housing.

The non-profit corporation must represent broad based support from the community, Preston added.

The city of Tecumseh has plans for a four-story 122-unit senior citizen apartment complex at Adrian and Pottawatamie Streets.

However, it ran into a snag when the city's housing commission found it could not qualify as a non-profit corporation to receive a $2.3 million mortgage loan from Farmers Home Administration (FmHA).

FmHA is an agency of the federal Department of Agriculture, specializing in assistance to rural rental housing projects in communities the size of Tecumseh, population 7,500.

FmHA is expected to reconsider Tecumseh's loan request as soon as it complies with the non-profit corporation requirement.

Preston told FmHA he should have the necessary paperwork completed by mid-March.

Tecumseh's project was approved by the district FmHA before it was informed of new regulation that has held up state and federal study of the proposed project that got underway about one year ago.

What official information about me might I ever need?

When accurate information is needed to fill out forms and announcements, it is often hard to located or remember. You need all sorts of information when you marry, buy insurance, apply for credit or a job, and, yes, even when death occurs.

It is wise to prepare such a total record now and keep it in a safe place . . . not in a safety deposit box because they are usually locked until after the funeral but rather in a locked drawer of your desk. Do, however, inform your spouse of where this information may be found.

Information most often needed includes: 1) full name, address, Social Security number, armed forces serial number, 2) birthdate and place, 3) blood type, 4) employer records, 5) name of father's and mother's birthplace and date, 6) names of organizations and publications to be notified, 7) location of important documents, 8) any special funeral preferences or prearranged, 9) pre-arranged donation of eyes or body organs, 10) names and addreses of all persons to be notified of your death.

Accidents, Complaints Minor

Traffic accidents and complaints investigated by Tecumseh police the past week were minor.

One motorist was cited for a violation, and of seven complaints, three involved glass breakage.

The accidents were:

Feb. 28 - Mark J. Kessler, 17, of 6565 S. Gove Court, was northbound on N. Ottawa when he attempted to make a left turn from the right lane. Lawrence L. Bauman, 43, of 408 W. Chicago Blvd. was passing on the left on the one way street when the vehicles collided.

March 2 - Donna J. Andre, 28, of 5286 Pocklington Rd., was stopped on Rogers Hwy. at M-50 when her vehicle was hit from the rear. Other vehicle left the scene and driver is unknown.

March 3 - Philip G. Moros, 24, of 903 Murray, was cited for improper backing after hitting a parked vehicle owned by William V. Dunten, Adrian, on Murray Dr.

March 6 - Dwayne D. Roberts, 26, Adrian was unable to stop on icy Adrian St. and struck the rear of a vehicle operated by Russell E. Reum, 42, of 2600 Gady Rd. Mishap occurred on Adrian St. at W. Chicago Blvd.

Reported complaints included two from residents about glass breakage and one at Herrick Park School.

Two 50x64-inch plate glass windows were found broken Monday morning by Lois Fleming, school principal.

Last Friday, John Ely, 311 W. Chicago Blvd., discovered the right door window in his car broken while parked at Tecumseh High School.

On the same day, Vickie Comfort, 606 Stacy, reported a window broken in her automobile.

Three other complaints involved thefts. Bruce Phenica, 9103 Paul's Trailer Park, told police Saturday that a stereo had been stolen from his trailer. Entry was through a front door.

Westland police notified the local department Saturday about a stolen vehicle here. Tecumseh officers apprehended Terry Willingham, Westland, and recovered the vehicle parked in front of 808 Shady Lane.

'Love' Is Fun Filled

A REVIEW

"Love Is Contagious" is the name of the comedy the Tecumseh Players are currently performing at the Glass Room in the Community Center.

Last Friday at opening night, "Love" was contagious with its audience. The play was appraised as a fun filled evening. The performance is well directed by Susan Benish Santner and well acted by Tecumseh Players, newcomers and veterans alike.

The play, which will be repeated Thursday, Friday and Saturday, is a bi-community production since the usual Tecumseh support is augmented by cast and patrons from the Brooklyn area.

The female romantic lead, Martie Frolich of Tecumseh, portrays Sally Winters, a wide-eyed farm girl who mothers everyone she meets. Martie has a demanding role since she is on stage nearly every scene and her emotions range from anger to sympathy.

Her brother Robbie, portrayed by Randy Guernsey of Brooklyn, is surprised by her arrival and her announcement that she is moving in.

Randy gives a good performance as a harassed reporter who is caught between a demanding boss and an equally demanding girlfriend, played by Laura Mead of Tecumseh.

The brother's surprise at his sister's arrival is compounded by his roommate Sam Harway's surprise and disapproval.

Sam Harway, an artist, portrayed by Kevin Baetz of Brooklyn, comes across as a sophisticated, individualistic New York artist who is really a cupcake. He is not thrilled with Sally's naive outlook on life and as he states "strange men and women do not live together."

As a good character should, Sally matures in the play, but she does not lose her basic goodness.

The characters in the play are stereotypes, and therein lies the humor. There are no weak members of this cast. As audiences have come to expect in the Players' presentations, the bit parts are often the most delightful.

Guil Rothfuss of Brooklyn portrays the stingiest, most self-seeking, money grabbing cab driver imaginable. But his heart and his pocketbook turn out to be lined with gold.

Mary Ann Bone of Tecumseh portrays everyone's nosy neighbor.

Becky Hite as MiMi Lamarr, a model who loves gangsters and Richelle Marks of Tecumseh, as a bo-swinging chorus girl, complete the love theme as each pursues her man.

Rosanne Frolich as Georgia Rutherford, charmed the audience with her shyness and strange mannerisms. She gave the part some real feeling and developed a total character even down to a most noticeable walk.

A loveable drunk, Harry Turner, played by Dick Egli, of Tecumseh, was simply fun to watch. His entrance is a real gem, but the Italian accent a little weak.

There are plenty of good one-liners in the play. Some of the actors lost a few while the audience was reacting. No doubt, they will learn to leave more room for audience reaction after last weekend's first audience exposure.

The play continues March 8, 9 and 10 in the Glass Room of the Tecumseh Community Center. Reservations are necessary, 423-2770. Seats are available for all three nights.

Since it's contagious, there is only one known cure for this comedy known as "Love", go see it for yourself.

(Editor's note: Contributing to this review were Holly Cogan of Brooklyn and Mary Ann Bone of Tecumseh.)

Thru My Window

BY MARDA GENE DUNCAN

Several weeks ago I told about the hawk snitching a mourning dove from the front yard. Well, apparently we are not the only ones who have been visited — many hawk adventures have come my way since that article appeared.

A telephone caller reported an interesting episode which happened last year. On this particular farm in the Tipton area, large evergreens were the nightly roost for a growing flock of mourning doves.

Suddenly one day a hawk appeared. A few days later he was back again. There was ample evidence that he had made a kill. It did not take the mourning doves long to get the message and soon there were none roosting in the evergreens.

Jumping to Macon — a small hawk was seen sitting on a bird feeder. The observer could hardly believe her eyes and she first thought it was an escaped parrot. He was small in size and brightly colored—reddish back, blue wings, rich buff front, and bits of green, white, black, and brown showing elsewhere.

Easy to see why it would be startling to see such a highly colored bird at one's feeder. It turned out to be a sparrow hawk.

But the real shocker in this episode was that the bird was sitting on the feeder eating something. That something turned out to be a junco.

The General's Lady had an interesting hawk experience to report, too. One day she looked out her kitchen window just as a large dark-colored bird came sailing up the driveway.

He was flying low and apparently saw her just as she saw him. He banked sharply, turned back the way he came and disappeared. The bird watcher had only an impression of a large bird, dark on top and light below. We are still wondering if it could have been a marsh hawk.

I also heard about another large hawk showing interest in a bird feeding station. This, too, was in Macon but a different area than that the sparrow hawk had visited. In addition to the size this hawk was reported to be dark on top and light underneath.

The front seemed to be streaked or striped. Could it have been the General's Lady's marsh hawk?

Last winter there was much snow and this year, although the snow depth is not as great, there is both ice and snow and so it is easy to see how the hawks would be forced into situations they might ordinarily avoid.

With their natural diet of rats, mice and other small animals not being able to move freely, it must be most difficult for some of these birds to prey to find adequate food. Well patronized bird feeders would afford 'easy pickings'.

This theory that weather affects the behavior of hawks was supported by a short article from the Boca Raton News. Almost the same article appeared in The St. Petersburg Times.

It seems that parts of Florida are being invaded by an unusually large number of hawks. Helen Cruickshank believes that the mockingbirds are staying out of sight because of the predators and Don Ellis, another bird expert, theorizes that severe weather elsewhere has forced the hawks to abandon their normal hunting areas and concentrate in new territories.

Hawks are difficult to identify and confusing to talk about. There are usually seen at a distance, one seldom catches more than a passing glance and, except for size, many look quite similiar.

Besides this, there are various color phases and there are also different colorations at different ages. Naming hawks can be absolutely chaotic — one book calls at least six of these birds who are found in this area, chicken hawks.

Plan Spaghetti Meal

Members of the Tecumseh United Methodist Church Youth Fellowship will prepare and serve the annual Spaghetti Dinner March 8 from 5-8 p.m. at the church on Bishop Reed Drive off West Brown Street.

Menu will include spaghetti and meat sauce, cole slaw, garlic bread, beverage and dessert.

Proceeds will be used to sponsor the group's annual summer work projects in Appalachia.

Kent Norris and Dan Colley are co-chairmen for the event sponsored by the 30 Methodist youth.

In the Yorkshire Pudding recipe of last week, we ran into some difficulty converting English pounds and pints, which is the way their recipes read, into cups.

This became more confusing when it was discovered that English pints are 20 fluid ounces to American pints of 16 fluid ounces.

The revised Yorkshire Pudding recipe should read 1 cup flour and 1½ cups milk.

ON THE YELLOW BRICK ROAD — Leads in the Wizard of Oz are l-r Danny Wiemer, the Tin Woodsman; Kevin Tracy, the Scarecrow; David Galindo, the Lion; and Dawn Penney, Dorothy. They performed the play March 6 and 7 at Ridgeway Elementary School.

Children Plan 'Oz' Performance

RIDGEWAY — Jeanette Mannino's fourth grade class at Ridgeway Elementary school presented L. Frank Baum's "The Wizard of Oz, March 6 and 7.

Narrator Thad Sherman led his audience through a Kansas cyclone with heroine Dorothy's house landing in the Land of Oz, March 6 and 7.

The audience was introduced to the Munchkins: Melissa Caldwell, Todd Tilton, Teresa McComb, Dave Waynick, Kim Baker and the Good Witch of the North, Lara Liechty.

The Munchkins were overjoyed that Dorothy's house had killed the Wicked Witch of the East and guided Dorothy, played by Dawn Penney, down the Yellow Brick Road to find Oz, who could help send her and her dog Toto back to Kansas.

On her long and eventful journey, Dorothy was joined by three friends, Kevin Tracy, the Scarecrow who wanted a brain; Danny Wiemer, the Tin Woodsman who wanted a heart and David Galindo, the lion who wanted courage.

When they reached the gates of the Emerald City, the quartet was greeted by Glyn Hunt, the palace soldier.

The four marveled at the many forms the Great Wizard could take, Edmund Imber, a great head; Leah Faust, a lovely lady; Mike Conrad, a terrible beast and Kurt LaGore, a ball of fire.

But in order for their requests to be granted, they had to kill the Wicked Witch of the West, played by Mike Wilson. All it took was a little water and "Ding-Dong" the witch was melted.

Then Dorothy and her friends were guided safely back to Oz by Kelly Cue, King of the Monkeys and his Winged Monkeys; Jason Governo, Bryan Kingston, Shannon Pinnoniemi, Dawn Ashley and Shayna Kennedy.

Oz turned out to be a fake, just an old man who was played by Trey O'Toole. He could only help Dorothy's friends, but not Dorothy.

Finally Shannon Cadmus, Glinda, the Good Witch of the South, had Dorothy click the heels of her ruby slippers together three times and sent her home to Auntie Em, played by Brenda Plank.

Tecumseh was off to a strong start by the end of the first quarter with the score standing at 26-12. This lead was not seriously jeopardized for the rest of the game although Flat Rock made a strong showing in the last quarter.

Tecumseh will meet Monroe C.C. in district competition Wednesday at Saline in a game that is certain to be hard-fought. In their last face-off the game was decided in Monroe's favor in six overtimes.

The winner of Wednesday's game will play again at 7:30 Saturday night, March 10, in Saline for the district championship.

Britton's constant improvement during their basketball season finally paid off Monday night as they won their opening district game against Deerfield.

The win is the first for Britton in tournament play since 1972. The Tories play Morenci Wednesday and if they win, they go to the district finals Saturday. Madison hosts the game at 7:30 p.m.

Troy Bailey proved to be the man behind the team Monday as he scored 22 points and added six assists and eight steals. Randy Dusseau and Terry Benedict also hit double figures with 12 and 13 points.

The team as a whole played excellent defense and offensively scored more points from the floor than any other time this year.

From the floor, Britton was 29 of 68 for 43 percent. From the line, they hit nine of 15, as did Deerfield. Deerfield was 20 of 47 for 42 percent from the floor.

In rebounding, Deerfield held a slight edge, 36-32. Benedict hauled down nine boards and David Bruce had eight for the Tories.

Earlier this week, Britton met Ida and dropped the match 63-53. Again three Tories hit double figures. Bruce had 16, Benedict had 13 and Greg Fanslau had 12 points.

Britton was down just three at half in the game, 27-24. They cut that lead down to one at the end of the third frame and tied the score midway through the fourth frame.

Tories then went up by a basket before Ida scored five unanswered points. The Britton squad just couldn't catch up after that.

From the floor Britton hit 24 of 51 shots for 47 percent. Ida was 27 of 48. From the line, the Tories were five of 12. Ida was nine of 12. Ida held a slight rebounding edge, 26-22.

Shoots Hole-in-One

After nearly 50 years of playing golf, Tecumseh's Jack I. Hanna shot his first hole-in-one Tuesday while playing at the Lago Mar Country Club, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

The local insurance agency owner, a 11-handicapper or thereabouts, used a soft six iron in acing the par three, 150-yard 17th hole. He attributes the skillful shot to Stan Brion, Tecumseh Country Club professional, who changed his stance, grip and swing last year.

Others in the foursome and witnessing the hole-in-one were his wife Mary, Ruth Hanna and Jack D'Leo.

SPOON RIVER ANTHOLOGY By Charles Aidman
There are over 60 vignettes of those who were inhabitants of Spoon River and whose secrets have gone with them to the grave in this constantly interesting entertainment. In a amazingly varied array of roles, from young lovers to preachers and teachers to the funny chronicle of the Jew and the Gentile who end up in the wrong cemeteries, both the sordid and the the humorous sides of life are portrayed, in fetching ballads and the free verse of Edgar Lee Masters.

A GERSHWIN SONGBOOK
Following the highly successful An Evening With Cole Porter and Jacques Brel, the Black Sheep presents an evening of songs by George Gershwin. From the folk drama of Porgy & Bess to the optimism of "I'll Build a Stairway to Paradise," from the lighthearted good humor of "Let's Call the Whole Thing Off" to the lightly sentimental "Somebody Loves me," from the drive and vitality of "I Got Rhythm" to the unabashed romanticism of "The Man I Love," Gershwin's music embodies the American Spirit of the 20's and 30's.

A LIFE IN THE THEATRE By David Mamet
In this Chicago playwright's brilliant comedy we see two players—a seasoned professional and a novice—interact in a cycle of roles in both onstage and backstage scenes. Their changing relationship, both personal and professional, is explored and examined with wit, irony and poignancy. "He is an eloquent master of the two-part harmony. An abundantly gifted playwright; he brings new life to the theatre." N.Y. Times.

Antique Business Is Brisk

Business was brisk at the first antique show and sale of the Tecumseh Area Historical Society, held March 3 at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Theresa Powers said that the crowd was still buying from dealers until the 5 p.m. closing, a good sign of the show's success.

Theresa and her husband, Wesley, were coordinators for the first show.

The crowd included visitors from the Toledo and Detroit areas as well as a strong showing of local antique admirers and collectors, Mrs. Powers commented.

Eighteen dealers showed their specialties. Seventeen more hopefuls were put on the waiting list. Next year the show may be moved to a larger location.

Some dealers offered to advance a deposit on next year's booth rental.

Those readers curious about the mystery photo in last week's Hearld found out at the show that it was a wall stenciling paint pot, circa 1850's. A sponge was rolled across the top of the pot. It was moistened with paint by the movement of the ball held in place in the pot.

Betty Kline, historical society president, did double duty with honors in the chow line. She contributed a hearty homemade chili, sold to browsers for benefit of the society's fence fund.

No admission was charged to the show, a factor Mrs. Powers said may have made the event so popular. Rental from the antique booths will benefit the fence fund.

"Thanks to all these people (in the media and those that gave support and attended), we are a step closer to paying for the restoration of the Brookside Cemetery and Pioneer Park fences," said Mrs. Powers.

The $4,000 restoration project is being financed through public donations and Promenade the Past home tours proceeds.

Plan Banquet

BRITTON — A father-daughter banquet will be the highlight of birthday week for the Britton area Camp Fire Girls.

The annual banquet will be March 17, 7:30 p.m.

Birthday week is March 11-18. A window display will be in the Britton Variety Store. The girls will be in uniform March 13.

The week will close March 18 with the girls attending the church of their choice.

Final plans for the week were made at the Tuesday meeting of the Camp Fire Leaders Association in the fire hall.

BHS Menu

MARCH 12-16

MONDAY — Sloppy joe on bun, green beans, relishes, applecrisp and milk.

TUESDAY — Pig in a blanket, pork and beans or sauerkraut, pickles, fruit cocktail and chocolate milk.

WEDNESDAY — Lasagna, tossed salad, bread and butter, peaches and milk.

THURSDAY — Tuna and noodles or beef and noodles, cheese sticks or relish, pineapple chunks, sweet rolls and milk.

FRIDAY — Pizzaburger or peanut butter sandwich, buttered peas, relish sticks, fruit gelatin and milk.

40-Year Loan for Sewer?

BRITTON — The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) cannot afford to offer a construction grant to the Britton-Ridgeway sewer project.

However, there is a good possibility that the project may be eligible for a 40-year loan with a five percent annual interest rate.

This would be a better financing deal for the project than county bonds would be on today's market, due to the effects of the Headlee tax limitation amendment that was adopted by the electorate in November 1978, commented county drain commissioner Donald E. Mitchell.

In the past week, Mitchell's office started to file the necessary application forms for the loan.

"We have a deadline committment and no other way to go at this time," said Mitchell. "We must try to get FmHA loan approval before our EPA grant expires. We hope FmHA will respond promptly and favorably."

The EPA grant offered in January 1978 is a greater share of construction cost and is still available for the project on an extension granted until July 15, 1979.

A construction schedule was submitted to EPA stating that all contracts will be awarded by that date contingent on approval of a project loan from FmHA.

Special assessments have already been levied and are being collected by the village of Britton and Ridgeway township for this project. They are "in order and necessary," said Mitchell.

"The more financial readiness the village and township can demonstrate for this project, the better chance that FmHA will look favorably on the loan application," said Mitchell.

Band To Perform

BRITTON — The Band Boosters will hold its next meeting March 13, at 7:30 p.m., in the multi-purpose room.

The Junior High Band will perform their festival music. If you were not able to hear them at Hudson, you can show your support by attending this meeting.

The agenda includes the community calendar and plans for the award banquet.

Plan Dance for Olympics

Second annual Shamrock Ball will be held Friday, March 9, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Moose Hall at 427 W. Maumee St., Adrian.

Music will be furnished by Bill Carter's Ventures in Jazz.

The purpose of the dance is to aid the Lenawee County Special Olympics which is held annually in the spring of each year. This is only for the children of the Lenawee County area.

Dance is sponsored by the Adrian Michigan Business and Professional Women's Club.

Receive Citation

U.S. Rep. Dave Stockman has been presented with a joint citation of appreciation by the Michigan and national American Legion organizations.

The citation commends Stockman for his work in defeating proposed changes in the Veterans' Preference Act during the 95th Congressional session, according to Gary Sammons, Department Commander of the Michigan American Legion.

It was presented at the American Legion Post 51 in Buchanan.

Hazel Bush Hosts Club

BRITTON — "Family Living" was the topic at the February meeting of the Macon Extension Club.

Hazel Bush hosted the meeting.

Eleven members attended for a ham dinner. Those members not present were in Florida and Arizona.

Edan Bortel distributed health pamphlets and Beatrice Papworth read the blood pressure of 10 members.

Delta Croll talked and explained about breast cancer. President Beulah Squires discussed when a steak is not a good buy.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Beulah Squires March 27. The program will be on Hawaiian food and will be held at noon.

Return Home

RIDGEWAY — Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cadmus and family and Mr. and Mrs. Mirl Henry and family have just returned from a 12-day Florida vacation.

Highlights of the trip were visiting Disney World, the Kennedy Space Center, and hearing Patti Page sing.

Memoriam

In memory of Mrs. Donna Williams who passed away March 10, 1978, sadly missed by her husband, children and grandchildren.

We are sad within our memory,
Lonely are our hearts today;
For the one we loved so dearly
Has forever been called away.
We think of her in silence,
No eye may see us weep;
But many silent tears are shed
When others are asleep.

Fund Nears $100,000 Goal

The Heritage Fund Drive for the Lenawee County Historical Museum is near its goal of $100,000.

Many individuals, businesses and clubs in Tecumseh and all over the county have contributed to restore the Adrian Carnegie Library in Adrian as the county historical museum's new home.

Those who have not yet made a pledge or donation are urged to do so now. The museum will receive a dollar for dollar matching grant for all funds and pledges in hand at the time of the request.

Because of its status on the State and National Registers of Historic Places, the museum was one of only two large projects selected for grants in 1979. The limit of the grant is $104,500.

"At this point, when we are so near our goal and the deadline for requesting the matching monies from the grant is so close at hand, we urge all who are considering supporting the museum to do so now," said Betty Kline, Heritage Fund volunteer from Tecumseh.

"The museum must have the money in hand to know how much it can request from the government in matching funds.

"A heartfelt thanks to all those who have given generously. The drive has proven that people all over Lenawee County are willing to work together on something that will benefit all," Mrs. Kline added.

Tax deductible donations for the museum may be sent to Heritage Fund, Lenawee County Historical Society, P.O. Box 511, Adrian, Mich. 49221.

Hope To Unite Family Units

When was the last time you spent a family evening at home? Not one in front of the television set but actually learning more about your family's talents, their hopes and dreams?

That is the question two young men are asking to acquaintances in town. They are missionaries with the Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints. Their prime interest is to bring the family unit closer together through their ministry.

The missionaries are Elder Robert Lazenby of Boise, Idaho and Elder David Knighten of Orem, Utah. Their role in the church is to preach and teach the gospel and strengthen its unity. They have been working in the community for 4-1/2 months and one month respectively.

The two walk door to door in their ministry and also visit with referrals. They say they are not high pressure salesmen and only mean to share the program that they feel has brought happiness to their own families. They offer literature.

The family home evening program is designed to be held once a week by the father of the household. He is recognized as the head of the house. The meeting opens with prayer and song to get things going. Then each family member is encouraged to share his or her talents. A discussion period enables parents to teach values to their children, such as honesty. The program plan concludes with prayer and family refreshments.

The family unit is the most basic and important unit of society, the Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints espouses. Further, the church teaches that the family is eternal. "We can live together in the resurrection if we are worthy of it," said Elder Lazenby.

The first missionaries from this religious sect, commonly known as the Mormon, first came to minister in Tecumseh in January 1978. The group has missions in the Dearborn, Detroit, Flint, Toledo and Lansing areas.

It has a physical church in the Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti communities and plans to build one in southern Adrian within the next three years. Currently, meetings are held at the First Christian Church on Bent Oak in Adrian.

Young missionaries such as Elder Lazenby and Knighten declare an interest in their late teens and after a series of interviews with church leaders, they are selected to serve.

"Training begins in the home," commented Elder Lazenby and formal training takes place in Provo, Utah before the missionaries are stationed.

IRS Offers Tax Help

Local taxpayers who need help preparing their basic federal income tax forms this year can find free tax assistance close to home, Carole Poley, VITA program coordinator said.

Through the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program (VITA), IRS-trained volunteers will help fill out tax forms of low-income and elderly taxpayers who cannot afford a professional tax preparer.

Temporary VITA offices are set up at the Tecumseh Public Library, Tuesday, 1:30-3:30 p.m. and Thursday 9-11 a.m.

Persons needing VITA help should bring the IRS tax package mailed to them, other records and receipts such as W-2 forms and interest statements.

"OLD RUGGED CROSS"
by Rev. R. Richard Case

A friend once said to me, "It sure was a pity that they crucified our Lord." I have given much thought to this statement.

There was no way out—our Lord had to be crucified or else he would have been nothing more than a saint, a prophet or a worker of miracles.

Only because He was crucified, was he proven to be the Son of God that glorious Easter morning.

And so we have as the symbol of Christianity, the cross. Churches are built on the pattern of the cross. Many of our church steeples are topped with crosses. The altars at church have a cross of wood, brass, silver or gold. Yes, dear friends, the cross is the center of the church.

I remember becoming involved in a discussion about church architecture with one of my church boards. I explained my theory concerning the old-fashioned center pulpit. Neither the pastor at his pulpit on Sunday morning, nor the open Bible are the center of the church. The cross of Jesus, however, is the center. We read so many times of how altars were built in praise to God. Certainly the cross of Christ is most fitting.

I attended Norman V. Peale's church in New York City. After church I met and talked with him. I asked one question. Where is the cross in your church? He seemed surprised to know that for some reason, it had not been placed back on the altar after cleaning.

To me this is a most important part of our ritual and service. Not for its intrinsic value but because it symbolizes all we profess—"Salvation through Christ".

In the early days of Christianity, one Christian might let himself be known to another by scratching a cross in the dirt.

I remember when I was on the west coast we built a rather rough altar outdoors with a simple huge cross. As the sun rose that morning, I looked up at the cross. What a feeling filled my heart.

The cross is all important. Without it, its purpose - its significance, our faith diminishes into nothingness.

"In the cross of Christ I glory".

Walk Away...

God must have known we'd have frustrations. That's why He gave us the capacity to walk away from them. . . even on crutches.

Often in walking away from our frustrations we find ourselves. We discover spiritual depths we never knew we had. Finding oneself is part of the deeper quest — finding God.

We are not alone. Life is the Creator's gift. To fulfill its potentials we need His help — especially when our own hopes dissolve in disappointment.

Bring your frustrations to church. Learn how to walk away from them with courage and faith.

That man stands mighty straight who has learned to believe in himself . . . and in God.

Clinton Council To Save Park

CLINTON — Village Council passed a resolution at Monday's meeting stating that Memorial Park will remain as it is and not be turned into a parking lot.

Two months ago Chamber of Commerce requested that Council provide additional parking space. Chamber representatives suggested that Memorial Park be paved and the monument moved, and they offered, $1,000 toward the cost of the project.

Veterans groups and area residents voiced opposition to the monument move since then.

Councilman William Stout offered the resolution, Monday, after several residents addressed the Council.

Gertrude Bertke presented a petition to Council with signatures of 100 people opposed to the parking lot at the Memorial Park site.

She suggested that the names should be added to similar petitions already submitted, making a total of over 240 names.

That number represents more than half of the total number of votes cast in the last Clinton Township election.

Mrs. Bertke offered to donate landscaping materials and money for refurbishing the memorial if the park is not moved.

Court Nighswander, representing the downtown merchants, said "The Chamber is only after a parking lot, not necessarily the park."

Nighswander, a local pharmacist, added that if the parking situation does not improve, he will move his business to a new location.

Councilman Gary Couture said the lands committee has considered selling 11 acres the village owns in the south edge of the village and purchasing two lots owned by John Underwood behind Clintonian Inn.

Councilman Richard Dixon voiced objection to that consideration saying, "There is no way that I am going for the price Mr. Underwood is so generously offering the village. The price is exorbitant."

Several other locations are being considered, Couture said.

In other action, Council voted to enforce the two-hour parking limit downtown.

A fuel adjustment change will be added to local electric bills to offset a $5,000 light plant loss sustained last month. This is not at rate increase.

Benefit Dance

CLINTON — Wearin' of the Green will be the theme for the Fall Festival '79 benefit dance March 17 at Peerless Gear Union Hall.

There will be music for all kinds of dancing provided by Doby and the Other Guys.

Square dance caller Norm Wagner will fiddle while he calls the hoedowns.

Charles Steffens is in charge of arrangements.

The committee is especially inviting all those who want to celebrate the Clinton Redskins basketball victory, and if they make it to Saturday's finals, there may be even more cause for Clinton to celebrate.

Clinton's Belle will be 'wearin' the green' as the Fall Fest committee canvasses the community, rings the bell, and sells dance tickets, Sunday afternoon, March 11.

Volunteers are needed to help canvass, and are asked to meet at the George Lancaster home at 129 W. Church St., at 2:30 p.m., Sunday. There will be lots of fun for those who help with this.

Fall Fest committee met Tuesday night at the Lancaster home and besides making plans for the dance, decided on a blue and gold color scheme for this year's festival events.

Car ticket sales are expected to be ready by April.

Herrick Hospital Accredited by Commission

Herrick Memorial Hospital has been accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) according to W.R. Groover, administrator.

This accreditation which covers two years, is the result of an on-site survey made by field representatives of the Joint Commission's Hospital Accreditation Program.

Accreditation indicates that this facility has chosen to operate according to standards set by JCAH and that the facility has, in the main, met these standards.

The standards, published as the Accreditation Manuel for Hospitals, set forth optimal achievable goals of excellence against which a faciility can measure itself and be measured by the Joint Commission's survey.

Herrick Memorial Hospital is one of approximately 4,800 general hospitals throughout the United States that have earned this recognition. There are approximately 7,150 hospitals in the United States.

The chief aim of the Hospital Accreditation Program, one of four such programs under the JCAH umbrella, is to help hospitals in their pursuit of excellence and thereby provide a higher quality of care to patients.

CP Cuts Heat to 12 Tenants

Twelve tenants at Town and Country Apartments, Occidental Rd. at Southwestern Dr., were without heat for most of the afternoon March 9.

According to a Consumers Power Company representative, the apartment complex owner Robert Holmes was delinquent in payment to the utility by a "substantial amount".

Tenants pay for heat in their monthly rent.

A senior citizen tenant, concerned about the health of other senior citizen residents, called the Herald about the situation.

Most of the other occupants in the building were at work and unaware of the heat shut off until they came home. Made aware of the situation, the utility restored power about 5 p.m.

Heat was not shut off in another building with 24 units.

Two Jailed; 16-Year-Old Missing

Two brothers may have achieved some sort of record here early Wednesday morning when Tecumseh police arrested them in separate incidents about half hour apart, and lodged them both in the county jail.

Eugene E. Gottschalk, 22, 6327 Holloway Rd., was arrested for driving while his license was suspended. It was then discovered that he was wanted by the State Police, Post 42, for failure to answer a summons. He was jailed under $100 bond for the driving violation and $30 bond for the summons charge.

His brother, Jeffrey Allen Gottschalk, 23, Billmyer Rd., was arrested on Russell Rd. for drunk driving, his second DUIL offense, and for driving while his license was revoked.

Local police report no developments in the whereabouts of missing Stanley Williams, 16, of 205 E. Cummins. Family, which has checked Jackson and Manchester areas, reported the youth missing since March 4.

He left home about 6 p.m. that day to visit a friend. He was later known to have been in the vicinity of the Party Shop, but has not been seen here since.

Who Should Elect the Mayor of Tecumseh?

Survey Shows 4 Officials Favor Election by Council, 2 Favoring Electorate

By Kathy Brown

Should the mayor of Tecumseh be elected by the people or by City Council as it has been for the past 25 years?

In a telephone interview, four of seven council members said they are satisfied with the present method of election of Tecumseh's mayor by council at its annual reorganizational meeting.

Councilmembers Mary Bowers and James H. Palmer said they would like to see the voters elect the mayor.

Councilmembers satisfied with the present method of election were Mayor pro-tem Carlton Cook, Councilmembers Harold Easton, Len DeMoss and Jay Tressler.

Mayor Aden Mead did not comment for the survey. He said he wanted more time to study the charter and make sure that council was pursuing the intent of the first charter commission of 25 years ago.

He said that he would discuss his thoughts with council, perhaps as early as its next regular meeting, March 19, at 7:30 p.m.

Mead, who is completing his second one-year term as Mayor of Tecumseh, was first elected to the job by council in 1978 and reelected in 1979, at which time he announced he would not seek reelection to council this fall.

The question of election of Tecumseh's mayor by popular vote was first raised by Councilmember James H. Palmer last year.

Palmer's idea and Councilmember Jay Tressler's suggestion for a thorough review of the 25-year-old charter, precipitated council's questions about the possible benefits and how to proceed on charter revision.

At the March 5 regular meeting, Tecumseh City Council voted 4 to 2 for legal counsel to draft a resolution, asking to revise the city charter by citizen commission.

In addition to revising antiquated sections, such as deleting the references to justices of the peace and clearing up some ambiguities of language particularly in the section on city purchases and bid procedures, council also seemed interested to involve the electorate in a thorough charter review via commission.

Palmer explained why he raised the question of changing the mayoral election procedure.

"Thirty to 60 days after council elected mayor, I would hear afterward, 'How come you guys picked that person? I thought we elected the mayor.' A momentum has built over the years. I decided to ask why can't the majority elect the mayor?

"There is more of a chance of partisanship to be shown in an election by seven council members," Palmer added. "The mayor's office could be a popularity contest in a seven-vote count as well as in a vote of 3,000."

The latter is a "more strong" vote for mayor, he said. "Maybe the most popular person would be elected mayor, but maybe the most popular person should be mayor. Maybe we would get more of these people out to vote" if they elected the mayor directly, Palmer concluded.

Palmer added that he does not advocate a strong mayor government over the present city manager-council system, but he wants the mayor's office to be more "responsive to the people."

He suggested the mayor spend a few hours a day at city hall and relate to the public by answering questions by telephone.

"I feel strongly that the mayor should be elected by popular vote, stated Councilmember Mary Bowers. "I've had a lot of people tell me they feel it's time that the mayor be elected by the people. I feel now's the time to find out."

"We have a good city manager and an assistant city manager now. It isn't like other small towns where the mayor has to make all the decisions. I don't see why the people can't elect a mayor." Bowers explained.

She believes that "somebody who has done some good things in the community, has good common sense and gets along well with people is the only kind of person the people will elect."

She criticized the waste of taxpayer money in election years when only the incumbent Councilmembers run for office.

Councilmember Harold Easton, who served as mayor for about 16 years under the present system, said he is satisfied with the present method of election.

It "usually gives the community a person with some council experience," he said adding that in a rare case, it may produce a mayor who had no previous experience in city government if that person were new on council.

"I personally feel it's a bad idea to put the mayor's office up for election," commented Councilmember Carlton Cook. He feels that it will "cheat us of good council people", if an unsuccessful mayoral candidate cannot be reseated on council.

"The seven on council are in a better position to judge who the best leader would be. I realize how that may sound, but I think that council works better when they feel the mayor is one of them. There is a greater sense of cooperation."

Cook said he does not mean to discredit the public's ability to pick a leader, but added that "people don't come to council meetings and don't remain all that aware of decisions."

Cook said he voted for the charter revision by commission "as a tentative thing to have something in hand, to have time to get public feedback."

Councilmember Len DeMoss is satisfied with the present method of election, but he also wants public opinion.

"If the mayor acted in an official (decision making) capacity, I could see it, but the mayor is just a representative at official functions.

"I feel the city has been blessed with the quality of personnel as mayor. Council has to elect someone who has the time to perform a time-consuming job."

"On the pro side, it would give the townspeople a say in who is elected mayor, but I also see some problems tied with popular election. What would we do if nobody ran?

"If the mayor is elected by popular vote, I feel the mayor would ask for more money. The mayor now gets $7 per council meeting, only $1 more than the other councilmembers. If he's elected by popular vote, then he should have more duties.

Would the mayoral election be reduced to a popularity contest? "What is a council race?" asked DeMoss. "When you get down to it, it's who's known better really. I don't see the mayor's position as being any bigger a leadership role than that of the other councilmembers.

"I don't see any unanimous outcry from the people, except one letter to the editor," DeMoss observed.

DeMoss, absent from the March 5 meeting, said he would have voted to proceed with charter revision by commission. "I think we should look at the whole charter. I'd like to see how the people feel about it," he commented.

Councilmember Jay Tressler said he favors the present method to elect a mayor, "with modifications."

First, he thinks that councilmembers should be elected for four-year terms instead of two-year terms.

Second, the new councilmembers should be seated after election instead of waiting until January as it is now. That would eliminate a "lame duck problem" and those that were voted out couldn't vote on legislation harmful or unsuited to the people.

Third, Tressler thinks the mayor be elected for two-year terms instead of a one-year term because the mayor's job "needs some continuity."

"People elect the mayor indirectly now," said Tressler, I think that the people ought to be thinking of a candidate's mayoral potential when they vote. If a candidate cannot act as mayor pro-tem, he shouldn't be on council in the first place."

Tressler believes every mayor should have council experience. He is concerned, as Councilmember Cook is, that good council members could not regain a council seat if unsuccessful in the contest for the mayor's office.

Talking It Out
ROGER PROCTOR

What Is the "Sudden-Infant-Death" Syndrome?

This is the occasion when a child, well-cared for and robust, usually between the ages of three weeks and twelve months, is put to bed; a short time later the mother returns to the bedroom to find the child dead. There is no sign of struggle although the child may have changed position.

This type of death is often called "crib death". It is a particularly devastating experience for parents of the child. They suffer feelings of guilt which they shouldn't. If they have used normal care and precaution, there's absolutely no reason for them to blame themselves. In situations such as this, it is recommended that the parents consult their minister, doctor or psychiatrist.

Ongoing medical research has not yet been able to find any reason for this type of death; nor can they predict or prevent it. "Old wives tales" and much misinformation surrounds the sudden death of an infant under these otherwise normal circumstances.

Should this happen to someone you know, try to understand their own helplessness and the lack of knowledge now available.

Learning Disabilities Is Topic of Weekly Series

Dianna Joachim, learning disability consultant with the Lenawee Intermediate School District for Tecumseh and Britton Schools begins a series of four stories on learning disabilities.

Her topics will include what learning disabilities are, the history of learning disabilities, common traits of learning disabled children and hyperactivity.

Dianna is a 1976 Tecumseh graduate. She earned her masters degree in learning disabilities at Eastern Michigan University.

Prior to her LISD appointment, Dianna helped to organize the first learning disabilities program for Ionia County intermediate school district. She was an adjusted studies teacher in Clinton for four years.

She joined the LISD as one of six learning consultants.

Her husband, Jack Glaser, is a fifth grade teacher at Clinton Community Schools. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Joachim, formerly of Tecumseh, now of Winston Salem, N.C. Her father is a retired state trooper from the Clinton post.

A Look at Learning Disabilities

by Dianna Joachim
Learning disabilities consultant with the Lenawee Intermediate School District.

Current interest in the area of learning disabilities has grown as a result of new state and federal laws and are the result of years of cooperative effort by parents' groups and educators to have the government recognize and fund special help for learning disabled children.

Lenawee Intermediate School District is responding to these new rules. During this academic year, special consultants have been working in the local school districts taking a second look at some of the students who are having difficulty because of special patterns of strengths and weaknesses in their learning skills.

These patterns make it harder for those students to learn in the same way as other children do, even though their intelligence levels are similar.

Most people can learn through three channels. A "learning channel" is a nerve pathway to the brain. These are 1. the listening/hearing channel, 2. the watching/seeing channel and 3. the doing/experiencing channel.

Educators call these the auditory, visual and tactile-kinesthetic channels. When a child has trouble learning through one (or more) of these channels, he is said to have a "learning disability" because he "lacks the ability" to learn through that channel. However, two things complicate the picture.

First, when speaking of the visual (watching and auditory (listening) learning channels, it is easy to confuse learning channel processes with the actual physical ability to see and hear.

Of course, in order to learn best, a student needs to be able to see and hear well. Glasses or a hearing aid will not solve a learning disability because the problem is how the brain perceives what is being seen or heard. This is why learning disabilities are sometimes called "perceptual problems."

The second complication is that there are several steps involved in how the brain perceives information from each of three channels.

The learning disability results from a dysfunction of any one of these steps in any of the three learning channels.

Every person has a unique pattern of learning. No two people learn alike, just as no two people think alike. These differences are not "disabilities" unless they are so severe that they keep a student from achieving in school.

Once the pattern of learning skills is discovered and a child is diagnosed as being learning disabled, special techniques and materials can be used to help the student learn with the rest of his class.

Teachers are becoming aware of how to use the learning strengths of each student, to teach him or her new material. Teachers are also learning how to help each student develop skills to cope with his or her learning disability.

The learning disability consultant provides teachers techniques and materials. Many of the young people served in this way are experiencing their first school success.

Wayne State Offers Off-Campus Classes

Wayne State University is offering off-campus classes in eastern Lenawee County for credit toward a bachelor of general studies degree through the University Studies Weekend College Program.

An orientation/registration session is scheduled at the Tecumseh Public Library, 215 N. Ottawa St., March 20, 6 to 8 p.m. For any further information, call Ilene M. McCrea at the Monroe Module at (313) 241-7550.

Wayne State University established the University Studies/Weekend College Program in the fall of 1973. The adult college, a unit of Wayne State's College of Lifelong Learning, offers a four-year degree curriculum especially designed for working adults and homemakers.

Most of the students are ages 25 to 45 and work full time; many are veterans studying under the GI Bill.

This program was extended to the monroe area in 1974. Many Lenawee County residents are now in our program as classes are being held in Morenci and Tecumseh.

A number of Monroe County residents received their bachelor's degrees in June of 1978. Approximately 15 to 20 more students are expected to graduate by December 1979.

Requirements for admission to US/WCP are a high school diploma or a General Education Development (GED) Certificate.

Credits are transferable from other institutions. The course of study is approved by many businesses and industries who underwrite tuitions.

Classes meet once a week for four hours at off-campus locations throughout Monroe County and eastern Lenawee County.

Students also study through a daily television course shown in half-hour segments Monday through Friday. Conferences are also held on two weekends during the quarter. The combination of these three study programs constitutes full-time attendance.

The main areas of study in the US/WC program are social science, humanities, science and technology, an area of specialization elected by the student, and a final year of advanced studies.

After accumulating 180 academic hours, which can be accomplished in four or five years, students are awarded a bachelor of general studies degree.

When it comes to IRA accounts...

1978 ISN'T OVER YET!

Changes in the federal law have stretched the calendar. If you are a farmer, businessman, contractor, professional or anyone else whose income and earnings are not covered by a company pension plan, you can establish and contribute to a tax deferred Individual Retirement Account (IRA) until April 16th. That gives you over three extra months to determine just what your income was in 1978 and calculate exactly what 15% of it would be. Fifteen percent up to $1,500 is the maximum contribution to an IRA allowed under the law.

Right now, United Savings Bank of Tecumseh is paying 8% annual interest on all IRA accounts. That's the highest interest you can earn from any financial institution.

An Individual Retirement Account can save you tax dollars and provide a more secure future. There's nothing tricky, complicated or difficult about them. Ask about an IRA account at any of the five convenient offices of United Savings Bank . . . . you have until April 16th this year.

HONEST TO GOD CHRISTIANS

Yet, if one suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed. But under that name let him glorify God for the time has come for judgement to begin with the household of God and if it begins with us, what will be the end of those who do not obey the Gospel of God.

And if the righteous man is scarcely saved, where will the impious and sinner appear.

1 Peter 4:16-18

I have stated that the Christian Church in our age will undergo a tremendous facelift. My reason is, although we profess to be Christians, there are really quite a few whom Jesus would really call his children. You might say to this, "Jesus Forgives".

I truly believe that He does forgive, but I don't think Christ is a fool, nor is God, his father.

How many times have I heard people say "Okay, I'll have a good time and sin a little. If anything goes wrong, I can always say my last minute prayer and He will forgive me." Do you think God is a fool?

I have heard people say "I go to such and such a church because it suits my purpose." Are you this kind of Christian?

Do you think Christ is a fool?

I have seen people go to church, argue and fight and even resort to vulgar language in the church building. They call themselves Christians. Pathetically enough, they really think they are.

Do you think this is Christian perfection? Do you think Christ is a fool?

I have seen people attend church, because they want to impress others.

Do you think God is a fool? I have seen people go to church out of fear. They are not quite sure about God, Christ, heaven and hell, but they take the attitude of "Let's play it safe. We won't take any chances."

Do you think God is a fool?

I have seen Christian persecute priests, pastors and ministers of God for no good reason. In the church, I have seen men act in so called fellowship with the malice of man, yet using Christ's name.

I have seen laymen try to push and pull their pastors around as though they were a puppet on a string.

Let me ask you, if our early men of God were puppets for the people, would there be a Christian Church today? The answer is emphatically, "no."

I had a lady in Maine tell me, "Well we had him as a pastor, but I got rid of him." (She was speaking of another pastor.)

This lady was up to her neck in church work. In fact, she was church treasurer.

She called herself a good Christian.

She didn't fool me, and I'm sure she doesn't fool Christ.

Does she think our Savior is a fool? I don't.

Yes, my good friends, these are the Christians who are destroying the Christian Church. Thank God they can't destroy Christ.

Reviews 'Galilee' Book

Cecile Smith presented the program for members of the Tecumseh Monday Club Feb. 5. She reviewed a book on the love story of Mary and Joseph, as told by Marjorie Holmes in "The Two from Galilee".

Mrs. Smith, a talented story teller, told of Mary's childhood. She was one of 12 children born to Hannah and Joachim.

Hannah was pictured as a stern, practical woman, while Joachim, who was crippled, was of a warm and priestly nature. Mary held a special niche in her heart for her father, perhaps sensing his disappointment in not being acceptable as a priest because of his disability.

Mary reached womanhood at an early age and her mother began to make plans for her marriage to a man of wealth and prestige. Troubled by these plans, Mary turned to a childhood friend, Joseph. Thus began the love story of Mary and Joseph.

Their subsequent marriage, Mary's Immaculate Conception and the hazardous journey from Nazareth to Bethlehem were vividly pictured, concluding with the birth of the Christ child.

Naomi Sallows, president, conducted the business meeting and read the 23rd psalm in memoriam of deceased member, Doris Tonneberger.

An invitation was received from the Addison Woman's Club to attend a Lenten Breakfast March 27, beginning at 9:30 a.m. in the Addison United Church.

Prior to the end of the meeting, Mrs. Melvin Ruettinger conducted a quiz compiled by the Continuing Education Service of Michigan State University and sponsored by the Federation of Woman's Clubs.

The quiz covered traffic signs both new and old, the meaning of the color, shape and the message of each sign, so designed to help those who do not speak English fluently.

She quoted statistics regarding traffic accidents and stated that one of every five deaths are pedestrian accidents, emphasizing the fact that everyone should understand these signs.

Dedicate New Flags

In a solemn ceremony, two new flags will be dedicated in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church March 18 at the 10:30 a.m. service.

The Junior Choir will present the anthem "Have A Good Day", directed by Mrs. John Ferguson. Andy Eidson will read the lessons.

The American and the Christian flags will be presented to the congregation by the council president Ken Bollinger.

Two young adults, Karl Hamilton and Steven Kendall, will be the flag-bearers. Dr. Laszlo Gero, pastor, will dedicate the flags. His sermon topic will be "God's New Temple."

After the service, Mrs. Edward Solarski and Linda Weaver will host members and friends to a coffee hour in the Luther Hall. Public is invited.

CELEBRATES 98th — Mary Fancher celebrated her 98th birthday March 8 at Herrick Nursing Home where she resides. She was born in Kentucky and moved to Tecumseh about 10 years ago. She is blind now, but still spirited. Joining her on her day was daughter Katherine Wright of Tecumseh.

You Told Us

Snowdrops blooming in Gladys Pearson's garden, kites flying in the schoolyard, a robin sighted by Marda Gene Duncan, people standing in line (in the scattered snow flurries Saturday night) for an iced dairy treat, subscribers returning from Florida—the signs of spring are evident in the Tecumseh area this week.

What a weekend for theater.

Wholeness, harmony and radiance describes the performance of "Love Is Contagious" by the Tecumseh Players last Friday.

The play was one of the best choices in recent memory for the Players. It allowed the group's marvelous character actors an opportunity to excell. The personalities of the characters were opposites and the Players capitalized on the fact by adding personal touches to their performances.

At the Croswell Opera House in Adrian Saturday night, the Ann Arbor Comic Opera Guild dazzled a full house with "The Gypsy Baron" by Johann Strauss Jr. The colorful costumes were a feast for the eyes. The leads were dynamic singers and understandable in both song and drama.

"It takes 15 to 20 good people to make up for the selfishness of one, but if there are that many good people, those aren't bad odds," commentec Mrs. Carlton Cook.

Ilse Vaes, the Cook's exchange student from Heise Belgium, had $40 in cash stolen from her purse in the study hall last week. It was a special gift from her grandmother, saved in the quiet way grandmothers are noted to do.

Teachers and students of Tecumseh High School, sympathetic with Ilse's feelings, raised the money to compensate for the loss.

This is the eighth column in a continuing series on international cuisine. Mary Coba offered this recipe for Paella.

Jose and Mary Coba and their three sons lived in Cuba until 1961. They moved their family to Venezuela and three years later, in 1963, shunned Communism for a second time and moved to the United States.

They settled in Adrian, where Mr. Coba teaches Spanish at the high school. The Cobas now live in Tecumseh. Mrs. Coba teaches Spanish at Tecumseh High School.

Must mussels and shrimp in water to cover and cook until mussels open. Remove shell from mussels and set mussels and shrimp aside.

Put 8 cups of water to boil. Heat 3/4 cup olive oil until it bubbles, then fry chicken, pork and sausages. Remove when browned and in the same oil, fry the onion until golden. Add tomatoes.

When the tomatoe liquid reduces, lower flame and add paprika, garlic and green pepper. When these are well mixed and fried, put the chicken, pork and sausages back in the pan. Stir in the rice. Brown it over a good fire while stirring for about 5 minutes.

Add the rings of squid, the boiling water, the peas and salt to taste. Stir for the last time. Add the cooked shrimp, mussels and canned artichokes by inserting them in the rice without stirring.

Continue cooking at a high temperature until the liquid is absorbed, then let rice simmer until done. Total cooking time should be about 20 minutes. Garnish. Serves 8.

NOTE: If you have difficulty finding some of the seafood, simply substitute other varieties such as additional white fish.

See you next week. Hope to hear from you.

Clinton Captures District Crown with 12 Point Win Saturday

It was a close game most of the way, but Clinton's Redskins were crowned the district champions Saturday night with a 12 point victory over Napoleon High School.

The basketballers scored 62 points to Napoleon's 50 in a see-saw game that never let Clinton get much of a hold until late in the game.

At the end of the first quarter Clinton led by four, 14-10. Both teams missed many shots and seemed to take turns scoring.

By the end of the second frame, Napoleon's Pirates cut the lead to three. Both teams continued to trade baskets.

Clinton got tough on defense going into the third quarter and Napoleon began to try and work the ball inside as Clinton did the first half.

The Pirates' strategy did not work as well as their outside shooting did the first half. By the end of the third quarter, Clinton had pulled four more points up for a score of 41-34.

Clinton had trouble breaking that seven point lead open until early in the fourth frame. At their peak, Clinton was ahead as much as 16 points.

Still Napoleon kept coming back and closed the score to within 10 the last three minutes of the game. Then Clinton added two more points to end the scoring at 62-50.

The Redskins had four players in double figures with Dave Porter taking high honors with 16. Mark Dettling had 12 as did Doug Mowrey. Mike Karapas added 11.

As a team, Clinton hit 28 of 67 shots from the floor for 42 percent and they were six of 14 from the line. Napoleon was 22 of 61 and six of seven from the line.

In rebounding, Clinton held a slight edge with 32 to Napoleon's 29. Porter grabbed nine boards for Clinton along with teammate Jeff Porterfield. Dettling was one behind with eight rebounds.

If Clinton wins Wednesday's opening regional game, they play in the finals Friday. Jackson Parkside hosts the 7 p.m. games.

The Parkside school is located on Fourth St. in Jackson, next to the Delshare Golf Course.

On the way to the finals, Clinton's Redskins massacred Hudson Wednesday by a 28 point margin, 82-54.

All 12 Redskins scored with Mark Dettling and Dave Porter taking high honors with 18 and 15 points respectively.

The game was probably the best overall team effort to date for coach Jim Pittman's squad. As a whole they had 19 assists, moved the ball well and hit the open man for the good shot.

The team played good defense too, holding Hudson to just 25 field goals in 71 attempts. Hudson hit the majority of those 25 baskets from the outside to keep within range of Clinton.

Clinton, on the other hand, worked the ball inside and managed a 14 point lead at half. In that first half, their inside men, Dettling and Porter, got 12 and 11 of their points.

Then the Redskins outscored Hudson 20-8 the third frame and the game was over for Hudson. The second team came in and continued the high scoring in the fourth quarter with 18 points to Hudson's 16.

From the floor, Clinton was 35 of 78 for 45 percent. From the line they were 12 of 17 percent and Hudson was four of 10.

Clinton held a large edge on the boards with 51 to Hudson's 28. Dettling had 14 rebounds and Porter had 10.

AWAY WITH THE NET — Dave Porter eagerly pulls down the winning net Saturday night after Clinton beat Napoleon for the district championship. Mark Dettling, 44, was happy to help.

Indians Fall Short of CC

A four point third quarter and a single free throw from Monroe CC's Jeff Spaulding with one second left in the game Wednesday ended the Tecumseh Indians hopes of getting into Saturday's district finals.

CC edged the Indians 39-38 in a game played at Saline High School.

The Indians were down by two at the end of the first quarter but pulled one up by half. They hit 11 points each quarter while CC's Falcons had 13 points the first quarter and eight the second.

Then disaster struck as the Indians hit only two of 12 attempts the third frame while CC chalked up 11 points for a six point.

The Indians went back to full court pressure the fourth frame, as they did the second quarter to get the lead at half.

The Indians found themselves up by two, 34-32 with just under four minutes to play with baskets first from John Faulkner and Ron Smith. A free throw by John Ely and three from Mark Caswell put the team at 34-32.

Then CC hit a basket and Creswell countered with two more free throws with two-and-a-half minutes left in the game. CC went ahead, 37-36, on a three point play.

Central then rebounding a missed shot and CC's Spaulding was fouled. He missed his one and one shot and the Indians had the ball. They missed and again Spaulding was fouled on the rebound.

With 28 seconds left in the game, Spaulding again missed his one and one. Chris Hill grabbed the ball for Central and he was fouled. He made his first shot, but missed his second.

With the score then 38-36, Monroe's favor, Creswell connected with a basket to tie the score with just 11 seconds to go in the game.

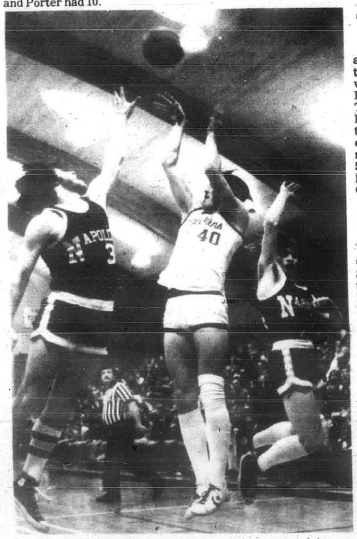
Spaulding then dribbled the ball down the floor to take a shot. He was fouled again, this time during the shot. He missed the first, but made the second with just one second left on the clock.

Ely threw a ball up in a last effort for the Indians and hit the rim, but missed.

Creswell was the high scorer for the Indians with 15 points. He was followed by Faulkner with 10.

As a team, the Indians hit only 14 shots out of 41 attempts for 34 percent in the game. Central was 16 of 43 for 37 percent. From the line, both teams were just over 50 percent.

The Indians finished their season at 17-4 while Monroe CC upped their record to 13-9 and went to the district finals Saturday. Saline won that contest for the championship.



LEADING SCORER — Dave Porter hits two of his game high 16 points against Napoleon.

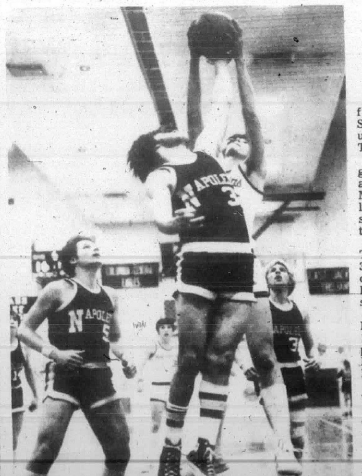
Volleyballers End Season

The Tecumseh volleyball squad ended its season on a happy note Wednesday when they downed Flat Rock 6-15, 15-12, 15-8.

Sandy Humphries sparked the Indians to the second game win with six service points. Kathy Perry gained top honors for the team in the last game when she served every point from six on, 10 in a row.

The win upped the team's record to 9-11 overall and they finish 6-8 in the league.

The JV squad also won.



REBOUNDS SHOT — A fired up Redskin player goes high in the air to out rebound Napoleon's Dale Richardson. Clinton heads to the regionals Wednesday and plays in the finals Friday if they win their first match.

Honor MacGeorge

Tecumseh Indian volleyballer Sandy MacGeorge was chosen on the first team all league this week. Others chosen for the Indians were, Kim Adams, second team and Kris McDonald, honorable mention special merit.

Tories Lose District Finale

Britton dropped the district final game to Madison Saturday night, 65-56, but not until the Tories gave the Trojans the fight of their lives.

Madison went into the final game with a 21-1 record against Britton's 8-15 mark. Madison went to the districts last year in a similar situation, but did not take the title home.

Earlier in the year the Trojans had beaten Britton by 39 points. In their second confrontation, however, Britton closed the gap to just six in Trojan territory.

The pressure was on Madison then, and it showed. Britton kept up with and even played better basketball than Madison most the first half. But it didn't last long.

The Tories were up by one at the end of the first quarter, 15-14. They had good offensive execution, high percentage shots and layups. Britton worked on playing against full court pressure earlier in the week, and it paid off.

Then 13 minutes into the first half, Britton was up by five when their junior guard Troy Bailey picked up his third foul and had to be pulled out.

Madison went up by two before Bailey went back into the game. Britton tied it up with one-and-a half minutes left in the half with a shot by David Bruce, but the Tories never led again.

Madison went up 31-27 at half and pulled two more ahead before Britton pulled the score to within two. Madison continued to come back, however, and Britton just couldn't catch up.

By the end of the third frame, Madison led by a 45-39 margin. They finished the Tories off with excellent free throw shooting. They scored 20 points the last frame to the Tories' 17.

The difference between the two teams came at the line where Britton hit eight of 13 attempts while the Trojans were 19 of 22.

From the floor, Britton was 24 of 69 while Madison was 23

FAKES TO THE SIDE — Britton basketballer Troy Bailey uses his whole body, including his mouth, to get past Madison's Paul Dazey. (PHOTOS BY KENT DOWNING) of 59. Britton outplayed the Trojans in the rebounding category with 35 to the host team's 29. Terry Benedict and Greg Fanslau each picked up 10 boards.

Leading scorers for Britton were Fanslau with 13, Bruce with 12, Bailey and Benedict with 10 each.

Although Britton didn't achieve a .500 season this year, coach Cam VanArnsdalen was not upset. The team shot for the district finals and achieved their goal.

A tremendous fourth quarter surge Wednesday night, lifted Britton past Morenci, 81-77, and put them into the district final game.

The Tories were down by five at the end of the third quarter, 55-50. Randy Dusseau then sparked the team with the help of Troy Bailey. Dusseau scored 15 points that quarter and Bailey hit five of six attempted free throws.

The team totaled 31 points the last quarter, the most they have ever scored any quarter this year.

Leading scorers for Britton were Dusseau with 31, David Bruce with 16, Bailey with 15 and Terry Benedict with 14.

Britton was 35 of 77 from the floor for 46 percent and 11 of 18 from the line for 61 percent. Morenci's Bulldogs were 34 of 72 from the floor for 47 percent and nine of 14 from the line for 69 percent.

In rebounding, Britton held a large edge with 44 to Morenci's 24. Fanslau grabbed 15 boards and Bruce had 10.

PRESSURES MADISON — Randy Dusseau comes up to put a little pressure on one of Madison's guards. Britton may have lost their district championship match Saturday, but they finished the season playing excellent basketball after a dismal start.

Thru My Window

BY MARDA GENE DUNCAN

Regardless of the calendar and despite what the weather may be the day this article is published, spring made her first appearance here where Logan Street meets Evans Creek Feb. 27.

Several Days before Feb. 24 to be exact, Mom saw our first robin of the season. He was big, fat, and handsome — he was also misguided and disappointed if he expected to find any signs of spring here.

That Saturday was still mid-winter in feeling. Midwinter in looks, too. Snow and ice dominated. Because of a slight thaw there was a shallow sheet of water on the frozen creek. The sun was bright but the wind was cold and raw. At least that is how Mom and I read the world outside.

Two days later the mood was entirely different. The snow and ice were still here, the water on the creek was a bit wider and a trifle deeper, and the wind blew.

However, the mix of elements was different. The wind was strong and high in the trees, a March wind. The sun was bright and warm and, as it rapidly melted the now-sorry-looking snow, one began to think about the ground which has been covered for so long.

One of these days it will begin showing. Had the robin reappeared, he would have found slight traces and faint hints of spring.

He would have heard spring-type noises too. The chickadees were singing their usual chicka-dee-dee-deeing but there was a special and new little note of happiness in it. The tufted titmice were whistling loud and clear. Their unfinished calls were repeated all day long. Cardinals whistled too, bluejays screamed, and the up-sidedown nuthatches honked their nasal yanks.

Birds were flying in all directions. For the first time in ever so long, the main center of activity was the creek and not the near-my-window feeders.

Not wanting to miss all of the fun, I had my bed turned around. By having the head at the south end of the westfacing window, I had a completely different view.

The action was indeed focused along the edge of the creek and in the nearby trees and bushes. The water running over the snow and ice was extremely shallow and slow moving. The birds waded in and drank their fill, then it was splashing, ducking, dunking, and bobbing.

Their actions clearly said that nothing ever felt so good as stretching up and letting the water run down their backs — and what could be more wonderful than using wings to splash and throw. It was a marvelous time.

Coming out of the water they would fly to a low hanging branch of a nearby tree or bush and settle down to the serious job of feather preening or the even more pleasant task of resting in the bright warm sunshine.

Unfortunately many of the bathers were starlings, but so beautiful was the day that we could enjoy even them. The rest of the group was flock after flock of beautiful cedar waxwings. No sooner would one bunch leave the water than another would move in. Such lovely birds.

The juncos were not interested in the water but they were certainly interested in each other. In twos and fours they flitted and chased each other. Their flight was fast and darting, always accentuated by the flashing of the two white outer tail feathers.

Suddenly I saw — no, it was not a junco. It was smaller, had a light breast but the throat marking was not the solid hood of a junco, the dark wings were faintly barred and, my goodness, a bright yellow patch showed on the bird's rump. A Myrtle warbler!

At day's end I had many exciting things to remember. Ol' Man Winter might still have a few surprises in his bag of nasty tricks but he can not make me forget Feb. 27. Along with all of the bird fun the air was soft that day. It promised spring.

Two Boys Burned

The sons of a former Tecumsehite were severely burned at their Florida home March 7.

Mark and Mike MacKenzie, sons of Gary and Lynne MacKenzie, were severely burned Wednesday evening at their home in Merritt Island, Fla.

The boys, aged seven and 10, were playing in the garage when a can of gasoline ignited and exploded.

They were saved by the quick action of a young Marine, home on leave. He heard the explosion, rushed to the garage and rescued the boys.

They were rushed to the hospital, where Mark, the more seriously burned, was admitted to the Orlando Burn Unit. He was transferred Monday to the Shriners' Hospital Burn Unit in Cincinnati, Ohio. Mark will need 20 to 100 pints of blood while recovering at the Burn Center.

Mike is expected to be in the Orlando Hospital for several days before returning home.

The MacKenzie family, formerly of Adrian, moved to Florida three years ago.

The boys' father, Gary, formerly of Tecumseh, is the son of Adelene MacKenzie and grandson of Ethel Hammack, both of Tecumseh and the late Ben Hammack.

Lynne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Murphey fo Florida, formerly of Adrian.

are Inflating your insurance rates

The Problem: Inflation is raising the roof on home building and repair costs. Since 1972, the cost of replacing or repairing a Michigan home has increased 50-60%. And that has a direct impact on the price you pay to insure your property.

What We're Doing: We can't stop inflation, but we're trying to offset its effect. Insurance companies are involved in a number of activities designed to keep claim costs — and your insurance rates — at reasonable levels.

What You Can Do: Help prevent and reduce losses. Check your home or apartment for potential hazards. Install fire alarms and extinguishers.

And, take a look at your insurance policy. You may be able to reduce the premium by choosing a higher deductible.

AN EDUCATION EXPERIENCE FROM WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY

Society Treats Hundreds to 'Maple Syrup Time'

CLINTON — "Maple Syrup Time" was sponsored by the Historical Society of Clinton March 9 as an educational activity for hundreds of Clinton school children.

It was one of the activities planned in celebration of the village sesquicentennial.

Some adult members of the community admitted they themselves had never witnessed the fun and work involved.

Feb. 28, Mr. and Mrs. James Meeks tapped the maple trees between the Fraleys and Schindlers (formerly the Bartlett Sap Grove).

The sap was boiled down on the grounds of the Smith-Kimball Community Center. Visitors saw how the sap was drawn through spiles tapped in some trees on the community center grounds.

Volunteers then explained the nature of the maple tree, and how the sap must be collected and boiled down. Samples of maple sap, which appears as clear as water and tastes like sugar water, were available for comparison with some freshly made pure maple syrup.

After the demonstrations, historical society volunteers were welcomed inside the community center for a pancake and sausage lunch with pure maple syrup and homemade applesauce.

A meeting was held to plan more old fashioned community activities to celebrate Clinton's 150th anniversary.

Pioneers planted many maple trees in and around Clinton and used the sugar bushes, clumps of trees, to produce sugar and syrup.

Best remembered are the maples about one mile west of Clinton, planted in the spring of 1860 by Norman Weaver. The Bartlett Sap Grove is still a beauty spot on Bartlett Road. In the fall the leaves turn brilliant yellow, orange and scarlet.

Maple syrup making was an event in March and early April when the early spring brought cold nights and warm days and sap running.

Some of the older residents still remember the "Maple Syrup Stirs" and socials at syrup making time, the maple wax (hot syrup drizzled on snow); hauling the sap, boiling it down and then trying to sell the cakes of maple sugar of less than four pounds for 50 cents or even for a quarter. (Even pennies looked big in 1910.)

Syrup sold for less than $2 per gallon.

All through the summer, the leaves of the maples absorb energy from the sun's rays. They use the green chlorophyll in their leaves to convert the sun's energy into chemical-electrical energy.

The water from the roots and the carbon dioxide in the leaves make a simple sugar—glucose—from which the tree manufactures starch which is stored in the roots and trunk.

During the winter, this starch is changed into another sugar — sucrose. Sap is mostly water with only one to 12 percent sugar. Sap flows best on bright, sunny days after a near freezing night.

The flow stops if the temperature falls below 30 degrees or rises above 50 degrees Farenheit.

The average sugar maple tree runs 10 to 12 gallons of sap per taphole in a season. Large trees may support as many as four taps.

It takes 40 gallons of sap to make one gallon of syrup.

It takes a cord of wood to boil down about 15 gallons of syrup. Ninety-seven percent of the sap is boiled away. The syrup is done when seven degrees above the boiling point of water.

The English and French explorers of North America found the Indians using maple sap for sweetener 350 years ago.

SAMPLIN' SAP AND SYRUP — Randy George, was one of hundreds of Clinton students to see and taste how pioneers made pure maple syrup at "Maple Syrup Time." Mr. and Mrs. James Meeks tapped the maple trees.

Abandoned 60 Hogs

CLINTON — State officials are considering filing cruelty to animal charges after finding more than 60 pigs that had apparently starved to death on a pig farm near Clinton, last week.

Animal cruelty investigators from the Huron Valley Humane Society said the pigs may not have been fed for several months. Some had been dead for more than a month.

Washtenaw County Health Department officers discovered the animals when a neighbor complained of pigs running loose in the area.

The pig farm is owned by Charles Steffens and is located on Hudson Rd. north of US-12. It is located on an isolated hillside, and there is no residence at the location.

Officials say Steffens told them the pigs belonged to James Draper, of Clinton, who was renting the site. Draper, however, denied ownership of the hogs.

Market value of the pigs ranges from $50 for feeder size to over $100 for a market size hog, so the animals found were worth between $3,000-$6,000.

Brian Mackey, an assistant prosecutor in Washtenaw County, said no charges will be filed until ownership of the pigs can be determined.

BUILDING ACROSS FROM HIGH SCHOOL

$600,000 Civic Auditorium for Tecumseh

A $600,000 civic auditorium with seating capacity of 500 will be built on N. Maumee St., across from Tecumseh High School.

City officials have received a $600,000 gift from a Michigan foundation for the auditorium. Council approved purchase of the property from Dr. Ralph Helzerman Monday evening.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says construction is expected to start within the next 30 days. City's only obligations for the auditorium were acquisition of the property and installation of sewer and water lines.

Both utilities are at the property lines now and city expenses are expected to be minimal.

Major user of the auditorium could well be the high school and students there.

Supt. Robert Duhan said Tuesday that the schools would probably average two events a month. This would include class plays, choir and band concerts and other related student organizations. However, large classroom instruction, for example, could be once or twice a week.

High school assemblies would have to be split into two sessions as average class size now varies from about 270 to 300.

Features of the auditorium include a projection room for movies, plus a stage, dressing rooms and storage rooms.

It will be built by Krieghoff-Lenawee with Marr & Marr, architects. In appearance, the auditorium will look much like Dawson Auditorium at Adrian College and will have an Indiana

ARCHITECT'S RENDERING OF TECUMSEH OFFICE FOR COMMERCIAL SAVINGS

Commercial Savings To Start Tecumseh Office next Month

Commercial Savings Bank, the largest bank in Adrian, has received permission to open a new banking office at 3000 W. Chicago Blvd., in Tecumseh.

Authorization to open the new Tecumseh bank was given by the Michigan Financial Institutions Bureau and the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

The bank, which will be located on W. Chicago Blvd., just west of Occidental Highway, will open for business in temporary quarters in late April. Construction of a permanent building is scheduled to begin at the same time.

"All of us at Commercial Savings Bank are excited by the opportunity we have been given by the bank regulators to enter the Tecumseh market," J.L. Germond, president of the bank, said. "We already have a significant number of customers at our Adrian offices who live in Tecumseh and quite a few other customers work in Tecumseh. Our new office will make banking much more convenient for these people."

The new bank's permanent quarters are scheduled for completion in the fall. The modern, brick structure will cover approximately 3,100 square feet. A special design feature will be the use of large, T-shaped, concrete beams to form the roof of the main banking lobby which will have six teller stations.

There will be three private offices for the manager and assistants. A large, walk-in vault will house safe deposit boxes and there will be a night deposit facility for use after regular banking hours.

The new bank will have the largest drive-in banking facility in Lenawee County. It will be able to handle six cars at a time.

Pneumatic tubes will connect the six drive-in-positions with tellers inside the building. The tellers will be visible through large glass windows.

When it is completed, the new bank will have parking for more than 20 cars.

Commercial Savings Bank is a 90-year-old institution which has four banking offices in Adrian and one in Addison.

At the end of business on Dec. 31, 1978, the bank's total resources were over $86 million, making it one of the largest financial institutions in Lenawee County.

Band Rates '1'

Two Tecumseh Bands share the news spotlight this week, one received an honor never before known to be achieved by a Tecumseh band, the other is planning a big band style, public concert Tuesday.

The Symphonic Band received a straight number one rating at the March 17 District Band and Orchestra Festival at Columbia Central High School.

It is believed that this is the first time such an honor has come home to Tecumseh High School, stated director Jimmie Rice.

The band will now advance to the state band finals in the Lansing area late in April.

The concert band opted not to compete at the festival and received favorable comments on a "super job" said Rice.

Tecumseh High School Jazz Band will present its annual spring concert March 27, 8 p.m. at the high school cafeteria. The public is invited.

Gerald J. Bach Sr., band director, will lead several selections both from the big band era and also some of the new sounds of the seventies, such as "Disco Inferno," "Ease on Down the Road," and "Quincy and the Count."

Guest artist will be the Rev. R. Richard Case of the Britton Congregational Church. The pastor is a former big band musician. He performed with the Les Brown Band of Renown.

SCHOOLS RECEIVE $75,000 GIFT

New All-Weather Metric Track at Athletic Field

The Tecumseh School Board adopted a resolution Monday night to accept a $75,000 gift for all-weather, metric track and voted to proceed with plans for the track's construction at the athletic field.

Assistant Superintendent Gene Cooley reported to the board that the gift was offered just before Christmas and that the donor wished to remain anonymous.

Problems with the present track became apparent a number of years ago with the major problem of poor drainage over the entire field area becoming larger every year.

Last year, the board set aside $12,000 for track and field improvements, but materials were never available to do the work. That money, along with the gift and $40,000 from the building and sight fund will be used to finish the estimated $134,000 track.

Tecumseh hired the firm of Grables, Mills and Young, Inc. to act as architects and landscape field planners.

The Lansing based firm recommended building the new metric track right over the present one. The new track will be 15 to 18 feet longer and will extend north of the present track. The football field will also be moved 15 to 18 feet north. The small wading pool at the north end of the field will be eliminated.

The new track will have six lanes, same as the present one. Plans for a larger track were investigated, but abandoned because of prohibitive costs.

Board expects complete drawings and bids to be taken within the next 30 days. Construction should begin about June 11 with the football field sodded by July 15th. The early sodding is necessary for the fall sport.

The track, complete with new drainage system, will be finished by the time school opens in early September.

25 Form Corporation for $2.3 Million Loan

A non-profit corporation has been formed in the city of Tecumseh to qualify for a $2.3 million mortgage loan from the Farmers Home Administration to build a senior citizen housing project in the city.

Paul Preston, assistant city manager, told City Council Monday night that the necessary paperwork would be filed with the state Tuesday.

FmHA required the move because the city was not eligible to receive the loan.

The 25-member corporation will manage the Orchard Terrace senior housing project once it is built.

The corporation is composed of members from the city housing commission, Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce, Tecumseh Rotary and Kiwanis. All but two members are from Tecumseh.

Tecumseh City council granted the corporation an option to purchase the Touborg property at Adrian and Pottawatamie Streets, which was donated to the city for the purpose of senior citizen housing. With this step, Preston told council, FmHA could continue its review of Tecumseh's pre-application for the mortgage loan.

Members of the corporation are: Paul Fackler, Jens Touborg, Nancy Nichols, Roger Proctor, James Daly, Merlyn Downing, Richard Montcalm, Alan Beatty, Scott Adair, Douglas Bird, the Rev. Allan Gray, Larry Mattis, Dale Chadderdon, Anthony Catros, Russell Scott, of Britton, Opal Dickenson, Alan Beatty, Gene Cooley, Richard Lewis, Henry H. Newlin, Gil Purse, E.L. "Spec" Simmons of Tipton, William G. Williams, Mike Volpi and Tony Menyhart.

$1.7 MILLION MAIN OFFICE — Construction on United Savings Bank's new main office officially started Tuesday after the annual shareholder's meeting at the Tecumseh Country Club. New office, about three times size of the present office, will be located at a site previously occupied by Vescio's in downtown Tecumseh. Many shareholders and others are seen here with Kenneth McElroy, board chairman, and Merlyn Downing, bank president, for the groundbreaking. Bank officers also told the shareholders that work has started on its Russell Rd. branch, and total costs of the main office and branch will top $2 million.

First Baptist To Present 'How Good Life Can Be'

A special lenten film, "How Good Life Can Be," will be shown at the First Baptist Church in Tecumseh March 25 at 7 p.m.

The following Sunday, April 1 at 7 p.m. the final lenten emphasis service will be held. This will be a "Singspiration," with the congregation singing its favorite hymns.

The first two lenten services were "Cross Bearers" evening sessions. They were study and discussion led by the Rev. Kenneth Boyd.

The third Sunday in lent, a sacrificial rice potluck was held. Following the meal the Rev. John Rumohr, American Baptist Missionary to Zaire, showed slides and talked about his work there.

Jennie Rader and Carol McClure sang a duet, "Love Was When." An offering for CROP was taken. Thirty-two attended.

March 31, six from the congregation plan to attend the annual Christian Education Conference at the Covenant Baptist Church in West Bloomfield.

Tornado Alert

This is the tornado season and Tecumseh participated in the Annual Tornado Alert Test for Lenawee County March 20 at 5:55 p.m.

The local fire whistle sounded a two minute, steady blast, such as area residents will hear in the event of a tornado warning.

A warning means a tornado has been spotted in the area and residents should take emergency precautions, including tuning to local radio stations for weather bulletins and instructions.

The play written by Jerome Lawrence and Robert Lee is a Croswell Players Production. Lance Tucker, also of Tecumseh, is director. He previously directed "Hot L Baltimore" at the Croswell.

Based on a true incident in the life of Henry Thoreau, this play is a dramatization of the reflections Thoreau pondered during the night he went to jail for refusing to pay his taxes. Throughout the play are reenactments of important incidents in his life by the people closest to him.

Thoreau's best friend, Ralph Waldo Emerson is played by Tecumseh's Sutton School principal Tom Sura. Jan Sura, Tom's real life wife and Tecumseh elementary teacher, also appears as his stage wife, Lydian Emerson.

limestone exterior.

Total property involved amounts to roughly 14 acres with about half suitable for development. East portion of the land is low and slopes to Evans Creek and Globe Pond.

Purchase price of the property was $65,000, according to Zorn, and the land gives the city an additional 700 feet frontage on N. Maumee St. The city also owns property on the east side of the street, south of Herrick Park Dr., and Monday's purchase adjoins that property, which includes the Kiwanis Memorial Park.

Financing of maintenance for the auditorium has yet to be worked out, according to the city manager, but income is expected from the city itself, schools, and other groups and organizations which will be using the auditorium.

Zorn is also hopeful that Council will appoint an authority or board to manage the auditorium.

2 Accidents Investigated

Only two accidents were investigated by the police the past week, but in both mishaps citations were issued.

Friday, Gail L. Rozsa, 29, of 5046 Raisin Center Hwy., was charged with improper passing after an accident on N. Evans St. with James W. Brown, 56, of 423 N. Evans.

Edison R. Thompson Jr., 39, Clinton, was cited for failure to yield the right of way after a collision with Richard A. Sutton, 27, of 612 Murray Dr., at the intersection of N. Evans and Logan Sts.

Re-Appointed

Council re-appointed Gene Cooley and Raymond Puffer to the Parks and Recreation Board Monday night and then voted the Rev. Kenneth Boyd to replace the Rev. Allan Gray, who did not seek re-appointment.

Bids Wanted

City officials asked city manager Cal Zorn Monday night to obtain bids for paving the parking lot just west of the Community Center.

Some residents had complained of the muddy condition there.

Talking It Out

What is A "Widow's Walk"?

Old and historic homes built along the seacoasts often have a fence-like railing on the roof which is called a "widow's walk".

This "widow's walk" provided a lookout point for those awaiting the return of loved ones from the sea. In early America, many families were dependent on the shipping business for their livelihood. Many lives were lost at sea. Many ships were to depart, never to return again. "Watching from the widow's walk" became a common experience for countless wives and sweethearts in the early history of our country.

The expression, "widow's walk", has been used to entitle a booklet by Jane Woods Shoemaker. A widow can receive comfort and constructive ideas to help her adjust to her new way of life by reading this warm and moving experience of another widow.

Your problems are our concern. Please feel free to call on us about them.

Cash, Watch Stolen, Runaway Found

Thefts dominated the police blotter the past week with losses reported by the David Hunters of 413 N. Evans St. and Eggleston's Jewelry.

Hunter told police Saturday that $430 in cash was missing from his home after a refrigerator had been delivered there by two employees of a local merchant.

Officers questioned the two employees, who declined any involvement. They were not arrested and were released after questioning.

Hunter and his wife, according to Merlin Mowery, police chief, have volunteered to take polygraph tests on April 16.

At Eggleston's Jewelry, an expensive watch valued at over $1,000, was taken Thursday by a shoplifter. The watch had been left for a battery replacement by a customer of the store.

Other complaints were routine:

March 14 - Police on patrol discovered a window pane broken out of the rear door at Masterkraft in an apparent breaking and entering. No loss was reported.

March 15 - Bruce W. Handy, 7702 Milwaukee Rd., reported a vent on his vehicle was pried open while parked behind Gambles.

March 16 - Vickie Sabbadin, 510 Pawnee Heights, told officers that sugar had been put in the gas tank of her vehicle.

March 18 - Garrett Gould of Royal Oak was walking with his father when a dog, owned by Herbert Williams, 510 Seminole Dr. bit him. The young boy was taken to Herrick Hospital for treatment.

March 19 - Ralph Sherman, Clinton, reported a metal gate stolen at Brookside Cemetery.

March 20 - Carolyn J. Laslo, 55, of 7264 Holloway Rd., was arrested for shoplifting at Pinch-A-Penny.

March 20 - Dr. Carlton Cook reported a cedar post broken off at the medical center east of the hospital.

Stanley Williams, 16, of 205 E. Cummins, was located Friday in Kentucky by a relative of the family.

The 16-year-old youth was reported missing last week by the family.

School Board Accepts Bid

A $58,137 bid from Architectural Building Products, Inc., of Kalamazoo, was accepted by the school board Monday night for the replacement of 68 steel case windows in the older part of the high school.

Primary concerns of the Tecumseh board involved fuel conservation and student comfort. A committee set up by the board found that room temperatures varied as much as 10 to 12 degrees from one end of a room to another with the older windows.

A majority of old window areas will be completely covered with a one and 9/16 inch decorative insulator. The part of the window's remaining glass will be 5/8 inch double insulated glass.

The board postponed action on the bidding at their February meeting after obtaining only one bid. One additional bid was received since, but the local bid was $14,000 higher. A third bid was withdrawn because of the large size of the project.

Completion of the project is expected this summer.

Council Takes No Action

Council took no action on a letter from International Union of Operating Engineers, an affiliate of the AFL-CIO, Monday night.

Letter requested recognition for representing city employees in the water and wastewater departments and city hall office personnel.

Department heads were not included in the letter's request, nor were employees of the street department.

2 Receive Prison Terms in Jackson

Two Tecumseh youths were sentenced Wednesday morning in Circuit Court, to terms in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

Both had been arrested and jailed earlier this year on armed robbery charges.

Richard L. Stewlow, 19, charged in armed robberies at George's Market and Britton Carry-Out, received a sentence of 14 to 30 years for the robberies and five years for violation of probation. Sentences are to run concurrently.

Carl D. Boswell, 18, who had pled guilty to armed robbery at George's Market, was sentenced from three to 10 years in the Jackson prison by Judge Rex Martin.

Britton robbery occurred on Dec. 17th and George's Market on Jan. 10th. Stewlow and Boswell were traced to the Russell Square Apartments and were arrested about half an hour after the market robbery.

Poison Control Is Year Long Effort

Each year thousands of children are accidentally poisoned. Many are injured and many die from injesting medicines, drain cleaner, bleaches and other household chemicals.

Most people are unaware of the hundreds of potential poisons lurking in their home which could harm them or their children.

Observance of National Poison Prevention Week is March 18-24. In conjunction, the Poison Control Center of Lenawee County emphasizes that poison prevention is a year long effort.

The Poison Poison Control Center, 263-2412 is available for telephone consultation 24 hours a day.

Reader Writes

To the Editor:

Tecumseh schools lost a wonderful teacher in the person of Dick Billington. He was a fine human being, a beautiful example to all of us, but especially to his students who came to learn much more from him than just the elementary school subject matter.

Mr. Billington's funeral services overflowed with family, friends, staff members — and the students. Students both past and present came to him one last time. And these young people who were under his guidance the last five years will be his living memorial.

How we all miss his smiling face. How sad we are not to see him again; how rich we are to have known him.

Adieu, Mr. "B".

All roles for "Godspell" will be auditioned May 19 and 20, from 1-5 p.m. There are 10 roles available, five men and five women. All must sing and dance and be prepared to sing at the audition.

"Brigadoon", scheduled for June 27 - July 8, is the haunting musical fantasy by the successful team of Lerner and Loewe. Alice Mott, director of the Adrian High School productions, will be the director.

"Godspell", the rock musical based on the gospel according to St. Matthew, will be presented July 18 - July 29. Lennie Del Duca, New York actor who appeared as The Boy in "The Fantasticks" and has been on two professional tours of "Godspell", will be the director.

County Needs Foster Homes

A child's needs are best met within his own family environment, but when his natural parents are not able to do this, an alternate family, such as a foster care parent, is a temporary alternative.

There is an urgent need for foster homes in Lenawee County.

Teenagers placed in foster care are temporary wards of the Probate Court.

While a child is in foster care, an effort is made to rehabilitate the child and return him to his own home.

Foster parents are persons who can provide love and a secure home for a teenager who is not their own. They are persons who love children, can forgive and accept others for what they are and still give loving care and support.

A teenager placed in foster care may remain a few weeks, a month or even a year or more. A caseworker meets with the team and the foster parents once a week. Also, 24-hour emergency telephone service is provided.

For more information about the foster home program, call Sister Ann Judith, 263-8831, ext. 223.

When it comes to IRA accounts...

1978 ISN'T OVER YET!

Changes in the federal law have stretched the calendar. If you are a farmer, businessman, contractor, professional or anyone else whose income and earnings are not covered by a company pension plan, you can establish and contribute to a tax deferred Individual Retirement Account (IRA) until April 16th. That gives you over three extra months to determine just what your income was in 1978 and calculate exactly what 15% of it would be. Fifteen percent up to $1,500 is the maximum contribution to an IRA allowed under the law.

Right now, United Savings Bank of Tecumseh is paying 8% annual interest on all IRA accounts. That's the highest interest you can earn from any financial institution.

An Individual Retirement Account can save you tax dollars and provide a more secure future. There's nothing tricky, complicated or difficult about them. Ask about an IRA account at any of the five convenient offices of United Savings Bank . . . . . you have until April 16th this year.

Clinton Redskins Take Regional Championship with 47-34 Point Win

Fancy Redskin ball handling kept the Bronson Vikings from scoring the last 4:50 of the game Friday night as the Clinton basketball team captured its first regional championship in 28 years.

The Clinton squad went into a complete stall the last two minutes of the game much to the roaring delight of their fans. The 47-34 point win kept the winning streak alive in Clinton, which now posts 23 wins to no losses.

The team plays in the opening state quarterfinals Wednesday, March 21, 7:30. They play Three Oaks River Valley at Battle Creek Lakeview. If victorious, the state semifinal and final games are Friday and Saturday at Crisler Arena, Ann Arbor.

Clinton struggled to a one point deficit, 10-9, the first quarter without the services of Dave Porter. Mark Dettling kept the Redskins in the game that first frame with five points inside.

Porter then came in the game and fed Dettling still more on the inside to score the first 10 points of the second period. Bronson never led again as Clinton posted a 22-19 halftime lead.

Clinton pushed that lead to nine in the third period and led by eight at the beginning of the fourth quarter, 35-27.

Bronson started to foul to try and catch up but the Redskins hit their charity shots and finished the last quarter with a 13-7 edge.

Clinton was able to control the speed of the game and continually broke past Bronson's press. Bronson, on the other hand, was forced to take longer, outside shots over Clinton's zone and they just weren't hitting enough to win.

Dettling, on the inside, was high scorer with 19 points. He also had 17 rebounds. He controlled the center along with Porter and Jeff Porterfield. Clinton held a 41-33 rebound edge.

Clinton statistically won the game at the line by hitting 15 of 26 attempts. Officials blew the whistle on the Vikings 24 times. Clinton was called for only 11 fouls and Bronson went to the line just eight times, making two shots.

From the floor, Clinton and Bronson each had 16 field goals, but Bronson took 18 more shots for 28 percent. The Redskins hit 41 percent.

Clinton got into the finals game after a narrow one point victory over Vandercook Lake Wednesday.

The Redskins jumped to an early 15 to 4 lead but saw it cut to 28-22 at the half. Clinton picked up their lead to nine at the end of the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter Clinton stretched the lead to 11 with about three minutes to go. Vandercook Lake then put on the pressure and pulled to within one with 14 seconds to go.

Clinton sank two free throws to go ahead by three. Vandercook took the ball down the floor and scored to cut the lead to one but they could not stop the clock. Clinton let it run out to win by one.

Scoring for Clinton were Dettling with 12 and Mike Karapas and Porter with 10 each.

Dettling led the team in rebounds with 13, followed by Porter with 10.

Four Players, Coach Take High Honors for Indian Squad

The season may have ended for the Indian basketball team two weeks ago in a one point loss to Monroe CC in the districts, but the honors for the Tecumseh team are still coming.

Four players have been honored a number of times while coach Jim Curth was chosen coach of the year by the Huron League.

John Ely, senior, was chosen all-league, second team. He was chosen by The Daily Telegram as all-county, honorable mention and he was all-county, WLEN.

Senior Mark Creswell was honored the most by area media and the league with four team choices. He was the only unanimous choice to the all-league, first team. He was all-county, WLEN and Telegram. He was also picked by the Detroit Free Press on their fifth team, class B.

Steve Sisson, still another senior, was chosen to the all Huron League, coaches team.

Porter Is All-County

To learn where or by whom it was found, come and see the production next week.

Chorus numbers, dance numbers and the performances of many experienced actors will be presented.

School Problems Concern Parents

CLINTON — At the meeting of the board of education of Clinton Schools, held Tuesday, March 13, president Dean Kirkland deviated from the agenda to recognize several parents who had matters of concern to present to the board.

Concerns centered around student retentions, progress reports, and other communication items at the elementary grade levels.

Supt. Richard Wegner responded to the group by spelling out the school's desire to have very thorough communication with the homes; therefore, report cards, progress reports and letters implying potential retentions are sent home.

Wegner stated that before the letter was sent home, the parents had received report cards, and several progress reports (between each six-week period) showing just where the child stood and if improvement is being made.

He noted that the school has adopted a philosophy and operational policy to hold every child accountable for his/her work. Achieving objectives and minimal competencies are goals the school has been working toward for several years.

The school knows what a child should have presented to them and what the minimal criteria is for each grade level. If a child cannot read at grade level, they cannot be successfully promoted into the next grade level.

Clinton Schools have a complete testing program and math and reading program. Up until a few years ago, retention of a child was left up to the parent. A teacher or principal had input into the decision but the parent had the final decision whether to promote or retain the child.

Now the schools are not doing this.

Other concerns were: scheduling, that is when a student goes to remedial classes, he should not miss another basic skills class in his regular classroom.

Subjects such as art, gym, music, recess, etc., could be missed, it was suggested.

Parents asked how they could help their child with [illegible], and asked if tutoring is available. Will materials be available from school for the tutor and will they be able to work together with the child?

Why are children, who are possibly being retained for the second time, not achieving and being promoted? A request was voiced for more individual instruction on a one to one basis by remedial teacher or para-professional, and more communication, along with an explanation of how to properly read a child's report card and progress report.

Responding to requests that pupil placement in a particular teacher's room, Margaret Bless, elementary principal, stated that a parent's choice of teacher was taken into consideration, and is honored as much as possible.

Superintendent Wegner ended the discussion by suggesting all parents concerned get together with the administration at a later date and discuss possibilities of action on the problems.

Elect Goodman Club President

CLINTON — Mrs. Daniel Goodman was elected president of the Clinton Woman's Club at the meeting held the evening of March 14.

Other officers elected are: first vice-president, Mrs. James Meeks; second vice-president, Mrs. Loren Dornes; recording secretary, Mrs. Dan Reilly; treasurer, Mrs. Eric Halliday; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Aleen Cahill; parliamentarian, Mrs. Richard Broniman; board of directors, Mrs. James Chellman, Mrs. Harlan Fraumann. Other members of the board are Mrs. Ruth Davis, and Mrs. Dwight Service.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Wesley Proctor, who gave an informative talk on "Antique Dolls" and illustrated her talk with many of her unusual dolls.

She related a bit of history of dolls, and described her impressive collection over the past 20 years, which includes rag, china, bisque, composition, wooden and paper dolls.

From her extensive library on dolls, she recommended the Encyclopedia of Dolls by Emily and Dorothy Coleman; Modern Collectors Dolls by Patricia Smith and the Third Blue Book of Dolls and Values by Jan Foulke.

The social committee of Mrs. Broniman, Mrs. E.J. Hoelzer and Mrs. Dornes, served six kinds of homemade pies and beverages from a table centered with a floral bouquet, which was presented to Mrs. Proctor.

Mrs. Dorothy Fisher was a guest.

The April 11 meeting will be held at 3 p.m. at St. John's Lyster Hall. The changed time was planned to include the Girl Scouts Troop 389 as guests.

Plan Bake Benefit

CLINTON — The 150th anniversary committee has planned a bake sale to raise money for the celebration in Clinton.

Sale will be held March 30 at 9:30 a.m. at the State Savings Bank of Clinton. Clinton area residents are asked to contribute baked goods.

Pies and bread are especially good sellers.

If there are questions, call Mrs. Roy Bower at 456-4339.

Board Acts on Tenure

CLINTON — At the March 13 meeting of the board of education, members voted to grant second year probationary tenure status for the following certified staff members:

Deborah Baughman, Gregory Beer, Kenneth Graf, Laura Lyall, Sue Ann Proctor, Gail Beaver, and Ed Aiuk with stipulations.

Tenure was continued for: Karl Beach, Dennis Bowman, Deborah Brighton, Roy Gaddey, Dale Marzewski, William Moran, Betty Oesterling, Nancy Schwab, Joyce Somers, Michael Steinkraus and Randall VanGasse.

Three students were voted to be expelled for an indefinite period of time. They may return only with the discretion of the superintendent and building principal.

Board voted to adopt the proposed constitution for the Lenawee Chapter of MASB and to retain trustee Steve Bowman as Clinton's representative to the Association of Directors.

Board reviewed the ruling that before any class or club is dissolved or graduated, to alleviate future problems, all funds will be disposed of, leaving no balance to carry over.

Board was advised that fuel rationing has already begun. Fuel allocation to the school is being cut 20 percent, based on last year's usage, effective March 1, 1979.

Board voted to accept the administrative recommendation to increase the price of Type A lunches: Grades 1-4, 55 cents; grades 5-12, 60 cents, adults $1.

Athletic budget showing revenue and expenditures for the year demonstrates that the cost of athletics continues to be a major item because of the number of sports offered and the number of students involved.

A junior varsity baseball program will be added this year because of high enrollment.

Athletic Director Fred McCrate stated that 32 students are out for baseball, and he estimated additional costs for this program will be $1,600.

Local Band Is Scheduled

CLINTON — There will be a Community Band to help celebrate Clinton's 150th anniversary, according to Mrs. Martin Scott, Historical Society chairman of events.

Dale Marzewski of Clinton High School will direct the band. There is need of an alto saxophone player, a drummer and a baritone instrument are needed.

Anyone who would like to play in the band is urged to call Mrs. Scott at 456-7198 or see Mr. Marzewski at the high school.

Seniors Plan Quilting, Cards

CLINTON — Shamrock Senior Citizens will meet at 10 a.m. Thursday for quilting and cards at the Community Center.

Blood pressure checks will be from 10 to 11 a.m.

A soup and beverage luncheon will be served at noon.

At 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Brenner will talk on her trip to Germany.

March 29, the afternoon program will feature grocery bingo.

Plan Fall Kitchen Tour September 8

CLINTON — Shirley Fraley and Mary Ann Hunter are co-chairmen of the Country Kitchen tour scheduled for Sept. 8 as an event of the 150th anniversary of Clinton.

The tour will begin at the Community Center and progress to kitchens of local homes where various canning, preserving and freezing processes are going on.

If you will be putting up food at that time and would like to take part in the tour, call either of the chairmen.

Also planned at the same time will be a Farmers Market organized by area 4-H clubs.

Organizations are urged to let Mrs. Martin Scott know what their plans are for the 150th so that they may be included in a calendar of events which will be published in early April.

Ratify Teaching Contract

CLINTON — Board of Education at Clinton Community Schools, at the March 13 meeting, voted to ratify a contract agreement with the Clinton Education Association, Lenawee County Education Association, MEA-NEA.

Contract which has also been ratified by the CEA, is for three-years, with economic re-openers in the second and third years, and is retroactive to July 1, 1978.

Contract calls for a four percent increase at base and with the annual increment increased from 4.3 to 4.76 percent.

Actual raises, to take effect immediately, will average above nine percent, including the increment.

There was no substantial change in the fringe benefits, except that the board will now accept any increases in policy fees for medical insurance.

Salary levels will now provide: starting salary with BA, $10,577 to $17,580 with continuing certificate; MA from $11,292 to 17,961, and specialist degrees, $12,006 to $19,005.

No non-economic changes were made in the contract, Wegner explained, although the CEA came to the negotiations with several pages of requests.

250 Attend 'Green Dance'

CLINTON — There were 250 persons attending the Wearin' of the Green benefit dance for the Fall Festival '79, Saturday at Peerless Gear Union Hall.

The event was declared a success by chairman George Lancaster.

Jerry Jurasek was winner of the first of five 50-50 ticket drawings to be held for the Fall Festival.

Four leprachauns from the cast of Finian's Rainbow made an appearance, adding to the St. Patrick's Day fun. The hall was decorated in a green and white theme with shamrocks on the ceiling.

The committee expressed appreciation to Joe O'Donnell for use of the Shamrock green painted Clinton Belle, and to the Jaycees and Clinton Firemen for their assistance.

Librarian Shows Rare Old Maps

CLINTON — Suzan Flandreau Steel, librarian at the Bentley Historical Library, University of Michigan, presented a program on the subject of rare old Michigan maps at the meeting of the Historical Society of Clinton, March 15.

Using slides, Mrs. Steel showed many of the state's oldest maps, some hand-drawn from imagination, before Michigan was even a territory.

She noted that early maps described a "plain" that extended through the center of the state almost to northern Michigan. Although the plain never existed, later map-makers continued to include it for many years in their maps.

Mrs. Charles Helgren presided at the meeting, where members were told of the progress of plans for the 150th anniversary observance in Clinton.

St. Dominic's Altar Society is planning to host a free bridal fashion show and tea on the lawn at the Community Center in June.

The Historical Society will host a Pioneer Party, for Clinton citizens over 80, May 17 at noon in St. John's Lyster Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. James Meeks, who had charge of the maple sugaring project in recent weeks, have produced 40, 8 oz. jars of maple syrup, which they are offering. Anyone who donates $5 to the 150th anniversary projects will receive a jar of the syrup.

Funds are needed for the project to construct a miniature model of the Union School, which was in Clinton from 1859 to 1905. Carl Woodward has agreed to make this model at cost, and is assisted by Jon Bowles.

Mr. and Mrs. Meeks demonstrated some maple sugaring, using ice cubes instead of snow, and treated members to a taste of maple sugar cookies made from the recent syrup collection.

A trip to Ella Sharp Museum and Park in Jackson will be held for the Society members, May 19.

Annual meeting and election of officers will be April 19 at Lyster Hall.

Florist Is Guest Speaker

Jan Fox, from the Grey Fox Floral was Welcome Wagon's guest speaker for the March 15 general meeting.

She made a spring floral arrangement using pussy willows, daisies and acacia for a tight spring effect, and while making the arrangement, she explained the proper care of fresh flowers before using them in an arrangement.

Next, Mrs. Fox made a St. Patrick's Day arrangement using Bells of Ireland, carnations and ferns with accents of plastic Irish caps and potatoes. The bouquet of green gave a total Irish effect. A question and answer period about house plant care followed.

The door prize, won by Maxine Logan, was the spring floral arrangement.

Hostesses for the evening were Patty Beardsley, Judy Sutka, and Brenda Herrington.

During the meeting, nominations were held for officers for 1979-1980. Elections will be held at the April meeting.

Next meeting will be held April 12 at 8 p.m., at the Occidental branch of the United Savings Bank. A style show will be given by Trickey's Inc.

Reader's who are new to the community or know of anyone who is, may contact Patsy Littlefield, 423-3035, for further information about Welcome Wagon.

50 Attend Style Show

About 50 attended the salad lunch and spring style show of the Iota Epsilon Chapter March 7 at St. Peter's Church.

Mrs. Charles Trickey commented on spring and summer fashions for women and children from Trickey's, Inc.

Big tops for jeans, body wraps also known as string belts, soft petal and draped shoulders, skirt flounces and generous skirts and tops are fashionable for spring and summer 1979.

The feminine dresses with below the knee lengths are reminiscent of classical Greek and Roman styling with the petal draped shoulders and soft garment lines.

Colors of the rainbow in soft hues, such as pale lilac and blue, will be paired in seemingly unusual combinations for a striking effect.

Local florists provided the table arrangements which doubled as door prizes.

At the recent meeting at the home of Mrs. Doug Bird, the women decided to plan style show for next year.

Officers elected for the coming year were Mrs. James Neitling, president; Mrs. Fred Land, vice-president; Mrs. Greg Gadd, recording secretary; Mrs. Dale Meikle, treasurer and Mrs. James Lorenzen, corresponding secretary.

Gilmore Presides at Peter's Guild

Beatrice Gilmore, president of the Daughters of St. Peter's Guild, presided at the meeting held Tuesday afternoon.

A report of the recent World Day of Prayer held at the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church was given by Mrs. Harold Sisson and Cecile Smith.

Devotions were in charge of Dorothy Lander, who gave a prayer for the parish of St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Rena Hubbard, program leader, spoke on God's meaning to animals. She concluded by reading an article by Bishop Creighton, regarding the fellowship of the church.

Show Concern over Shawnee

Greg Gadek, representing the Tecumseh High School student council, approached the school board Monday night with the council's concern of Junior High student safety.

Students cross Shawnee St. after being let off the bus behind the high school in the morning. They leave for the busses in the afternoon before high school students get out. Therefore, after school accidents are not as big a concern.

One accident reportedly already happened, but it was not serious and not on Shawnee as previously believed by the council.

The school board also listened to Junior High principal Don Berkley's same concerns over possible child-accidents and promised to review city ordinances and check into possible alternatives for the students crossing the street.

Thru My Window

BY MARDA GENE DUNCAN

A myrtle warbler Feb. 27 — I am still in a state of shock. This is the sort of thing that simply does not happen to me. As I have said so often before, warblers are almost my nemesis. It is a large family and, as they come streaming through on their twice a year migration treks, I grumble and grumble.

Yet, if the truth be known, if those spring flights north and the autumn trips south did not occur, I would be most unhappy.

I look forward to them and the excitement they bring; in fact, I strongly suspect that part of spring and fall's pleasure is being utterly confused when trying to pin name tags on various warblers. It is frustrating, but fun.

However, the whole schedule was thrown out of whack by the February warbler. It shouldn't have been because the myrtles have been known to winter in the north.

It is not unusual and the number which stays is not large but occasionally there are a few intrepid souls who decide against spending the winter in the warm and sunny southland.

Those who decide to brave our cold months are more apt to be found along the east coast than inland.

These birds thrive on a diet of bayberries or wax myrtle and this, of course, is a costal shrub. But these 5½ inch birds adapt well and apparently find enough food to tide them over in our area.

This ability to change dietary preference is just one of the things which sets the myrtles apart from the other warblers. Whereas they are strictly insect eaters, myrtles shift to a vegetarian diet when necessary.

One book even goes so far as to claim that they will become bird feeder partrons when necessary. In addition to sunflower and squash seeds, they are attracted to suet, doughnut crumbs, peanut butter and other foods with high fat content.

Wow! It was exciting enough to see that myrtle in the trees, imagine what it would have been to have had him on the near-my-window feeders.

Before going further, there is no better time than now to tackle the name business. In the spring of 1973 the American Ornithologist's Union issued a check list of birds which caused all sorts of waves. Some names were changed and many of us are still having trouble.

There undoubtedly are well founded and highly technical reasons for the changes, but I seriously doubt that I will ever find it easy to call a Baltimore oriole a northern oriole. It lacks class.

When the "powers that be" started playing the game with the warblers, they were merely reverting to a much older name. Several of my prized, old, bird books call the myrtle warbler the yellow-rumped warbler.

The A.O.U. has not erased the term, Audubon's warbler, but in the new terminology, the Audubon's and the myrtle will both be known as yellow-rumped warblers.

There is some justification for this, too, I must admit. In breeding plumage the males are much alike except that the Audubon's has a yellow throat instead of the myrtle's white and the myrtle has two narrow white wing bars in place of a white wing patch.

Of course, the myrtle warbler I saw was a far cry from a male in top spring plumage. As with so many birds the male myrtle in winter looks much like the year-round female.

Instead of the striking blue-black back, he was dark grayish brown. The yellow head spot was not too noticeable, nor were the eye markings. The black-on-gray striped breast and yellow rump patch were unmistakable though.

And about now, if my February visitor were a male, he should be changing into his courting clothes. Believe me, he can come to our feeders anytime and be greeted with open arms and sunflower seeds, too.

Girl Scouts Celebrate 67th Birthday

March 10-17 is Girl Scout Week. Girl Scouts mark their 67th year in a number of ways. Each troop has its own way of saying "Happy Birthday."

Sunday was Girl Scout Sabbath with girls taking part in church services. Posters are displayed around town and a store window displaying shows uniforms and projects of local troops.

Troops are delivering cookie orders now in their best sale ever.

Girls in Irish Hills Council sold 155,000 boxes, an 18 percent increase from last year.

Local girls with leading sales were Michelle DeShano, 160 boxes; Kristine Russell, 128; Beth Barkway, 122; Melissa Sayler, 121; Cheryl Gongales, 116; Angi Miller, 110; Melissa Curth, 106; Jolynn Schmidt, 106; Cindy Muncie, 105; Susie Beasley, 102; Mindi Wilkins, 101; and Sarah Cattell, 100 boxes.

Girl Scout leaders met Wednesday evening to make plans for the Annual Thinking Day Banquet.

In conjunction with the Girl Scout birthday, the group has a new symbol that reflects its diversity and progress. The emblem is the new trefoil.

Spring Construction for 30 Condominiums

A condominium complex of two and three-bedroom units has been planned and approved for a five—and-a half acre site owned by developer, Charles M. Cook.

Area involved lies north of Bidwell, east of N. Pearl St. and is bounded on the east and north sides by Evans Creek. Construction is expected to start this spring.

Condominiums will total 30 and will be clustered in buildings of from four to six units. All units will face Evans Creek and future owners will have the choice of three floor plans: two-bedroom unit on one floor with a full basement; two bedroom, two stories with full basement, and a three-bedroom unit, two-story with full basement.

Cook says as many units as possible will be constructed to have walk-out type basements.

Two-bedroom, one story will have 1,092 square feet; two-bedroom, two-story, 964 square feet, and the three-bedroom unit, 1,103 square feet. Options and features, such as fireplaces, variations in floor plans, and others, will be available to buyers prior to construction.

Exterior of the building will be tongue and groove cedar siding.

A recreation area is included in the complex. It will be surrounded on three sides by the creek and will be accessible from two sides by foot bridges. A wooded area, it is planned for outdoor cooking, picnicking and other activities.

Construction estimates are now being taken for the various types of work. A meeting by mid-April has been tentatively scheduled for prospective, condominium owners. This meeting will not only include the developer, but also the architect, a lawyer and a representative of a bank.

Time and place of the meeting will be announced later.

Architect for the units is Hobbs-Black of Ann Arbor. Tecumseh Planning Commission recently gave final approval to the site plan.

Band Selling Subscriptions

The Tecumseh Band Boosters fourth annual Tecumseh Herald newspaper subscription drive begins Saturday, March 31 and continues until April 12.

Proceeds from the drive are used for band boosters projects.

Junior and Senior High School band members will canvass the residential neighborhoods Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon and 1-4 p.m. They will continue selling for the next two weeks.

This is the only door-to-door fund raising project for the band. It is organized by the Band Boosters in cooperation with the Herald as a community service.

The Band Boosters will earn $2.50 for each new regular subscription; $1.50 for new college and military personnel subscriptions; $2 for new senior citizen subscriptions. Cut off date is Oct. 1, 1979. Each renewal will put 75 cents in the Band Boosters' pockets.

Subscription rates are $8 per year in Lenawee County, $10 outside; $7 per year for Lenawee County senior citizens aged 65 and older, $8 outside of county; $6 for college students for nine months and $7 for military personnel for a year.

Checks are preferred and should be made payable to The Tecumseh Herald. The band students will not handle change.

As an added incentive to the students, the Band Boosters will award prizes to the top salesmen, said Mrs. Jack Silberhorn, drive coordinator for the Band Boosters.

A 12 inch, black and white, Sylvania television will be the first prize. Five dollars in cash will be awarded to a student that sells 15 or more subscriptions.

Who can help me if death occurs away-from-home?

When the death of a loved one occurs away from home, call us right away, even if it is long distance, day or night. We can help make arrangements for immediate care of the deceased, quite possibly saving you considerably in duplicated expenses.

If the services and burial will take place at home, we will make arrangements for transportation and escorts back to our funeral home, if that be your wish.

If you prefer, we can make provisions for burial at the location of death or elsewhere. Through our affiliations with funeral homes throughout the country, we can help you make the best and most logical arrangements. Often we know personally funeral directors elsewhere in whom we place great trust.

These services can include use of funeral home, graveside services, burial and transportation of the family, casket and flowers to the gravesite. All arrangements are made exactly to your desires, but we need to know your wishes early in the planning stages.

Should you ever be confronted with a death away from home, the only thing you need to remember is to phone us, night or day. We will serve you with the same concern and care for your comforts we are known for right here at home.

LENNOX offers some revealing facts about copper versus aluminum . . .

Aluminum is great for some things, but as a substitute for copper tubing in heat pump and condensing coils, it leaves a lot to be desired.

Lennox realizes copper costs a little more, but the advantages are well worth it. Copper tubing is easier to work with, less brittle, more flexible, easier to bend and make tight joints with. And it holds up against reactive elements in the environment better than aluminum.

Lennox enjoys a hard-earned reputation for quality unsurpassed in the heating and air conditioning industry. But you don't keep such a reputation by skimping on materials. We know copper is best for service and performance and that's good for business.

BARN FIRE — The Gerald Munger dairy barn at 2170 Munger Rd. received heavy damage early Monday morning when the barn caught fire, destroying some elevator equipment and hay as well. Damage was estimated at $40,000, but could have been worse if the family dog had not herded the 200 cattle inside out to safety. A hired hand spotted the smoke and called firefighters at 5:56 a.m. Firemen from Tecumseh were joined by three trucks from Clinton and two from Raisin. Together the three departments battled the blaze seven hours with 60,000 gallons of water. Fire officials believe the fire was electrical. Owner was in Florida.

Civic Center, Parking Subject of Readers

To the Editor:

In March of 1978, the Tecumseh Area Civic Facility Study Committee retained my services to develop preliminary design drawings and architectural rendering of a civic center for the citizens of Tecumseh and the surrounding area.

Each activity proposed for the center was painstakingly considered, and after a number of meetings between the committee, city manager Cal Zorn and myself, I submitted a site plan of a proposed structure utilizing land owned by Dr. R.F. Helzerman. Coordinating efforts with an established architectural design and contracting firm would have resulted in a valid plan for a center uniquely reflecting the spirit of Tecumseh.

The "Michigan Foundation" has done much for Tecumseh as is evident in the many fine public buildings throughout the area bearing Indiana Limestone exteriors.

Available money stirs quick action by those in authority, but an investigative approach to the action could have considered the needs of a greater portion of the community. I do, however, feel that a public building in Tecumseh patterned after that of another institution might not best reflect the completion of a long held dream of this community.

Sincerely,
Michael D. Knisely

To the Editor:

I live on Center Drive in the Herrick Park area and if you've ever driven down that way, you know that it is a narrow street.

The problem lies with people who park their cars along the side of the street instead of the driveways. When this is done, it leaves a one- lane street for two-way traffic which is quite hazardous.

Many times I've almost met oncoming traffic head on because of this. Also there are a lot of small children in the neighborhood that could run out into the street in front of oncoming traffic. They wouldn't be seen until they were right in the line of traffic because of the cars parked on the sides of the street. Fortunately, this has not happened to me as of yet.

My suggestion is to place "No Parking" signs along Center Drive to help alleviate this problem and to enforce the meaning of those signs when necessary.

Every house on Center Drive has a driveway. It would be understandable if they didn't. But I for one, cannot see the rationale of parking a car on the side of the street when there are driveways available for people to use.

If people would use their driveways, it would make Center Drive a safer place for all to live in.

Thank you for reading my letter. I do hope you will act upon my suggestion.

Cordially yours,
Mrs. Gloria J. Baker

'Finian's Rainbow' Presented at CHS

CLINTON — "Finian's Rainbow," a musical comedy which ran for 723 performances on broadway, is being presented this week at Clinton High School, March 29, 30 and 31.

Students have been rehearsing for about six weeks and have also been putting in long hours preparing the set, costumes and other details.

The story is a fantasy which revolves around Finian McLonergon and his daughter, Sharon, who come from Glocco Morra, Ireland, to Missitucky, U.S.A.

Music, magic and dancing tell the story which Og follows to get the crock back.

SOME SPREAD LEAFY BRANCHES

April 8 will be "Palm Sunday"; the day that Christ entered the city, almost 2,000 years ago. Yes, it should give you a chance to reflect and think both on Jesus and His ordeal and your relationship to Him and God.

Scriptures tell us when the people of the city found out that the Savior was coming, they prepared to meet Him. We are further told that they took palm branches and some even laid down their coats so that He and His Apostles could walk upon them.

This was indeed an honor for the crowd to meet Him and it was a way for them to say, "We love you. We believe in you and we're with you all the way, Master". Of course you are aware of the story and the fact. Only five days later, the entire city would turn against Him and call for His death upon the cross.

It is a sad commentary on mankind, how quickly they could turn about and spit upon Him.

I'm just wondering, if He were here today, how would we react? — Instead of growing by leaps and bounds, our churches across America and the world are decreasing (In using the word church, I speak of the real church—people— and not a particular denomination). People today make the necessary display, some even attend the church of their choice, but then the other six days is another matter.

The idea of being "God-fearing" Christians has decayed tremendously in the past 25 years. Today we are no better than those people of Jerusalem centuries ago.

We spread the leafy palm to make others think we are something else, but when it comes to standing up and truly acting like a Christian, worshiping God and following Christ and His teachings, many of us are better at just laying down the leafy branches.

Clinton Suffers 1st, Last Loss

Clinton came back with a 22 point final quarter surge against Three Oaks Wednesday night in state quarterfinal action at Battle Creek, but it was not enough as the Redskins suffered their first loss of the year.

Three Oaks outscored Clinton 47-39 in what coach Jim Pittman called the team's worst game of the year. The loss bumped the Redskins out of state competition.

Clinton could put only five points on the board in the first quarter, but they were not out of the game. Three Oaks Mustangs scored only seven.

Then Three Oaks scored three straight baskets in just over one minute to take an eight point lead early in the second quarter. At half, the eight point lead was still there, 17-9.

Scoring was still sparse the third frame with Three Oaks only hitting for nine points to Clinton's eight.

With a nine point deficit going into the last frame, Clinton began to foul to try and catch up. The Mustangs spoiled the Redskin's strategy, however, hitting 15 of 22 attempts that last quarter.

Clinton came within six points, twice with a full court press, but never got any closer.

Mark Dettling led the Redskins with 16 points and 16 rebounds. He also led the fourth frame attack with eight points. Dave Porter hit six from the quarter and Doug Mowery had four.

Clinton had a large rebound edge over Three Oaks. Final tally was 37-28. Clinton hit 17 of 51 shots from the floor for 33 percent while the Mustangs were two field goals short of that mark. The point difference came at the foul line.

F.C.A. OFFICERS — Officers are, l-r, vice president Scott Hans, treasurer Lynda Sprague, correspondence secretary Donna Bohannon, president Karen Egli, and secretary Kris McDonald.

Jim Pittman Is Coach of Year

Clinton's basketball coach Jim Pittman was chosen class C state coach of the year this week by the Associated Press.

Each year the press honors four coaches out of 700 in the state. Pittman was one of them along with another Lenawee County coach, Jim Hartley of Madison.

Pittman led the Redskins to their first regional championship in 28 years with a 13 point edge over Bronson last Friday night.

The team bowed to Three Oaks, however, in the state quarterfinals Wednesday. On the way there Clinton won the district championship and ran away with the LCAA title.

Clinton was ranked fourth in the state and finished the year with the only unbeaten regular season record among class C schools. They finished the season overall with a highly respected 23-1 record.

Although Pittman was chosen for the honor, no Clinton players were chosen to the all-state team. That's most likely due to Pittman's coaching philosophy.

Each player is expected to do his part for the victory and the team members score evenly. In fact, it is not unusual if four Clinton players score in double figures.

Pittman has been coaching at CHS for 10 years, but his coaching experience has been varied. He has been Tucky to coach his seven prize seniors all four years. He was coach with them as freshmen, as sophomores on the JV team and they have been his varsity squad the last two years.

Athletes Show They Care

by Deane Erts

What would it take to get thirty-two young athletes to give of their time and considerable energy to such pursuits as visiting the elderly or helping the disadvantaged? Would it take threats? Bribery? Both?

The answer, at least at Tecumseh High School, is none of the above. In fact, all that was needed was someone concerned enough to offer the opportunity and that opportunity was offered under the auspices of the newly formed Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

The basic idea of community service by athletes was pioneered by this season's varsity basketball team but the scope of activities has been broadened and other athletes have come forward to offer their services.

The fellowship is under the able guidance of Wayne Nix and Jim Curth both of whom are teacher/coaches. They are assisted by adult advisors Russ Hyatt and Rev. Ken Boyd and advisor ex officio Jim Robideau.

The organization is non-denominational and open to athletes of either gender. Members will involve themselves with many civic oriented activities. High on the list of priorities is to establish a halfway house at Boysville to facilitate the sometimes difficult transition these boys must make from the confines of their school to the freedom of society.

Members will also be encouraged to get involved "one on one" with perhaps a junior high pupil who would appreciate a "big brother" or "big sister."

It will not be all work and no play however. Various social functions are planned such as attendance at a Tiger baseball game, conference participation, activities at the University of Michigan and Michigan State and even camping.

The commitments of this organization are a credit to the community and school which engendered them and prove once again that it takes more than a scoreboard to show a real winner.

Bagby-Rapin Honored at Banquet

Basketball coach Jim Curth and volleyball coach Donna Sass did not present most valuable players Wednesday at the THS all winter sports banquet, but wrestler Jack Bagby and gymnast Joanie Rapin were honored with the MVP award.

Bagby wrestled under coach Pat Connors and compiled a 29-8 record. He placed second in the district and regional tournaments, and received an all-county first team seat.

Rapin was among five Tecumseh girls to represent their school at the regional tournament at Freeland in mid- March. Barb Wood is the coach.

Mark Creswell took high honors for the basketball team, but was joined by fellow seniors John Faulkner and John Ely.

The basketballers finished the season with a 17-4 record and took the Huron crown. They dropped their opening district game, but were chosen to the eighth ranking spot statewide by the Associated Press.

In volleyball, Sandy MacGeorge, Kim Adams and Kris McDonald were honored for all-league honors.

The JV and freshmen basketball teams were honored along with the varsity and JV cheerleaders. Mascot Skip Johnston received special honors.

Banquet To Be Held April 3

The Clinton High School athletic banquet will be held Tuesday, April 3 at 6 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

The banquet will be the usual potluck style dinner with the awards presentation to follow immediately in the auditorium.

Britton HS Sports Banquet April 3

Britton will hold its winter sports banquet Tuesday, April 3.

The 6:30 p.m. potluck dinner will honor varsity and junior varsity basketball and volleyball teams, and the cheerleaders.

Thru My Window

BY MARDA GENE DUNCAN

As far as the weather goes, these are difficult weeks for Mom and me. We take winter's worst in stride. We minded the snow and cold much less than we thought we would. After all, snow can be pretty and it does drive the birds to the feeders. One expects winter to be a rugged season, and seldom does it fail to meet expectations. But winter is over now, spring should be here.

Where is it though? Weeks and weeks ago a warm soft day had me euphoric. Spring was here. I knew the mood and the weather would not last and they didn't. With the snow gone the yards look ugly and messy. The creek is free flowing but ducks and kingfishers have not yet returned. The sun shines but the wind is raw and penetrating, and if the thermometer gradually inches upward the air is cold.

It looks as though it should be nice and warm outside but people still struggle into winter coats and boots. And perhaps worst of all, I keep thinking that crocuses will peep out and then I remember that the early bloomers in front of my south facing window usually get their faces full of snow.

In other words I am not happy about the weather, nor is there much incentive to think about outdoor things. A magazine crossed my reading table not long ago and I believe that perhaps reading about monarch butterflies would be better than grumbling about the weather.

The magazine, the February issue of the "Smithsonian," tells about the head of a New York advertising agency who raises monarch's in her office. She has studied and raised butterflies for many years and transferred operations from home to office because of her son's cats. (Don't get started on cats again, Marda.)

It seems that during the first of August, Arlene Hoffman begins checking milkweed plants along one of New York's parkways. When finding a plant "decorated" with the tiny, white eggs of the monarch butterfly she immediately transports it to her office. In four days the eggs hatch. The larvae are about the size of human hair in diameter.
